ANNOUNCEMENTS

AUDITORIUM.

Montagu Love in Masterly Delineation of Famous Man—Appears as Belgium's World-Famous Cardinal in New World-Picture Brady-Made. "The Cross Bearer."

Montagu Love, the famous star of World-Pictures Brady-Made, is starred in the new World-Picture, "The Cross-Bearer," which tells the remarkable story of Cardinal Mercier, the world-famous Belgian prelate, who has stood up so sturdily for the rights of his countrymen against the aggressions of the German oppressors.

The story tells of the love story of the Cardinal's ward and of the way that the Cardinal protects her. Excitement abounds in this picture and it is a splendid view of the terrific hardships suffered by the Belgians and of the heroic efforts made by the Cardinal to alleviate their sufferings.

"The Cross-Bearer" will be the super-attraction on today at the Auditorium theatre and the management of this theatre unhesitatingly recommends this masterly production to the patrons of this playhouse.

The lavish scale on which "The Cross Bearer" has been staged, is one of the notable features connected with it. The interior of the Cathedral where the Cardinal repulses the German horde, is a huge structure especially erected for the purpose of filming this picture. Throughout the whole production expense has not been spared in making it the very best ever.

DAVIS THEATRE.

New Show Today—Two Big Super-Features, Dorothy Dalton in The Kaiser's Shadow, and J. Barney Sherry in "High Stakes," Also the Latest Current Events.

Dorothy Dalton the beautiful and accomplished young Thomas H. Ince star, will appear in a mystery play, "The Kaiser's Shadow," at the Davis theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is a production that, because of its timeliness and the genuinely thrilling plot, is certain to appeal to every variety of audience. Miss Dalton in the new role of a French secret service operative has a part that fits her personality. She is ably supported by Thurston Pall, Edward Cecil, Leota Lorraine, Otto Hoffman and Charles French. The photoplay is deeply mysterious in its development and the puzzle is not unravelled until the final scene. Other features on this programme are J. Barney Sherry the popular Triangle favorite male star in "High Stakes," a five part unusual drama and Current Events, the very latest issue.

BREED THEATRE.

Emily Stevens, in the Great Broadway Success, A Man's World, Feature For Today.

Is it "A Man's World," or a woman's? The subject is debatable. How one woman tries to prove that the world is a woman's as well as a man's is shown in strong scenes in "A Man's World" a Metro All-Star series Version of Rachel Crother's powerful Broadway play, which is the feature attraction at the Breed theatre today. Emily Stevens is the star of this dramatic screen drama, which is bound to cause much discussion among the local theatre-goers. Other pictures on the bill include Pearl White in "The House of Hate," the continued photoplay with a thrill every minute; Chester Conklin in "It Pays to Exercise," a new two-part Mack Sennett comedy and the famous Burton Holmes travel series.

PUTNAM CHAUTAUQUA.

Putnam's Seven Joyous days, bringing Chautauqua to Putnam again, begin Saturday, Aug. 10. An exceptionally fine program has been arranged for this season's Chautauqua, and there are many who go so far as to describe it, in prospect, as the best that has been offered in this city since Putnam became a Chautauqua town.

Among the attractions on the week's bill are the McKinnie Operatic company, Peter MacQueen, lecturer, who will discuss The Great War, The Revue company, Dr. P. Marion Simms, lecturer, The Old Homestead quartet, made famous in Denman Thompson's famous New England play, The Hersey-Wishman company, Dr. A. B Harmon, lecturer, Brooks Musical club, presentation of Robin Hood by an opera company of 35 people, Liberty's Torch, the junior play, The Pietro Mordella Concert company and Frank Dixon, lecturer.

Every program of the seven joyous days holds some special attraction, so that Chautauquans are flocking for the season tickets, which are selling rapidly here.

There will be a sacred concert on Sunday next, and also an address.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Old Saybrook.—W. H. Sargent, who bid in the new trick tower job at the junction, has received notice of his appointment to cover the job.

New Haven.—Word has been received of the safe arrival overseas of Major F. Verdi of New Haven, commanding the Fifty-second base hospital unit.

Kent.—The Chase rolling mills of Waterbury have purchased a large tract of woodland in Kent and have a gang of men at work cutting and drawing the wood to the station, where it is shipped daily to Waterbury.

Chester.—Owing to his failure to get help, J. R. Wood cannot deliver ice on any of the side streets in this town or Chester at present. There has been a scarcity of help all summer and the situation is getting worse all the time.

Portland.—The service flag has again been hung up in front of the town hall. It was recently sent to New York to have additional stars put on. It now contains 177 stars. There are several more men in the service from here who are not now represented on the flag.

New Haven.—The agreement drawn up by the Bartenders' union and presented to the dealers provides for a minimum wage scale of $25 per week, a schedule of 60 working hours per week, single day's work to be paid on a $5 basis and representatives of the union to have access to the men during working hours except when it would not interfere with the discharge of duties. The demands have been granted.

New Britain.—Thirty-two new stars will have to be added to the service flag of the Young Men's T. A. and B. society, New Britain, and within a few weeks several more members expect to leave, so that the total will have to be increased still further. The flag now has 72 stars, indicating the original number of members in the country's service, but the real number of men in khaki or navy blue is 104.

Moodus.—While mowing on the premises of C. H. Rogers one day last week, George Worthington found a box turtle marked "W. P., June 1st, 1898." This is the third time in 20 years Mr. Worthington has found this turtle, twice in Mr. Rogers' mowing and once on O. P. Fowler's premises, just across the road. The initials are those of the late William Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey W. Potter, who when a boy caught the turtle and marked it with his initials.

HOW TO GET RID OF RHEUMATISM

"Fruit-a-tives" Point the Way to Quick Relief

VERONA.

