Faith.

Higher than the measured skies,
Farther than Time's furthest shore,
Lo! the prophet-dreamer flies,
Grasping truths unknown before;
And, to mark his flight unending,
From the starry heights doth throw
Chains of linked light, depending
To the duller world below;
Where, with timid steps ascending,
Reason, child-like, treadeth slow.
As the flashing full day-star,
With its orbed vision clear,
Self-illumin'd, from afar,
Sweeps the shadow of our sphere;
Faith, the broad-eyed poet-seer,
Through the Dark, and o'er the River,
Bending death-sward, peereth ever;
And upon his raptured sight,
Half a-phrensied, half a-dream,
From that far-off world of Light,
Constellated beauties gleam;
And a voice of sweetest sound
Breaks upon his ravish'd ears,
With a harmony profound
As the music of the spheres:—
Wonder not his song should be
An echo from Eternity.

HONOLULU, Dec. 1860. WM. S. HODGSON.

VARIETY.

Borrowed garments seldom fit well.

Haste often trips up its own heels

Men often blush to hear what they are not ashamed to act.

Pride is the flower that grows in the devil's garden.

More are drowned in the wine-cup than in the ocean.

He who buys too many superfluities may be obliged to sell his necessaries.

He who can take advice is sometimes superior to him who gives it.

A mind might ponder its thoughts for ages and not gain as much self-knowledge as the passion of love shall teach it in one day.

Our minds are like certain drugs and perfumes, which must be crushed before they evince their vigor, and put forth their virtues.

Dr. Henniker was once asked by Lord Chatham to define wit. He replied, "My lord, wit is like what a pension would be given by your lordship—a good thing well applied."

People who are always talking sentiment have usually no very deep feelings. The less water you have in your kettle, the sooner it begins to make a noise and smoke.

Those who reprove us are more valuable friends than those who flatter us. True progress acquires either faithful friends or severe enemies.

To cure poverty—sit down and growl about it. By so doing you'll be sure to get rich, and make yourself particularly agreeable to everybody.

A little boy being asked "What is the chief end o' man?" answered, "The end what's got the head on.'!

The coat of a horse is the gift of nature. That of an ass is often the work of a tailor.

A Western paper has discovered some grass from the "path of rectitude." That path must be sadly overgrown now-a-days.

They average 85 murders a month in Rome, and the secret society from which all these originated has been discovered by the police.

If your sole object for reproving a person is to improve him, take care of the temper with which you reprove. Bad temper in the reprover is pretty sure to produce its offspring in the reproved.

Gussy coming into the house one day with his pants very much worn at the knees, was reprimanded by his mother, but escaped punishment by saying:

"Why, ma, you see, I wored 'em out saying my prayers in the back yard."

CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.—Bathe the parts affected in water in which potatoes with their skins on have been boiled, as hot as can be borne, just before going to bed. By next morning the pain will be much relieved, if not removed. One application of this simple remedy has cured the most obstinate rheumatic pains.—English Paper.

CONCLUSIVE.—At a debating club the question was discussed, whether there was more happiness in the possession or pursuit of an object? "Mr. President," said the orator, "suppose I was courtin' a gal, and she was to run away, and I was to run after her? wouldn't I be happier when I cotched her than when I was running after her?"

A WITTY RASCAL.—A pickpocket who had been ducked for his malpractices, accounted to his brethren for the derangement in his appearance, by coolly observing that he had not been able to change his dress since his return from a celebrated watering place.

Women, in all countries, are civil, obliging, and humane; they are ever inclined to be cheerful, timorous, and prudent, and they do not hesitate, like men, to perform a generous action; more liable, perhaps, to err than men, but in general more disinterested, more virtuous, and performing more good actions than men.

A white fur on the tongue attends simple fever and inflammation. Yellowness of the tongue attends a derangement of the liver, and is common to bilious and typhus fevers. A tongue vividly red on the tip and edge, or down the center, or over the whole surface, attends inflammation of the mucous membrane of the stomach or bowels. A white velvety tongue attends mental diseases. A tongue red at the lips, becoming brown, dry and glazed, attends typhus state.

IDLENESS.—Carlyle says: Nine-tenths of the miseries and vices of manhood proceed from idleness; with men of quick minds, to whom it is especially pernicious, this habit is commonly the fruit of many disappointments and schemes oft baffled; and men fail in their schemes not so much from want of strength as from ill-direction. The weakest living creature, by concentrating his powers upon a single object, can accomplish something; the strongest, by dispersing his over many, fails to accomplish anything. The drop by continued falling, bores its passage through the hardest rock—the hasty torrent rushes over it with hideous uproar, and leaves no trace behind."

OUT-DOOR EXERCISE.—City people especially, and many country people, and all who follow sedentary pursuits, should read the following:

It is owing, chiefly, to their delight in out-door exercise, that the elevated classes in England reach a patriarchal age notwithstanding their habits of high living, of late hours, of wine drinking, and many other health destroying agencies. The deaths of their Generals, their Lords, their Earls, and Dukes, are chronicled almost every week, at 70, 80, 90 years. It is because they will be on horseback, the most elegant, rational and accomplished of all forms of mere exercise, both for sons or daughters. As the whole credit of longevity in these classes, must not be given to their love of field sports, it must be divided with the not less characteristic traits of an English nobleman. He will take the world easy; and could we as a people, persuade ourselves to do the same thing habitually, it would add two years to the average of human life, and save many a broken heart, and broken fortune, and broken constitution.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of mothers, her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,
which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is
SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and
RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and CAN SAY, IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it what we never have been able to say of any other medicine.—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after ten years' experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in THOUSANDS OF CASES.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it is the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints, DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between you and your suffering child, and the relief that will be SURE—yes ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world.
