Dangers of Draft

Drafts feel best when we are hot and perspiring, just when they are most dangerous and the result is Neuralgia, Stiff Neck, Sore Muscles or sometimes an attack of Rheumatism. In such cases apply Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the sore and painful part. The blood flows freely and in a short time the stiffness and pain leaves. Those suffering from Neuralgia or Neuralgic Headache will find one or two applications of Sloan's Liniment will give grateful relief. The agonizing pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth and quiet rest and sleep is possible. Good for Neuritis too. Price 25c. at your Druggist.

Colds Quickly Relieved

Many people cough and cough—from the beginning of Fall right through to Spring. Others get cold after cold. Take Dr. King's New Discovery and you will get almost immediate relief. It checks your cold, stops the racking, rasping, tissue-tearing cough, heals the inflammation, soothes the raw tubes. Easy to take, Antiseptic and Healing. Get a 50c. bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery today. "It is certainly a great medicine and I keep a bottle of it continually on hand," writes W. C. Jesseman, Franconia, N. H. ROTH WINS AMERICAN MARATHON

Dorchester Boy Takes Lead in Fourth Mile—Sturdiest Distance Runners in This Country and Canada Competed—Roth's Time Was 2 Hours, 27 Minutes and 16 2-5 Seconds.

Boston, April 19.—Victor's honors in the annual American Marathon road race were won today by Arthur V. Roth of the Dorchester club of this city. From the fourth mile of the 25-mile course, his speed kept in his wake three score of the sturdiest distance runners in this country and Canada.

Less than eleven seconds separated Roth from the second man at the finish, Villar Kyronen of the Milloose A. C., New York.

Sydney Hatch of Illinois Athletic Club, was third and J. J. Corkery of Toronto, fourth.

Roth's time was two hours, 27 minutes, 16 2-5 seconds, eleven minutes behind the record for the event.

NORTHERN DIVISION OPENS BASEBALL SEASON

Webster and Southbridge Win Their Games in Eastern Connecticut Interscholastic League.

The opening game of the northern division of the Eastern Connecticut Interscholastic baseball league were played Wednesday. Although conditions were unfavorable. At Webster the Bartlett High school defeated Killingly High school, 6 to 2 in a game in which Killingly did not play up to its best form.

The Southbridge High school team came to Putnam and won out, 8 to 6 in a contest that went ten innings. Errors finally lost the game for Putnam High.

HOW THEY WILL SIT.

Here is the way the men have been seated the last week and the way they will probably row against Pennsylvania:

First 'varsity: Stroke, Harriman; 7, McNaughton; 6, Meyer; 5, Sturtevant; 4, Sheldon; 3, Low (captain); 2, Gilfillan; bow, Hume; coxswain, McLane.

Second 'varsity: Stroke, Hyatt; 7, Atkins; 6, Fitzpatrick; 5, Fox; 4, Kositzky; 3, Whittlesey; 2, Adams; bow, Newton; coxswain, Pratt.

The shifting of Captain Seth Low from No. 7 to No. 3 in the first boat and the transfer of McNaughton from No. 7 in the second crew to that position in the first, has had a good effect on the balance of the first 'varsity shell. Low rows very easily at No. 3, and McNaughton appears an improvement over Kositzky in the first boat.

The Yale crew is a heavy one this season It averages several pounds over the eight which defeated Harvard last June on the Thames.

Saturday's race will be practically the first 'varsity competition for Harriman, McNaughton, Gilfillan and Hume. Despite their lack of experience it is believed that they can be counted upon. Harriman rowed in the race against Columbia last fall, but that event furnished little competition after Coomb collapsed in the Yale boat.

Yale defeated Pennsylvania last spring at Philadelphia, and the Blue expects to win again. However, there is no over-confidence among the oarsmen, all of whom realize that a stiff fight will be necessary to win.

New Stroke Looks Good.

The Pennsylvania race will be an important one for Yale this season, in that it will put to a test Yale's new stroke and the American equipment which has been adopted in preference to English equipment.

Nickalls has lengthened the stroke this year considerably, until now the oarsmen are using what is described by experts as a pure Oxford stroke. Last season the Eils used a modified English stroke with good success.

A victory over Pennsylvania means a lot to Yale this year, for it will go a long way toward removing the depression which followed the collapse of Coomb in the Columbia race last fall, and the resultant defeat at the hands of the New Yorkers.

The Pennsylvania race, as well as the entire Yale rowing schedule this season, affords a nice problem in training. Nickalls has set before him the task of bringing his crews to championship or racing form four times during the season, with a watchful eye always directed toward the Harvard race on June 23.

KAUFF TELLS INSIDE STORY OF HIS HOLD-OUT

Bennie Admits Ty Cobb is Best Player—Says He Has Been Misquoted.

"When the Federal went out of existence," Kauff says, "the Giants again made a strong effort to get me I went to the office with John McGraw and talked things over with Mr. Hepstead. I agreed to sign a contract with the Giants at the terms they offered, which were satisfactory to me. And again I fulfilled my part of the contract in fixing my signature to a contract for which they had agreed to pay me $5,000.

"I told them that I wanted to have a chance to see Mr. Sinclair, to see if I could not get a part of the purchase money. This was a not uncommon arrangement among ball players. Frank Baker wanted ten thousand dollars of the purchase price from Connie Mack before he would sign with the Yankees. Sinclair received for me, so I understand, $35,000. The amount may have been overstated, but it was a fortune, at any rate. It seemed to me no more than fair that I should get a part of this huge purchase price. I had my mind set on $5,000 as a reasonable figure.

