AMERICANS LOSE TENNIS DOUBLES

Brookes and Wilding the Australasians Beat McLoughlin and Bunday n Straight sets, Gaining Lead for the Davis Cup —Finals Today, With the Visitors Confident—Shamrock IV Leaves Bermuda, But Races are Definitely Off for this Year.

Forest Hills, L. I., N. Y., Aug. 14.—In a doubles match that ran the gamut from sensational to mediocre tennis, Norman E. Brookes and Anthony F. Wilding defeated Maurice E. McLoughlin and Thomas C. Bundy in straight sets, 6-3, 8-6, 9-7, here this afternoon, putting the Australasian team in the lead for the Davis cup, two matches to one. The final contests for the trophy will be played tomorrow, and to retain possession of the massive silver bowl and the world's championship McLoughlin must defeat Wilding and R. Norris Williams, 2d, defeat Brookes in singles, a feat which tennis experts consider most unlikely. The Australasian victory was well earned and without flaw, the team work of the Antipodeans being that of master racquet wielders who thoroughly understood each other's play and tactics both at net and in deep court. Although the United States champions carried the challengers into deuce sets twice, they never could life their game to the plane where Brookes and Wilding were unable to check their rallies at crucial moments. The older and more experienced pair always had something in reserve, and their clock-like team work disconcerted even McLoughlin in closing set.

Centered Shots on Bundy.

Recognizing that Bundy was the weaker player of the American pair, the challengers directed their hardest volleys at him. Although he handled the rain of shots in a manner beyond the expectations of tennis association officials, he was unable to hold the veterans across the net sufficiently to permit McLoughlin to secure a winning edge for the cup defenders.

McLoughlin Played Desperately.

McLoughlin, the conqueror of Brookes in yesterday's singles, played desperately, covering long stretches of net and court, but the effort told and when the Australasians turned their batteries of smashes and cut shots on him late in the match his game broke badly and he netted or outed the ball in a manner that astonished the spectators.

Visitors in Grand Form.

The Americans tried every style of game in their repertoire in an endeavor to stave off defeat, but without avail. If they played in deep court the invaders rushed to the net and cut off every return, frequently leaving their opponents flat-footed in their perplexity as to where the ball would be placed. The attempt to dislodge the challenging pair from the net by lobbing was a distinct failure. Most of Bundy's lifts were short and either Brookes or Wilding smashed them back for placement aces or put such a bound on the ball that a return was out of the question. At times Bundy and McLoughlin appeared to be demoralized, so far as team work was concerned, and either interfered with each other or permitted the ball to pass between them without return.

Outpointed the Californians.

In the general handling of the ball the victors did by far the clearer work. They netted fewer returns and did not drive out of court with the frequency of the losers. In placement shots also they outpointed the Californians. It was a noticeable feature of the contest that while Bundy opened in poor form he improved in all round play as the match progressed, while the contrary was true of McLoughlin. The national champion had many opportunities to win games in the closing set, but failed in his shots at the most critical times. This break in his form was laid to the hard sets against Brookes yesterday and his early efforts to win the doubles matches when Bundy was faltering under the attack of Brookes and Wilding.

The contest was witnessed by a throng of more than 13,000 spectators, who filled every available seat and aisles in the stands, and gave a scenic setting to the play never before equaled in a Davis cup match, either in the United States or abroad.

Australasians Are Confident.

The Australasians, after their victory in the doubles, expressed confidence in their ability to win at least one of tomorrow's singles matches and thus clinch possession of the cup. In the American camp it was conceded that the only hope of a successful defense of the trophy lay in the possibility of Williams defeating Brookes by an exhibition of super-tennis in the opening match set for 2 o'clock and thus putting the question of retaining the championship emblem directly up to McLoughlin in the final contest against Wilding.

The visiting players have made arrangements to leave for Australia as soon as possible after tomorrow's matches and expect to take the cup back with them. Doust and Dunlop forming the reserve paid, were defeated in an exhibition match following the cup contest this afternoon by Dean Mathey and George Church, 6-3, 1-6, 7-5. Doust sails Saturday night. Dunlop follows on Wednesday, and Brookes and Wilding expect to leave as soon as they can arrange for sailing accommodations.

All the Australasians have given up the idea of playing in the national championships at Newport, owing to the fact that England is at war.

Another great gathering of tennis enthusiasts is expected to witness the final play tomorrow afternoon. A block of 1,000 seats which was put on sale at the clubhouse after today's contest was sold out in less than 30 minutes, and the demand for coupons was still unsatisfied.

TENNIS TEAMS BROKE EVEN

United States and Australasian Players Had Hard Struggle in First Matches.

