THE BOOK-BINDING FOR CONGRESS.

SEALED proposals, directed to the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House of Representatives, will be received at the office of the Secretary of the Senate, in the Capitol at Washington, until 10 o'clock in the forenoon of Saturday, the 10th day of February, 1849, and no longer, for the ordinary binding, as hereinafter described, for the Senate and House of Representatives for the thirty-first Congress, to be executed in the city of Washington. Samples of the materials, binding, and lettering required, will be exhibited, and information of the probable quantity of work to be done will be given at the said office, to all persons desiring to make proposals.

The binding for each House will form a separate job, and will be provided for by a separate contract.

The first class will consist of the binding of the bills and joint resolutions of the two Houses, printed on cap paper, to be executed in calf or sheep binding, with raised bands and with two titles. The proposals will state the price per volume, of any number of pages that may be directed to form a volume, for binding and lettering in calf, and also for binding and lettering in sheep.

The second class will consist of the binding of the printed documents of the Senate and House of Representatives, of the royal octavo size, including reports of committees, the Journals, Executive documents, and part A of the miscellaneous documents of both Houses of Congress. To be executed in calf or sheep, with raised bands and spring backs, and lettered on morocco. The proposals will state the price per volume of any number of pages that may be directed to form a volume, for the binding and lettering in calf, and for the binding and lettering in sheep; and the price for each extra title, consisting of such lettering as may be directed.

The materials to be used in this binding are required to be of the best quality; the skins, either of the calf or of the sheep, not to be split, and the workmanship to be done in the best manner.

Should there be any maps, charts, diagrams, or plates belonging to any document to be bound, the same will be delivered to the binder by the engraver of the lithography, to be carefully preserved and inserted in their proper places in each document; the price for binding and lettering to include the gathering, folding, and inserting all such maps, &c., of the octavo size, and the extra price will be stated for folding and inserting 100 copies of each plate larger than octavo.

The copies of printed documents to be bound as above described, are to be received in sheets by the binder at his office, from the printers to Congress, from time to time as they may come from the press; to be by the binder dried, pressed, folded, and gathered into volumes, as may be directed, when the indexes for each class, shall have been printed and delivered; the waste leaves to be furnished by the binder. The binder will be held responsible for the safety of all documents, maps, charts, diagrams, and plates so received from the printers and engravers or lithographers, until they shall have been completely bound and lettered as required, and delivered according to the order of the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Each person is required to furnish, with the proposals, satisfactory evidence of his practical skill and his ability to do the work, and to offer at the same time good and sufficient security for the safety of the public documents, maps, and matters that may from time to time be in his possession, until bound and delivered, and for the faithful execution of the jobs and contracts proposed to be undertaken by him, and any proposal unaccompanied with such evidence will be rejected.

The proposals will be opened at 10 o'clock, in the forenoon of Saturday, the 10th day of February, 1849, at the office of the Secretary of the Senate.

ASBURY DICKINS,
Secretary of the Senate.
