PINGREE HITS ALL

ECCENTRIC MAYOR OF DETROIT IS OUT IN A VERY WARM BOOK.

In His Opinion Everything and Everybody in the Whole World is Corrupt—He Goes for the Newspapers, the Politicians, the Legislatures, the President, His Cabinet and in Fact Everybody in an Official Position, Except, of Course, Himself—His Fight with Corporations and His Potato Crop.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 17.—The long-looked-for book which Mayor Hazen S. Pingree has threatened to spring upon the public was given private circulation here this evening and will be public property tomorrow. It is called "Facts and Opinions; or, Dangers that Beset Us." To understand the interest that attaches to its appearance—for it is in no wise a great production—one must understand well who Mayor Pingree is and the position he occupies.

Three times has he been elected to the mayorality in the formerly Democratic city of Detroit, each time by an increased majority, and again is he a candidate for the Republican nomination, with practical certainty of election and nomination. He made the city Republican ,and at a so-called mass-meeting a few days ago was requested by a portion of the 7,000 people present to be a candidate. He said he could not refuse.

He has become famous, first, because of his bitter and successful fights on corporations, notably the local gas, electric light, and street car companies. Detroit paid $1.50 a thousand for gas when he first took the chair and now pays but $1, with a certainty of seeing 80 cent gas in the not distant future.

Horse cars were supreme six years ago, while now one of the finest electric street railways on this continent will be completed before spring.

Detroit was paying thousands of dollars to the electric light companies not long ago. Now it has its own plant. To Pingree more than to any man or set of men belongs the credit of these changes.

THE "PINGREE POTATO PATCH."

Perhaps the "Pingree potato patch" has brought more fame to Detroit's mayor than his corporation battles.

His scheme has been copied not only in many cities in this country, but in foreign lands.

Pingree was a good soldier, a good cobbler of hoes, and is now a shoe manufacturer of wealth.

Now for the book, which while it undoubtedly voices his sentiments, is the direct work of his private secretary, James M. Walsh, an erratic newspaper man of considerable local note. It would probably have been of greater literary merit had not Mayor Pingree left his mark upon it. The red flag to this mayoraly bull is corporations and newspapers, and to them much space is devoted. His introduction to the book is twenty-four pages long. In it he reveals the alleged fact that the regular army officers called to Chicago to suppress the Pullman rioters were practically on the point of refusing to act, owing to the fact that they considered themselves ordered there solely for the perpetuation of wrongs. The Chicago papers, he declares, knew all about these meetings of officers but supressed the facts in the interest of soulless corporations, and declares that had the "opinions of these officers been published at the time, it would simply have shown that many of the newspapers of Chicago were lying in every edition, distorting, garbling, and publishing the policy of the paper in the headlines of articles supposed to contain a simple relation of facts," as he affirms they also did of the court-martials ordered as a result, but which never took place. To newspapers generally, he pays his respects as follows:

The money interests of newspapers are hopelessly entangled with corporations. It is impossible to disentangle them. Newspapers are either the open advocates of an anarchical condition of affairs or, guiltily conscious of it, stand neutral, and by omitting to denounce it are participators in the crime of delivering the government to the hands of the few through the criminal manipulation of conventions and the practical disfranchisement of the voters of the republic.

Of Detroit corporations he says:

My experience in fighting monopolistic corporations as mayor of Detroit, and in endeavoring to save the people some of their rights as against their greed, has further convinced me that they, the corporations, are responsible for nearly all the thelving and boodling with which cities are made to suffer from their servants. They seek almost uniformly to secure what they want by means of bribes, and in this way they corrupt our councils and commissions.

In various places he attacks nearly everything and everybody handling the law's machinery, including legislatures in general, the president and his cabinet, and both branches of congress. In fact Mr. Pingree practically says he is the only "sure thing people's friend" in this or any other country.

The book tells of the mayor's struggles with the corporations, and then relates how they pursued him, all of which is local gossip.

