Best 25c. lunch in town. Thurlow's.

Have you cleaned your sidewalk this morning? If not, why not?

Only the best wines and liquors served at the Royal Annex Cafe.

Have you noticed the fancy burnt wood boxes in the window of Fitzpatrick's cigar store?

An oyster loaf and a bottle of beer makes a dandy evening lunch. Put up at Thurlows' it's unexcelled.

The soft, agreeable quality of Primo Deer is a matter of wonder to the tourist. The kamaaina knows that the reason is that Primo is brewed to suit the climate.

The wireless telegraph is rapidly taking the place of the slower letter for inter-island business communication, and the time is not far distant when messages will be regularly sent to the Coast.

Residents of Hawaii purposing to visit Seattle during the time of the Exposition, June 1st to October 15th, will find it to their advantage to call at the rooms of the Hawaii Promotion Committee and register in order that assistance may be rendered them in securing desirable hotel accommodation.

Deputy Sheriff Rose sent a prison trusty out to Diamond Head today to bury the bones of L. R. Radermacher, the Los Angeles man who committed suicide there two years ago. Of jewelry, only a sleeve button was found. The soil is very soft there and cracked, and if the man had any money or heavy jewelry, like a watch, the sand may have covered it over. Deputy Rose will make a thorough search later.

KAWAILANI IS BREAKING UP

The northerly wind and swell, which set in yesterday toward this island, sounded taps for the schooner Kawailani, which was still on the reef off Mokapu point.

At the time the wind freshened up David Waason and ten men were engaged in taking out the masts of the vessel. They had already saved the sails. The masts were hurriedly cut down and landed just before the heavy seas started coming in.

In the early part of the blow it was plain that the little demasted craft stood small show, and as the wind kept up all night hope of save any other part of her was given up this morning. The Kawailani is now in the class of total wrecks. She is breaking up on the rocks and all that will ever be saved of her after this is stray lumber that may be brought up on the sand by the tide.

Search for the missing Korean sailor has been abandoned. It is thought probable that he made a breakfast for a bunch of sharks two days ago.

SECOND BIG GUN LANDED

Shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the second big gun was landed from the barge Mokleau and straightway started on its journey to Pearl Harbor. The double car returned during the early afternoon and was backed upon the track to receive the heavy ordnance. When the tackle was adjusted on the piece it came up and was placed on the cars as neatly as though it had been a toy.

At Pearl Harbor today the gun is being taken off the cars by means of jack screws and tackle. It will be cleared out today, and then the great job will have come to an end.

Captain Bedford, and his corps of assistants, were heartily congratulated upon the completion of their difficult task. The former certainly made a good job of a very ticklish proposition.

EDITOR WILL TRY THE JURY

Chong Chak Lai, alias Chong Yee Pak, the Chinese editor whom the Chinese consul had arrested last week on the charge of libel, was arraigned in police court this morning, waived examination (or, rather, demanded a jury trial) and was committed to the Circuit Court. Bail was continued at $500. The accused has retained A. F. Judd as his attorney.

Ah Sun, a Chinese woman living in South street near Halekauila, pleaded guilty to the charge of selling liquor without license and was fined $100 and costs. This place had been watched by Inspector Fennell for sometime, and two nights ago it was raided with complete success. The illicit booze was there in plenty and several of the lady's drunken customers were in the house.

Puu, a man who has been up many times for drunkenness, was this morning given thirty days on the reef as a corrrective.

Mr. Fennell won another case at Waialua yesterday afternoon. Last week he pulled a blind piggery down there and arrested two men, a Chinaman and aJap. The Jap pleaded guilty last Saturday and was assessed $100. The Chinaman decided to fight the case and retained Senator Charles Chillingworth to defend him. Deputy Sheriff Oscar prosecuted and well he did it. So thoroughly had he worked up his case that the defense was completely routed, and the Chinaman was also fined $100 and costs of the trial.

M. Hashi, of Laie, was arrested by Officer McGregor, a country policeman, at the Oahu railway depot yesterday afternoon and charged with embezzlement. He was taken back down there this morning for trial. It appears that he was on some collecting dodge and gathered in a good many dollars from Japanese. The latter suspected that he was intending to skip out for Japan and had McGregor follow him to Honolulu.

