DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES and Measures.

A strict construction of the Constitution, and no assumption of doubtful powers.

A Diplomacy, asking for nothing but what is clearly right and submitting to nothing wrong.

No connexion between the government and banks.

An ad valorem revenue tariff.

No public debt, either by the General Government or by the States, except for objects of urgent necessity.

No assumption by the General Government of the debts of the States, either directly or indirectly, by a distribution of the proceeds of the public lands.

No exclusive system of internal improvement by the General Government, or by the States.

A constitutional barrier against improvident State loans.

The honest payment of our debts and the sacred preservation of the public faith.

A gradual return from a paper credit system.

No grants of exclusive charters and privileges by special legislation, to banks.

No swindling corporations.

No connexion between Church and State.

A preference for democrats over whigs for every office.

Acquiescence in the rule of the majority in all cases of party discipline.

No proscription for honest opinions.

Fostering aid to public education.

A "progressive" reformation of all abuses.

VALUABLE MEDICAL BOOKS!
Published by Grigg, Elliott & Co.

NO. 9, North Fourth street, Philadelphia, and for sale by Booksellers generally throughout the United States.

A new Edition of the Dispensatory, and Dr. McClelland's celebrated Work on the Practice of Surgery, will be published in August; and Dr. Wood's Practice early in June.

A Treatise on the Practice of Medicine, in 2 vols. 8vo.; by Geo. B. Wood, M. D., author of the "Dispensatory of the U. S." &c. &c.

This is a new work on the Practice of Medicine, and one of the most valuable ever issued from the American Press; no practising physician should be without it.

Eberle's Practice of Medicine, a Treatise on the Practice of Medicine, 2 vols. 8vo.; by John Eberle, M. D., late professor of Materia Medica and Obstetrics in the Medical College of Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Lexington, Ky., edited, with Notes and Additions, by Geo. McClellan, M. D., and other distinguished physicians, embracing all the late improvements and discoveries in Practice.

This new edition is pronounced by Dr. Gross, of Louisville, Ky., and other distinguished physicians, to be the most valuable work, and among the most able of the kind that has ever been published in the English language."

Eberle's Therapeutics, 2 vols in one.

Eberle on Diseases and physical Education of Children, 1 vol. 8vo.—new edition.

This is a new edition, much improved, containing a table, exhibiting the doses of medicine, according to the different ages.

Eberle's Notes for Students, new edition.

P. S.—Many of the above works are used as Text Books in our Medical Schools, and are considered necessary in the formation of a Physician's Library, as the Family Bible is to a Clergyman.

As M. D. who makes himself conversant with the pages of Drs. Wood and Eberle will never be far wrong in his practice.

☞All the new Medical Books for sale as soon as published, as above.

[The Indianapolis (Ind.) State Sentinel, State Journal, Columbus (O.) and Cleveland (O.) Herald will insert the above four times each—and write notice—and send paper marked and bill to Grigg, Elliott & Co.]—Cincinnati Commercial. 105

INDIANAPOLIS STEAM FACTORY.

THE subscribers having leased for a term of years the building well known by the name of the Old Steam Mill, situated in front of White River bridge, Indianapolis, which they have fitted up for a Woollen Factory, where they purpose manufacturing woollen goods of various kinds. All those who wish to run their wool upon toll yarn, or manufactured into cloth or woollen goods of any kind, can be accommodated on good terms by giving them a call. They would also inform the public that they have three sets of carding machines for carding wools, they being a new and in good order. Therefore they will warrant satisfaction to all who may favor them with their work. Persons living at a distance, by calling at this factory, can have their wool carded without delay, by giving a few hours' notice. They will also be prepared to full and finish cloths of any kind or color, in good style. They will keep on hand woollen goods of their own manufacture, such as Cloths, Satinetts, Tweeds, Jeans, Blankets, plaid and plain Flannels; all of which they will exchange for Wool or good Country Produce of any kind. They will give the highest market price for wool and produce, and sell goods of their manufacture as low as any goods of the same quality can be bought for in Indianapolis. All those who may have fall Wool Sacks and Marine wool to card or manufacture, can have it done in good order at this factory, as they have made choice wool oil for the wool. Good wool and produce of all kinds will be taken in exchange for work.

MEDICAL CARD.

DR. M. HOYT tenders his professional services as a Botanic Physician to the citizens of Indianapolis and vicinity. Early in life his father with his family was employed by the American Board as missionaries to the Cherokee tribe of Indians, where he spent twenty years, during which time he had access to a good medical library, and had the practice of medicine fairly and fully exhibited before him. Both the reasonable practice of the whole and the natural practice of the Indians. And he became thoroughly convinced that there was vegetable remedies, if properly compounded and administered, that would have every desirable influence on the human system that calomel possibly could, and that without in the least degree injuring the constitution or thwarting the manifest efforts of nature.

And viewing the subject as he does, he asks a public may confidently rely on his not using nothing but vegetable remedies (and such as act harmless with the human constitution) in his efforts to cure the sick.

Office on Illinois street, first door south of the Palmer House opposite the State Bank, where he will be found unless absent on professional business. He will endeavor to keep on hand a practising assortment of medicine, which will enable him at a short notice to put up medicine in the form of pills, powders, syrup, &c., &c., to suit the peculiar temperament of the patient and the diseases under which he or she may be laboring. He has spent the last fifteen years entirely in the practice of medicine. His experience is such that he flatters himself he will be able to give to his intelligent community entire satisfaction. 108—3w
