

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

A large deposit of iron ore has been discovered in Union county.

The first snow of the season fell on the Klondike hills on Wednesday night.

The Columbia river is now stationary about four feet above low water mark.

Eighty-eight cents a bushel is being paid for wheat at the Rockland landing.

B. McAtee, A. Swift, William Cantel and wife and William Allen of Tygh Valley are in the city.

Master Waldo Brigham of Dufur is now in the employ of W. E. Garretson the jeweler, learning the business.

Multnomah and Lane county alliances have declared in favor of the third party and there is little doubt that all the other alliances will follow suit.

High Glenn would like to get a chance to lick the thief who stole his umbrella out of his office, with his name worked on it. Will the thief kindly leave his address at this office.

The Chronicle is glad to hear that William Woodcock, son of James Woodcock of Waukegan, who has been very low of typhoid fever for nearly four weeks, is in the way of recovery.

The Dalles Chronicle insists that George Francis Train is editing the Pendleton East Oregonian. That is the hardest rap on the head Jackson ever received.—Walla Walla Journal.

The examination of candidates for teachers' certificates concluded on Saturday and out of the fourteen applicants ten were successful. Five third grade certificates and five second grade were issued and four candidates failed to pass.

Portland has a free bridge. The Madison street bridge was turned over to the city on last Wednesday evening. The price paid was $143,500. The bridge and railroad track cost $145,400. The collection of toll ceased a few hours after the completion of the purchase.

The old Nielsen block, now the property of D. M. French, is nearing completion, and will be a handsome and substantial structure; but from the color of the paint now being put on the cornice one would infer that D. M. has started in to paint the town red.

Uncle Billy Kelsay, a prominent sheep man from across the DesChutes, is in the city. Wasco county came very near losing Uncle Billy when the last lice was cut off and added to Sherman, but we are glad to know he is still a citizen of this county and likely to remain so.

During a speech recently, Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, the eminent Methodist divine said: "I tell my ushers to treat a duke with courtesy, but a reporter with reverence, for a reporter nowadays is a person of much consequence."

E. P. H. is evidently a man of great discernment.

Wheat is being carried from Duluth to Buffalo a distance of 1093 miles for seven cents a bushel and from Chicago to Buffalo a distance of 925 miles for 4 cents a bushel and from the Dalles to Portland a distance of eighty-eight miles via the Union Pacific, (regular rates) at 10 and 2-cents a bushel.

The Baker yesterday, ran up against the piling at the east end of the Cascade incline and broke some of them "square off." A fifty cent passenger was landed all right, but the damages inflicted by the Baker will amount to about $150.00, which the Union Pacific will have to, or ought to, make good to the state.

Rev. W. H. Wilson sold last week his fruit farm on Mill creek to the new fruit company for $9,000. This new company are acquiring all the valuable fruit lands in the immediate vicinity of The Dalles and are pushing matters lively which means lots of business in the near future.

Only two or three wagon loads of wheat came in yesterday to the east end warehouses. There is still a good deal of wheat in the country, but farmers are not anxious to sell, as there is every prospect of higher prices, and they are taking advantage of the late rains to prepare the soil for another crop.

The Dalles Portland and Astoria Navigation company has made arrangements whereby they can sell through tickets to any point in the east or in Canada via the Northern Pacific, at the price at which such tickets can be purchased in Portland. In this way the traveler saves the local rate from here to Portland and can go by the Regulator.

The town of Fossil is greatly excited over the discovery of a well-defined coal vein, within the city limits. The discovery was made a short time ago when George Mater, in sinking a well, struck the vein at a depth of forty feet below the surface. The well is about a mile and a half from the tunnel which was dug into Black Butte mountain by C. S. Miller several years ago. The coal has been tested and found to be excellent.

The city council of Portland has passed an ordinance which is to take effect on January 1st, which fixes the license for the sale of liquors at $400 per annum, and for saloons at $200 per annum, and for restaurants which sell liquors with meals at $100 and drug stores which sell for mechanical purposes in quantities of not less than a gallon at $50. All saloons must close between midnight and 2 a. m. Mayor Mason takes the ground that the council cannot enforce the Sunday law.