Forest Hills, N. Y. Aug. 13—The United States and Australasian tennis noon in the first matches of the challenge round for the Davis cup, Anthony Wilding defeated R. Norris Williams 7-5, 6-2, 6-3, Maurice McLoughlin retrieved the day by defeating Norman E. Brooks, 17-15, 6-3, 6-3. The doubles matches will be played tomorrow, McLoughlin and Bundy representing the United States against Brookes and Wilding for the Australasians cup challengers.

ALL STARS WILL PLAY PRELIMINARY GAME.

Baltic Clashes With All Stars Before They Go to Maine.

Sunday afternoon a fast game is promised the fans of Norwich and vicinity when the All Stars clash with the fast going Baltic team on the Cranberry. The All Stars leave for Maine on the Bar Harbor express about 11.20 o'clock Sunday evening and Manager Hughes is anxious to give the local fans an opportunity to see some fast baseball, as some of the Stars will arrive from other parts of the state in time for the game. Baltic expects to give the Stars a hard run for the long end of the score and will use Jodoin and Charon for the battery. The All Stars' twirler has not been named, but Murphy will catch. The game will start at 3 p. m. instead of 3.30, the former time of starting the games. Judging by indications, it will be witnessed by a record crowd. Manager Hughes is confident of trimming Baltic. Riley will umpire.

FINANCIAL MATTERS BOTHERING EASTERN ASS'N.

At Least the Directors Talked Over Something Important f or Several Hours Thursday Night.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13.—Directors of the Eastern Baseball association conferred for several hours behind closed doors at a local hotel tonight, presumably over financial matters. After the meeting none of those present would talk except to say that the meeting had adjourned until next Saturday, when a statement would be issued. President O'Rourke left immediately after the meeting for Bridgeport.

Dayville Here Sunday Morning.

Sunday morning at the Cranberry the Shore Line Electric team of Norwich will meet the Dayville Demons headed by Oscar Ormsbee, the well known ball tosser from the bushes of Putnam. Oscar and his doughty demons hope to pull a win and get in line for the Trolleymen's championship. He and his Oscarmen have not yet been defeated, while Claude Washburn's local team has lost one game to the Norwich and Westerly team.

Baltic to Play Taftville.

Baltic will use the following lineup today against Taftville: Standish c, Love p, McCready 1b, Jodoin 2b, Hill ss, Woods 3b, Charon, Taylor and Lanigan in the outfield. The Baltic management is confident that Taftville will hot touch Love as he was invincible against Hartford last week.

If necessary to play a third game it will be decided by the toss of a coin in the last nining of today's game at Taftville. This was the agreement between the Baltic committee and Mr. Benoit.

Plays Second Game of Series.

The Trolley Men will cross bats with the Y. M. H. A. boys in the second game of a series of three. A fast game is anticipated as the trolley team won the first game. The Trolley team lineup follows: Rhodes 1b, McMahon 2b, Busch lf, Gavitt 3b, Cronin ss, Patterson cf, McGlome rf, Ladd c, Doc Sawyer p.

LUCK IN BASEBALL COUNTS A WHOLE LOT.

It Seems to be That When Chapman of Naps Broke His Leg—And All the Teams Have Suffered, Too.

Did you ever stop to think what a figure luck cuts in baseball ' says Jere White. Luck entirely apart from playing the luck having the team ready and then having it broken up by cripples, or made by the unexpected development of some youngster. The American league race this season is a wonderful example of what the fortunes of war do. In the spring the Naps might well have been figured to land to the top of the second division. But Chapman broke a leg. There was no recruit ready to fit in at his place. The accident to Chapman at that time was a terrific blow to the team. It destroyed what team spirit and hope existed and it practically doomed the Naps to the tailend h onors.

Boston was the next victim. Boston of course, figured second in the league in acual playing strength. But Wagner was a cripple from rheumatism without a chance in a hundred of playing ball before midseason, and naturally down came Boston in the estimation as a pennant possibility. Lo and behold! up bobs Scott, who, with Rehg, was an association star, and fills in Wagner's place so acceptably that the great Wagner's loss amounts to only about 10 per cent. On top of that Boston grabs a real first baseman—and there it is, a bit stronger on paper right now than it figured at its best in the spring and in spite of ill-luck, such as destroyed Cleveland.

Injuries and illness have affected the chances of every team in the league but the Athletics, as usual, have the best of it. Their chief loss this year was the services of Barry for a few weeks. Washington had two body blows. The injury to Milan, its chief run-getter and leader in attack, came just when it hurt most. The other blow was Johnson's weakening from overwork. The White Sox suffered two wallops from fate; and the worst was the injury to Weaver, which resulted in a quick and disastrous slump.

