Whereas, The members of the Society have just heard with great grief of the death of their venerable President, Col. Gassaway Watkins—a distinguished Patriot and Soldier of the Revolutionary Army, and the last surviving officer of the "Old Maryland Line," and as an expression of their feelings on this occasion for his public Revolutionary services, as well as his private worth: and as a manifestation of the loss they have sustained in him as President of the Society—Therefore,

LOOK TO YOUR COMFORT & HEALTH.

THE present and approaching excessive hot weather, is not only very oppressive and uncomfortable, but must become very unhealthy: it is therefore prudent and advisable, that persons who have any regard for the comfort and health of their families, should carefully avoid sleeping on feather beds at this season of the year—especially, when good clean delightful MATTRASSES of every description can be had so very low, at the BEDDING MARTS, N. W. and S. W. corners of Lombard and Light streets. Those who doubt will please call and examine for themselves.

DRAWING AND PAINTING.

MRS. JENNINGS, (from London,) respectfully informs the citizens of Baltimore, that she is giving lessons on a new and beautiful system of painting, introduced by herself into this country.

Mrs. J. is the only person in this City who has the advantage of having been taught by the inventor, Mr. Winston; in addition to this, hers is not the experience of a day, but of years.

Among the advantages of this system are: the facility with which it may be acquired by those who have no previous knowledge of Drawing and Painting, and the rapidity with which a picture can be executed. That a gnowledge of it sufficient to enable any attentive person to sketch correctly from Nature, and to go on to any dekree of perfection, may be communicated in a few Lessons of an hour each, without any mechanical aid whatsoever. Painting by this system instead of being a laborious task is an agreeable recreation and often developes taste and talent not known to be possessed. It unites the transparency of water color painting, with the effect and durability of oil, yet avoids the tedousness of the one, and the offensiveness of the other. Mrs. J. likewise teaches a beautiful method of Drawing and painting Birds, Flowers and Fruit from Nature. Also to make Wax Flowers, and to prepare the Sheet Wax.

Ladies and Gentlemen are invited to call and examine specimens of the work at her house, No. 39 FAYETTE STEET, three doors above North, between the Post Office and City Hotel

BY PATENTS FOR INVENTION AND IMPROVEMENT, and by the approbation of the Royal Academy of Medicine of Paris—Gelatine Capsules of pure Balsam Copaiva, by R. Folger. The Copaiva Balsam is of all medicines employed in combatting the chronical and acute gonorrhœal afflictions, also the blennorhœa, called whites, the only one the specific of which has never been doubted, and to which physicians have in consequence given the preference; but its nauseous taste and smell are the cause of its being rejected by patients.

I therefore offer a mode of administering it in such a state that it cannot occasion the slightest repugnance, and this without submitting it to any alteration. My method consists in inclosing it in the gelatine capsules, It incloses the precious medicine in such a manner as to disguise it entirely to the taste and smell, and it goes into the digestive organs without any other mixture than that of the gelatin, with which it is enveloped, and which is soon completely dissolved in the stomach. By this means the treatment of the gonnorrhœa being effected without disgust, and consequently without interruption will become more prompt and more sure, thus preventing the possibility of a relapse.

The certificates in my possession are so numerous that it would require too much room to publish them all. It needs only to say gelatine capsules were unanimously approved by the school of medicine among whom we found the names of

The Baron Albert, first physician to the King, &c.
Lisfranc, surgeon major to the hospital of le Prete, &c.
Majorlin, Knight of the Legion of Honor, professor in the medicine of Paris, and Surgeon to the King, &c.
