PURSUED BY FIRE

BASE BALL IS NOW HOODOOED IN A QUEER MANNER.

Conflagrations at Chicago and Philadelphia Wipe Out the Grand Stands and Bleacheries at both Places, a Panic Resulting in the City by the Lake. Many Men are Injured—Almost Total Losses—Sporting News.

Fire now joins the other hoodoos that are pursuing and desperiting the great national game—baseball.

Sunday the West Side ball park of the National League, during the progress of a game was licked up by the fork-d-tongued Demon, and yesterday the big ball park at Philadelphia went up in flames.

These disasters with the discouraging attendance recently, makes the national game totter.

The fire at Philadelphia yesterday started in the toilet room in the main pavilion while the Philadelphia and Baltimore clubs were practicing. The firemen could not save much of the big buildings and they were speedily licked up. The loss is about $100,000.

The fire at Chicago, Sunday, was much more serious. A panic followed the discovery of fire and two men were seriously injured and eight men badly hurt.

The Chicago and Cincinnati baseball clubs were battling with each other and a crowd of not less than 10,000 crowded into the grounds to witness the game. Every available seat in the grand stand and bleachers was occupied and a large crowd of men and boys contented themselves at not finding seats, in taking up their positions on the field. The game had advanced to the seventh inning with the Chicagos leading the Red Stockings by seven runs, when a fire cry was heard from the bleachers, and a thin veil of smoke was seen creeping through the cracks of the grand stand. The cry of fire was taken up on all sides and in a very short time a terrible panic ensued.

The four exits leading from the grand stand were jammed with anxious men and boys and also a sprinkling of women. The exits were not large enough to permit the throng to go through and hundreds of men sought places of safety by jumping over the barbed wire fence and into the ball ground. The four rows of barbed wire which encircle the stand proved very disastrous to the people who attempted to make their way through them to the grounds. A jam of men and boys crowded to the barbed wire fences but they were not able to get through, owing to the closeness of the wires, the first reaching the fence sealed it successfully, but those that followed in their anxiety to get to safe quarters tried to crawl through and in nearly every instance became wedged between the wires and their clothing was torn in shreds and hands and legs were lacerated by the sharp barbs.

Directly Establishes New Record.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 6—There were thirteen heats trotted on the fifth day of the Buffalo meet and the spectators saw a record breaking performance when the proof crack 2 year-old pacer Faced Surter Walker. The black colt Directly was a favorite while both Carbonate and Theodore Shelton were backed to win. Shelton, however, made a mix-d up break and was out of it before the first heat was fairly begun.

Directly and Carbonate steamed to the quarter like a double team in 33 seconds. On to the half the baby pacers flew, reaching there in 1:05¾. Half way down the stretch Carbonate fell back beaten and Directly slowed up as he came under the wire in 2:12, establishing a new record for 2 year-old pacers. The race record for pacers of that age was formerly held by the Texas filly Lena Hill, 2:12¾. The little black colt came back and paced the second mile in 2:14¼.

2:23 class trotting, purse $2,000. Alix won in three straight heats. Frank L., Romola, Clemmie G., Patineer, Palatine, Kate Dillard, Greenlest, Hazel King, Autocrine, Cool Dee and Chentwoo also started. Time, 2:16¾, 2:15¼, 2:16.

2:25 class, 2-year-old pacing; purse $1,000. Directly took the race in two heats; Carbonate second and Theodore Shelton distanced. Time, 2:12, 2:14¼.

2:17 class trotting; purse $2,000; J. M. D. won the third, fourth and fifth heats and race. Miss Nelson won the second and Aunt Delah took the first heat. Judge Austin, Commodore Porter, James L. Liass, Happy Promise, Jessie Hanson, Lettie C. finished unplaced.

Time: 2:12¾; 2:13¼; 2:14; 2:14¾; 2:15¼.

2:30 class pacing, unfinished, purse $1,500. Ella Eddy won the first and sixth heats; Daisy won the fourth and fifth; Roscoe won the second and third. Beside Hall, Weed Wilkes, Emily W, Queen Lil, Young Ashland also started. Time 2:16¼, 2:12¾, 2:16¼, 2:12, 2:16¾, 2:13½.

Favorites Win at Brighton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The favorites had their inning today at Brighton Beach, and in the first racee they won without the slightett trouble. In the opening race the favorite was Belwood, and he won galloping from Jilt, a rank outsider.

In the second race Sprite won away off in a common gallop from the outsider, De Courcey.

Ella Reed was almost a prohibitive favorite in the third race for two-year-olds, and she showed how she could win by going under the wire with a romp.

ROSSMORE WINS AT SARATOGA.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 6—Under most favorable conditions it was decided to pull off the match between Pierre Lorillard's Redowa and G. Walbaum's Rossmore at five furlongs. This was the last event and Rossmore won by a length in 1:03. The winner was sold for $550 to H. Jones and Redowa was bought for $300 by the owner. Hurlingham was a favorite in the first race, although Chattanooga was pounded for considerable money when it was found Taral had the mount. The Ruppert horse carried four pounds overweight however, and could do nothing with Hurlingham, who came home in a romp with two lengths to spare. Chattanooga was fourth.

