

fact that we have only a little should not keep us from giving to God's service. The widow had only two mites, but she gave them to God. The widow of Zarephath had only a little meal in her barrel and a little oil in her cruise, but she gave first to God's servant. Her barrel and her cruise did not fail.

Thy Will Be Done With My Money, Matt. 6:7-15: When we offer the prayer, "Thy will be done," we ought to remember that it should apply to all that we have. We should be willing to hold all that we are and all that we have subject to God's will. When we consecrate ourselves to Him we should consecrate to Him all that we have. A man was being immersed. Some one noticed that he had not taken his purse out of his pocket, and suggested that he had better do so. "No," was the reply; "I want my pocketbook baptized, too." There are some people who seem to try to see how little they can give to God, in order that they may have the more for themselves. What we ought to say is "not how little I can give to God, and be satisfied"; but it should be "how little can I use for myself, that all the rest may be used for God."

Miss Havergal said:

"Take my silver and my gold,
Not a mite would I withhold."

The fifth anniversary of the Christian Endeavor Society of Olivet church was appropriately celebrated on October 1st. The success of the celebration was principally due to the efficient historian of the society, Mrs. John M. Lane, who not only laid the plans for the occasion, but also was indispensable in making them a success.

The first part of the program was the meeting together in the church, where devotionals were had, speeches from the first president and the present incumbent, and the intensely interesting memorabilia by the historian was read.

In giving this history Mrs. Lane went back to the early stages of the church in slavery days, and then gave the outstanding facts down to the present date, incorporating the wonderful advance made by the Christian Endeavor in the years since its organization. It was interesting to note that it had grown from eleven members to one hundred and thirty-two, and is said by a former field secretary that "it doubtless holds the world's record for efficiency," having four hundred and ninety points.

When this part of the program was concluded all repaired to the nearby school building, where a sumptuous banquet was spread for one hundred and twenty-five and the inner man was abundantly sustained.

Mr. Wyatt Taylor, of Cornelia, who organized the society, had been invited; also Rev. J. B. Swann, the former pastor, but both were hindered from coming.

A Junior Christian Endeavor Society was organized in our church Sunday, October 9th, by the pastor, Mrs. Motte Martin, of our African Mission, whose impaired health is keeping her in this country, is now at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sentell, and she has kindly offered to help the pastor in the supervision of the Young People's Work. Though our membership is very small, we are hopeful of good results from this small beginning.
