THOROUGHLY TESTED AND PRACTICAL RECIPES FOR DELECTABLE DAINTIES

Whole Wheat Bread.—This bread is very nutritious and easily made. Sift together three and one-half cupfuls of whole-wheat flour and half a cupful of cornstarch, also one tablespoonful of sugar. Soften one cake of compressed yeast with three tablespoonfuls of water and add to one pint of warm milk. Pour this into the sifted flour and beat it hard before setting aside to rise. When light, add two teaspoonfuls of salt and as much more flour as can be beaten in with a wooden spoon. Let this rise again, and then beat out the air bubbles and pour into two greased pans. When almost double in bulk, place in a moderately hot oven and bak fifty minutes. (Mrs.) A. R. MacD.

Breakfast Gems.—Beat the yolk of one egg with a saltspoonful of salt. Then add one cupful of milk, one-half a cupful of boiled rice, one cupful and a half of graham flour and a scant tablespoonful of melted butter. Beat vigorously and adda quarter of a cupful of sliced dates, one teaspoonful of baking-powder, and then fold in ethe whites of two stiffly beaten eggs. Bake in hot oven in a gem pan. (Mrs.) E. Blackwood.

Lester Park Johnny Cake.—Sift all together one cupful of cornmeal, two cupfuls of flour, one tablespoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking-powder. Now take a small piece of butter, one large spoonful of sugar, one egg, one and one-half cupfuls of milk, and stir enough of this mixture into the flour and meal to make a thin batter.—(Mrs.) W. K.

Proctor Flannel Cakes.—Rub two tablespoonfuls of butter into one quart of flour until well mixed, adding one teaspoonful of salt. Make into a batter with a pint and a quarter of milk, into which have been beaten smoothly tehe yolks of three eggs. Just before baking, stir in the stiffly beaten eggs. Fry on hot griddle well greased.—(Mrs.) C. O. C.

Sour Cream Biscuits.—Into one pint of sour cream stir one teaspoonful of soda which has been dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of warm water; add the well-beaten white of one egg and one-half teaspoonful of salt. When the cream foams up add enough sifted flour to make a soft dough. Roll, cut out and bake in a quick oven.—(Miss) E. McL.

Potato Rolls.—When mashing your potatoes for dinner, put one large tablespoon into a pint of the water in which they were boiled and set aside until bedtime. Strain through a colander and add one-half a pint of milk that has been scalded and cooled, one tablespoonful of lard, one heaping tablespoonful of sugar, one small teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a yeast cake dissolved in water, and enough sifted flour to make a stiff batter. Beat well, cover and leave in a moderately warm place until morning. Then add sifted flour enough to make a soft dough, working it well. Let it rise again, roll out half an inch thick, cut into round cakes, fold together, drawing a buttered knife through as you fold them. Let them rise again until light, and then bake in a quick oven from twenty to twenty-five minutes. This recipe will make quite a number of rolls.—(Miss) M. Stewart.

Breakfast Puffs.—Boile one pint of milk with a quarter of a pound of butter. Stir in three-quarters of a pound of flour and let cool. Beat the whites and yolks of five eggs separately and add. Fill greased cups half full of the batter and let bake in a quick oven. Turn out on a hot plate and sprinkle with sugar.—(Mrs.) J. D. W.

Woodland Scones.—Sift one quart of flour and add half a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of lard, one beaten egg and one pint of sweet milk. When the flour is sifted add first, before the other ingredients, two teaspoonfuls of baking-powder. Mix to a thick batter and drop in squares on a very hot greased griddle and bake brown on both sides. Serve with butter and honey.—Mrs. T. C.

West Duluth Waffles.—To the beaten yolks of four eggs add a little salt, a pint of milk and enough flour to make a stiff batter. After mixing these to a smooth consistency, thin the mixture by adding gradually the beaten whites of the eggs and enough milk to make it thin enough to pour from a teacup, adding half a teaspoonful of baking-powder. Have the waffle iron thoroughly hot and well greased with lard, and pour the batter in from a teacup. Each one is buttered when done and served piping hot.—(Mrs.) W. B.

CORRECT SPEAKING.

Many women overlook the fact that nothing betokens true refinement more unerringly than a pure, earnest, well-modulated voice, free from affectation. In fact, it is in the voice that the secret of the charm of many women lies.

Not every person may have the advantage of lessons in elocution, but every person who will may cultivate a pure tone and a pleasant voice. The first step in learning to talk well is to breathe correctly. Let your tones be clear and as musical as you can produce them. Did you ever hear a person speak the name of Brown so that it sounded really musical? Most people pronounce it with the throat almost closed and from the front of the mouth. There must be a resonance in the voice.

There is no sound so perfect as the hard palate. Do not waste your breath in speaking, but let your last tone be as distinct as the first. Listen to yourself when you speak, and catch the first false note. Do not speak in monotone, but modulate your voice to give expression, just as you would follow the signs in music.

Certain words—the sweetest, the tenderest—are the most expressive pianissimos, just as you would use the soft pedal in producing the sweetest strain of instrumental music. No one ever screams out, "I love you." If he did you wouldn't believe it, even if you were listening to these words from your first lover.

The undertone is always the tone of direct danger. Pitch your voice to suit the time and place—not too low as to appear secret, nor too high as to seem bold and nervous. Learn to control your voice perfectly, and to use it to give pleasure to the listener as well as to do credit to yourself.

KEEP YOUR GRIT.

Hang on ! Cling on! No matter what they say.
Push on! Sing on! Things will come your way.
Sitting down and whining never helps a bit;
Best way to get there is by keeping up your grit.

Don't giv up hoping when the ship goes down;
Grab a spar or something—just refuse to drown.
Don't think you're dying just because you're hit;
Smile in the face of danger and hang to your grit.

Folks die too easy—they sort of fade away;
Make a little error and giv up in dismay.
Kind of man that's needed is the man of ready wit,
To laugh at pain and trouble and keep his grit.

L. E. Thayer.

THE DUTY OF HAPPINESS.

Strange as it may seem, there are a great many people in this world who absolutely refuse to be happy. They are so busy continually counting up their troubles that they have no time to enumerate their blessings. If in their lot in life there happens to be perhaps one tiny trouble in the midst of a big bundle of blessings, they keep their minds firmly fixed on the small trouble and totally ignore their small blessings. To exhort such people to "cheer up" is worse than useless. For they find it much easier, though undoubtedly more uncomfortable, to sit forever in the "Slough of Despond" than to climb the "Hill of Hope."

The only way to be happy is to change one's outlook in life. It is useless to expect any lasting happiness from an improvement in one's outward circumstances, for it is impossible to escape from oneself. "Be good, and you'll be happy," says the cynic with a supercilious sneer; and the cynic is right, but the sneer is wrong. The bogy man who hovers around bad little boys and girls in the nursery follows them later in life—the bogy man of unhappiness and misery. The law of retribution and compensation is unescapable, and sooner or later one must pay the price of every transgression.

Robert Louis Stevenson was right when he spoke of the "great task of happiness." Like all things worth having in this world, a happy disposition can only be obtained by effort and the overcoming of those traits in ourselves that make for unhappiness.

It is simple enough to don "the winter garment of repentance." The difficulty is to keep it from falling off. Resolutions are easy to make. People who can make nothing else can make resolutions by the dozen, but only the person of strong character is able to keep them.
