A NEATLY-DRESSED white girl, named Elizabeth McAtee, was called up before Judge Snell this morning on a charge of stealing a gold watch and chain from Mrs. Mary Kirchelt of 2105 I street. The lady took the girl recently to give her a home and try to reform her. It was supposed that she was mending her ways until she confessed stealing the watch from a dressing-case. She was sent to the Home of the Good Shepherd.

MRS. DENNIS COLBERT, near Quantico, was asked by a tramp last Wednesday for something to eat. She passed him a lunch through the window when he expressed a desire to come in to eat. THE FAMILY MARKET-BASKET.

Points About Products and Prices in the City Markets.

Week by week the appearance of the market brightens, the stalls assume a greater variety and luxuriance of products and the increasing quantities and decreasing prices add to the activity of trade. But few stalls are now idle, business seems to be on top, and business men are there to conduct it. The country women outside, with their buckets of gooseberries, twisted bunches of country tobacco and their wild flowers, look contented behind their little stands.

VEGETABLES.

Vegetables continue to improve with the fine weather, though most of the vegetables which reach the market are imported. The warm weather has so perceptibly lowered the price of many vegetables that before long we may hope to have them at the usual summer price. "Branch" vegetables are slow this season. Some of the first to reach the market are grown on the farm of Victor Beyer, which is just within the District line, opposite Alexandria. It is said by the market men that he will have the first cabbage, new potatoes, and tomatoes in the market this season. Egg plants, very large and purple, are 8 to 15 cents each. New potatoes have dropped to 50 cents, while old potatoes are 25 and 30 cents a peck. Bunches of firm asparagus vary from 6 to 10 cents a bunch. Local lettuce, excellently grown, are 2 to 5 cents a head. Rhubarb is 3 and 4 cents a bunch. Kale is 15 to 20 cents a peck. New onions are high, at $1 to $1.20 a peck. Tomatoes, too, are expensive, being $1 a peck, and not well ripened. Green peas continue at 30 and 40 cents a peck. Bunch onions, handled by the countrywomen outside, are 2 and 3 cents a bunch. String beans are 50 cents a peck. New beets are becoming plentiful, and are 5 and 7 cents a bunch. Out-door cauliflower ranges from 15 to 25 cents a head, its size, of course, determining its price. Maryland cymblings are well-grown and tender; they are 40 cents a dozen. Lima beans are 15 cents a quart. Excellent, dark-green cucumbers of good size, are 3 and 5 cents each. Norfolk cabbage averages about 10 cents a head. Radishes are 3 and 5 cents a bunch. Parsley is 1 cent, while thyme and sage is 2 cents a bunch.

FISH.

The catch of salt water taylors in the lower Potomac yesterday must have been a particularly good one, as large invoices of those fish, packed in crushed ice, arrived at the wharf on the Norfolk steamers this morning. They were unusually hard and firm, and will sell for 12½ cents a pound. The closing of the upper Potomac fisheries does not deprive the market of white perch, as large quantities are caught near the bay and reach the market by steamers. They bring from 25 to 40 cents a bunch, the price being regulated by the size of the fish. Boiling rock hold their own at 20 cents, while codfish is 10 cents a pound. Halibut are still in demand at 15 cents a pound. Pickerel are plentiful at 10 cents a pound. Fresh mackerel vary from 10 to 20 cents apiece, while the Spanish mackerel are 20 cents a pound. Fresh salmon have dropped to 30 cents a pound. Salmon trout are 15 cents a pound. The quotations of smoked and salt fish remain unchanged. Soft crabs continue high at $1 per dozen. Hard shell crabs are 25 cents, and clams are 10 cents a dozen. Lobsters keep their place for the epicures at 15 cents a pound.

MEATS.