I. O. Nielsen has opened out, in his new and handsome store, a very complete stock of staple and holiday goods and he is receiving very flattering encouragement from a business point of view. He has a full line of the celebrated Krantz & Bach pianos in magnificent styles of rosewood, mahogany and walnut of which he has sold half a dozen to our best citizens during the past few months. Mr. Nielsen is the sole agent for these instruments in The Dalles and anyone contemplating the purchase of a piano should call and see them.

The Multnomah county alliance declares in favor of "limited land ownership for our people," demands the repeal of the gold contract law whereby notes are made payable in gold coin and denounces it as a "thrust at our liberties and a bold attempt to rob all debtors unable to discharge their obligations;" demands that the state shall furnish school books to the school districts at cost and resolves that nothing should be exempt from execution for the laborer's work.

A forerunner of a Dakota blizzard put in an appearance Sunday morning. The mercury stood at forty degrees at 7:30 o'clock and within an hour dropped to thirty-four degrees. The wind came howling down the river, and with the scattering flakes of snow reminded former residents of Nebraska and Kansas of an old timer of those sections. This morning the temperature only reached twenty-eight degrees and the signal forecast announces warmer weather.

The last of the water pipes ordered from the Oswego Iron Works, by The Dalles water commissioners have arrived and Dalles City saves exactly $62 by being able to ship them by the Regulator. Every little helps. Every dollar paid to the Regulator stays in the country. Every dollar paid to the U. P. goes to Gould and eastern capitalists. At any rate it leaves the country and when it is gone the country is that much poorer. This is a species of "protection" that comes right home to all of us and which democrat, republican and all the rest can support without drawing party lines.

A private letter from Portland from the president of the Oregon State Board of Commerce to Major G. W. Ingalls contains these words: "I feel so certain of success (in the matter of raising money for the world's fair) that I telegraphed yesterday to the director-general that 'Oregon would take her place among the states and would make an exhibit creditable to her people.' This involves an expenditure of at least $30,000, therefore we are in for it, sink or swim, survive or perish, and I rely on you as much as on any other man to pull us out and help us with the work."

An old northwest pioneer of the early fifties got loaded with tarantula juice last night and as the result found himself in the august presence of Recorder Menefee this morning. He claims to be a British Columbian and when charged with the crime of drunkenness indignantly denied the insinuation, claiming that while he might have drunk a little "while he would not call it drunk up where he came from." The recorder disclaimed the right to measure United States morality by that of the "bloody Britishers" and inflicted the usual fine which this subject of an effete monarchy was unable to dig up.

The New York World says: Anthropologists all over the world are said to be aroused by the proposition of Professor Putnam, of Harvard, to gather at the World's Fair in Chicago, living representatives of every living race of aborigines in their own houses and costumes. Should the proposal be carried out students of man from all over the world will flock to America for the occasion and seize eagerly this only opportunity ever afforded. The cave dwellers, whose mode of life Walt McDougall treats with much historical correctness in his recent fiction, will then be either demonstrated as actually existing or proved to have died out.

B. Wolf, of the east end, has an ax, just a common ax, that has up to date cost him exactly $3.00. The original price was $1.10 for the ax and handle, separate. Wolf took it to a neighboring carpenter and had the handle put in. On the way home he met a friend. The friend admired the ax and wanted to see it. He saw it—but just about that time Wolf lost it. After a while another friend came around, innocent like, and told Wolf if he would "set 'em up" he would find his ax. Wolf consented, and was led to a saloon, where the ax was found soaked for 90 cents. Wolf paid the 90 cents, and then spent a dollar "setting 'em up." That's how the ax cost Wolf $3.00.