Lum Sing an old Chinaman who has stood on the sidewalk near Hotel and Kekaulike streets for months and lectured his imaginary enemies, was this morning sent to the insane asylum for areatment. He is harmless but has been a kind of street nuisance for a long time.

YET ANOTHER NEW THEATER

Ground was this morning broken for one of the swellest moving picture and vaudeville theatres in Honolulu. The site of the new resort is the vacant lot back of the present Art theatre, and extending out to a wide entrance on Fort street. Mr. Larsen and his associates of the Art theatre are the promoters of and will operate the new pleasure house. The land concerned in the project changed hands yesterday. Work will be pushed with all possible energy and the place will be opened before the coming of the rainless, pleasant summer evenings.

The new theatre will have an elaborate and beautiful front on Fort street, and a wide hall-way leading to the play house. The theater will be equipped in the finest style, will have two balconies and an easy seating capacity of 1,500. At the back, and so placed as to supply music for both the new theatre and the old Art, will be an electric pipe organ, of immense size and volume—the largest and most expensive musical instrument in the Hawaiian islands.

The expense will be great, but Mr. Larsen feels that the generous patronage given the old Art will justify the outlay.

In connection with this matter it may be stated that the plan of the Widemann Estate to put in a block of four or five stores on the lot between the Club stables and Fitzpatrick's cigar store has not been abandoned; but on the contrary, now that the new theatre is a certainty, this building will, almost without doubt, be erected.

THE ART.

The Art will show to their patrons for the remainder of the week, some very interesting pictures among which the most important is "Naples and the Eruption of Mt. Vesuvius."

This picture will give an idea of the last great disaster which occurred a short time ago in Sicily when Mt. Etna brought ruin and destruction to thousands.

Besides this is a fine selection of the best films. Humorous and sentimental. The Art should be patronized more than ever now, during this disagreeable weather.

INTERESTING CASE DECIDED

By a unanimous decision the Supreme Court overrules the exceptions of defendant in the case of Mary Kapola Kalekini against Albert Waterhouse, administrator of the estate of A. Kauhi. It was a suit for $13,389.10. A jury gave a verdict for plaintiff for $7200 and Waterhouse appealed.

Asa Kauhi, a well-known public man of his time, had for some years prior to his death over two years ago acted in the relation of a foster father to Mrs. Kalekini, who married at the age of eighteen, and in that capacity Kauhi managed some property and money left to her by an aged couple who with her had made their home with him.

Justice Ballou is the writer of the opinion, the syllabus of which reads thus:

"An account book shown to be in the handwriting of a deceased person is admissable in support of a claim against his estate as an admission against interest.

"An action of assumpsit having been brought at law, it is not a ground for nonsuit that it is founded on a long and complicated account."

"If the absence of a demand, the statute of limitations does not begin to run in favor of a fiduciary agent managing his principal's estate until the death of one party."

W. C. Achi for plaintiff. C. F. Peterson for defendant.

CHANGES IN ROAD BUREAU

The road department is in the midst of what may be fittingly termed a "transition" period today. This morning the "outs" or appointees of the Mayor, showed up at the main office and at the government stables. The old gangs were already at both places, but were doing nothing except the ordinary routine work of the morning. This consisted largely of feeding the mules at the stables and manicuring finger nails at the office.

John Wilson, the new road supervisor-to-be, arrived at the office shortly before 9 o'clock and was received and congratulated by the retiring supervisor, Thomas P. Cummins. As it is understood that the change will not be completed until after the 15th, Wilson and Cummins started out for a look over the roads, the latter pointing out to the former what was being done and contemplated.

Robert W. Cathcart, the new bookkeeper, made a start on the work of stocktaking, but had to give it over for the day as he is on a jury in court. This work will be finished by Monday at the outside.

Charles Coster, head of the stables, was around but doing nothing. His successor, Kaawahaku, and his men appeared at the stables and were admitted without question, but the old gang is doing the little work that is necessary.

Mr. Cummins is not yet certain what he will drive at in future, but is understood to have his eye on another government billet. He is a first class office man. Charles Coster will leave next week for the Kaneohe penitentiary on a bunching and boring sentence. He will enjoy himself by about a month before going to Kane Hoa.
