THE DAILY CRITIC

CITY SPECIALS.

Another Jersey Dairy Lunch Parlor Established.

The genial and enterprising firm of Messrs. Otto Webner & Martin McDermott some time since established two well-managed Jersey Dairy Lunch Parlors for ladies and gentlemen, both of which have proven to be a lucrative investment, simply because they attended solely to their business, and furnished to the public a full or fare that was not expensive, but just the kind of a lunch that ladies and business men have needed in this city for years. Such as milk, cream, buttermilk, French rolls, coffee, sandwiches, pie, pastry, &c., at prices within the scope of all. It is useless to state prices, because everybody knows and all, both rich and poor, patronize these Jersey Dairy Lunch Rooms every day.

These long established lunch parlors are centrally located at 931 D and 1002 F streets northwest, and they have been a great source of convenience to business men in those localities and for the many ladies who are out shopping on those prominent streets in our beautiful capital city.

These two localities are nicely supplied with dairy lunch rooms for these two outer quarters of town, and, by meeting with such gratifying success and encouragement, they concluded that the great thoroughfare—which is seventh street—needed just such a Jersey dairy lunch-room as they have in other parts of Washington.

After looking over the situation, they leased that elegant store room—formerly occupied by E. Harris, the jeweler—at 707 Seventh street northwest, and fitted it up in handsome style, and opened their doors to the public, catering this time principally to the ladies, knowing full well that the gentlemen would naturally follow where ladies lead, because they are good judges of nice things to eat. Every comfort in this new room for ladies or gentlemen is manifest, having fifty elegant chairs and tables to match, handsome chandeliers, exquisite papering and painting, etc. The decorations are just grand, with superb flowers in elegant receptacles swinging from the beautiful ceiling. The entire establishment is attractive and very inviting. They have all the modern facilities for keeping their milk and cream cold and sweet.

Their excellent large coffee urn is elegantly finished and nickel plated, and in this receptacle they make their famous drip coffee.

Take this new lunch room all in all it is a model of perfection. As you go out you can't help from admiring their exquisitely painted and lettered show-windows, which attract thousands of people as they pass this model Jersey Dairy Lunch establishment. Both of these young business men are well known in the community as gentlemen of integrity and high business attainments, and are well worthy of the success that has so fittingly crowned their efforts as business gentlemen and excellent citizens.

DEFECTIVE MARRIAGE LAWS.

The Pastors' Alliance Will Submit a Bill to Congress.

The marriage law was the special subject of discussion yesterday at the Pastors' Alliance meeting at Foundry Church. The defects in the law were brought before the alliance some time ago and referred to a committee, of which the Rev Dr. Elliott of Foundry Church is chairman.

Dr. Elliott submitted a report which condemned the law and the existing conditions regulating marriages. The law, the report says, instead of being designed to regulate marriages, was for the purpose of preserving the evidence of marriage. This fact accounted for the omission of many of the features of our defective marriage law, the legal restraint as to the age below which parents' consent must be obtained, and a penalty for a minister who performs a marriage without a license. A marriage bill approved by the Alliance will be submitted to Congress.

Would Like to Draw Two Salaries.

William A. Hedrick had the good fortune of holding two Government positions at the same time, that of special agent for the census and as a teacher in the Washington High School. Mr. Hedrick thinks that he ought to draw both the salaries but the District Commissioners decided several weeks ago that he could only receive pay for his services in one of the positions, and to make his choice of which one. Mr. Hedrick has addressed a letter to the Commissioners setting forth the services he rendered in both positions and Auditor Petty has requested that the matter be referred to the First Comptroller of the Treasury for his opinion.

Officers Installed.

There was a public installation last night of Washington Lodge, No. 4, I. O. G. T., Grand Chief Templar A. Kalstrom officiating; Dr. E. W. Kirby, acting G. M., and Miss de Lavergne, acting G. D. M. The officers installed were: William Tucker, P. C. T.; Lidie E. Salkeld, V. T.; Anne E. Jones, S. J. T.; T. L. Salkeld, secretary; James Thompson, financial secretary; R. F. Jones, treasurer; James A. Clarke, chaplain; George E. Long, marshal; Raymond Salkeld, G.; Frank Crown, sentinel; W. H. Salkeld, A. S.; Annie M. Welch, D. M.

The Funeral of Mr. Boorman.

