ALBERT C. NEFF FOUND DEAD AT CLARK'S CORNER.

Body on Floor of Shack Occupied By Ephraim Dorous, a Half-Breed—Two Colored Women Had Been Drinking With Men—Neff's Money Missing.

In the opinion of residents of Clark's Corners in the town of Hampton, a murder was brought to light Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock, when Alfred C. Neff, aged 28, was found dead in the home of Ephraim Dorous, a half-breed residing in an old tumble-down house about 500 feet from the main road, just northwest of Clark's Corners station.

At the hour named Dorous went to the home of Postmaster Allan Jewett and awaking him told the following tale:

"I just found Neff laid out cold on my floor and he must have died sometime before midnight. When I went to bed about 5 o'clock I left him sitting in a chair and there was a full quart of whiskey standing on the table beside him and when a little while ago I got up to arouse him and send him along home I found the body on the floor and the bottle empty."

A neighbor notified Funeral Directors Elmore & Shepard of Mr. Neff's death about 5.45 o'clock and alluding to the circumstances, the directors awaited notification of the fact of the visit of the medical examiner before going to Clark's Corners.

Verdict of Alcoholism.

Medical Examiner Charles M. Knight of Chaplin reached there in the early forenoon and following an investigation and examination of the body notified Coroner A. D. Bill of Dandeson that he believed it to be a case of alcoholism. The coroner told him to give that verdict.

There were a number of marks upon the body however, and it is believed that Neff met his end by foul means. It is thought by some that he was either poisoned by dope in the liquor and succumbed that way or that he was struck with some hard substance that inflicted several marks on the head there being an abrasion of the skin over the left eye and a badly discolored spot just to the left of the abrasion as well as a mark over the right eye in addition to the dropping of the eyelid of the right eye, which was also badly bloodshot.

Neff Generally Thrifty.

While it is agreed that Neff was accustomed to drink some, he is considered to have been a thrifty and saving man having purchased two small places in Clark's Corner out of his savings. He lived with his wife in one and the other adjoined the ramshackle house in which Dorous resided. Mrs. Vickers, a sister of Dorous, lives in the second place owned by Mr. Neff.

Dorous Has Bad Record.

"Epie" Dorous is considered a bad man and has a long police record having been sentenced from the local court on two occasions, done time, it is said, in state prison for breaking and entering, as well as serving time in the Worcester county jail and is not a short time out of prison, serving a year's sentence, for a gambling affray that occurred at his shanty something like two years ago in which a number of carousing woodchoppers were concerned.

When Neff was found on the floor by the medical examiner, Postmaster Jewett and Deputy Sheriff John H. Fitts of Hampton he was fully clothed. Careful investigation revealed no marks of violence save those mentioned.

Neff's Money Missing.

Neff left home Monday morning about 9 o'clock with the intention of going up in the woods to see some woodchoppers that were working for him. He had $12.10 in his pocket, it is understood, two five dollar bills, a two dollar bill and a ten cent piece. When an examination of his clothes was made no money was found.

Two Colored Women in Carousals.

Dorous and two colored women were in the hut all day Monday, it is understood, or the greater part of the day. One of the women has been living with Dorous and the other came down from Elliotts Monday and made up the party which is believed to have been carousing during the afternoon and evening. The Elliotts woman went home Monday evening.

It is said that Dorous took the morning train for Putnam Monday and it is presumed that he purchased a quantity of liquor there and returned to Clark's Corners on the 4.50 train.

Evidence of Trouble.

Mrs. Vickers, Dorous' sister, who lives next door, is reported as saying that the four, the two women, Dorous and Neff, had a merry time of it and that there were loud noises coming from the house as if there was trouble of some kind and that she heard the noises again in the evening. This statement is one reason why the residents in the neighborhood are so anxious to have the case more thoroughly investigated and an autopsy performed.

Various remarks that are alleged to have been made by Dorous and the woman who has been living with him indicate that there was trouble of some kind in the Dorous' domicile, which has hardly a whole window in the house, most of them being boarded up.

Autopsy Desired.

It was stated Tuesday that an autopsy would be demanded and that Coroner Bill, if he did not take the initiative in the matter, would be requested to have one performed at the request of relatives of the dead man.

Mr. Neff was born in Hampton and is survived by his wife, with whom he had lived about five years, his mother, Mrs. Andrew Darling of Hampton, whose husband is a well-known farmer of that town, two brothers, Fielder and Henry Neff of Hampton, and three sisters, Mrs. H. H. Converse wife of Dr. Converse of Eastford, Miss Panay Neff, who lives with Mrs. Converse, and a sister living in Willington.

WIFE IN NORWICH RETREAT.

Joseph Peck Will Petition Legislature for Divorce.

Joseph Peck, through his attorney, George E. Hinman, will petition the legislature for a divorce from Cecelia E. Peck, on the grounds of incurable insanity. The petition, a copy of which was left in the office of the town clerk Tuesday forenoon, sets forth that the petitioner and Cecelia E. Kenyon were married in New York Jan. 27, 1904, and that she is now an inmate of the Norwich hospital for the insane and has been an inmate of various institutions for the insane since July, 1906, and is hopelessly and incurably insane. It is claimed that insanity has existed in members of the family of the petitioner's wife and prior to petitioner's marriage to her and that the petitioner believes she was of unsound mind before he married her but her condition was concealed from him. The facts are set within the provisions of the statute entitling the petitioner to a divorce.