"I suffered for a number of years with Rheumatism and severe Pains in my Side and Back, caused by strains and heavy lifting.

When I had given up hope of ever being well again, a friend recommended 'Fruit-a-tives' (or Fruit Liver Tablets) to me and after using the first box I felt so much better that I continued to take them; and now I am enjoying the best of health.

ATTRACTIVE REAL ESTATE —AT— PUBLIC SALE

FRIDAY, AUG. 9, 1918, at 10.30 o'clock a. m.

Having decided to make a change in my business, and having no further use for my farm, I will sell the same as advertised above at public sale, described as follows:

Formerly owned by the late Leander B. Hill, of 30 acres, including a small woodlot, with plenty of cord wood and some timber, which will be sold separately from the farm property if desired.

The buildings consist of a story and a half house of 7 rooms, well painted and in good repair, a carriage house and barn with horse stalls and tie-ups for 4 head of cattle, and a new poultry house. There are 30 bearing apple and pear trees, in fact, this would make an ideal fruit and poultry farm for one man to manage. It is located in the Town of Preston, New London County, about 6½ miles from Norwich, on the road from Preston City to Preston Plains, 1½ miles from Indiantown road station on the Norwich and Westerly car line. In Preston City there are churches, schools, stores, etc., convenient for all kinds of trading. Near the farm is a fine lake suitable for bathing and fishing. Included in the sale are the following articles of personal property: 1 buggy, 1 plow, 1 cultivator, 1 grindstone, 1 brooder, 1 120-egg incubator, 1 farm harness, 1 buggy harness, and other small tools of all kinds.

Terms of sale, 10 per cent. of purchase will be required as a deposit at time of sale and the balance to be paid when the deeds are drawn. It will be necessary to adhere to these terms, as I shall leave immediately after the sale, which will take place rain or shine.

POETRY

AMERICA.

(Dedicated to the late Lieut. Col. John McCrea, author of "In Flanders Fields.")

Where poppies grow in Flanders Field,
Here at your grave we kneel to yield
The "Faith" for which you have appealed
To "Bear your Torch on high."

We grasp "The Torch" you toss us throw,
And by its light will strike the blow—
Revenge your fate upon "The Foe"—
In Flanders Field.

The cause of Human Rights we'll save,
For which your life you nobly gave—
That Freedom's Flag shall ever wave
In Flanders Field.

"The Lark" may sing its sad refrain
But we—Thy victory will attain—
The Glory of Thy Dead acclaim
In Flanders Fields.

Sleep 'neath the sod where poppies grow
Between the crosses, row on row,
And "know that freedom's light shall glow"
About your resting place.

—John Downing.

MY STAR.

I have a gold star on my breast,
A star of strife, a star of rest;
It marks a sword-thrust through my heart.

It tells of glory and of pain,
Of bitter loss and wondrous gain,
Of youth that played the hero's part.

Oh, star of gold upon my breast,
Tell o' those stars that he loved best:
He bore the stripes, he suffered all
To keep our banner free from stain;
He hath not given all in vain
In answering his nation's call.

Oh, star of hope upon my breast,
Strengthen the faith I have professed;
He died that nations might be free,
Help me to live for truth and right,
And with my woman's soul to fight!
Nerved by his immortality.

—Caroline Ticknor, of the Vigilantes.

SONG OF THE SOCK.

There's a long, long skein unwinding
Into the sock of my dreams;
With the knitting needles singing
As the white wool seams.
There's a long, long foot a-waiting
Until my heels all come true,
Till I knit and purl and cast off down
That long, long trail to you.

—Mary Jane Keeney, in the Hartford Courant.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"Been in London long?"

"No, not very. Just about four raids."—Tit-Bits.

She—Oh, I wish the Lord had made me a man!

He—He did. I'm the man, worse luck.—Ideas.

"Whadda ya mean, camouflage?"

"They're makin' the bottoms of the cups rough so you think you have sugar!"—Record.

"And pray, madam, why do you think yourself entitled to a pension?"

"My husband and I fought all through the war."—Answers.

"Do you ever talk to yourself?"

"Not intentionally. But frequently I suspect that my husband isn't listening."—Kansas City Journal.

"They contemplate a trip to China."

"That's cheap enough."

"What? Why, the fare——"

"I was speaking of the contemplation."—Pearson's.

"He's a pessimist on the war isn't he?"

"Yes. He believes that after the war is over a few Prussians will be permitted to live."—Life.

"Does a democracy recognize any distinctions in its society?"

"Sure," replied Mr. Dustin Stax. "The richer you are the heavier your tax rate becomes."—Washington Star.

"And why should I give you a kiss?"

"Well, I just paid your little brothe 50 cents to stay out of the room I'd like some return on the investment."—Judge.

"Do you think a classical education helps a man?"

"Surely. It helps him forget his own troubles by thinking about those of Greeks and Romans."—Brooklyn Citizen.

Mrs. Hawbuck—Hiram, it takes you twice as long to drive the pigs as it used to.

Farmer H.—I know it. You wouldn't expect me to speak harsh to a lot of critters worth $50 a piece, would you?—Boston Transcript.

"Since your son came home from college I suppose he is strong for all kinds of uplift stuff?"

"Well, he is strong for raising a rumpus, but never makes any effort to try to help lift the mortgage off the house."—Florida Times-Union

THE KALEIDOSCOPE

A mathod for rebuilding wornout automobile tires and making them puncture-proof with a fabric woven from thread and a vegetable fiber has been invented by a Californian.

The average annual consumption of beer of all kinds per person in Denmark during the years 1911-1915 was 24 gallons; for 1916 it was 21½ gallons, and for 1917 it was 19.8 gallons.