The funeral of the late Sylvester B. Boorman, one of the oldest bookkeepers in the country who died yesterday at his residence, 1015 M street northwest, will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The active pall bearers will be the nephews of the deceased, and honorary pall bearers, Messrs. C. A. James, Edward Temple, Richard Smith, J. T. Dyer, F. E. White, M. V. Marmion, H. P. Howard and Robert Yeatman. Up to the time of his illness Mr. Boorman was discount clerk in the Bank of Washington.

King's Daughters.

At a meeting held last night at the Eastern Presbyterian Church of Washington City Central Council King's Daughters and Sons the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Lipscomb; vice president, Mrs. A. Kent; general secretary, Mrs. L. E. Larkman; recording secretary, Mrs. I. G. Vaughan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. E. Clark; treasurer, Miss Jewell.

And the Pole is Still There.

In regard to the application of Miss Anna E. Humphrey to have a telegraph pole removed from in front of her residence on the west side of Fourteenth street, between L and M, adjoining the Portland Flats, Superintendent Miles has submitted a report to the Commissioners, in which he says that the interests of the public demand that the pole shall remain in its present position.

Want to Pay It Into Court.

The Firemen's Insurance Company yesterday filed a bill in equity asking leave to pay into the registry of the court $500 in dividends, less costs and expenses, in order that the court may settle the dispute between Wesley Willoughby and Emma J. Young.

DAUGHTERS OF REBECCA.

Naomi Lodge of That Order Opened Its Fair Last Night.

Naomi Lodge, No. 1, Daughters of Rebecca, opened their fair at Odd Fellows' Hall, Eighth street southeast, last night under the most favorable auspices. The fair room was crowded and the opening address of Grand Master Kinney was enthusiastically received. The booths are neatly arranged and decorated and are presided over by a corps of charming young ladies. They are as follows:

Fruit—Miss M. F. Duvall, assisted by Miss Addie Duvall and Minnie Sullivan. Ice-cream—Miss E. A. Thompson, assisted by Miss M. A. Gistes, Mesdames M. G. McLain, Virginia Burrows, Georgie Birch and Campbell. Miscellaneous—Miss Juliana Allan, aided by Mrs. H. A. McLain, Miss Gardner, Mrs. Grimsley, Mrs. Minnie Acton, Miss Nettie Spitz. Fancy goods—Mrs. Sarah M. Sanderson, assisted by Misses Louisa Pfeifer, C. Thompson, L. Spear, Ada Lemas and Viola Sanderson. Silver tools—Mrs. Harry Knowlington, assisted by Misses L. A. Miss Daisy Haywood attracted attention as Rebecca at the well.

CHURCH FAIRS.

Beginning of the Season When We Enjoy These Exhibitions.

Willard Hall was thronged in every part last night on the occasion of the opening of the Pentagora, or five days' fair for the benefit of the charities of St. Aloysius Church. The decorations of the hall are ornate and tasteful, and the attractions varied and beautiful. Music was furnished by an orchestra under the direction of Professor Esputa, and solos were sung by Madam Maina and Miss Bregazza with Miss Glennan, pianist.

The fair at St. Stephen's Church, the special features of which were published in THE CRITIC of yesterday, opened last night under the most favorable auspices. The building was crowded to repletion. The booths are all handsomely embellished and are in charge of a corps of most attractive young ladies. Schroeder's band furnished the music. The fair will be continued for two or three weeks. St. Stephen's Church is located at the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue and Twenty-fifth street.

HE OBJECTED TO THEIR MARRIAGE.

An Intoxicated Man Stabs His Step-Father and Threatens His Mother.

While in an intoxicated condition last night, James Henry, a colored teamster, went to his home on H street, between First and Second, and made a murderous attack upon his step-father, George Thomas, and also threatened to kill his mother. He went into the house and after some exciting words as to the marital relations between the two, drew a dangerous looking knife from his pocket and stabbed his step-father in the neck, very near the jugular vein. The wound was of such a serious nature that Thomas had to be removed to the Emergency Hospital.

Later in the evening, with the same weapon, Henry threatened vengeance upon his mother, but was arrested by Officers Sanford and Smith of the Fourth Precinct before he could put this threat into execution.

In court this morning Henry was very penitent and had little to say. His sister and father appeared and testified against him in regard to the assault, but stated to the Judge that he had never before given the family any trouble. They attributed the whole thing to liquor. The fine was $50.

