River Intelligence.

OFFICE OF THE SOUTH-WESTERN,
Shreveport, October 30, 1867.

The weather from Wednesday to Friday night was cool and pleasant. On Friday night it commenced raining, with a cold wind from the North, which continued until Sunday morning. Sunday was a damp, disagreeable day. Monday opened clear, and almost cool enough for a light frost. Since then we have had perfect Indian Summer weather. No frost yet.

The river is still on the decline opposite this point, with scant two feet water on the bars hence to Alexandria. For the first week since the surrender, we have been without the arrival of a steamboat from the city. Quite a number of them are on the way, but we question very much whether they will reach this point until another rise, of which we see no prospect at present. The Pioneer Era, which sunk at Prudhomme's Bend, was raised and at last accounts had reached Grand Ecore, where she would reship her freight on the Gossamer, one of the lightest boats in the trade. We have no positive information of the whereabouts of any of the other boats reported coming up. The Flicker, which left this port one week ago yesterday, with a barge in tow, for Jefferson, we understand is aground in the Lake just above Albany, with rather slim prospects of reaching her port of destination at present. The new steamer Jimplecute raised steam on Saturday, and after making a successful trial trip, tied up at our landing. She is of very light draught, and will no doubt be of great service to us during the present low stage of water.

Commercial Intelligence.

SOUTH-WESTERN OFFICE,
Shreveport, October 30, 1867.

Owing to the epidemic, nothing has been doing in any department of trade. We never witnessed a duller week.

COTTON.—We refer to the following memoranda from the circular of Gregg & Martin:

REPORT OF GREGG & MARTIN.—Tuesday, October 29.—Our cotton market for the past week has exhibited no activity whatever. Telegrams received from Liverpool and New York show but little change within the last week, middling uplands in Liverpool closing at 6⅝d., and in New York at 20c. and firm; in New Orleans at 17½@18c. and "quiet." We cannot give quotations otherwise than nominal so long as the prevailing epidemic remains. Ordinary 11c., good ordinary 12@13c. and low middling 14@15c. in currency, tax paid by producer.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

MONDAY, October 21, 1867.

The market opened this morning with a good inquiry, only a moderate amount offering, and planters showing a disposition to be more stringent in their pretensions, predicating their claims on the favorable tenor of the accounts from New York and Liverpool, but finding buyers unwilling to go on at any stiffer rates, they soon relaxed in their views and met the demand at about Saturday's figures. The supply also was increased by more being opened, and finding enlarged scope for their operations, buyers came forward with considerable spirit, and took nearly 1600 bales at figures showing no quotable variation from our previous quotations, which were 16@16½c. for good ordinary, 17½@18c. for low middling, and 18½@19c. for middling. As for several days past purchasers of the better qualities complained of inadequate supplies, and inability to complete their orders, the movement was largely for foreign export. The arrival of the large load by the Quitman inspires hopes of there being more abundant offerings to-morrow. The day's receipts, as below, are the heaviest of the season thus far.

THIS COMPANY issues policies on lives on all the different plans and at as favorable rates as any other, while it has no restrictions in regard to either travel or residence, and all its profits are divided annually among its policy holders. Its policies are all issued on the non-forfeiting plan.

It is prompt in the payment of losses.

This Company renewed, and continues in force, Life Insurance Policies held by the Southern survivors of the late war, forming an exception, in this respect, from the majority, if not all the Eastern companies, which, while the war was going on, refused to receive premiums, and thus preserve insurance on Southern lives, but are now soliciting Southern support. The ST. LOUIS MUTUAL never, during the whole progress of the late civil war, refused to receive the premiums on policies from its Southern policy holders.

COOKING STOVES,

Throughout the State of Louisiana, and More Particularly the City of New Orleans.

I WILL state for their benefit, that I am ready to furnish them with the celebrated at a small per cent over cost. Owing to the house of Messrs. RICE BROTHERS & CO., the sole agents for said State, having trampled upon my right at Jefferson, Texas, and having virtually annulled and done away with the agency at this place, held by me from the Excelsior Manufacturing Company, at St. Louis, Mo., of which Mr. GILES L. FILLEY is President, by their unscrupulous conduct, they have let down a gap which I am determined to put to the test.

CHARTER OAK COOKING STOVE

All that is required is to send in your orders, accompanied with the Green Backs, Checks, &c., and I will furnish you with a MILLION OF CHARTER OAKS.

Reference given of the most responsible and undoubted character, if desired.
