DR. HENRY E. SHEPHERD.

Probably the Foremost English Scholar in America.

Appointed on the Council of Historical Literature for the World's Fair—How He Was Honored by Oxford University.

Dr. Henry E. Shepherd, president of the College of Charleston, S. C., who has recently been appointed on the council of historical literature for the World's Columbian exposition, is probably the most progressive, as also the first, English scholar in America, says the Illustrated American.

Dr. Shepherd has earned for himself, by his great literary attainments, a name alike honored in this country and Europe, where genius such as his is always accorded a hearty welcome.

The latest tribute to Dr. Shepherd's ability, and one of which any man might justly be proud, comes from the University of Oxford, in England. At the close of the introduction to the great "Historical Dictionary of the English Language," now being issued by the Clarendon Press, at Oxford, special mention is made in most laudatory terms to an article written by him, at the request of Dr. Basil Gildersleeve, for the American Journal of Philology, and published in the October number of that magazine in 1880. Students of English in every part of the world are advised by the editors of the English dictionary to consult this article which is so conspicuously called to their attention. It consists merely of the history of two words: "Coincide" and "coincidence," traced through a period extending over six hundred years—that is, from medieval Latin into English, through all their mutations and vicissitudes.

Dr. Shepherd was born in Fayetteville, N. C., in 1845, and is now forty-eight years old. At the breaking out of the late war he was one of the first to volunteer from his state, entering the service when he was just sixteen. He was almost mortally wounded at the battle of Gettysburg, July 3, 1863, but, recovering, was made colonel. Being too young to accept the commission, he served as a non-commissioned officer to the end of the war.

Dr. Shepherd was educated at the University of Virginia, and had an especially high rank in literature and the languages. His professional life began in Baltimore soon after the close of the civil war and he made his home there until the end of the year 1882, at which time he assumed the presidency of the College of Charleston, S. C. He was engaged in many important academic trusts in Baltimore, and was superintendent of public instruction from 1875 to 1882, probably being the youngest man ever elected to so responsible a position, being a little more than thirty years old at the time.

Dr. Shepherd is a voluminous contributor to the leading literary and philological journals of America. His work has been time and again recognized in Europe and in the amplest and most generous way. He has been a lecturer of English in nearly every part of the country—north and south—having spoken in that capacity to classes of college presidents and professors at least five hundred times. A remarkable feature of Dr. Shepherd's lectures is that, without a moment's notice, he will speak on any literary subject.

DR. JOSEPH SENNER.

Sketch of the Newly Appointed Commissioner of Immigration.

Dr. Joseph H. Senner, the newly appointed commissioner of immigration, is a Moravian by birth, and emigrated to the United States in 1860 at the age of thirty-three years. He is a graduate of the University of Vienna, is a lawyer by profession, and holds the title of LL. D., but on his arrival in this country devoted himself to journalistic work, and has for nearly a decade been the foreign editor of the New York Staats Zeitung. From 1882 to 1885 he was editor of the Milwaukee Herald, and for the last two years he held the office of president of the national organization of German-American journalists. He is a member of many German social and scientific associations, and is widely known throughout the country in German-American circles.

Maud—Mamma does like him, and won't let me.—Truth.

SWORD AND GUN.

COL. BOYKIN and all the officers of Maryland's crack regiment, the Fifth, have resigned owing to trouble growing out of a conflict of authority at the inauguration of Cleveland.

THE extreme range, three hundred and sixty yards, of an English war bow of the middle ages was almost as great as the effective range, four hundred yards, of a musket in our Mexican war.

THIS is not a military country, and officers of the army and navy take care not to be found in uniform when off duty. The proper attire for a social affair of official character is, of course, full dress uniform, but no officer appears at a private gathering in such attire if he can avoid it.

CAPT. JOHN G. DOUGHERTY, of Jackson, Mich., is anxious to restore to friends of the owner a sword taken from a line officer of an Indiana or Illinois regiment who was killed at the battle of Malvern Hill. The only mark of identification to be found on the well-preserved sword is the initials "H. W. C." scratched on the butt of the handle.

MUSICAL MISCELLANY.

WALTER B. ROGERS, the popular cornetist, has been appointed leader of the Seventh Regiment band of New York, to succeed the late C. A. Cappa.

DR. JOHN A. BROADUS relates that Ole Bull once said to him: "If I quit practicing on my violin for a day I notice the difference; if I quit for two days my friends notice the difference; if I quit for a week everybody notices the difference."

IMPORTANT FOREIGNERS.

MR. GLADSTONE would be the favorite boarder in an American private hotel. He is found of rice pudding and prunes.

MODJESKA carries in "Henry VIII." a handkerchief which is said to have been the property of Queen Isabella. Whether this is true or not the handkerchief is one of the rarest pieces of old Spanish lace in existence.

THE dethroning of Liliuokalani leaves but three real queens in the world. They are Queen Victoria, Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, and Queen Ranavalo III., of Madagascar. All the rest of those who claim the title are either in exile, are acting as regents or are the wives of kings.

THIS year Louis Kossuth will be 91; Neal Dow, 89; Ferdinand de Lesseps and David Dudley Field, 89; Gladstone and Oliver Wendell Holmes, 84; Pope Leo and Senator Morrill, 83; Harriet Beecher Stowe, 81; Allen G.
