LAW ITEMS.

LAWYERS ON KISSING.—The Providence Journal of Monday contains a report of the trial of John Donahue for an assault with an attempt to kiss one Mary Gorman, whom he alleges is his second cousin. The Journal says that the evidence gave rise to some very interesting questions of law, especially to young men.

"The counsel for Mrs. Gorman did not contend that the usual proposal to kiss a lady was an assault; but the parties should, before proceeding to extremities, ascertain beyond any reasonable doubt that the lady would not be unaccommodating, and especially should forbear from such attempts in the presence of a third party. All men, especially young men, would be justified in using reasonable diligence in ascertaining the disposition of the lady under such circumstances, but he must be careful not to press his suit after it became apparent that his fondness was not reciprocated. Currey, counsel for J. Donahue, did not fully concur with this view of the law, but contended that the transaction was all in good nature, as far as John was concerned—that Mrs. Gorman was his second cousin, and there was no intention of committing an assault on his part.

"The Court found John guilty, and fined him $1 and costs. The fact that Mrs. Gorman was the second cousin of John was not considered sufficient justification for his persisting in the prosecution of his desire. The court gave no opinion as to what would have been their decision if the parties had been first cousins, or if the kiss had been stolen before the lady had objected. Without meaning to commit ourselves fully on so important a question, we would intimate the opinion that such a state of facts would be a perfect justification."

RESPONSIBILITY FOR DELAY.—During the session of the Circuit Court last week, Judge Bullock made a decision, which, if sustained, will prove of much importance to masters or owners of steamboats. A mercantile house in our city sued the owners of the steamer Grace Darling, for detaining a lot of flour several weeks, shipped on her to New Orleans, thereby causing the loss of a considerable sum of money on the venture, by the decline in the New Orleans market. The merchant had one thousand barrels, about half of which was shipped on the steamer Old Hickory. The captain of the Grace Darling engaged the residue of the flour for his boat at an advance of five cents per barrel for freight, stipulating to proceed to New Orleans immediately, in consideration thereof. The boat, however, was detained for some time, and the price of flour had materially declined in the Southern market. The Judge decided in favor of the plaintiffs, and ordered that the owner or owners of the Grace Darling shall pay damages to the amount of the loss sustained by the shippers in the detention of their produce from the market.—Louisville Courier.

SLANDER SUIT.—A suit for slander has just been determined in the Elkhart Circuit Court, which has excited a good deal of interest. The plaintiff was Miss Sarah Jane Kline, a young lady of Jackson township, and the defendant Hiram Abshire a young man of some 20 years of age, of the same place. The defendant had charged the Plaintiff of having had incestuous connexion with her four brothers, and of illicit intercourse with himself. The defendant put in a plea of justification on the trial, but failed to sustain it, and the jury brought in a verdict of one thousand dollars damages for the plaintiff.—Goshen Democrat.

SHORT COMINGS IN FLOUR.—In the Common Pleas a verdict was rendered of some interest to those who trade in flour. It was the case of Bronson et al. vs. Willard et al. The parties belong to Oswego and Troy, N. Y., and the suit is for damages for deficiency in a quantity of flour sold by the defendants to the plaintiffs, and sent by the latter to Boston. There were about 1,000 bbls., and nearly all of them fell short in weight, varying from one to twelve pounds. The plaintiffs claimed for the expenses of weighing and refilling the barrels, inspecting allowances to purchasers, and other incidentals arising from the deficiency. The verdict was for $507 11—all that was sued for, and interest.—Boston Post.

LEGAL.—"Do you swear or affirm?" said a magistrate to a witness.

"I don't care a d—n which," was the reply.

The "New States."

The following table will show the time when the "New States," or those not included in the "Old Thirteen," were admitted into the Union:

Vermont originally was a part of New York, and was admitted into the Union June 1, 1791.

Kentucky, formerly a part of Virginia, admitted into the Union June 1, 1792.

Tennessee, formed of territory ceded to the United States by the State of North Carolina, admitted into the Union June 1, 1796.

Ohio, formed out of part of the territory northwest of the river Ohio; admitted into the Union November 29, 1802.

Louisiana, formed out of part of the territory ceded to the United States by France; received into the Union April 8, 1812.

Indiana formed out of a part of the Northwest Territory ceded to the United States by Virginia; admitted into the Union December 11, 1816.

Mississippi, formed out of a part of the territory ceded to the United States by the State of South Carolina; admitted into the Union December 10, 1818.

Illinois, formed out of a part of the Northwestern Territory; admitted into the Union December 3, 1818.