But harder than all has been the fate of Jennings. He had revived a team, made it a pennant possibility; and bang—just at the straining point of the race Cobb lost his head and broke his hand hitting a butcher boy. Before that Cobb had lost a week of valuable time through getting a rib cracked. Every pennant contender in the American league has been set back by sheer accident. The Athletics escaped most lightly and it looks now as if they would win—but suppose that to morrow, Frank Baker broke an arm?

Several Players Injured in Phillies and Superbas Games.

Brooklyn, Aug. 14.—Today's game between Brooklyn and Philadelphia was a mixture of tragedy and comedy. Three players were badly injured and two teams divided eleven errors. Pitchers came an dwent with remarkable frequency and the umpires were almost constantly in trouble before Philadelphia finally bat Brooklyn in a ninth inning finish by 8 to 7.

O'Mara brok his left leg in two places in a collision with Killifer at the plate in the first inning. Daubert sprained his ankle sliding to second base and Luderus hurt his kneecap badly by running into the iron railing of the grandstand after a foul fly. Score:

Climate Affects Former Planter.

Climate surely must have something to do with the batting of ball players. When Jack Dell played for the Planters he did fair work in the stick line and now with the Columbus team in the American association, a class AA league, he maintains an average of .327. He has been in 27 games and with 104 times at bat he has made 21 runs, 34 hits, has stolen six bases, made nine sacrifice hits and has a mark of 57 in total bases. Quite some record.

In the list of American association batters Dell ranks eighth. The Columbus clue is but a few points away from the lead and according to all reports the supporters of Dell's club thing that their team will win the pennant.

Dell, after being turned over to the Ironton club in the Ohio State league went along in whirlwind style and when the Ironton club blew up Columbus made a grab for him. The way he is going now it looks as though the former Planter would ump into faster company.

Braves Won Another from Giants.

New York, Aug. 14.—Boston chopped another game from the New York's lead today by outplaying the champions in all departments, the score being 7 to 3. The visitors pounded Tesreau and Demaree hard and clinched the game in the early innings. Connolly led their charge. In five times up he hit a home run, a double, a single and a sacrifice fly and drew a base on balls.

James pitched brilliantly for Boston, holding the champions to six hits, divided evenly between Merkle, Stock and Doyle. Score:

FORMAL OPENING OF PANAMA CANAL TODAY.

Big Ocean Going Steamship Will Start Voyage Early This Morning.

Panama, Aug. 14.—The canal was the scene of activity tonight in preparation for its opening tomorrow.

On board the steamship Ancon officers and men were busy giving the ship still another scrubbing, setting everything in shipshape order, and getting ready for an early morning start on the first voyage of a big ocean-going steamship of 10,000 tons' register through the big highway. The Ancon, which is owned by the United States war department and leased to the Panama railroad for the New York-to-Colon trade, remained over night at her dock in Christobal without discharging her cargo, as it is planned to have her make the journey fully loaded.

Ship Gay With Bunting.

The first thing in the morning signal flags will be struck from foretruck to keelson and the flags of all nations hoisted on ship to mark the international aspect of the occasion. Inside and one, the ship will be gay with bunting. Even the deckhands will be rigged out in spotless new white uniforms.

Hopes to Make Passage in 11 Hours.

Orders have been issued for the Ancon to leave her dock promptly at 7 o'clock, in order that she may arrive at the Gatun locks at about 8. She was boarded tonight by John Constantine, canal pilot, who will have charge of the ship during her passage tomorrow. He hopes to get her through to the Pacific within 11 hours, although 12 hours is the time set for the average trip.

Speed Limit Regulations.

Entering the Gatun locks at 9 o'clock, the 11-hour run would bring the Ancon to the end of the deep water channel in the Pacific at 6 o'clock that evening. The passage of the Cucaracha slide in Culebra cut will be made shortly before noon. The canal regulations provide a speed limit of 16 knots in the wider and deeper channels of Gatun lake, but in the Culebra cut not more than six knots an hour will be allowed. Every move which the ship makes tomorrow will be recorded on plotting charts in the port captains' offices at either end of the waterway. The ship's location will be reported at every turn by telegraph.

All Other Traffic Suspended.

In order that the Ancon's journey may be wholly unimpeded, all other traffic on the canal will be suspended between 9 and 5 o'clock tomorrow. Even the dredges, tugboats and barges will be hauled away from their work in the Culebra cut and tied up at Paraiso.

Those on board the Ancon will include Governor Goethals, the canal builder, and numerous other high officials, and President Belisario Porras of the republic of Panama and members of his cabinet. Most of the officials will be accompanied by their ladies, and during the passage of the canal will be served, but without wine, as the canal zone is "dry" territory.

