If the Men Had to Sweep---Just Once

You'll say, the innocent but out-of-date broom would have to weather the greatest storm of in vective ever conceived by the mind of man, if the Man of the House had to do the daily sweeping —just once.

Mr. Man! Listen to this---

If you were in training for a wrestling bout, perhaps you would enjoy sweeping the floors with a broom. But you're not—neither is your wife. Why ask her to do things you would not care to do? She's a woman, which is all the more reason why she should not do hard, muscular work.. Give her a Vacuum Cleaner, take her down with you to pick it out and watch the smile in her eyes.