LAWYER MOSS GOT THE MONEY.

So a Brother Attorney Filed Charges Against Him To-Day.

The colored lawyers who practice in the Police Court became involved in a little wrangle yesterday afternoon when the case against Churchill Reynolds and Julia Bellis, charged with vagrancy, came up. Both John A. Moss and Fountain Peyton appeared as counsel.

It appears that Moss got five dollars from Julia Bellis, and Peyton, who did not obtain any fee, succeeded in having the Bellis girl dismissed. To-day Peyton filed an affidavit with Judge Miller in which he sets forth that Moss has been guilty of contempt of court in soliciting fees upon the court premises contrary to rules; also that he was guilty of unprofessional conduct and ought to be punished.

Southern Finance Company.

The board of directors of the recently organized Southern Finance Company met last night at the Metropolitan Hotel. Those present were Governor A. B. Fleming, West Virginia; W. A. Carpenter, Lynchburg, Va.; Dr. C. Gallaher, Roanoke; J. B. Love, Roanoke; James B. Russell, Winchester, Va.; J. S. Waring and W. N. Ruffin, Danville, Va. The company has been organized for the purpose of placing investments in Southern real estate, with headquarters at Roanoke, Va.

The Building Will Come Down.

John F. Ryder was before Judge Miller this morning on the complaint of Building Inspector B. C. King for refusing to take down a dangerous building in the rear of 421 New Jersey avenue. It appeared in testimony that the wall had been condemned as dangerous in 1886, but had been allowed to stand from that time to this. Mr. Ryder was fined $10 and given to understand that the penalty would be $100 for every day hereafter that he permitted it to remain.

Shooting Gallery Men Alarmed.

The action of the Commissioners in refusing a license to John Lotz for his shooting gallery at Pennsylvania avenue and Twelfth street has resulted in a number of letters being sent to the Commissioners in reference to other proprietors of shooting galleries. The letters have been referred to Major Moore. Lieutenant Amiss of the First Precinct has reported favorably in the case of Charles H. Cheshire, 1201 E street northwest.

"Nothing But Skin and Bones."

is the inelegant, though appropriate expression used in describing the appearance of many females, who, when intended for perfect specimens of her handiwork, Nature has been reduced to this distressing condition by some of the organic troubles peculiar to the sex, styled "female complaints," the symptoms of which are "an all gone feeling," sensitiveness to the touch, pecking sensations, nervousness, and sometimes hysteria. The cure for these baneful debilitating troubles—and an unfailing one it is—is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and it renders it unnecessary to consult a doctor—a repugnant duty to a modest woman. 50 druggists.

Found in Search of an Uncle.

Officer Acton found a young boy wandering around at the B. & P. depot last night as if he did not know exactly where he belonged. When accosted by the officer the lad said that his name was Frank Schell, and that his home was in Reading, Pa. He represented that he came here in search of his uncle, Peter Schell, a resident of Washington.

MET HIS MATCH.

A Tough Who Looked for a Fight and Got It.

Last evening, about 7 o'clock, Mr. J. F. Donald, a citizen of Pittsburg, and a man who afterwards gave the name of Williams, had some words at the corner of Eleventh street and the Avenue. Williams was considerably under the influence of liquor and insisted on jostling against Mr. Donald and using vulgar language. Williams suggested that he came from Boston and needed a night's lodging, but his request was refused on account of the insulting manner in which it was made. He then became more demonstrative and Mr. Donald broke his umbrella over his head and walked away in the direction of Tenth street. At the corner of Tenth and E streets he was again attacked by the Boston rough. It was here that Mr. Donald, who by this time had his ire thoroughly aroused, proceeded to pummel Williams in the most approved manner. A large crowd had by this time gathered and Officer Boyce was called to quell the disturbance. He separated the two men, and when the real position was explained he arrested Williams and locked him up at the First Precinct Station.

Williams showed up in the dock at the Sixth street station this afternoon in a very dilapidated condition. He claimed he had been drunk and did not know what he had been doing, but the Court imposed a fine of $20 or sixty days.

To Distribute the Scriptures.

At a meeting last night of the Washington Bible Society at Foundry Church it was voted to put a Bible into the hands of every child in the District whose parents were unable to buy one. Messrs. Z. S. Buckler, George C. Samson and L. D. Alden were appointed a committee to divide the city into districts preliminary to the work of distribution.
