Conductor Walsh Dies

A report received from Denver this morning announced the death of Conductor Andy Walsh in that city. Mr. Walsh was well known in this city, having lived here while on a Cheyenne-North Platte run. Of late he has been on a Denver run and has lived in the latter city. Death was due to pneumonia with which he had been afflicted but a short time. The deceased was a very popular railroad man, and his North Platte friends learn of his passing away with regret.

Mrs. Martha A. Macey Dies.

Mrs. Martha A. Macey died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Horace Frazier, residing in the country. She was seventy-nine years, six months and eight days of age at the time of her death. Death was due to paralysis from which she had been suffering for sometime.

Mrs. Macey was born in Missouri January 19, 1835. She came to Lincoln county about three years ago and made her home with her daughter. She leaves to mourn her death a son, Louis Macey, and her daughter in this vicintiy and some relatives in Missouri. The remains were shipped last evening to Hardin, Mo., where the funeral will be held and burial made.

Mrs. James Flynn left last week for Quincy, Ill., called there by the death of her mother.

The Suicide Symphony.

The idea that music may be harmful—that it can create a fever in the blood dangerous to life and reason—will come as a revelation to many. Friedrich Nietzsche, the well known German philosopher, declared that there is something in some music, most notable in Wagner and Tschaikowsky, which acts unfavorably on the brain and nerves of many people. Tschaikowsky's baleful influence cannot be denied. He destroyed himself after composing his famous "Sixth Symphony," and as several have died by their own hands after playing it it has come to be known as the "suicide symphony."

The Homeric Poems.

No one of any literary pretensions believes any longer in the one time prevalent opinion that the "Iliad" and "Odyssey" were composed by a single poet, be he Homer or some one else. Wolf away back in 1795 proved that the poems are the result of many minds, being made up of many epics of many periods and finally collected and arranged by Pelstratus about B. C. 550.—New York American.

Her Triumph.

Penelope (triumphantly)—I heard last night that Jack was head over ears in love with me. Grace (jealously)—You cannot believe all you hear. Penelope—No, but I should not wonder if there was something in it. Grace—Why? Who told you? Penelope—He did.

In the Garden.

"Say, sis, do the flower fairies ride on the horse chestnuts?"

"Yes, dearies, and they use larkspurs."—Baltimore American.

Conflicting Emotions.

Ethel—Jack tried to kiss me. Marie—How impudent! Ethel—But he was interrupted. Marie—How annoying!—Boston Transcript.

After The Fire

It is useless to ask questions how it happened. Nine times out of ten it happens unexpetedly and in unexpected places, mostly through accident or carelessness. The best provision against fire is a policy of insurance in one of our reliable Companies. This protects you from property loss, and the cost is so small as to be scarcely worth consideration. If uninsured, talk it over with me.

SEE the International fifth wheel (patent applied for) on Weber and Columbus wagons. This one feature makes these two wagons stand out above all the rest as the best and cheapest for a farmer to buy. The fifth wheel prevents the pitching and pulling up of the front bolster, and it does away with broken king pins and bent circle irons. It doubles the bearing surface of the bolster on the sandboard; it increases the life of the wagon; distributes strains more evenly, and therefore makes the work of hauling easier on the horses.

With all these points to recommend it, the International fifth wheel is worth a trip to town to see. Call on the I H C local dealer who handles Weber or Columbus wagons and ask him to show you the International fifth wheel. You cannot see it on any other wagon. If you do not know where to go, drop us a line and we will give you the name of the nearest dealer.
