BREED THEATER.

Alkali Ike's Close Shave, the Comedy Scream at the Breed Today.

In the big comedy film at the Breed today the patrons have one of the most amusing and entertaining stories that has been presented at this popular picture house in a long time. Figuring as the leading man in this film is Alexander Carney, known the picture-world over as Alkali Ike, and particularly for the amount of trouble he can get into in a limited length of time. The character is purely a western one, and in this case he has fostered a luxuriant growth of beard, and determines to see the city for the first time. He is run down by a passing auto, and being insensible is carried to the doctor's office, where his face is carefully shaved and adorned by the necessary strips of court plaster. Securing new clothing, he departs for his western home, and the first person he meets is his wife's sister, who he attempts to embrace, and not recognizing him calls a number of punchers, who put him through a course of rough treatment and finally land him in the jail.

In desperation he sends for his wife, but the loss of whiskers puzzles her and she refuses to claim him. Alkali puts in a few more hours of torture, and the sheriff is about to identify him as a notorious escaped criminal, when the city doctor arrives and manages to free him from his predicament. Wifey then claims him and takes him home for safe keeping.

The Informers, Biograph, is the big dramatic event of the bill, being a strong civil war story.

TWO HEADLINERS ON AUDITORIUM PROGRAMME TODAY.

Most vaudeville houses are content to have one headliner on a bill, but the Auditorium the first three days of this week has two acts that are genuine features. The first big act is the complicated skit presented by Loring-Parquette & Co., entitled the Gibson girl. This sketch is redundant with situations of a mirth provoking nature. Mistaken identity plays an important factor in it, the whole plot hinging on errors. Everyone thinks that each character is someone else, and the situations that arise from these complications are simply inexplicable. Miss Blanche Parquette, who has the title role, was formerly a model for the famous artist who originated the Gibson girl, Charles Dana Gibson.

A spectacular musical novelty is presented by the Berniviei Bros., who offer their production, entitled Midnight in Venice. A most complete equipment of scenic and electrical effects is carried, which go to make this act one of the most beautiful in vaudeville. The Bernivici Bros. are most talented musicians, and could make a decided hit anywhere without the aid of their spectacular setting, but the two combined make an act without an equal.

CONCERT COURSE.

Last Opportunity to Subscribe for Entire Series—Alma Gluck Next Week.

On Tuesday, Dec. 10, the sale of single tickets will take place for the concert to be given by Alma Gluck in Slater Memorial hall on Tuesday, Dec. 17. Between now and Tuesday there is an opportunity offered for those who have not yet subscribed for the course to do so. The subscription list is at the store of George A. Davis and all who sign it before Dec. 10 will be entitled to select their seats for the entire course, as well as take advantage of the special price of $5 for the series of three concerts.

The course this season consists of the following high class attractions: Dec. 17, Alma Gluck, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera House company; Jan. 14, Adeles Margulies Trio; Feb. 12, New York Symphony orchestra of 50 pieces, Walter Damrosch conductor. Local music lovers who have given expression to their feelings regarding this season's course are enthusiastic over the high standing of the attractions that have been secured. Alma Gluck is a singer of the highest rank, and the management feel that they are very fortunate in being able to bring her to Norwich. The Margulies Trio has been heard here twice before, and is considered one of the finest musical organizations of its kind in the world. The New York Symphony orchestra of 50 pieces is in a class by itself and there are few, if any, cities of the size of Norwich that would have the courage to engage an orchestra of the size and with the reputation of the New York Symphony orchestra. This will be the last opportunity to sign the subscription list, as after Dec. 10 the list will be withdrawn.

Funeral of John Gagne.

The funeral of John Gagne took place from St. Edward's church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. F. J. O'Neill officiating at the requiem mass. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery. The deceased was 69 years old and is survived by his wife, six sons and three daughters. The sons are James, Adolph, William, David, John and Joseph, and the daughters are Mrs. Jasper Gilbert, Mrs. Paul Garvais and Mrs. Louis DeLoge.

Borough Briefs.

William E. Hanley and daughter, Miss Mary, and Miss Rose Hanley are visiting friends in New York.

John Wigmore has been spending a few days in Boston.

Mrs. R. Z. Fairfield and Mrs. Harry Pownall spent Saturday in Hartford.

