MEDICAL.

PILLS OF TANSY Are Perfectly safe and always effectual. Sealed particulars, 2 cts. Wilcox Specific Medicine Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

S S S
Scrofula of Lungs.
I am now 49 years old, and have suffered for the last fifteen years with a lung trouble. I have spent thousands of dollars to arrest the march of this disease, but temporary relief was all that I obtained. I was unfit for any manual labor for several years. A friend strongly recommended the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), claiming that he himself had been greatly benefited by its use in some lung troubles. I resolved to try it. The results are remarkable. My cough has left me, my strength has returned, and I weigh sixty pounds more than I ever did in my life. It has been three years since I stopped the use of the medicine, but I have had no return of the disease, and there are no pains or weakness felt in my lungs. I do the hardest kind of mechanical work, and feel as well as I ever felt since I was a boy. These, I know, are wonderful statements to make, but I am honest when I say that I owe my existence and health to-day to S. S. S. I would be recreant to the duty I owe to humanity if I failed to bear this cheerful testimony to the merits of this wonderful medicine. T. J. HOLT.

AMUSEMENTS.

GERMAN OPERA AT THE NATIONAL.

The performance of the "Beggar Student" last night at the National Theatre by the Thalia Opera Company was a splendid piece of artistic work. Soloists and chorus rivalled with each other in their efforts, which were ably seconded by the large orchestra. The two students, by Messrs. Schultz and Flatbach, were capitally done, and their duet in the first act was the feature of the evening. Misses Englander and Meffiat are both artists with very pleasing voices and excellent taste in acting. Applause was frequent and sincere, and the troupe is to be congratulated upon its reception in an opera but little known and given in a foreign tongue. The opening of the week was so auspicious as to leave no room for doubt as to the success of the engagement. "Nanon" will be given to-night.

ESTELLE CLAYTON IN "FAVETTE."

Miss Estelle Clayton met with a hearty reception at Ford's Opera-House last night in "Favette," a dramatization of Ouida's novel of that title. The plot is well preserved and makes an interesting play. Miss Clayton is of decidedly handsome appearance and is possessed of the elements of success, and showed a good conception of the part. Her manner is somewhat stagy, but that will remedy itself as she becomes more mature. Miss Warden, as Angelique Lapoer, showed herself a capable actress in a difficult part. Mr. Elliot, as Bernardin, was excellent, and did the best piece of acting in the performance. Miss Annie Lewis is a charming little soubrette and made the most of her dual roles. The same bill will continue through the week.

"THE PEARL OF SAVOY."

Miss Maggie Mitchell opened a week's engagement at Albaugh's Opera-House last night before a large audience. The welcome she received demonstrated that she has lost none of her popularity, but that if anything she is more firmly rooted in the hearts of the public. The "Pearl of Savoy" was the play, and its pathetic scenes worked powerfully on the sympathy of the audience. Miss Mitchell was, of course, clever as usual. Her company, with one or two minor exceptions, is the same as that which appeared here last season. To-night "The Little Barefoot" will be given.

"THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE."

A crowded house greeted the National Ideal Opera Company at Herzog's Opera House last night. "The Pirates of Penzance" was put on in splendid style. The soloists were well up in their parts, and each in turn received the applause of the audience. The chorus made a handsome appearance and did effective work. The stage setting was all that could be desired and added no little to the attractiveness of the performance. "The Pirates" will run through the week.

MINOR NOTES.

A handsome souvenir was distributed at Ford's Opera-House last night in the form of the "Favette Waltzes." The title page has an excellent photograph of Miss Clayton, while on the back are illustrations of the principal incidents of the play "Favette."

Mr. George A. Parkhurst, an old Washington boy, who has been playing with Maggie Mitchel, is in the city.

ANOTHER MURDER.

Frank Barnes Fatally Kicked by Richard Norton at Bennings.

Another murder has been added to the already long list of such crimes that have occurred in the District recently. Two colored men, named Richard Norton and Frank Barnes, had a quarrel in Carson's store, near Bennings Station, in the county, about 10 o'clock Saturday night. They met again at Weedon's store, in the same neighborhood, and the trouble ended in an affray, during which Norton kicked Barnes in the abdomen. The latter was assisted to his home, and has been confined to his bed ever since. He had medical attendance, but died last night from the effects of the kick.