"No doubt I will be criticized as a money-grabber, but, believe me, a ball player has only few chances to grab any money. No one criticized John Evers when he got $25,000 as a bonus for going with the Braves. Why should I have been criticized for my demands considering the great amount of money that Sinclair was getting for me? He is a man many times a millionaire. He had more money in any one of a dozen banks, no doubt, than I will ever have

"I knew enough to know that with the passing of the Federal league the days of the big money yere largely over and that I probably would never get another chance to get such a bonus.

"The New York owners agreed not to have any dealings with Mr. Sinclair for two or three days, until I could have a chance to see him and try to get my share of the purchase money from him. But I hadn't been out of the office fifteen minutes when the affair was all settled with Sinclair. Naturally I couldn't get any money out of him then.

"I am sorry there has been any trouble. I think the newspaper men in New York are inclined to burlesque a fellow a little more than is necessary. I have always tried to treat everybody fair, and while there is probably no ill feeling on their part toward me, I appreciate the fact that they have made me apear like a swell-headed gink who was altogether too big for his shoes. Now, perhaps I did talk too much at times and perhaps I do give a wrong impression. But to my way of thinking I am not swell-headed. I don't aim to be. I am confident, very confident, and I wouldn't give much for a bal player who wasn't. I am confident and aggressive on the diamond because I consider that I ought to be in order to be a good player. And that lets me out."

Kauff Says Cobb is Best.

"These claims that I would beat out Ty Cobb are bunk. I have been quoted as saying so a good many times. But I am willing to admit that Ty Cobb is the greatest player on the diamond by a long shot. Even if I was as good as he is he would beat me out, for he has much more experience than I have, so these fake claims are ridiculous. I have said and I still say that I won't admit to myself that any ball player on the field can do things that I can't do, for I want to be as good a player as I can. I have a good natural eye and am fast on my feet. I love to play baseball, have always loved it; why shouldn't I become a great player if I am lucky? That is my ambition; I admit it and I will try as hard as I can to equal Ty Cobb or anybody else. But I know that I have a long ways to go first, and, of course, I may never realize my ambition.

"A lot of people have claimed that my record in the Federal league was bush stuff, but they don't know the Federal league. I don't believe the National league was more than ten or twenty per cent. stronger than the leading Federal clubs. I don't know as the Brooklyn Federal team last year wouldn't rate with almost any of the National league teams. We had a pretty good team, let me tell you, even if we did finish in the ruck on account of internal disagreements and a number of other things. But if the Federal league wasn't over strong it was strongest of all in the pitching department, and a fellow who batted three hundred and over had to keep moving right along, let me tell you.

"That makes me think I could do as well in the National. Perhaps I can't, but I won't admit it even to myself for it's against my policy to admit defeat before I am down in the dirt and can't move any more. I don't think the pitchers, as they average up in the National league, are a whole lot better than those we had to fact in the Federal. There were some good hurlers there, and if I could hit against them why can't I hit against those in the National? For I hit just as well against those who were not so good. Then again, I always play best when I have competition. If you are in the lead you can soldier along and take things easy without meaning to do so. But if there are a bunch of good live hitters right beside you all the time you will keep digging your toes into the ground to keep in the procession. And that is another reason why I think I will keep up in the National league with such pace-makers as Larry Doyle and Jake Daubert and the rest."

The Real Bennie Kauff.

In justice to Kauff himself it is but fair to say that while talking a little too freely perhaps and fairly bubbling over with confidence, he is not offensively swell-headed as are some athletes who are conspicuous in the public eye. He is really a very fair, very democratic person who seems to be an agreeable associate and a kindly companion. His career has been one of hardships. He has fought his way to the top from the coal mines. His early years were devoid of educational advantage, and his later life has not been entirely free from the taint of too suddenly acquired popularity and prestige. But Kauff, after all, is a most wholesome, healthy and ambitious individual whose enthusiasm and earnestness are genuinely refreshing. And his confidence, which passes so readily for egotism, is quite his most valuable characteristic. — From the May Baseball Magazine.

STOCK PRICES FELL

Market Was Weak in the Opening and Final Hours.

New York, April 19.—Although special stocks suffered general and severe reversals, impartial observers were of the opinion that today's market furnished striking proof of its inherent strength in the face of highly disconcerting conditions. President Wilson's decision to submit the question of a continuance of the country's diplomatic relations with Germany to congress came as a great surprise, which was indicated in the weak tone of the opening and final hours.

During the intermediate stage and long before the president's address had gained general circulation, the market evinced a disposition to restore some of its early impairment. The rally proved to be the basis, however, for a fresh outburst of liquidation, lowest prices being registered in the later dealings and depressing the general average far below recent levels. Little evidence of support was seen at this juncture, especially in the war group. Total sales amounted to 735,000 shares, of which fully two-thirds represented the munitions and affiliated equipment, industrial and Petroleum stocks.

The day's operations included to a greater extent than at any recent session offerings from out of town speculators. This was evidenced by the activity of commission houses whose connections embrace the more important sections of the country. There was little doubt also that many "stop-loss" orders were uncovered in the course of the decline, provoking much enforced selling.

Wall Street's attention was so evenly divided between the market and developments at the national capitol that it paid little attention to such matters as the opening of awards for $55,000,000 of New York city 4 1-4 per cent. bonds, the optimistic statements of the steel and iron trade reviews and the irregular movements of foreign exchange, the latter embracing a further strengthening of rates on Berlin and Italy.

Appended are some of the more extreme recessions of the day:

Bethlehem Steel 22 1-2 to 417 1-2; Baldwin Locomotive 7 to 86 1-2; Studebaker 6 5-8 to 131; Crucible Steel 4 3-8 to 81 1-4 and U. S. Industrial Alcohol 4 1-2 to 146 1-8.

Bonds were heavy in keeping with the movement of stocks. Dealings in the Anglo-French issue and Erie convertibles were large. Total sales, par value, aggregated $4,650,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.
