PREPARATIONS FOR STATE FAIR

WHEN the State Fair of the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing society opens in October it will be at the new home in Agricultural park. A temporary exhibit the public for its free than ever before the park has been graded and fountains have been created which give a fine view of the beauty of the Utah valley to the south. This is still for a little while yet, but in the month following, for then some wonderful changes will be made. Although the fair will be held in October it will be a week earlier than usual, so that the exhibits will be ready for the opening of the new home. Thanks to the liberality of the Utah legislature, the society has been enabled to carry out its plans in a manner which will make the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing society a credit to the state. The buildings are all of a character which will be permanent, and when the society is ready to leave the present grounds it will be with a regret that it must do so.

The main building, which is 200 feet long by 100 feet wide, is a marvel of beauty and convenience. From the south entrance, which opens into the grounds, a view is had of the Utah valley, and the eye is carried over the entire length of the building, which is 200 feet, and beyond the city of Provo, which is 50 miles distant, can be seen. The building is of a light color, and the effect is very pleasing. The roof is of a light color, and the effect is very pleasing. The roof is of a light color, and the effect is very pleasing.
