Mile international, open—H. C. Tyler won; time not given.

Mile handicap—W. C. Sanger (scratch) won; time, 2:10 1-5.

TERRE HAUTE MEET.

Belief that Nancy Hanks Can Lower Her Record.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 25—Horsemen are pouring into town on every train and many are to arrive in the morning. The talent was so badly dumped on the Hulula race at Chicago that betting will be lighter than usual from that element.

In the 2:17 trot Chiquirita sold $20, Hillburn $15, field $10. Ontonian was a hot favorite in the 2:25 pace, but was cut down to $10, the others selling for $28. The Conqueror sold for $20 and the field $40, in the 2:22 trot. Talk centers on Nancy Hank's effort on Thursday, and as changes in cutting down hills have made the track at least a second faster, it is believed that with fair weather the mare can lower her record.

WHY HE STAID.

Under No Obligations, but Couldn't Get Rid of Him.

One day on Powell's river in the Tennessee mountains I rode up to a comfortable looking farmhouse to inquire the way, and I ran plump into a one sided scrimmage between a sharp visaged woman and a measly little man at a wood pile. She was scolding him right and left, and he was taking it silently.

"Hello," I broke in. "How far is it to Tuckwell?"

She looked up and stopped scolding.

"Fourteen miles, the way you've got ter go," she replied.

"Who lives here?"

"I do."

That wasn't very definite, but I didn't let it bother me in the slightest.

"Thanks," I responded. "Could I get my horse fed and a snack for myself?"

"No. But you kin half a mile furder down the road."

By this time she had come nearer the gate.

"You seem to be having some trouble with your farmhand," I said, at a venture.

"Yes, he's the laziest, ornerest white man in these parts."

"How long have you had him?"

"About four years."

"Why don't you discharge him?"

"Can't do that very well, mister."

"Why, is labor scarce?"

"No, not skeeter, exactly, but I'm kinder tied to him, as he don't give me no back talk."

"But I wouldn't be annoyed by such help."

"Well, mister, yer can't quite call him help. I reckon he's too ornery for that."

"Then why not send him off?"

"Didn't I tell you I couldn't?"

She was getting hot again.

"Why not?" I persisted. "Are you under any obligations to him?"

"In course I ain't. He's my husband."

"Oh," I laughed, and I got away in time.—Detroit Free Press.

Lost to the World.

"What a curious little wooden hammer, Miss Lillian!"

"Yes. It was presented to papa many years ago by a lodge of some kind that he was presiding over at the time. I suppose he used it when he wanted to open the lodge or call some brother to order."

"Something of indoors, Miss Lillian, when do you think of men who you think are neglect their—er—wives and all that sort of thing?"

"I think they are not doing their duty, Mr. Spoonamore."

"So do I. We agree exactly on that. A man who would abandon the society of his—his wife, you know, to go down town four or five times a week and meet a lot of other men and go through the mummery they call initiation and smoke cigars and have a good time—why, it isn't right, you know."

The young woman toyed with the little wooden hammer and said nothing.

"And that's why I feel bold to say, Miss Lillian, that I think you and I would—h'm—would never have any disagreements if—if we should—because that's the way I feel about it, and—and I've never talked this way to you before, you know, for I wasn't exactly certain whether—and all that sort of thing. When two persons agree on things like this, it stands to reason that there might be other things that they would also—and you haven't known me a great while perhaps, but I feel that you're the only woman in the world I want to marry"—

Here the hammer fell.—Chicago Tribune.

Which Won the Prize?

Three students of the Ecole des Beaux Arts, Marseilles, were talking in a cafe.

"My dear fellow," said one, "I painted the other day a little piece of pine wood in imitation of marble so perfectly that it sank to the bottom of the water."

"Pooh!" said another. "Yesterday I suspended my thermometer on the east that holds my 'View of the Polar Regions.' It fell at once to 20 below zero."

"That's nothing," said the last. "My portrait of the marquis is so lifelike that it has to be shaved twice a week."—New York Recorder.

Mrs. Chatty's Bold Endeavor.

Jones—Ha, ha! Good joke!

Bones—What's that?

Jones—Mrs. Chatty just told me she wants to buy into the firm.

Bones—Where's the joke?