Although about the same price, from 15 to 20 cents a pound, the hind and forequarters of spring lamb are perceptibly heavier and better in quality this week than last. Roast beef from good to choice is 15 and 20 cents a pound. Tenderloin steaks always vary with the cut, at 20 and 25 cents a pound. Round steak is 15 cents a pound. Chuck roast continues the same as last week, at 12½ cents a pound. Mutton is in good condition and the chops are bringing 15 and 20 cents a pound. Mutton in price varies with the cut, at 10 and 18 cents a pound. Veal chops, too, are 20 and 25 cents a pound. The cutlets are 25 cents a pound. Veal is 12 to 20 cents a pound. Soup meats are plentiful at 8 and 10 cents a pound. Sweetbreads are the dish of the epicure. They are 25 to 50 cents a pair, the prices ranging according to the size. The quotations of salt and smoked meats are the same as last week.

FRUITS.

The first watermelon has not arrived. A few days more and that popular melon will be plentiful in the market. The weather is favorable, and the season will doubtless be an exceedingly successful one. Canteloupes are in the market from Florida. They are well grown and thoroughly ripened. They are cheaper this week, the prices varying according to size from 25 to 50 cents each. The strawberry season will soon be over. This fact is perceptible, as the delicious berries have already crawled up in price from 12 to 25 cents a box. Four selected California peaches are sold for a quarter; a basket containing ten or twelve costs 50 cents. California apricots are 25 and 30 cents a dozen, while large, red and purple plums from the same State, making quite a contrast with the delicate apricots, are 20 and 25 cents a basket. May Duke and Carnation cherries are 8 to 15 cents a quart. Common grades of cherries are 5 cents a quart. Sweet-scented sugar-loaf pineapples are 10 to 25 cents each. Baskets of bright-red, small currents are 10 cents a basket. Bunches of bananas are profusely displayed on the fruit stands and range in price from 25 to 50 cents a dozen. Florida oranges are the same as last week—25 to 40 cents a dozen.

BUTTER AND EGGS.

The coolest-looking stalls in the market are the butter stalls. The white marble tops, with a smoothed block of ice, on which the butter sets on one end, a basket of eggs on the other, and the clean-shaven merchant, with his immaculate white apron, in the centre, present a sight of cleanliness that ushers away the thought of hot weather. The butter-stand always looks cool and clean. The best Philadelphia print butter is 45 cents a pound; choice creamery is 40 cents, and New York butter, good to choice, is 30 and 35 cents a pound. Roll near-by country butter is 25 and 30 cents a pound. Cheese is 18 to 20 cents a pound. Eggs fluctuate with the market this week. They are 18 and 20 cents a dozen.

POULTRY AND GAME.

The supply of spring chicken with a very slight increase of weight to the pair over last week is about equal to the demand at 75 cents to $1.25 a pair. Winter chicken for roasting are very scarce, and are 40 cents a pound. Ducks are 22 cents a pound, and ducklings, more tender than spring chickens, are 40 cents a pound. Turkeys are scarce at 18 cents a pound. Squabs all the year round are 50 cents a pair. Green turtle meat is in demand at 15 cents a pound, and frogs are secured by the epicure as soon as the market opens at $2 a dozen.

Lower Cedar Point.

The Armenia will begin her regular trips as far down as Lower Cedar Point on Sunday next, with largely-improved accommodations for the season. She is a staunch, swift, well-officered and finely-appointed vessel, and will doubtless be largely patronized by the pleasure-loving public of Washington this summer.

Judge Bartley's Condition.

Judge Bartley, whose condition has been watched so closely by his friends, continues to grow weaker. Dr. Lincoln, his physician, says his condition is highly critical.

Mr. Leonard's Degree.

Lieutenant Benjamin Alvord, jr., Twentieth Infantry, is granted leave for a month on being relieved as post commissary at Fort Hays, Kan., with permission to apply for one month's extension.

Lieutenant Frank d'L. Carrington, First Infantry, and Mrs. Carrington, arrived at San Francisco June 10, from Prescott, Ariz., and are on their way to Georgia. Lieutenant Carrington has leave for several months.

Miss Cora Taylor, daughter of Lieutenant Frank Taylor, Fourteenth Infantry (adjutant of the Columbus recruiting depot), is an expert telegrapher, having been taught by her father and Captain Charles G. Penney, Sixth Infantry.

