Rev. Mr. Hoskinson Takes a Hopeful View of the Present and Future.

"Thy Kingdom Come" was the subject of Rev. W. A. Hoskinson's sermon at the Sixteenth-street Church yesterday morning. He said:

Sorrow and sighing shall flee away. Poverty shall be unknown; all shall be rich. Men shall live in love and amity. No one shall go to war again. The lion shall lie down with the lamb. All shall be helping brothers. Capital and labor shall clasp hands; slums shall no longer disgrace our streets, and the saloon defile our youths and desolate our homes. Peace and love shall displace every savage passion, and the whole world shall be transformed.

Is this a false picture to hold up before you this evening? Do I hear you say, "It can never be?" Well, it is no day dream, or night dream, either. The gospel gives us the picture. The title to it is, "The Coming Kingdom of God on the Earth." Any other would not give the true meaning. It is no fancy sketch; it is no delusion. God's promise goes with it, and only men hinder us from realizing it. Everything in the picture will be true and sure at the full coming of the kingdom of God.

The gospel rightly preached and rightly lived works many changes, brings revolutions. It brought in many changes in time of the apostles, and it will do so still. Then men yielded to it quickly, and took sides readily. There was no interference. Such should be the effect of faithful preaching now. Then the preacher sounded the warning: "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." It was like the one word put into the mouth of Jonah to cry against the people of Ninevah. And there was a quick response. This seemed to be the one commission given to the apostles, and everywhere were they to proclaim it. Where the message was received, there they were to abide; where it was not received, there were they to shake the very dust from their feet as a testimony against them.

Such was the early preaching concerning the kingdom. The new kingdom was to be one of power and glory, first to God's ancient people. Then it was to be one of love; it was to be a moral kingdom. No longer should there be violence and heat and passion. The lion was to lie down with the lamb; the strong with the weak. All the hills and valleys should have new beauty, for the desert was to blossom as the rose. No more should eyes drop tears; no more should people be smitten with poverty. No one should hate or mistrust a neighbor, for there should be love and peace between man and man. "They shall not hurt or destroy in all my holy mountain. The young child shall put his hand in the hole of the asp," and not be stung. And there should be no more need of the temple, for the reason that every man should know the Lord.

Four hundred years before Christ's coming there was no prophet. The hearts of the people waxed gross and their ears were dull of hearing. They expected a kingdom to come, but they thought it would come by one who would smite down all their enemies. They had no thought of a kingdom of peace except such as came through force. Just while thinking this way John the Baptist burst upon them with the preaching, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Soon Jesus came uttering the same.

And what did Christ mean? Why, just what the others meant. He spoke of that universal kingdom of which He should be the head, with the foundation of love. Men should not be saved by taking them out of the world and away to some safe and peaceful spot, but by a transformation in this world, whereby self-sacrifice would move men to live at peace with one another. Evil was to be overcome with good, and that would make the new kingdom. Hear some of the first principles of this kingdom: "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for their's is the kingdom of heaven"; "Blessed are they that mourn"; "Blessed are the meek"; "Blessed are they that do hunger and thirst after righteousness"; "Blessed are the merciful"; "Blessed are the pure in heart"; "Blessed are the peacemakers"; "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake"; "Blesed are ye when men shall revile you," etc.

And in this new kingdom man should render good for evil, prayer for enemies, kindness to the worst foes. Many thought this could never be brought about. It was fanciful dreaming. But Christ thought it could, and He put it into the mouths of all the faithful as their constant prayer.

No one should be critic of another, and little children should have an honored place in this kingdom. The apostles all worked and looked for this kingdom. Paul thought it would and should come immediately.

Then, we see that Christ came to set men to work with Him. The whole earth was to be transformed, and all men were to be coworkers, fellow-partners with Christ, all striving to bring in the kingdom of righteousness. It would be a reign of peace and purity, and a time would come when the mission of the church would have passed away because all men had come to know the Lord.

Now, what do we see of this kingdom to-day? Many years have passed away since the seed was planted. Into what has it grown? Well, the world is advancing. Many have been the changes. More of the Spirit is ruling now than ever before.

Standards once used will not apply to-day. The Golden Rule has more to do in the world now than ever in the past. Principles of Christianity are rooting deep in all lands. Standards of purity and living the people have to-day and they got them from Jesus of Nazareth. The world in 1896 is far in advance of the world in the reign of the Caesars. The leaven is working. The fatherhood of God and brotherhood of men has a real meaning among men to-day. Men are insisting on its practice and will have more of it.

Men are united to help each other, to lift each other up. Each one feels that he is his brother's keeper, and he reaches out a hand to help. This is the growing spirit of Christ, and still greater changes may we expect. We live in a crucial, critical time. It is the working out of these great principles of Christ.

The signs of the times tell something. All languages are known to-day. All religions are read and compared. Heathenism is weakening day by day, and the teachings of Christ are permeating the world. Men are seeking to adjust their relations with God and man. The kettle is seething; the leaven is working, and men and nations are drawing nearer and nearer together, forming one brotherhood. But not yet do we see all things put under Christ as King. Says Mr. Mills: "This world belongs to God."