CORN TAKES A PHENOMENAL BOOM AND OATCHES WHEAT.

Strength is Due to the Weather, the Bulls Playing the Drouth for all it is worth—It is Expected That the State Reports Will Cause a Stampede—Oats go up in Sympathy. Provisions Higher. General Market News.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6—The space of the drouth in the corn belt was again in evidence today and the speculative cereals were all strong under the lead of corn, that grain making a sensational advance. It was at one time 2¾ cents per bushel higher for September, and 2⅞ cents higher for may than it closed on Saturday, and it left off with a net gain of 3¼ and and 2¾ cents respectively.

Wheat closed ⅝ cent up compared with Saturday's final quotations. Oats gained 1 cent per bushel and provisions advanced slightly also for near deliveries, and 50 cents per barrel for January pork.

Wheat was rather quiet and inactive at times, with the range for the day 1 cent. The feeling developed, about the whole, firmer, and values ranged firm. The surrounding influences were mainly of a bearish nature, and the strength today came from corn. Outside markets showed considerable strength.

Receipts in the northwest were moderate, but a larger movement is expected, owing to the premium of September wheat in this section. September, ½c. higher at 54c, sold to 55c., declined to 53⅝c., and closed at 54⅜c.

Corn was nervous and unsettled, fluctuations covering 2½@3½c. range. The feeling developed was again stronger and still higher prices were secured. The strength was due to the weather, there being no rain in the corn belt. The country was again prominent on the buying side, the southwest in particular, while the selling was principally by local professionals.

Room traders who usually operate in wheat were giving their attention to corn and sold rather freely. "Shorts" were inclined to cover, some on the theory that the various state reports which are expected daily, will be decidedly "bullish" and might cause a stampede in prices. The market opened ⅞@1 cent higher than the final figures of Saturday and sold up ⅞ cent more, eased off ⅝ cent, rallied 2½@2¾, declined ⅝@1 cent, ruled steady and closed at 53⅝ cents for September.

Oats were active and stronger in sympathy with corn.

Provisions were firm on the strength in the grain market, but the market was quiet. Compared with Saturday night September pork and lard are each 5 cents higher and September ribs 7½ cents higher.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—There was a full supply of cattle here, but not many that were ripe. In fact, cattle answering to that description were scarce, so scarce that buyers were not averse to paying advanced prices for such lots as suited them. Choice corn fatted steers generally sold 10@15 cents higher, and good grades were salable at an advance of 5@10 cents. Receipts, 16,000. Westerns were quoted at $4, and Texans $1 25@3.50 for grassers. The range of quotations for natives was $1@4 90.

At the opening of business there were signs of a wake up in the hog market. Receipts, though not nearly as large as for Monday, were large enough for the time of year, and buyers were inclined to insist upon concessions. Later in the morning, however, there was a freer movement and the market grew stronger, finally closing a shade higher.

The majority of sales were at $4.75, from $5 to $5.20 being the prices most frequently paid. Prime heavy lots were in small supply and brought 5@10 cents per 100 more than the best lights.

There was no animation in the sheep trade, and still those who had good stock were enabled to close out at full prices, the feeling in that branch of the market being firm. Poor to fair qualities were slow and barely steady. The average of quotations was $1@3.40 for inferior to choice. The lamb market was firm at $3@4 50.

OLD SOL KNOCKED OUT.

The Photographer Has No Longer Any Need for His Services.

Old Sol has long been unnecessary in the taking of photographs.

Up to the present time, however, he has probably exulted in thinking that his uncertain services must be had to print the photograph.

But again the old chap has been given the go-by, says the New York Advertiser, and he is not now a necessity at any stage of the game. He may sulk and hide his face or pop it out from behind the clouds momentarily as much as he pleases, but with photographers he no longer "cuts any ice."

Electricity has scored a victory over the old chap, and it is practically a knock-out in this particular line.

Before pictures have been taken in the daytime by the aid of electric light and at night by flash light, but to get a proof printed one had to wait until the next afternoon anyhow and sometimes longer, all according to Old Sol's humor.

Now one can go to his photographer—providing that gentleman has the proper apparatus—at any time, even at midnight, and sit for his photograph. Not only that, if he is willing to wait half an hour he may receive a nice, soft print from the negative.

The apparatus consists of an ordinary camera, a forty-five hundred candle power arc light for the taking, a six thousand candle power arc light for the printing.

Instead of sitting in the open room the subject sits in a sort of canopy, the sides and top being white and at the back the ordinary background.

Instead of having the light shine directly on the subject it shines away and is reflected softly back from the white sides.