Officer Marr of Lieutenant Boteler's precinct arrested Norton and locked him up.

Success of the Night School.

The night schools for white persons over 14 years of age were opened at the Franklin building last night. There is no appropriation out of which to pay for the expense attached to the scheme, and this is regarded as an experiment more than any thing else. The Commissioners have told the parties who inspired this good work, that if it was shown that there was a permanent demand for night schools, they would take the proper steps to secure an appropriation for that purpose. It was clearly shown last night that the schools were a success. There were more than 100 scholars present, ranging from 14 to 40 years, and the excellent order and eagerness for knowledge was commendable on their part. The schools will be open Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The Child's Own Fault.

George A. Heath, a driver of one of the Metropolitan Street-Car lines, was put on trial in the Police Court to-day for manslaughter, in running over and killing little Rebecca Runyon of Capitol Hill, November 14, last. The Court said: "These conductors of street cars must not be under obligation to guarantee the safety of children. If people allow little children to go on the street they are taking great risks. It is a deplorable accident, but there is no case made against the defendant and they have absolutely failed to make out a case."

A DISCOUNT of 10 per cent on holiday goods at Drew's, Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

A Policeman's Narrow Escape.

Police Officer Edwards went to arrest William H. Hurley in West Washington on Saturday night. Just as he entered Hurley's house he saw an axe in the hands of Hurley descending toward his head. He grasped the handle and thus saved his life. The case has been sent to the grand jury.

A NOVEL AUCTION SALE.

Articles from the Dead-Letter Office Going to the Highest Bidder.

The annual sale of unclaimed articles in the Dead-Letter Office commenced this morning at 10 o'clock at Dowling's, corner of Eleventh street and Pennsylvania avenue. There was an enormous attendance, nearly half of the bidders being ladies. The room was so crowded that the people were standing as close as sardines in a box. The interest in the sale was great and the packages were sold almost as rapidly as offered, the bids ranging all the way from twenty cents upwards, many going above $3. The auctioneer was compelled every now and then to cry out: "Gentlemen, you will please not smoke. It is not only disagreeable to the ladies, but to me also!" The articles were enumerated in a catalogue, and each lot was sealed in a package, so that the bidder could not examine, though in the catalogue the exact contents of each bundle was stated by number.

A majority of the bidders present to-day were there last year, and for that reason they were careful not to inspect their purchases on the premises, and many ludicrous scenes that otherwise would have occurred were avoided. Standing with a catalogue in hand, it was very tempting for a lady to bid on a package which was stated to contain all of the following articles: Silk handkerchiefs, lady's lace cap, lady's necktie, sash ribbon and three collar buttons. But then there was danger of getting old, faded worn-out articles. Such a fear sometimes caused light bidding, but every now and then the prices would be run up and people took their chances. Some of them obtained immense value for the outlay, while others got badly left. At most every conceivable article that can be sent through the mails is included in the sale.

It shows to what an extent the mail service is used, and the great question is, Why are so many thousands of bundles uncalled for in a year? The sale will probably last several days, owing to the large catalogue that is to be gone through with.

Stock Increased.

[From the Baltimore Sunday Herald.]

The stockholders of the Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, at a meeting held Dec. 12th, decided unanimously to increase the capital stock of the corporation to $250,000. This increase of stock was subscribed for by the stockholders present. The firm bottles more whiskey than all the other whiskey houses in this country collectively, their capacity now being 1,800 dozens per day. The exhibits of profits on their sales for the past year was most gratifying and encouraging. The company is one of the most prosperous corporations, and the largest advertisers in the United States. It deserves the success it is earning. Its substantial plant is a credit to the city, and Baltimore, looking well to its commercial interests, will mete out to such, every substantial encouragement.

The Frozen River.

The Potomac between Alexandria and this city was frozen completely over this morning for the first time since the setting in of winter. The sheet of ice, however, was thin, and offered no resistance to the ferry steamers and tugboats that plied through and opened the channel. Sailing vessels had to be towed up and down the stream. At Babcock Lake a clean sheet of ice about two inches thick afforded excellent skating to those who ventured on the pond.

The subject of the lecture was "The Rise and Fall of the Moustache," which, being full up with wit and humor, kept the audience in a continuous laughter.

Three tramps were accommodated as lodgers at the police station last night.