The Ancon has a complement of 74 officers and men, her chief officer being Capt. G. E. Sukeforth.

CARRANZA IS PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Agreement Was Signed Yesterday Outside the City of Mexico.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Venustiano Carranza was named provisional president of Mexico in the agreement signed outside of the City of Mexico yesterday by General Obregon and representatives of Federal Governor Iturbide, according to an announcement tonight by the constitutionalist agency here.

Despatches to Rafael Zubaran Capmany, head of the agency, said the agreement provided that Carranza should fill all offices necessary to conduct the government until a general election can be held. The federal garrison evacuating Mexico City, it was said, will form in groups of not over 5,000 along the railroad to be disbanded and disarmed by constitutionalist commissioners, while the federal garrisons in certain towns near Mexico City and fronting the troops of Zapata remain at their posts until relieved by constitutionalist forces. Garrisons in the southern states are to lay down their arms, and the federal navy is to be turned over to the provisional president.

Notice of Carranza's entry into the capital had not reached the agency tonight.

Perhaps the President has been trying to digest the anti-trust bills—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

PAYROLL OF $15,000 STOLEN. THREE MEN KILLED

Near Glen Alum, W. Va.—Posse in Pursuit of Bandits.

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 14.—Joseph Sheler, paymaster of the Glen Alum Coal and Coke company, at Glen Alum; Dr. W. D. Amick, company physician, and F. D. Johnson, company electrician, were murdered this afternoon and the payroll of $15,000 was stolen by unknown bandits who escaped.

The paymaster and his two guards received the money from a Norfolk and Western train at Glen Alum and started for the mines, three miles away, on a velocipede car, operated over a spur track. Traveling salesmen walking to the mine found the car with payroll gone, a mile from the station. Two of the men were dead and the others said they had been attacked by four Italians and then he died.

Posses were sent from this town and Bluefield and bloodhounds from Mateawan have been put on the trail of the bandits.

DISMISSAL OF STOCKHOLDERS. INJUNCTION SUIT.

Against the New Haven Road—Man Who Brought Suit Consents.

New York, Aug. 14.—Tisla D. Clark, it was learned today, has consented to the dismissal, without prepudice of renewal, of the stockholders injunction suit which he brought on August 3 in the federal district court against the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company. Clark, who is a resident of New Jersey, alleged in the complaint that a triumvirate, composed of the late J. P. Morgan, William Rockefeller and Charles S. Mellen, was formed to control the affairs of the New Haven and that they tried to acquire a monopoly of the commerce within the New England states.

NO POSTPONEMENT OF SAN FRANCISCO ESPOSITION

Notification to That Effect to Be Sent to All Foreign Gomernments.

Washington, Aug. 14.—"Notify all foreign governments that there will be no postponement of the San Francisco Exposition," was the substance of a telegram from C. C. Moore of San Francisco, president of the exposition, has sent to the state department. The statement was in response to inquiries from Urugary and Chile as to whether the exposition would still hold to its original plans in view of the European war. The exposition is to open on February 20th.

Making No Impression.

"Indiana is prosperous, "says Tom Taggart in Washington. Evidently Albert Jeremiah Beveridge is making no impression with his tongue.—Rochester Herald.

The exportation of orchids from the Philippine Islands is increasing. In March, 1914, 10,000 plants were consigned to a San Francisco firm and arrived in excellent condition. During May 05,00 plants were shipped to the same firm. The consignments in cluded four varieties—Sollerianas, Amabiles, Studianas and Sanderianas.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Red and Yellow Tomatoes.

Mr. Editor: Thinking perhaps that the Bulletin and its readers would like to hear a word or two from the Masonic Home out here in Wallingford, and if there is no danger of yours truly being arrested for maliscious mischief, I will cautiously relate a little episode. I noticed the "Home" gardener tying up what he said were red and yellow tomato vines. As my curiosity was aroused, and thinking it a debatable question, I interviewed Gus Barnes, the first assistant flag raiser and lawn "barber" and asked him if they marked them, to tell which was which.

Well, you should have seen Gus put on his best smile, it just knocked an "old champagne" smile silly and is now numbered among my "smiles" that once were—but now are not, and I concluded there was something behind that "smile" besides a "National bank." And being only a "statesman out of a job," a relic of bygone days, godfather, grandfather, father-in-law, brother-in-law, or something of that sort, I have concluded it should not be expected that I would know what kind of "corn" made good "milling wheat," because my name is "Miller," or to use an old and inelegant expression, that the "tomato"—regardless of color—shows up at harvest time like two piece of sausage made from the same dog!

So here's to Brothers C. B. Chapman, S. A. Gilbert, G. L. Hewitt, C. L. Hubbard and The Bulletin, now and ever more.