Jones—She wants to come in as a silent partner.—Chicago Record.

Mamma's Wisdom.

Aunty (shocked)—Do you and your sister quarrel over your candy this way when at home?

Little Johnny—No'm. Mamma always gives us so much we both has plenty.—Good News.

Getting Down to the Practical.

He (rapturously)—Words fail me when I try to tell you how much I love you. Oh, my darling, is there no way that I can show you?

She—You might take me to a better restaurant next time.—Club.

Salt rheum is compared to a burning building by one who suffered severely. He was completely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and is grateful for "the peculiar medicine." 100 doses one dollar.

A New Pile Remedy

Has created a sensation among physicians by its wonderful effects in speedily curing every form of Piles. It is called the Pyramid Pile Cure. It is cheap and simple to use, but nothing removes the disease so quickly, safely and surely. Any druggist will get it for you.

SOMETHING UNUSUAL, as a medicine, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. And, because of that, there's something unusual in the way of selling it. Where every other medicine of its kind only promises, this is guaranteed. If it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

It's the only guaranteed remedy for every disease caused by a disordered liver or impure blood. Dyspepsia, Biliousness, the most stubborn Skin, Scalp and Scrofulous affections, even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula) in its earlier stages, all are cured by it.

It purifies and enriches the blood, rouses every organ into healthful action, and restores strength and vigor. In building up both flesh and strength of pale, puny, Scrofulous children, or to invigorate and brace up the system after "Grippe," pneumonia, fevers, and other prostrating acute diseases, nothing can equal the "Discovery."

You pay only for the good you get.

The Secret Of Good Food.

YOU use salt, of course—it's an essential of life; and yet it is doubtful if you can distinguish the difference between good salt and bad. The difference is in the strength and flavor—adulteration is the secret. If you want good food, use good salt. The best by far is Diamond Crystal Salt. It's all salt. Packed in moisture-proof boxes; also in bags. Sold everywhere. Prepared only by every man wearing an O-P-C (Old Peter Comfort) SUSPENSORY experiences a wonderful sense of Strength, Comfort and Security. The only perfect and self-adjusting Suspensory. Druggists guarantee them. Accept no substitutes. O-P-C book tells why every man should wear one. Mailed free.

Diamond Crystal Salt Co., St. Clair, Mich.

WHAT HER MOTHER SAYS

Impressive Story of a Very Beautiful Girl.

And Many Another Girl Needs The Lesson It Teaches.

The Facts Also Afford Parents Food For Deep Thought.

The following will prove interesting reading:

Young girls should read it carefully, and all parents should weigh well the lesson to be learned.

The mother of the young girl, Mrs. J. A. Ferre, who resides near No. 905 Main street, Hartford, Conn., thus gives the facts as they happened.

"My daughter Lulu," began Mrs. Ferre, "is 17 years old and became very ill with St. Vitus' dance over a year ago. She became so bad that she lost the use of her right arm and side and we thought at one time she would lose her speech. Her tongue was almost paralyzed.

"She was so bad she could not feed herself and at night she would get so nervous I had to sit and hold her.

"I tried several doctors but they did not do her any good. I did not find anything that would help her until I tried Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. She is now, by the use of this medicine, entirely cured.

"I wish you could have seen her last summer and see her now. She does not look like the same person. Her friends all thought that she would not live.

"I thank God and Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for restoring my daughter to health.

LULU MAUD FERRE.

"My son also has had very hard fits, but has not had one since using this wonderful medicine.

"Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is one of the greatest blessings on earth."

So say all the mothers who have used it for their children when sick. It is above all other medicines the best children's remedy. It should be given to weak, nervous, pale and sickly children, for it will make them strong, vigorous and healthy. It will cure epileptic fits and St. Vitus' dance. It will produce natural sleep for wakeful, restless and nervous infants. Above all should it be given to young girls just changing into womanhood, for it will regulate all their functions and develope them into vigorous and healthy womanhood. It is purely vegetable and harmless to give children of any age.

This great children's remedy is the discovery and prescription of a physician, Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th street, New York, the well-known and successful specialist in the cure of all forms of nervous and chronic diseases and the doctor can be consulted free concerning any case, personally or by letter.

If your child is sick do not fail to try this wonderful medicine.