Ole Dahl, the man arrested for his strange ways the other day was examined yesterday by Dr. W. E. Reinhard and pronounced insane. He will be taken to Salem. He seems to have lost his mental balance through the combined influence of a morbid study of religion and water-witching. He claims to have two sons in Portland and a sister in the Washington insane asylum. Among his effects were found a number of notes for small sums from well known citizens of Sherman county and a canceled note given to Scott & Hamilton of Grass valley. A receipt for box rent, signed by the postmaster of La Center and letters bearing his name and addressed to that place were also found. Dahl seems a quiet inoffensive man but, poor fellow, he is crazy as a loon.

An Antelope cowboy found on the range a short time ago a rare specimen of the cobbler's art, and having been summoned to attend the present session of the circuit court he brought it with him and he or some one else, the other night, hung it on the sign board of Mr. Adams, the Second street shoemaker. The specimen bore the legend "New process of repairing. Wooden heels by Adams and Stone." It was an old shoe evidently the foot gear of an ingenious sheep-herder. The heel had come off on the range, far from leather and cobblers. The herder had taken a piece of the wood of his camp fire and had whittled it into the shape of a heel and then fastened it to the shoe by means of a horse shoe nail, the only thing of the kind likely to be around a sheep camp. As it was considerably worn it had evidently done service till the herder got back to civilization.

Thanksgiving Proclamation. The following Thanksgiving proclamation was issued from his office in the capitol Thursday by Governor Penney:

Inasmuch as gratitude for favors received should find due expression, it do hereby appoint Thursday, the 28th of November, as a day of public thanksgiving to Almighty God, to be observed by the whole people of Oregon in the usual, appropriate manner in return for the blessings of peace and plenty which have been bestowed upon them during the past year.

Done at the capitol, November 9, 1891. Attest: SYLVESTER PENNEY, Governor. G. W. McBRIDE, Secretary of State.

The great national gas supply which made such a boom in Pennsylvania and Ohio a few years ago, has got so low that manufacturers in Pittsburg and vicinity are returning to the coal, and Pittsburg will again be "the smoky city."

and a bold attempt to rob all debtors unable to discharge their obligations;" demands that the state shall furnish school books to the school districts at cost and resolves that nothing should be exempt from execution for the laborer's work.

The following program has been received at this office of a farmers' institute to be held at Dufur on the 24th and 25th inst., under the auspices of the state agricultural college. Judging from the success that attended a similar institute that was held in Wasco early last summer we predict a large gathering and a profitable time to every farmer who may attend.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

In the circuit court the case of Allen vs. Sargeant et al. occupied the court all day Saturday up till nearly 11 o'clock p. m. when it was argued ably by Messrs. Huntington and Wilson for the defendants and Judge A. S. Bennett for the plaintiff. The jury agreed upon a verdict at about 4 o'clock Sunday morning awarding $300 to the plaintiff.

The man Lawson who pleaded guilty to having committed a rape upon the person of Mrs. Poorman, an old lady of over 70 years of age was brought before the court this morning to receive sentence. Judge Bradshaw in order to become informed as to the depth of the man's guilt had Mrs. Poorman put on the stand who briefly told the court how the brute had broken into her room during the night and committed the crime. Dr. O. D. Doan testified as to the condition in which he found the person of the old lady the morning after. In passing sentence Judge Bradshaw said, "I cannot conceive of any crime more serious than the one with which you stand charged. The law has given me a wide range in the matter of punishment but our offense has gone to the utmost limits of infamy. A big stout man like you, breaking into the room of a frail lonely old woman, and perpetrating the crime you have committed deserves no leniency. The limits of the court's leniency in your case have been fixed by the legislature." The judge then sentenced Lawson to twenty years in the state penitentiary. The sentence is perfectly satisfactory far as the court is concerned, the only regret being that the law did not permit the judge to send the brute up for life.

The case of the state vs. Wm. Jordan, charged with horse stealing, was taken up this forenoon and is occupying the court as we go to press.

