RICHARD H. SYLVESTER, - - Editor.

WASHINGTON, D. C., OCT. 10, 1885

MR. GARLAND AND PAN ELECTRIC.

Mr. John Goode, the Solicitor-General, in the matter of the suit instituted in the Western District of Tennessee, to test the validity of the Bell Telephone patent, has, by suggestion of the President, directed its discontinuance. It will be remembered that he some time since granted to the United States Attorney of the above district his application to use the name of the United States as a party to the proceedings of the Pan Electric Telephone Company, without the customary reference to the Interior Department, established in such cases by precedent.

The application was granted, as appears by Mr. Goode's statement, in perfect good faith and as the Acting Attorney-General during Mr. Garland's absence; but the whole matter has been satisfactorily explained, and the attempt to besmirch the good name of the Attorney-General in the premises because of his having an interest in the Pan Electric Company has come to nought.

The correspondence on the subject between the President, Mr. Garland and Mr. Goode shows that the whole trouble, or apparent trouble, originated in a technical misapprehension of the extent of his authority by the Solicitor-General, for which, under the circumstances, he can scarcely be held censurable.

The only point that seems to be faulty in the statement of the Attorney-General is where he refers to several occasions upon which ex-Attorney-General Williams regarded himself as under a disability to act in certain cases on the ground that he was interested in them, and referred the question involved to the Solicitor-General as Acting Attorney-General. Like the present Attorney-General, he had become connected with them before he went into the Cabinet. But Mr. Williams had no pecuniary interest involved; he had simply been previously employed as an attorney. While it may be a matter of conjecture as to whether any one's connection with the Pan-Electric Company carries any fixed pecuniary interest with it, yet there is the appearance of it or at least the future contingency.

The President acted very gracefully in the matter. In bringing about the conclusion reached, he regarded the Solicitor-General as the one really responsible for what had been done, and it was through him and not the Attorney-General that the withdrawal of the Government from the case was directed.

Attorney-General Garland should congratulate himself upon the fact that while certain partisan papers vigorously attacked him, his well-known probity and clean record prevented any one whose opinion is worth anything from thinking that he would use his official position for his private benefit.

THE NEW PRELATE.

That distinguished prelate, Cardinal McCloskey, has peacefully taken his departure. His death is regretted by Protestant as well as Catholic.

Archbishop Corrigan of Newark, whose official designation is the coadjutor of the Archbishop of New York, which position Cardinal McCloskey held at the time of his death, will assume that office, and upon the investment of the pallium be Archbishop of New York in fact.

The cardinalate does not, however, go with the archbishopric, for it is not in reality an office. It is a clerical title of nobility, the wearer of the red hat being a prince of the church. It is thought that either the Archbishop of Boston or of Baltimore will succeed to the cardinalate, so great is their ecclesiastical influence.

No extraordinary services will be held on account of the death of Cardinal McCloskey. Some churches will perform solemn pontifical high mass, but it is a matter resting wholly with the rectors.

WE welcome our neighbor, the National Republican, into the ranks of illustrated daily newspapers. THE CRITIC in the short time it has been issued under its present management has introduced many bright and interesting features in Washington journalism which its several contemporaries are welcome to copy after. We are proud of the effect of our example, and if our neighbors will watch carefully and follow us closely they will soon get out of the old rut which has so long characterized their uniform style. THE CRITIC is a progressive newspaper and a worthy leader for its neighbors to follow.

WHEN the men who were arrested for the outrages upon Chinamen in Wyoming returned to Cold Springs from Laramie where the grand jury refused to indict them we are told that they were met by several hundred men, women and children who gave them "a regular ovation." This is as it should be, for did not the Chinese burn their own houses, and afterwards commit suicide?

THE Eastern trouble has practically simmered down in the manner we predicted. Turkey will consent to the union of Bulgaria and Roumelia and the Czar chuckles. Greece and Servia continue to fret and fume and the rest of Europe seems to be willing that they should amuse themselves in that way as long as they see fit. It is as difficult to get Turkey into a war nowadays as it is to bring about a duel in Virginia.

THERE are not more than a dozen collectors of internal revenue to be appointed. Changes in those offices were made very rapidly, and the patronage that a collector has to bestow is large in most of the districts in the Middle and Western States. All of the Ohio collectors have been named except one, at Toledo. It is understood that the President will not name the collector at Toledo until some time after the Ohio election.

THE appointment of Captain Maratta to the marshalship of Dakota will enable the other applicants for that very important position to go home and grow up with the country. It is an office worth having, as the fees are heavy in a Territory of such magnificent distances. Captain Maratta, the lucky man, was a former Ohio River steamboat captain, and is well known along the banks of that noble stream.

PORTUGAL has assumed the protectorate of the kingdom and coast of Dahomey at the request of the King of that country who, as a token of respect to the Portugese government, has agreed to dispense with any further massacres of his subjects on festival occasions. The King wont have as good a time as he formerly did, but the respiration of his people will be easier.

SCIENTISTS and ambitious officers of the army and navy are berating Lieutenant Danenhower because he pronounces against Arctic explorations on the ground that they involve useless loss of life and privation. Lieutenant Danenhower, who knows how it is himself, will probably not be much disturbed by such criticisms, for he has the people with him.