Two minor children, Regina Peck, aged 6, and Carl G. Peck, aged 5, were the result of the union. The petitioner prays that inquiry be had upon the allegations of his petition and that he be granted a separation and decree of divorce. The petition was dated Dec. 19th, 1910.

City Payroll.

The payroll for the city for the week ending Dec. 17 was apportioned as follows: Police department, $53.37; street department, $49.44; maintaining sewers, $19.49; construction of sewers, $17.50; Willimantic water works, $78.50.

FUNERAL.

Miss Jane Howley.

At the chapel of St. Mary's church, West Hartford, Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock a requiem high mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul of Miss Jane Howley. The body was brought to this city on the 11.45 express and taken to St. Joseph's church, where a short funeral service was held. Burial followed in St. Joseph's cemetery.

December Meeting of Woman's Club.

The December meeting of the Willimantic Woman's club was held Tuesday evening in the club rooms. The programme during the evening follows: Music; Life of Rubens, Mrs. Robert E. Kane; Life of Van Dyck, Mrs. C. E. Simonds; Pictures of Rubens and Van Dyck, Mrs. William A. King. At the close of the enjoyable meeting, which was well attended, refreshments were served during a pleasant social hour.

TOTAL FUND $43,528.

Additional Contributions Tuesday for Y. M. C. A. Building.

The Y. M. C. A. building fund is still growing. The figures reported at the close of the campaign last Thursday night were $43,393.65. The fund now stands $43,528.65. Contributions were received Monday from Rev. L. E. Livermore, Kissammee, Fla., $10, and from Prof. George P. Phenix, Hampton, Va., $10.

The result of the campaign is a great object lesson and stands out uniquely in the history of the Y. M. C. A. in this state, as the campaign so successfully run here was the first of its kind in the state of Connecticut. All eyes are on Willimantic and its people who made such a concerted effort right on the heels of two other big projects—the new bank and the new velvet mill.

For Furnishing New High School.

The special committee on furnishing the new high school building will meet at the building Thursday afternoon to examine samples and receive prices for furniture, fixtures and furnishings.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Nehemiah Prentice.

News comes from the Pacific shore of the death of a former resident of this town, Mrs. Fanny J. Prentice, who died in Los Angeles, at the home of her son, Arthur H. Prentice, a few days ago. Mrs. Prentice was the daughter of Rev. Hezekiah Plimpton Northrop, a former pastor of the Congregational church. For years she and her husband, Nehemiah Prentice, were prominent in Griswold. She is survived by three sons, Arthur H. of Los Angeles, Herbert E. of New Jersey and Frank H. of Buffalo, all natives of Griswold. Two grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. J. R. Leonard of Northampton, and a niece, Miss Bessie Leonard of Northampton, and a nephew, Fred R. Leonard of this place, also survive her.

News in General.

John A. Green is at Fort Wayne, Ind., visiting his son, Fred B. Green, and his youngest son, John Green, who is at the Culver military school in Indiana.

Miss Annie Fitzgerald is spending a few weeks in Central Falls, R. I., returning there with her sister, Mrs. Patrick Shea and two children, who spent two weeks here.

John E. Green was able to sit up for a very short time on Tuesday, and it will be some time before he recovers fully from his accident.

Letters received from Mrs. G. A. Hazzard from St. Cloud, Fla., contained flowers which she picked in front of her house. She stated that it was as warm as in June, permitting the windows to be open.

WEDDINGS.

Duval-Williams.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Williams of Stonington, and Freeman G. Duval of New York took place Saturday at 4 p. m. at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. George Henry Warren. On account of mourning, the wedding was very quiet. The Rev. J. Newton Perkins performed the ceremony. The bride was handsomely gowned in white satin with panels of Irish point lace, and wore a veil. She was attended by her sister, Miss Georgia Williams, as maid of honor. The latter wore an exquisite gown of blue liberty satin. Hanson Duval was best man for his brother. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Pierson Duval of 41 East 16th street. Those present included only relatives and intimate friends of the family. A reception followed.

Shelley-Griffin.

On Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock Burton T. Shelley of Malden, Mass., and Miss Lola C. Griffin of Bridgeport were united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. G. B. Marsden. They left for a wedding trip.

Cleared Nearly $100.

About $100 was cleared by the picture exhibit in the school hall last week, Thursday and Friday, which will permit the purchase of several pictures to beautify the rooms.

Little Miss Catherine Powers and her brother, Morris, left town Monday to make the trip to Philadelphia. Catherine is 9 years old and her brother two years her senior. They were unaccompanied.

Mayor Without an Overcoat.

In Prof. Willard C. Fisher of the economic department at Wesleyan university, Middletown probably has the most unique mayor of any city in the state. He is never known to wear an overcoat. He abhors evening dress and social functions and has never had his picture taken. He usually wears for headgear a soft felt or duck hat pulled down firmly on the head. He loves a brisk, long walk, a good dog, a rifle and a trout brook.—Hartford Post.
