DAVIS THEATRE.

Big Splashing Bill Today of Keith Vaudeville and Triangle Photoplays—William S. Hart in a Five Part Feature, Between Men.

One of the best vaudeville and photoplay bills ever seen in this popular theatre has been secured for the first part of this week, and the headline attraction is The Maids of the Mist, a big diving offering, with a group of stunning girls who perform some of the best diving stunts ever witnessed. They carry all their own scenery and have a mammoth tank which nearly fills up the whole stage. Another good act is Milo Vagge, who presents a juggling and bag punching novelty that is a sure winner. This is the only act of its kind that has made a complete tour around the world. The third act is Jimmie Budd, a versatile fellow who does a comedy singing, talking and dancing specialty, with some music on an English concertina. The Triangle plays for Monday and Tuesday are William S. Hart and House Peters in the five part Ince production Between Men. The following is a brief outline of the story. White and Lewiston become rivals both in business and for the hand of Hampton's daughter. Both men are of the cool, level headed type who usually get what they go after, and it is a fight to the finish both with brains and fists. Finally White succeeds in besting Lewiston and saving the fortune of Hampton. He thinks that Lina dislikes him and prepares to return west. She persuades her father to go west on the same train with White and surprise him as he is sitting on the observation car platform. The story is replete with unusual situations and remarkable climaxes. Chester Conklin will be seen in the two reel Keystone comedy Dizzy Heights and Daring Hearts. Pathe Weekly will also be shown. Four shows tomorrow.

DIVING GIRLS.
At the Davis Today

DAVIS THEATRE.

Mrs. Fiske in Vanity Fair.

The Edison masterpiece, Vanity Fair, with Mrs. Fiske in the role of Becky Sharp, which the St. Agnes guild is bringing to the Davis theatre Wednesday evening, Feb. 23d, is unquestionably the greatest work ever executed by the house of Edison. There are upwards of 400 people used in the great ballroom scene portraying Lady Richardson's grand social affair on the eve of Waterloo. The entire production is characterized by a lavish display of antiques, curios, hangings and furniture of the period, obtained by ransacking the antique shops of Manhattan.

Mrs. Fiske gives a remarkable performance of Becky Sharp, a role which she has played throughout America exactly one thousand times. The production is released through the newly organized Kleine-Edison feature service. A special programme of local vaudeville will also be given. Admission 50c.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

A Venetian Night, Photographed on the Grand Canals of Venice.

This remarkable photoplay, written by Carl Voilmoeller, produced under the direction of Germany's foremost stage director, Max Reinhardt, and interpreted by the famous Maria Carmi and her company of excellent players, blends the real and the fantastic in a series of thrilling motion pictures. We are carried along through the picturesque waterways of Venice, past the quaint bridges and stately palaces of the doges, to witness in the intense realism of a dream a powerful drama of love, hate, mystery and murder.

In no motion picture of modern times has artistic production been so triumphant. Noiselessly do we see beautiful Venice with realistic accuracy, but we pass with the poetic young stranger into the land of dreams. Gradually we lose consciousness of the waking world, and we mix with a host of fantastic characters who make us shudder. The "light that was never on land or sea" casts a spectral glow over all while we glide in a gondola to and from the Island of Dreams.

Thus we are held spellbound as we follow the action of the photoplay, running the whole gamut of human emotions, to wonder and laugh, yearn and sigh, shiver with apprehension and shudder with horror as the events of this dream masterpiece unfold themselves upon the screen. The New York Evening Sun says: "At the New York theatre one importation that escaped a war holdup is being shown in a screen version of A Venetian Night. It was well worth running a blockade for, or smuggling through the military lines. Max Reinhardt, who produced this feature, Germany's greatest stage artist, and his artistic temperament was never more manifest than in this superb film offering." The Great Ocean Disaster is a two reeler for today.

EXTRAORDINARY SHOW AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Starting today and for the remainder of the week the Winsome Winning Winners, a big musical comedy offering, will be the attraction at the Auditorium. In the cast are 17 people, mostly girls, but including Bob Alexander and Joe Taylor, two sure fire male comedians who are good enough in their respective lines to travel with any comedy show. There will be three entirely different bills presented on the week, changing Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and each bill will run a full hour. As the photoplays always change three times weekly also, there will be three entirely different shows at the Auditorium this week. On the picture programme for Monday and Tuesday there will be shown Universal comedies and the fire reel Paramount Marie Doro in "The White Pearl. Every one remembers the hit Miss Doro made on her first film appearance in The Morals of Marcus and it is said that she even surpasses that screen triumph in her second photodrama, The White Pearl, which was especially created for Miss Doro by Edith Barnard Delano, author of the recent Pickford triumph, Rags, and in it is included every element of dramatic composition that made The Morals of Marcus the great photo production it was, with the added value of pictorial and spectacular effects absent from that production, made possible through the occurrence of half the action of the play in Japan and on the high seas, where the drama reaches its greatest climax.

The Japanese settings constructed by Edwin S. Porter and Hugh Ford are masterpieces of scenic art. It is amid this exotic setting that Marie Doro successfully and appealingly presents her assumption of the life and mannerism of a Japanese geisha girl—one of the most artistic and exquisite characterizations ever contributed to the screen.

The love interest of the story develops from the ties between a young American of rich parents who falls in love with Naomi, daughter of a skipper. In order to dissipate his affection for the poor girl, his father sends him to manage the Japanese office of his establishment. At the same time the skipper takes his daughter on his voyage to the Orient. How these divided souls are reunited under overpoweringly dramatic and mysterious conditions is picturesquely and logically set forth in the photoplay.