Mrs. George D. Wallace, wife of Lieutenant Wallace, Seventh Cavalry, has gone from Fort Leavenworth to St. Paul to remain with her mother, Mrs. Mary Otis, until September, when she will join her husband at Fort Keogh, to which fort he has been transferred with his troop.

Lieutenant William J. Nicholson, Seventh Cavalry, and Mrs. Nicholson arrived in Leavenworth last Monday to visit Mrs. Nicholson's parents. The lieutenant, who is a son of Commodore Sommerville Nicholson of this city, is on duty at the Kansas Agricultural College at Manhattan.

Brigadier-General David S. Stanley, Lieutenant-Colonel Joseph B. Smith, surgeon; Major Joseph P. Wright, surgeon; Major Isaac Arnold, ordnance corps, and Major Edward M. Heyl, inspector-general, compose a retiring board to convene at San Antonio, Texas, to examine Captain George F. Foote, Eighth Cavalry, for retirement.

Captain Robert L. Meade, Marine Corps, has applied to be placed on the retired list for disability, and a board will be ordered here as soon as Secretary Whitney returns to examine him. He has been in very poor health for a number of years past, and his troubles were greatly aggravated by exposure and the climatic influences of his recent trip with the marine battalion to the Isthmus. He was formerly a midshipman in the navy, and entered the Marine Corps in June, 1862.

Lieutenant-Commander Charles H. Davis is detached from special duty in the Bureau of Navigation and ordered as executive of the Powhatan June 23, to relieve Lieutenant-Commander Willard H. Brownson, ordered to the Coast Survey; Lieutenant George H. Peters, detached from the Powhatan and ordered to the Coast Survey, for duty in the office here; Gunner William Halford, to temporary duty at the Mare Island magazine, California.

Colonel Wm. P. Carlin and Major Isaac D. De Russy, Fourth Infantry, and Major Justus M. Brown, surgeon, with First Lieutenant Butler D. Price, adjutant Fourth Infantry, as recorder, compose a court of inquiry convened June 15, at Fort Omaha, by order of General Howard, to examine and report the facts relating to the accusations made against First Sergeant Jesse H. Farmer, company B (Captain Quinn's), Fourth Infantry, in papers forwarded to department headquarters. The court was ordered at the request of Sergeant Farmer.

General Samuel B. Holabird, quartermaster-general; General Nelson H. Davis, inspector-general; and Colonel Guido N. Lieber, acting judge-advocate general, compose a board which convened yesterday at the Quartermaster-General's office to consider and report upon the claims of army officers for private property destroyed in service. The act of March 3, 1885, provides for payments for "such articles of personal property as the Secretary of War shall decide to be reasonable, useful, necessary and proper for each officer while in quarters, in the line of duty." The board will report to the Secretary of War what articles are included in the above proviso, and its recommendation should be comprehensive enough to cover all claims under the act, which was passed in the interest of the Fifth Infantry for losses in 1876 by the steamer J. D. Cameron.

Cadet Davidson, who was court-martialed at West Point for insubordination in disobeying the orders of one of the ille closers—a second classman—during the last skirmish drill at West Point, has been sentenced to be confined at the Military Academy during the summer encampment, and not to receive his diploma until the expiration of his sentence, August 28. The effect of this is to reduce him in rank from his class number, 13, to the foot of the class, as he will not be appointed in the army until released. Davidson's offense was considered all the more grave because that from June 1 the members of the graduating class were "on honor" as to conduct and were subject to no "demerits" for breaches of discipline. It seems that he is by no means a favorite with his classmates, and they are indignant that his outrageously insubordinate conduct, especially on such an occasion and in the presence of the Board of Visitors, reflects in some degree on the whole class.

EAST WASHINGTON.

THE CHILDREN'S EXCURSION.—About one hundred children of St. Peter's Parochial School went on an excursion tendered by the school to Glymont this morning.

SUNDAY BAR.—John O. Gentzler has been arrested for keeping his bar open on Sunday.

PUMP REPAIRS NEEDED.—The pump on B street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets needs attention. This should receive attention as it is the only pump in the vicinity.