For the Regulator. OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 8, 1891. Editor of the Chronicle:

Though I am no longer a resident of Wasco, Or., I have been reading The Dalles paper (the Chronicle) with intense interest, on account of the war between the Regulator and the U. P. company, or rather between the people and the U. P. company. It is hard to believe that men breathe with souls so dead that they will play the traitor to the cause of justice and to the people, or that there are farmers so blind to their own interests that they will lend support to that enemy by selling him their produce. One would give them credit for more horse sense, leaving out the question of principle. And the local paper that will not work to overcome the common enemy does not deserve to live a day.

We moved down here for a change and we've got it. Rain rain! Mud and rain. R. GILROUSE.

A New Paper at Dufur. Dufur is going to have a new paper. The plant is on the way and the time of its first issue will be announced in due time. It is the Monmouth Democrat reprinted, but what name it may assume up here we have not yet learned. It is to be democratic, so our informant says, as its proprietor was advised that as the county was now without a democratic paper there might be a good field for a new journal of that political faith. We tell the story as we heard it, but the Chronicle thinks this last statement is a hard hit at the Sun. The Chronicle believes in two parties. The one is needed to watch the other. As it is the Times-Mountaineer is republican when it is not mugwump. Now let us have a rattling good democratic paper out at Dufur and the Chronicle will preserve the happy balance of truth between the both.

MARRIED. In this city, at the house of August Buchler, Thursday, a. m. Nov. 13, by Rev. W. C. Curtis, pastor of the Congregational church, John Anthony Koel, Esq. heretofore of The Dalles. The Chronicle extends congratulations and wishes the young couple may live long and prosper.

A Versatile Judge. It is seldom a small town can afford a police justice having as much versatility as Judge Schutz of the West Dalles precinct. It is well known that he can try cases in High Dutch, Low Dutch, Hoch Deutsch, Platt Deutsch, Polish, French,

English and all other languages and dialects but it is not so well known that he has recently added to those acquirements a thorough knowledge of the Irish and Chinese languages. This morning two attractive red signs in Chinese and one in Irish adorned the front of his office and are the admiration of all beholders. The Chronicle man is indebted to Frank Roach for the interpretation of the Chinese signs. The one in Irish, for reason well known to this community, needed no interpreter. One of the Chinese signs announces that the Judge, having become acquainted with the mysteries of the Chinese language is now ready to administer justice in all cases in which a Chinaman is concerned, with neatness and despatch. The other says something about "Washing, crimping and ironing," which leads one to suspect that the judge contemplates taking his pay in washing. The Irish sign is a life likeness of the judge himself seated in his judicial arm chair. Before him is a son of the Emerald Isle. The judge has just announced his decision "Take your choice, ten days or ten dollars," when Pat holds out his hand towards the judge and says: "Please your worship give me the tin dollars." It is evident Schutz will now have a monopoly of the Chinese trade and as far as the Irish trade is concerned Judge Doherty may as well pull in his sign.

A Dead Nigger. There was a big negro 32 years of age named Beverly Brown, who was sent to the Hudson county jail for a divorce last to have his name tested. On Wednesday he was found on his cot apparently dead. The doctor was called and declared life extinct. So Beverly was put into the blue box, the lid screwed down and taken to the morgue. "It's only a dead nigger," said the driver. "I'd like to see a dead nigger," observed a bystander. The lid was taken off and the bystander observed: "Why, he's alive!" Now the doctors think he will recover. If it hadn't been for the curiosity of that bystander to see a dead nigger, there would in a short time have been no dead nigger to see.

Circuit Court. Judgment was rendered this morning in the case of Mollie B. James vs. W. M. James, granting the divorce to the wife.

The case of Sam F. Allen vs. I. N. Sergeant, involving the value of a certain lot of sheep pelts, occupied the court all day yesterday and today up to the hour of going to press.

DIED. This morning, near Wyeth station, of congestion of the brain, the two year old child of James Gordon.

A Sort of Joint Proposal. A short time since, at a wedding in South Carolina, a lawyer moved that one man should be elected as president; that this president should be sworn to keep secret all the communications that should be forwarded to him in his official capacity that night; that each unmarried gentleman or lady should write his or her name on a piece of paper, and under it place the name of the person they wished to marry, then hand it to the president for inspection, and if any lady and gentleman had reciprocally chosen each other the president was to inform each of the result, and the names of those who had not been reciprocal in their choice were to be kept entirely secret. After the appointment of the president communications were accordingly handed up to the chair. It was found that twelve young ladies and gentlemen had made reciprocal choices, and eleven of the twelve matches were solemnized.