It is not the devil's world. It is God's, redeemed by the Son of God. Then honor Christ, acknowledge Him, and you'll see that this world belongs to Him. Deny Christ, then you may give over this world to the devil. As a wrecked and ruined world, Christ came to save it. Cry no longer that it belongs to Satan. Too long have men said this, but it is false. Christ has redeemed this world, and now the world must be brought back to its Redeemer. Here is the great work of the church.

Every member has a share in it, and what we do in influencing for God tells for eternity. Learn how from Christ. He was down among the people, and that is where to find Him to-day. All who are with Him still are down among the people. We have read of a priest twenty years in prayer to hear a message from God for the people. He heard the Lord's voice, and it bewildered him. "Where art Thou, Lord?" "Down here on the earth with My people" was the reply. The church must get and keep close to the people, and put its principles into the everyday life of the people, and this will hurry in the new kingdom.

People will do this where they love God and willingly hear His voice. Men who give up all for Christ are always found to be the Savior's men, and they will say: "All that I have is Thine." There is, there can be, no holding back, no reserve. Then will there be pure doctrines—all will be living the teachings of Jesus.

A more thorough consecration will hasten on the new kingdom. For this means a drying of the tears, a rebuke of the oppressor, correction of wrongs, reforms in many places, a steady war against much that the church winks at to-day. Evil will not long stand before a consecrated church. We have heard of churches moving out of certain quarters because there were too many wicked men around them! Christ would think this just the place for the church to be—just the field for her work.

Laws that oppress one class and exalt another, the consecrated church will not endure. The true church cannot stand by and see the poor grow poorer and weaker while the rich grow richer and stronger. It will not see anyone class accomplish its ends by unjust methods. Indifference to evil of any kind does not belong to the true church. But still it is an enemy to the kingdom to-day. It causes poverty and wretchedness. It permits the saloon to go on ever increasing in its deadly work. Christians must arouse. The people are crying for better things, for better lives. Many cannot get on because of poverty. Want leads them to vice. Plenty would abolish the slums.

The church can help. The consecrated church will help bring in the kingdom of God, and this will lead out of poverty and bring in joy and comfort.

Were Christ to return now, would he find the church at work trying to bring in the kingdom of God? Would he have to say:

"Have ye founded your thrones and altars then,
On the bodies and souls of living men?
And think ye that building shall endure
Which shelters the noble and crushes the poor?
With gates of silver and bars of gold
Ye have fenced my sheep from the Father's fold;
I have heard the dropping of their tears
In heaven, these 1,800 years.
Then Christ sought out an artisan,
A low-browed, stunted, haggard man;
And a motherless girl, whose fingers thin,
Pushed from her faintly want and sin.
These set He in the midst of them,
And as they drew back their garments' hem,
For fear of defilement, 'Lo, here,' said he,
'The images ye have made of Me!'"

Once again, brethren, let us pray: "Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done!" Then let us work as we pray, and be faithful to the teachings of Christ. We must minister to all men alike, else we may expect to see the proud cast down and grace given to the humble.

Then on the ruins of a weak and inefficient church God will raise up a new one that will fullfill His will and lead one that will fulfill His will and lead ness. Let us see real devotion and consecration, then the ills of earth shall more and more flee away, and there shall come in the glorious, happy day when the kingdom of Christ shall rule this land in universal sway.

That Munyon's Improved Homeopathic Remedies Cure Rheumatism, Catarrh and the Most Obstinate Diseases.

Why Pay Big Fees to Doctors When You Can Cure Yourself With a 25-Cent Bottle of Munyon's Improved Homeopathic Remedies!

Rev. F. T. Ripley, 1820 Columbus avenue, Bay City, Mich., says: "I always recommend Munyon's Remedies with a feeling of thankfulness for the wonderful cure they made in my case. I was severely afflicted with rheumatism for many years and could get no relief. I was often in very great pain and could not attend to my pastoral duties. Munyon's Rheumatism Cure was advised, and, though I had no faith in it, I tried the little pellets. To my great surprise, in a week's time I was greatly relieved, and at the end of a month I was completely cured. Munyon's Remedies are a blessing to humanity, and I intend to keep a case of them in the house for use in my family."

Rev. T. R. Waggener, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Athens, Tenn., says: "I was laid up with an obstinate cold in the bronchial tubes for four weeks, coughing at night and so hoarse during the day I could scarcely speak. I could not preach over twenty minutes without my voice giving away completely. I purchased a bottle of Munyon's Cough Cure one Saturday afternoon and by Sunday was enabled to teach in Sunday-school, preach twice a day, and when my day's work was done my voice was as strong as it ever was. I consider Munyon's Remedies most wonderful for the promptness with which they cure."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure never fails to relieve in one to three hours, and cures in a few days. Price, 25c.

The list of land for sale in this Department embraces bodies of from ten to thirty thousand acres, or as small subdivisions as may be desired in the form of five, ten, twenty or forty acre tracts of irrigated land.

SUGAR PINE FORESTED LANDS IN OREGON AND CALIFORNIA, in large or small quantities, will be sold for interest only, for five years, the purchaser agreeing to protect the lands from all depredations.