Watches were held for the test, and a six-second exposure was made. The plate was then developed and dried quickly, coming out good and clear. It was then taken to the printing room, and after ten minutes under the influence of the powerful arc light the paper and negative were taken from the box. The print was remarkably soft, clear and accurate.

All the time taken from the snap of the camera until the print was finished was thirty-two minutes, and ordinary materials only were used.

This relegates Old Sol to the rear—a back number as a potographer's assistant.

The Picnic Sandwich.

To make tempting sandwiches the loaf which is to be used should have all the crust cut off both sides, being made straight before slicing. If ham is to be used cut off as much as necessary in thin slices across the grain. Chop the ham thus sliced very fine, moisten it with cream, pepper and mustard, if liked, a well beaten egg. It is then almost a paste and is easy to spread. Cut the bread very thin, butter carefully spread with the ham, and see that all the edges are neat and regular.—N. Y. World.

Miss Mainchance (sweetly)—No, George: only time to look you up in Bradstreet's.—Texas Siftings.

A pretty evening waist to be worn with a black satin or moire skirt can be made of black gauze jetted in rays and under this is creamy white gauze, which escapes from it to form a finish at the neck, and to make full sleeves, which are spangled with gold. CAUSED BY CORN

ATTACK MADE ON GRANGERS BY THE WALL STREET BEARS.

Burlington, Particularly is Rubbed Down, as a Consequence of the Drouth News and is Offered in Heavy Blocks and is Forced Down Steadily to the Close—Sugar Drops From First Place—Financial News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—A determined attack was made today on the granger shares which was based on the reported damage to the corn crop and which was given aid and comfort by the sharp advance in the price of that cereal. The talk was very bearish in this group especially as to Burlington, the common dividend on which was offered at ½ per cent and current report declared it would not exceed ¾ per cent. Stock of this class was offered in heavy blocks and was forced down steadily to the close with the exception of a slight rally in the early morning. Chicago was the heaviest seller, but Boston houses and local traders joined in the movement as the day advanced. The price was at the lowest figures touched and was at a decline of 2¼ per cent from the closing sale of Saturday. Rock Island also reached the lowest price at the close, making a loss of 1½ per cent on the day, and Northwestern small transactions aggregated only 900 and declined ¾ per cent. St. Paul, which was very largely dealt in, was the only one of the group which sold above Saturday's closing. After receiding ⅝ per cent in the early trading this stock rose ¾ per cent, and, in the face of brisk selling, was held above 59 per cent until 2 o'clock when the pressure on the granger group became most pronounced and it fell off to 58½ per cent, with a final rally of ⅛ per cent, making a loss compared with Saturday of ¾ per cent.

It is believed there was considerable covering in St. Paul by a prominent bear operator. Sugar today vacated its place as leader of the market, which it has held for many months. There was no specially interesting news from Washington today and what did reach the street in the way of rumor was conflicting. The clique which usually operates in sugar was busy today with the grangers which accounts for the comparative inactivity in this stock. An advance of ⅛ per cent was made at the opening which was followed by a decline of ¾ per cent and an advance of 1¼ to 106. At the top figure selling movement was developed under the influence of which a reaction of ¾ per cent took place with a recovery of ½ per cent at the close, the improvement on the day being ¾ per cent. Reports of increased earnings induced buying of Western Union, both long and short accounts which resulted in an advance of 1⅛ per cent with a loss of ⅞ in the general depression in the final dealings. Missouri Pacific advanced 1¼ per cent on reports of improved earnings, but reacted in later trading and closed 1½ per cent be ow the highest price of the day. Distilling was neglected, fluctuating within a limit of ½ per cent and closing at Saturday's quotation.

The railway and miscellaneous bond list was firm and moderately active.

About Belts.

A new idea is to wear the belt loose, so that it droops to one side, as do the sailors. It is claimed for this notion that the effect is prettier than the tight belt, but the truth is that a tiny waist encircled with a manifestly loose belt looks smaller than ever. The most becoming belt is a thick, heavy leather one that is made almost like a man's; indeed, she is a wise girl who buys her belt at a men's furnishing place and then has it cut short and repunched to suit her waist. Such a belt worn loose is far prettier than the flimsy ribbon belt pulled so tightly that the threads stretch and the filagree buckle is strained out of line.—St. Louis Republic.

—The following mysterious advertisement appeared recently in a London paper: "Gentleman, 26, respectable appearance and religious inclinations, wishes to marry under phrenological principles, and invites correspondence from any lady having the same desire." How do you marry under phrenological principles? Do you both have your bumps felt, and then compare notes to see that there is no "incompatibilities of temper?"

—Club life in Chicago is a surprise to a visiting New Yorker. Many of the Chicago clubs are almost deserted at night, many are chiefly luncheon clubs, and nearly all are adjuncts to the members' places of business. There is a so-called millionaire's table at the Chicago club, and great business deals are arranged around the board. Some Chicagoans regard membership in the Chicago club as secondary in business importance only to a seat in the board of trade.
