An Epidemic of Colds.

Physicians of this city say there is a veritable epidemic of colds and pneumonia prevailing here now. This slushy, damp, cold weather is likely to increase the epidemic, they say, and, no doubt, cause an increase in the mortality report of the Health Department. Tharp's pure liquors are healthy, invigorating, and act as a preventive. Tharp is at 818 F street.

Loyal Legion Banquet.

The first banquet of the season by the Loyal Legion will take place at the Arlington to-night, and seats have been provided for 125 guests. General Albert Ordway, who is chairman of the committee of arrangements, stated that it would be the largest gathering yet witnessed of the Loyal Legion, and that representatives of upwards of thirty commanderies would be in attendance.

With characteristic enterprise the "Bon Marche," at Nos. 316 and 318 Seventh street northwest, takes the lead in the following proposition: "They will deliver free to any address in any portion of the United States, goods purchased at their store before January 1, 1887." The "Bon Marche" is a live house and is well established with our people.

Minnie Raymond's Property.

Her property is estimated at $3,000. Of this amount about $500 is in diamonds, for which the dead woman had a great fondness; $700 in bank, $1,200 in house furniture, and the balance in an elaborate wardrobe, a sealskin sacque of which cost $300. Her brother has come over from Baltimore and laid claim to her estate. Her four-year-old boy's claim will probably be decided by the courts to be a prior one. The murdered woman will be buried from her late residence, 1309 D street, on Friday morning.

—Mr. John Gregg, Watsonville, Cal., says St. Jacob's Oil is a sure cure for rheumatism.

—The worst coughs are cured by Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, a good remedy also for pains in the breast, and soreness of the throat.

East Washington.

—The first musical and literary entertainment of the season by Farragut Post, No. 10, was given at Washington Hall last evening and was a success. The opening piano solo by Harry Howard, "The Charge of the Hussars," was rendered with the touch of a master; Mrs. Harriet Mills, solo, "When the War is O'er," brought out the wonderful power of her voice; the quartette, "Tenting To-night," by Mrs. Mills and her pupils—Miss Gordon, Miss Williams and Miss Ober—was rendered with a pathos and finish which took the hearts of old soldiers. Probably the most artistic number was the contralto duet by Mrs. Mills and Miss Ober, "A Cauld Blast." Mrs. Tuell's reading, "The Charge of the Light Brigade," was given with power and skill. The piano duet, "Rhapsodi Hungarii," by Liszt, was rendered by Misses Burbage and Mills with exquisite skill and art. The violin solo by Master Julius Burnham (5 years old) was phenomenal. Comrade Springsteen's drum solo brought down the house, and Comrade George Scott's solos were in his usual style and effect. All the numbers were rendered with skill, and the entertainment was a sure guarantee that Farragut Post will be among the best institutions of Capitol Hill.

South Washington.