WHAT with the great fair and her colossal street-car strike and Vice-President Hendricks, St. Louis is having rather more than her share of big things this week.

EARTHQUAKE shocks were felt at Louisa Court House and Lynchburg, Va., last night. They were probably the results of an over-heated political campaign.

VICE-PRESIDENT HENDRICKS had a grand ovation at the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

A TOMBSTONE has been erected in Loudon Park Cemetery, Baltimore, this week, in memory of the late Dr. Thomas Dougherty by the preachers of the Baltimore M. E. Church. The cost of the lot and monument was $235.

THE NEW M. E. Church at Walkersville, Frederick County, Md., will be dedicated Sunday, October 18. Preaching at 10 a. m. by Rev. A. M. Courtenay of Baltimore, followed by dedication services. Preaching at 7 p. m. by Rev. Richard Norris of Washington.

THE CONGREGATION of Grace Baptist Church, Eager street, Baltimore, have contracted for the erection of a larger church on the corner of Caroline and Preston streets. The pastor, Rev. J. B. English, whose labor has built up a large congregation, is a relative of Hon. William H. English of Indiana.

"With Gun and Rod."

A volume which will be certain to find a conspicuous place in the library of every well-regulated sportsman, and without which the library of the naturalist will be incomplete, has just been issued by The Century Publishing Company of New York, under the title of "Sport with Gun and Rod in American Woods and Waters." It is a book of generous size—nearly 900 pages—in the best of letter-press and binding and profusely illustrated by some of the best artists of the day. Its contents are largely made up of articles on hunting and angling which have appeared from time to time in the Century Magazine, together with a number of papers that are here printed for the first time, in order to the greater completeness of the work, the whole admirably edited by Mr. Alfred M. Mayer of the Stevens Institute of Technology. Among the authorities represented are Frederick Schwatka, George Bird Grinnell, Maurice Thompson, John Burroughs, Charles C. Ward, Wm. M. Tileston, Charles Dudley Warner, the Earl of Dunraven, Lew Wallace and J. Harrison Mills, who, with various others, contribute to the entertaining interest and solid value of the volume. It has just been received from the publishers by Mr. Robert Beall, 495 Pennsylvania avenue.

MY WIFE AND I.

As through the land at eve we went,
And plucked the ripened ears,
We fell out, my wife and I;
We fell out—I know not why—
And kissed again with tears.

And blessings on the falling out
That all the more endears—
When we fall out with those we love
And kiss again with tears!

For when we come where lies the child
We lost in other years,
There, above the little grave—
Oh, there, above the little grave,
We kissed again with tears.

—[Tennyson.

PEOPLE IN GENERAL.

EX-SENATOR WINDOM's selection of Winona as his Minnesota residence is due entirely to the influence of Mrs. Windom. It was here that their early life was spent.

THE ESTATE of 15,000 acres of Congressman William Walter Phelps, located on Teanack Ridge, is the most celebrated in New Jersey for extent and fine arboriculture.

CAPTAIN ALBERT N. SMITH of New York, who has been for forty years at sea, and who has a good reputation for truth and veracity, claims to have seen a sea serpent 100 feet long.

R. D. GEORGE of North Carolina, who, before the war, was the slave of Colonel Alfred Smith of Whiteville, N. C., is now worth forty thousand dollars. He has made it in turpentine.

REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER thinks that one of the most beautiful features of the week was the earnest prayer offered up for Cardinal McCloskey by the Baptist Conference of Ministers at New York.

FREDERICK O. PRINCE, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, is 67 years of age and a Harvard graduate. He has been several times mayor of Boston, and secretary of the National Democratic Committee for some years.

A NIECE of Congressman Boutelle of Maine has become a chorus girl in the Corinne Merrie Makers' Company at a salary of $14 a week. She is an heiress to $100,000 and ran away from her home in Bangor, Me., to get on the stage.

MR. WALKER BLAINE does not propose to sue the United States for his sinecure salary as an assistant counsel in the Alabama Claims Commission Court, and the Augusta organ of the Blaine family pronounces the story that he intended doing so both groundless and absurd.—[N. Y. World.

EX-SENATOR DAVID DAVIS tells the following story on himself: One day on the stump, at the end of a burst of eloquence, he exclaimed: "I know no East, no West, no North, no South." "Then," said one of his hearers, "you'd better go home and study up your geography." "It broke me all up," says the Judge.

GEORGE WM. BROWN, who was last night nominated by the Independents of Baltimore as their candidate for mayor to run against Mr. Hodges, the regular Democratic nominee, has held the position of Chief Judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore city since 1872, being then elected as a Democrat. He was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1867, and was also mayor of Baltimore early in the war.

Opening Hop at Laurel.

A hop given by the young gentlemen of Laurel, Md., last night was the opening of the social circle of that village for the coming winter. Among those interested and as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gambrill, Mr. and Mrs. Miner, Misses Catnip, Brehme, Compton, Robinson, Hervey, Fassett, Snowden, Gray, Kennedy, Johnson, Milstead, Hunt and Miner.
