DENTISTRY, SURGICAL AND MECHANICAL.

The subscriber, having located in the city, offers his services to those in need of a Dentist, and hopes, by the exercise of skill and care in his operations, to merit the public patronage.

Having recently discovered an improved method of obtaining the desired effect of the plastic base for the artificial teeth so gold, silver or rubber bases, he is enabled to adapt the plastic base with accuracy to the gum so as to cause no inflammation or laceration of the tissues of the mouth, and to furnish a durable and perfect fit for the purpose of mastication, and restore the countenance to its natural expression.

All operations on the teeth performed in the most satisfactory manner at prices within the reach of all. My object being more to obtain a reputation as a Dentist than to make money, I would therefore respectfully solicit a trial, which will bring their friends and patronage my method of operating, feeling quite certain of a continuance of the support and confidence of all those who have me with a trial.