THE DELINQUENT STREET-SWEEPER.—The residents of M street are very anxious to know what has become of the street-sweeper. They say the street cleaning apparatus has not been seen in that locality since last fall.

ALEXANDRIA.

PERILOUS SITUATION.—Mr. F. R. Tucker of the firm of George R. Hill & Co. and a member of the Old Dominion Boat Club, while out rowing yesterday evening, and while in the channel, was struck by an an overgrown wave, and himself sent one direction and his cork-like craft another. Being fully dressed in his business suit and an awkward swimmer, he had a poor show to save himself. He made for his little craft, which was bottom upwards and dancing about like a fishing cork, but his wrestle with it only put him in greater peril, until picked up by the commander of a passing pungy, who reached him in his yawl-boat, just as Mr. Keith Davis also reached the spot in a boat. Mr. Tucker is very grateful to the two gentlemen who saved him, one of whom he does not know.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.—Hon. James Sangster, judge of the county courts of Fairfax and Alexandria, by his attorney, Colonel F. L. Smith, has entered suit against the Midland Railroad Company in the sum of $5,000, on account of injuries sustained by the collision of trains at Accotink Bridge, November 4, last.

COUNTY COURT.—A grand jury term of the County court will commence on Monday next.

BASEBALL.—The game of baseball yesterday between the Monumentals of Baltimore and the Alexandrias resulted in another victory for the Alexandria boys. Complaints are made that visitors are allowed to jeer at visiting clubs while playing, and also that the price of admission, twenty-five cents, is too high.

DEAD.—Mr. M. J. Rafferty, who has long kept a second-hand store on King street and a man of genial disposition, died last night after a long and severe illness. It was at his store that Dougherty, the Washington printer, shot himself, from the effects of which he died. The deceased leaves a host of friends who will regret his death.

THE IMPROVED ARMENIA.—The steamer Armenia, which runs on excursion trips to Lower Cedar Point, arrived at her wharf, foot of Seventh street southwest, from Baltimore last night. The steamer has been overhauled and painted in bright colors, which give her a very neat appearance. The Lower Cedar Point trips begin next Sunday, and are under the management of Mr. George L. Sheriff, who will see that none of the facilities for pleasure will be lacking at that popular resort this season.

A BOY RUN OVER.—Dominic Sherlock, a 4-year-old colored boy living in Maiden Lane, between Maine and Maryland avenues and Third and Four-and-a-half streets southwest, was run over by a horse attached to a wagon said to have been driven by a young white man named John Shehan. The child was removed to his home, where, upon the arrival of a physician, it was found that his collar-bone had been broken. Shehan escaped, and has not been arrested.

A SLIGHT FIRE.—While Miss Fannie Fisher was lighting the gas in the window of her millinery store, No. 703 Seventh street southwest, about 7 o'clock last night, the articles in the window caught fire, but the flames were extinguished by the ladies without calling out the Fire Department. The damage was about $10.

HIS HAND CRUSHED.—Patrick Cronin, a driver of an express wagon, while leaning on the elevator shaft at Wheeler's junk shop yesterday morning, had his hand badly mashed by the elevator descending on it. He went to his home at the corner of Third and H streets southwest, and summoned Dr. H. E. Leach, who found it necessary to amputate two fingers.

A BOLD BURGLARY.—Thieves had a very enjoyable and undisturbed time in the residence of Mr. Yerkes, superintendent of the Independent Ice Company, No. 622 G street southwest, Wednesday night. They effected an entrance through the back window and lighted a candle, the grease of which dripped on the carpet, showing that they had entered all the bedrooms. From Mr. Yerkes' they took 3 silver watches and some other articles. Before taking their departure they enjoyed the contents of a well-filled refrigerator. The case has not been reported to the police. They stole the children's money-banks, in which only a few pennies had been dropped.

TABERNACLE EXCURSION.—The members of the Tabernacle went on an excursion to Carlin Springs, Va., this morning, leaving at 8 o'clock. The attendance was very large.