The Stafford Ministerial association has been invited to meet with Rev. John W. Ballantine and his daughters at the West Stafford parsonage this (Monday) afternoon.

COLCHESTER

Mrs. John T. Brown's Funeral—Fine Stretch of State Road.

William Carter of Boston was a recent guest of T. P. Kinney.

At the last meting of Colchester grange a class of eight received the third and fourth degrees. There was a large attendance, a number of out of town members being present. After the work of the evening an excellent supper was served.

Funeral of Mrs. John T. Brown.

The body of Mrs. John T. Brown, who died at the home of her son, Herbert Strong, in Hartford, Tuesday, was brought here Friday on the 3 o'clock train, and the funeral was held in the Congregational church, Rev. H. A. Blake officiating. Burial was in Linwood cemetery. Mrs. Brown was a native of this place and 77 years of age. Mr. and Mrs. Brown have a summer residence in Packwoodville, about a mile and a half north of the village, which they occupied during the season, returning in the fall to Hartford, where they resided with Mr. Brown's son, Herbert E. Strong. She leaves her husband and two sons, Herbert E. Strong of Hartford and Erastus L. Strong of Westerly, R. I.

Frederick A. Smith of New Britain was a recent guest of relatives in town.

F. L. Conkie of Hartford was a Colchester visitor Friday.

Scouts' Outing.

The Boy Scouts under the leadership of Scout Master M. D. Wood took a hike to Colchester Falls and vicinity Saturday.

Mrs. C. A. Wright of Springfield, Mass., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. M. D. Wood, on South Main street.

Completing State Road.

The work of putting up the railings on the state road on the Norwich turnpike is being rushed. The contractor has men setting the posts and expects to have them all set before the ground is frozen. The work on the road itself is nearing completion, and when finished the road will be one of the best in this vicinity.

Miss Ethel Randall has been at her home in Goshen for a few days.

Brief State News

Winsted.—There will be no poultry show in Winsted this winter.

Thomaston.—The 75th anniversary services of the First Congregational church close today (Monday).

Waterville.—All of the sidings are lined up with freight cars and it looks like a busy month for the local freight agent.

Torrington.—Secretary John Jack of the Torrington Musical association has received 185 applications for membership this year.

Bristol.—The burning of the Bristol opera house will be a big loss to the owner, Charles F. Michael, of Hartford, as the building was not insured.

Westport.—By a unanimous vote of the Congregational society, a call has been extended to Rev. William Moe of New Hampshire to take charge of the parish.

Middletown.—The annual illumination of Main street under the auspices of the Business Men's association commenced Saturday night and will continue until after New Year's.

New Britain.—The Business Men's association of New London has written to the city clerk asking for information in regard to the duties of the chief of police and the building inspector of this city. The information has been furnished by Deputy City Clerk A. L. Thompson.

Watch Him Grow.

Not as a political prophecy, but just as a guess, now that we are to have two ex-presidents it will be a great surprise if Mr. Taft does not grow steadily in popularity and in four years far outstep the once dangerous and now discredited Colonel.—Birmingham Press.

Rev. Thornton F. Turner of Hartford, Conn., will succeed Rev. Philip Schuyler as rector of St. Peter's church, North Bennington, Vt.

SKIN TROUBLE ON HANDS, ARMS, LEGS

And Feet. Some on Body. Formed Dry Scabs. When He Scratched Water Would Come Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Stopped the Itching and Cured Him.

173 Paris St., East Boston, Mass.—"I have a little boy eight years old who had sores on his hands, arms, legs, feet, and some on his body. They formed dry scabs. I had him treated and it looked worse; it was spreading. In the night he scratched so much that in the morning he was all blood and his bed also was a mess with blood and scabs. When he scratched the sores, matter and water would come out from them. I bought a box of ———, and that did not do any good, and I was discouraged. My aunt said to me, 'Why don't you try Cuticura Ointment and Soap?' She said it would stop that itch and give it a chance to heal. The next day I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap.

"I gave him a good bath with the Cuticura Soap and put the Cuticura Ointment on him all over where the sores were. He slept that night all night. I only had to use two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and two cakes of Cuticura Soap and he was all cured and has never had sores since." (Signed) Mrs. John J. Girrior, Jan. 20, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

☞ Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

The Policemen of London.