A county league meeting arranged by C. P. Bushnell and A. W. Lillibridge was held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Scotland road hall. A most interesting and instructive address on Co-operative Buying was given by County Agent F. C. Warner, and was followed by a discussion during which practical questions were asked and answered. In this address Mr. Warner explained the object of co-operative buying and spoke of the resulting benefits. The subject of fertilizers was treated. It was stated that agricultural lime is beneficial to all lands in this locality. As one result of the conference a number of tons of agricultural lime was ordered by those present. In the evening the same address was given by Secretary Warner in Grange hall, Preston City.

Gifts on Paper Anniversary of Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Bullard entertained at whist Friday evening at their home on Bliss place. Seven tables were played. At the close refreshments were served by the hostess. It being the second anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Bullard, roses, carnations and daffodils were presented in honor of the day, and an electric grill was given Mrs. Bullard by Rev. John Areson in behalf of those present. One enjoyable feature of the evening was music by piano, violin and flute.

Pupils Have Sleighride.

Thirty pupils in Mrs. S. S. Lathrop's room in the Town street school enjoyed a sleighride Friday afternoon through Love lane to the fair grounds and back by way of the Falls.

Miss Helen Miller of Preston City was the guest Saturday of Mrs. Fanny Abell of Town street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Geer of Plain Hill visited friends in Jewett City during the last of the week.

Mrs. McCafferty and daughter, Miss Katherine McCafferty, have returned to Hartford after visiting relatives on Huntington avenue.

Will Be Protested.

Congressman Carey's effort to transfer the national capital to Milwaukee will not pass without protest from St. Louis and Cincinnati. — Springfield Republican.

New Haven.—The annual report of the bureau of charities and correction shows that there are fewer inmates at Springside town farm than formerly. There were 523 persons admitted to the home in 1915, which was 46 less than during 1914, and 558 persons were discharged, 33 less than the year previous. The per capita expense of each was $2.69.

Throw Away Your Eye-Glasses!

A Free Prescription

You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye-weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time, and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to Lee & Osgood or to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona. Fill a two ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one Optona tablet and allow to dissolve. With this liquid, bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

POETRY

HEAVEN.

Life changes all our thoughts of Heaven;
At first we thin kof streets of gold,
Of gates of pearl and dazzling light,
Of shining wings and robes of white,
And things all strange to mortal sight.

But in the afterward of years
It is a more familiar place,
A home unhurt by sighs or tears,
Where waiteth many a well known face;
With passing months it comes more near,
It grows more real day by day,
Not strange or cold, but very dear—
The glad home-land not far away,
Where none are sick, or poor or lone,
The place where we shall find our own,
And as we think of all we knew,
Who there have met to part no more,
Our longing hearts desire home, too,
With all the strife and trouble o'er.
—A. D. S.

TO VON TIRPITZ.

Through your drooping whisker-curtain
Speak, von Tirpitz, tell me why,
When a naval fight seems certain,
Off you fly!

Babies' cots by you are voted
Splendid things at which to shoot,
But, when Jack's approach is noted—
Off you scoot!

You can shell a crumbling ruin
And display no sign of funk,
But, with Jack, there's "nothing doin'"—
Off you bunk!

Church and school you proudly pot at,
For, of course, they're fortified;
But when ships come, to be shot at—
Off you slide!

Now, when Beatty has you beaten,
Do you own a gallant foe?
No! to spread your lies worm-eaten—
Off you go!
—London Citizen.

THE RUBBERNECKS.

The days are long and dark and drear,
The streets are slick as glass;
The rubbernecks brigade is out
To watch the ladies pass.

We must not wither them with scorn
Or bid them go away;
It may be springtime ere we have
A real windy day.
—Albert Stroud.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"I hear all the yards in Berlin are planted for vegetables."

"Well—and has the germination succeeded?"—Purple Cow.

"Boby, why aren't you playing with your cousin Ethel?"

"Gee whiz, mother! Don't I get an hour off at noon?"—Puck.

Book Agent (entering governor's office)—Pardon me, sir——

Governor (reaching for pardon slip) —Certainly. What did you do?—The Awgwan.

"Are you in a position to let me have that $10 you owe me?"

"No; I've just lost my position. Can you let me have another $10?"—Boston Transcript.

"Does he pay his alimony promptly?"

"No; I have as much trouble in getting money out of him as if I were married to him." —Judge.

Mr. Meeks—I understand not a microbe exists in mountain air about the height of 2,000 feet.

Mrs. Meeks—Of course. Why, you couldn't exist at that altitude, John.—Yonkers Statesman.

Her Father—Can you give my daughter all the little luxuries to which she is accustomed?

Her Loyer—Not much longer. I've been doing it for over a year now, you know!—Philadelphia Bulletin.

"Bliggins is always willing to apologize when you show him he's in the wrong."

"Yes. But he invariably apologizes in such a way as to open up the possibility of further controvery." —Washington Star.

Husband—I don't see, Estelle, how you could draw all your money out of the bank and spend it, when I specially told you that I wouldn't be able to give you any more for some time.

Wife—But I did it on purpose, dear. Suppose the bank should fail? —Life.

Teacher—I'm surprised at you, Sammy Wicks, that you cannot tell me when Christopher Columbus discovered America! What does the chapter heading of the week's lesson read?

Sammy—Columbus—1492.

Teacher—Well, isn't that plain enough? Did you never see it before?

Sammy—Ye'm, ye'm; but I always thought it was his telephone number. —Harper's Magazine.