Alabama, formed out of a part of the territory ceded to the United States by South Carolina and Georgia; admitted into the Union December 15, 1818.

Maine, formed out of a part of Massachusetts; admitted into the Union March 15, 1820.

Missouri, formed out of a part of the territory ceded by France by treaty of April 30, 1803; admitted into the Union August 10, 1821; after the adoption of the noted compromise line excluding slavery from all territory north of thirty-six degrees west of the Mississippi, saving States or territories already formed.

Arkansas formed part of the same territory; admitted June 15, 1838.

Michigan formed part of the territory ceded to the United States by Virginia; admitted into the Union January 26, 1837.

Florida, formed out of the territory ceded by Spain to the United States by treaty of February 22, 1819; admitted into the Union March 3, 1845.

Texas an independent republic; admitted into the United States by a joint resolution of Congress, approved March 28, 1847.

Iowa, admitted into the Union, December 26, 1846.

Wisconsin; an act was passed on the 3d March, 1847, to admit this territory into the Union upon the condition that the people adopt the constitution passed December 16, 1846. This constitution was rejected; but the people having subsequently agreed upon a constitution, the State was admitted into the Union by act of Congress of 29th May, 1848.

TERRITORIES.—Nebraska.—Bill reported to fix boundaries January 7, 1845; but no action on the subject.

Oregon.—Bill to establish a territorial Government passed House of Representatives January 16, 1847; no final action on the subject in the Senate during that session. In 1848 a bill passed both Houses of Congress, and was approved by the President on the 14th August, establishing a Territorial Government.

Minesota.—Bill to establish a Territorial Government passed the House February 17, 1847; referred to Judiciary Committee in Senate. No further action on the subject.

FACTORIES IN THE WEST.—The Quarterly Review, of the Methodist Church, contemplates the time when manufactories will crowd the shores of the Ohio. It says:—

"The abundance of cheap fuel for the production of motive power—the proximity to the cotton growing region—and to a market for coarse cottons, extending from the Mississippi to the Pacific, and from the falls of the St. Anthony to the centre of Mexico—the profusion and cheapness of all that is needed for the sustenance of man and beast—the rapid increase of population, eager to achieve a fortune more easily and rapidly than by the small and slow returns of agriculture, a consideration which renders it impossible to doubt that other Lowells than that which skill and enterprise have constructed where the disadvantages were incalculable, must spring up naturally and almost spontaneously, where the advantages are so conspicuous."

THE FORGERY AT LOWELL.—The Lowell Vox Populi gives the name of the absconding forger and speculator in that city as Levi B. Farr, and estimates the loss of his victims at $30,000.

CANDIDATES.

[Announcement fee, $1: to be paid in advance.]

☞We are requested to announce S. S. DUNN, of Lawrenceburgh, as a candidate for the office of Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives.

☞We are requested to announce C. G. WARNER, of Marion county, as a candidate for Door-Keeper of the Senate.

☞We are requested to announce JOSEPH MCLAUGHLIN of Marion county, as a candidate for Door Keeper of the House of Representatives.

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE.—We have just learned that while Mr. Thomas Walker, an old and respectable citizen of Palestine, Ill., was discussing politics with the Merom ferryman a few days since, the latter became enraged and seized a fish-gig, which he thrust into the body of Mr. Walker, killing him almost instantly. We learn that the murderer is in jail, there to await his trial.—Vincennes Gaz.

CAN THIS BE TRUE!—The Rev. Theodore Parker, it is said, stated in his sermon on Sunday, that there was a court in Boston which contained sixteen tenements, each of which contained several families, and that of the children born in this court, one half were born blind, and the eyes of the other half are more or less defective!

☞"The STARS" which Daniel Webster saw one day, just after dinner, "in the dark and troubled night" of Whiggery, have again appeard in Henry Clay's late letter.

A Good Medicine.

Dr Bragg's Sugar Coated Pills have been thoroughly tried, and long experience has fully established their superior efficacy over every other medicine ever offered to the public for the radical cure of almost every form of disease, and particularly of those bilious affections so prevalent throughout our southwestern and western States. The proof of this is found in the fact that those who have once used these Pills have after preferred them and continue to use them in preference to any other kind of medicine—returning regularly at the commencement of each sickly season for their supply of this valuable medicine—and urging their friends to do the same. Innumerable cases of chills and fever, obstinate and long standing, have been so suddenly cured by Bragg's Pills that their effects have almost appeared miraculous. Let the patient who doubts this try them, and he will find himself equally delighted and astonished.