Unnecessary Sufferings. There is little doubt but that many persons suffer for years with ailments that could easily be cured by the use of some simple remedy. The following incident is an illustration of this fact. My wife was troubled with a pain in her side the greater part of the time for three years, until cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It has, I think, permanently cured her. We also used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy whenever needed and believe it to be the best in the world. P. M. Boston, Fenwick Sullivan Co., Missouri. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly Druggists.

Saved from Death by Onions. There has no doubt been more lives of children saved from death in croup or whooping cough by the use of onions than by any other known remedy, our mothers used to make the poultice of them, or a syrup, which was always effective in breaking up a cough or cold. Dr. Gunn's Onion Syrup is made by combining a certain number of onions with other simple remedies with which it makes it more effective as a medicine and destroys the taste and odor of the onion. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

An Old Advice. There is an old adage that says "What every body says must be true." Henry Cook, of New Knoxville, Ohio, in a recent letter says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has taken well here. Everybody likes it and it relieves the immediate relief it gives." There is nothing like it to loosen and relieve a severe cold. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly, druggists, dw

The whalback steamer Charles W. Wetmore has been heard from at Valparaiso, Chili, at which place she touched on Friday. She left yesterday on the home-stretch of her 14,000 mile journey from New York to Puget Sound.

A Marion county boy was committed to the asylum recently, who is a rare mountaineer. He is 27 years old, four feet high. His head is forty inches in circumference, requiring about a number 13 hat, while his legs are bent and weak, and he cannot walk.

Joe Turk, who used to sing Salvation Army songs along with Al. Zetterman, is in St. Paul now. He says while in Portland he converted Judge Shattuck. Joe ought to come back and get in his work on county road "for" road judges while still the lamp holds out.

The West Side of last week contains the following: "The Monmouth Democrat will leave for Dufur, Oregon, the first of next week. We say to Editor Brooks, hail and farewell. He will make a good paper wherever he goes and he is a bedrock democrat."

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer truthfully says: "No great newspaper ever rose to influence and long maintained it whose editor made his private gains, his unquenched personal animosities, his unrelaxed revenges and unclassified private interests the polar star of his professional life."

The republican victory in Kansas was so overwhelming that it even surprised the victors. The republicans carried eighty-five out of the 110 counties in the state, and ten out of the eleven alliance candidates for district judge were defeated. This will be pleasing news to the wounds of a gentleman named Ingalls.

A widow with two girls married a widower with two boys, and had a second family by her new husband. When a terrible rumour was heard in the nursery one day the nervous husband shouted upstairs: "Whatever is the matter? The little wife answered sweetly over the balusters: "It's only my children and your children having a row with our children, dear?"

There Is None Better. Dr. R. L. St. John of Howland, Putnam county, Missouri, takes especial pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, because he knows it to be reliable. He has used it in his practice for several years, and says there is none better. It is especially valuable for colds and as a preventive and cure for cough. This most excellent medicine is for sale by Snipes & Kinersly, The Dalles, Or.

A Favorite Remedy. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a favorite during the winter months on account of its great success in the cure of colds. There is nothing that will loosen a severe cold so quickly, or as promptly relieve the lungs, as this combination, its tendency toward pneumonia, it is pleasant and safe to take, and fully worthy of its popularity. For sale by Snipes & Kinersly, The Dalles, Or.

Are Your Children Subject to Croup? As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Snipes & Kinersly, Druggists, d.w.

A Sure Cure for Piles. Itching Piles are known by moisture like perspiration, causing intense itching when warm. This form as well as Blind, Bleeding or Protruding, yield at once to Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly on parts affected, absorbs the matter, and relieves and effects a permanent cure. 50 cents.