ALL IN CORPORATION HANDS.

To his honor every state is in the grasp of corporations, and nearly every court and high dignitary debauched by them. He stands for state and municipal ownership of all railways of whatever kind, and is supposed to be a free silver man and a bit of a Populist. In fact a widespread belief in his lack of loyalty to the Republican party at whatever point it may fail to aid him is his greatest weakness at present. With the laboring classes here he is undeniably immensely strong. His favorite target is United States Senator McMillan, a many times millionaire and a business man with vast manufacturing and railway interests. He is ever spoken of as "Jim" by the mayor, and ever painted as a devil of blackest hue. The senator's return hunt is a still one.

As to arbitration he says:

The condition and welfare of the laboring classes is a question of wages. Greed will ever try to reduce wages. The only weapon of the laboring man is to strike; he has no other recourse against injustice and oppression. To me it seems that arbitration is a better solution than bayonets and bullets. Let the government encourage that method to settle questions of wages. As long, however, as the oppressor is assured that troops will come to his rescue, provided he can cause to be committed some overt act which can be laid at the door of the strikers, he will say, "There is nothing to arbitrate."

In wage disputes the side which will not arbitrate practically admits that it cares not to do what is just, but relies on its power to coerce; might is right: I can, therefore I will. This was the motto of men in barbaric days, before the days of courts. Civilization demands that the disputes between man and man be settled by the rules of equity and justice, and not by stones and sticks on the one side and glittering guns on the other.

The book closes with a history of the fight to secure a municipal electric light plant.

The excessive pleasure we feel in talking of ourselves ought to make us apprehensive that we afford little to our auditors.—Rochefoucauld.

Do You Know.

That the Santa Fe route (St. Louis and San Francisco railway) is positively the only line running two daily through passenger trains from Wichita to St. Louis, without change, leaving Wichita at 10:40 a. m., and 10:35 p. m., arriving in St. Louis at 6:20 p. m., and 6:50 a. m. The equipment of these trains is first class in every particular, consisting of elegant reclining chair cars (seats free) and Pullman Palace Drawing Room Sleepers.

If you are going beyond St. Louis remember that connection with all lines for the east, northeast and southeast is made in the magnificent new Grand Union depot, St. Louis, the largest and handsomest passenger station in the world.

For sleeping car berths and all information relative to rates, routes, etc., call at Santa Fe Route ticket office, 155 North Main street, or Douglas Avenue station. d59 tf

ARE YOU GOING TO KANSAS CITY? REMEMBER THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY

Is the ony line that runs a strictly Wichita-Kansas City train. Leaving Wichita at 9:05 p. m., arriving at Kansas City next morning at 7:20. This train is made up at Wichita, and therefore always leaves on time. Nice chair cars and Pullman sleepers.

Notice the leaving time, and the next time you go to Kansas City take the Missouri Pacific. Always on time. Never late. Fine equipment. Leaves Wichita at a reasonable hour and arrives at Kansas City neither too late nor too early. Ticket office 114 North Main street. Depot corner Second and Wichita streets.

NEW TIME CARD ON THE SANTA FE ROUTE

Taking effect October 29.

October 29 the Santa Fe route will put in service the finest and fastest train ever run between Chicago and Los Angeles, making the run in three days. This a half day faster than ever before accomplished by any transcontinental line. Passengers from Wichita to Los Angeles only need be out two nights between those points. The equipment of this train, which will be entirely new, will consist of Pullman palace and compartment sleepers, chair car and dining car, through to Los Angeles. The time of the Colorado express will also be shortened and it will arrive at Denver at 8:30 a. m. instead of 11 a. m. as at present. There will be no material change in arriving and leaving time of trains from this point.

If I had a son who would smoke cigarettes.
I'd instill him
With thoughts of the evils the habit begets,
And I'd fill him
With dread of it all. How to flee from its nets
I would drill him,
And if that did no good, without any regrets,
I would kill him.