Though our London policemen are usually finely built fellows they are not to be compared in this respect with the Royal Irish Constabulary, whose future Parliament has been discussed. Such at least was the opinion of Dean Hole. "Our London police," he wrote, "are well favored in appearance, but if the Royal Irish Constabulary were to take their place for a week there wouldn't be a single female servant to be warranted whole-hearted in the metropolis."

London gets its police constables from the country, as I have noted, and the importations sometimes leads to quaint results. Some time ago I came upon a particularly fresh-looking, jolly policeman at a quiet "point" in the South Kensington district. Of him I enquired the exact whereabouts of the showroom of a well-known trading firm in the neighborhood. He replied in unmistakable brogue which I will not attempt to produce phonetically: "I know no more than yourself, sir. I only came up from Dorset yesterday."—London Chronicle.

POETRY

DEAR OLD DONEGAL!

'Tis not that I'm complainin',
I have no fault to find.
I chose the newer country,
I've left the old behind;
An' everything has prospered,
I've scarcely lost at all,
But sometimes I be longin'
For dear old Donegal.

'Tis there the heavens are pensive,
They rest the weary eyes;
This sunshine is too dazzlin',
One tires of hard blue skies;
I think of mists and shadows
That wreathe the mountain wall,
Till I can't speak for sobbin'
For dear old Donegal.

Ah, you should see those mountains,
Those smilin' valley ways,
And hear the little streamlets
Go murmurin' God's praise;
No green so green as Ireland's,
Where silver raindrops fall,
Between the sunbeams smilin'
In lovely Donegal.

'Tis there are all so friendly,
'Tis here are all so wise;
Ye don't believe in pookahs,
In spells or evil eyes;
In Ireland the banshees
Still wails by hut or hall,
Thank God! the Little People
Are yet in Donegal.

'Tis not that I'm complainin'—
An' still my eyes are dim,
I see the pleasant hearth glow,
I hear the evenin' hymn;
Across the soundin' ocean,
I own its tender call,
An' evermore 'tis pleadin',
Come back to Donegal!
—Sacred Heart Review.

PEG.

In search from "A" to "Z" they passed,
And "Marguerita" chose at last;
But thought it sounded far more sweet
To call the baby "Marguerite."
When grandma saw the little pet,
She called her "darling Margaret."
Next Uncle Jack and Cousin Angie
Sent cup and spoon to "little Maggie."
And grandpa the right must beg
To call the lassie "bonnie Meg;"
(From "Marguerita" down to "Meg.")
And now she's simply "little Peg."

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"Still taking ice, I see?" "Yes; we don't need it, but the iceman offers such enormous bargains that my wife hates to quit."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

He—A decisive battle is about to be fought. I hear the Bulgarians and Turks are already engaged. She—Oh, Mr. Tidling, what an encouraging example.—London Opinion.

"Are you the leader of this brass band?" "No," replied the distressed man with the baton. "Every man in this band thinks he's a soloist. I'm the umpire."—Washington Star.

"Speaking of poets, that fellow over yonder is evidently a poet." "I've seen him at a good many receptions, but I never heard him uncork any poetry." "Maybe not; but just look at him eat." —Kansas City Journal.

"Just my luck." "What's the matter now?" "I promised my wife I'd be home at 10 o'clock last night." "And couldn't make it, I suppose?" "No, I got in at just 9.45, but she was sound asleep and I failed to get credit for it." —Detroit Free Press.

Miss Laflin—What has become of our friend, Mr. Clay? Mr. Rand—He has taken employment in a powder mill for six months. Miss Laflin—How strange! Mr. Rand—Not at all. He wished to break himself of smoking.—Puck.

Briggs—Heres a fellow who writes about the acme of selfishness without having the slightest idea what it really is. Griggs—Well, what is it? Briggs—Having your wife, a cold air fiend, insist upon leaving both windows in the room open and then rolling herself up in all the bed clothing!—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Rounder—Funny what ideas come into a fellow's head. This morning while dressing I was wondering how, in the future life, I could get my shirt on over my wings. Bounder—Don't let that worry you. What you want to think about is how to get your hat on over your horns.—Boston Transcript.

She—Of course, I am much honored by your proposal, but I must have a few days to think it over. He—Well, when may I come for my answer? She—Let's see. Monday theres the washing, Tuesday I must put up clean curtains and Wednesday I must make some jam. Come on Thursday.—Fliegende Blaetter.
