THE HAWAIIAN GAZETTE.

A WEEKLY JOURNAL, DEVOTED TO HAWAIIAN PROGRESS.

VOL. XIII.---No. 47. HONOLULU, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1877. WHOLE No. 671.

The Wife's Remonstrance.

Oh, love me as you used to love,
When life were fleet of wing
Came, like a trembling lord, to make
Its spring-tide bower with thine;
Ere falling flowers and autumn leaves,
With withering coldness, fell
Over many a fair-wed dream to wave,
"Not wisely, but too well."

Oh, love me as you used to love—
My way is often dark,
And tempest-cloud thou know'st not of,
Close swiftly round my bark;
And, buried 'neath the warring waves,
Lies many a heart-born flower,
That sheds its fragrance forth and pays
Its childhood's tribute bower.

Oh, love me as you used to love,
This heart, once light and free,
Is numbered now with many things,
And oft a care for thee;
Thou in the busy world of man
Things not forgotten be,
Thou in the shaded bower of home
Are all the world to me.

Oh, love me as you used to love;
Why should the heart grow old,
With all its wealth of feeling still,
The deepest yet untold—
The strength that heavily battles through
Temptation's gloomy hour,
The love that softly folds its wing
Beside the drooping flower.

Oh, love me as you used to love,
Ere one magnetic word
Had, with prophetic touch, the heart
With doubt and sorrow stirred,
Where hope with rainbow wings unfurled,
Reflected, glad and bright,
Full many a joyous day to come,
And never a darksome night.

Oh, love me as you used to love,
For soon the treacherous wave
That bears our life-boat on its breast,
Will close upon our grave;
And then a mournful memory
Will sometimes haunt the spot,
And whisper of love's early vows
Neglected or forgot.

Oh, love me as you used to love,
And ever love the same—
Hard was the struggle in my heart,
The willful bird to tame;
Then teach it not, in stranger bowers,
Its needing song to sing,
Nor plant, with careless hand, a barb
Beneath its folded wing.

Brief.

Infancy: a blushing Spring.
Violet-strewn and blossoming,
April's sunshine, April's rain.
April is never come again.

Boyhood! sunkissed Summer hours,
Fragrant with a thousand flowers,
Smiling 'neath a tearless sky,
Chasing life's bright butterfly.

Manhood! in Autumnal soil,
Rich in russet golden fruit,
God-stamped, mellow, tender, true,
Harvest of preceding two.

Age! a silvery Winter scene,
Beaming joy-dreams that have been,
White with hoarfrost, angel-given,
Land and nearest step to heaven.

VARIETY.

A Boston boy: Hub-bub.

What grows bigger as you contract it? Debt.

You can always find a sheet of water on the bed of the ocean.

A little boy's first pair of trousers always fit, if the pockets are deep enough.

What is that which, when brought to the table, is cut, but never eaten? A pack of cards.

How does man differ from the brute creation? He stands upright, but he doesn't act so.

Sunday is the strongest day, because the rest are week days. Yet why is it so often broken?

"The charis moon" is behaving very badly lately. It stayed out all last night, and was full besides.

"I live by my pen," said a poet, wishing to impress a young lady. "You look as if you lived in it," was the reply.

Last New Year's, a man, in his twenty-fifth call, spoke with some haste and nervousness of Crossington washing the Delaware.

An old veteran says his experience at school reminds him of a one-horse railway. It was all switches, with an occasional "turn-out."

A phrenologist says the principal bump on George Washington's head is adhesiveness. He alludes to George's head on a postage stamp.

"Insults," says a modern philosopher, "are like counterfeit money. We cannot hinder their being offered, but we are not compelled to take them."

An Illinois newspaper has this advertisement:—"Found. A buckskin mitten. If the owner will leave the other at this office he will greatly oblige the finder.

An Iowa paper tells of a smart wife that helped her husband to raise twenty acres of wheat. The way she helped him was to stand in the door and shake a broom at him when he sat down to rest.

"Ah, Jemmy," said a sympathizing friend to a man who was just too late for the train, "you did not run fast enough." "Yes I did," said Jemmy, "I ran fast enough, but I didn't start soon enough."

"Why, Ichabod, I thought you got married more than a year ago." "Well, Aunt Jerush, it was talked of, but I found the girl and all her folks were opposed to it, and so I just gave 'em all the mitten and let the thing drop."

It is told for a fact that a little flaxen-haired boy of 5 years, who had passed the afternoon at the Boston Art Museum, looking up in his mother's face, asked, "If all the mammas, when they die, turn into mummies, do all the papas turn into poppies?"

This man was seated in front of the old fashioned fire-place, warming the sole of his left foot. An old darkey went in to warm, and as he turned to go out he met another shivering nig coming in. "Needn't go dar to warm, Jim." "Why so?" "Kase dat man from Cincinnati done histed his foot and kivered up the fire." "Sides dat, it's gwine to take de mos' oh de day for him to git dat one foot warm enough to set it on de ground." And they went off.

"Suppose," said a brow-beating Clarinda (Ia.) lawyer to a witness he was trying to badger, recently, "Suppose I should tell you that I could bring a dozen men of your town to this court-room who would say they would not believe you on oath, what would you say? And calmly the witness made his reply: "I would say you lied." A gentle smile diffused itself all over the court-room, like a lump of butter on a hot cake, and the unruffled witness stepped down.

Two lawyers in a country court—one of whom had gray hair, and the other though just as old a man as his learned friend, had hair which looked suspiciously black—had some altercation about a question of practice, in which the gentleman with the dark hair remarked to his opponent: "A person at your time of life"—looking at the barrister's gray head—"ought to have long enough experience to know what is customary in such cases." "You may look at my gray hair, if you like. My hair will be gray as long as I live, and yours will be black as long as you dye!"

Deposits from any portion of the United States, Europe or the Hawaiian Islands, may be sent by mail or express, in coin or currency, or by draft on any business or banking house. A pass book with proper entries will be immediately returned for the same. Remittances in currency will be credited in gold at current rates. The signature of the depositor should accompany the first deposit. Deposits can be made by any one, but can only be withdrawn by the signature of the Party in whose name the account is opened. Married women and minors can make deposits in their own names, and may withdraw the same, upon their own receipts, upon the same conditions as other depositors. No entrance fee or charge for bank books.
The securities for all loans made by this bank, are scrutinized with great care by the Board of Directors, and consist almost exclusively of first class Real Estate with large margins; United States, State, County and City Bonds, &c. All stocks or other securities of uncertain or fluctuating values are carefully excluded. The policy of the Bank, being to obtain first, absolute security for return of the principal, thereafter a rate of interest consistent therewith. Our unusually large and increasing Capital and reserve Fund, no portion of which can be withdrawn by stockholders until all demands of depositors have been paid in full, taken in connection with a careful and conservative management, furnishes to depositors a guarantee of safety as well as remunerative dividends.
Deposits can under ordinary circumstances be withdrawn, as a whole or in part, without notice (instead of six months' notice being required as formerly) as specified in articles 3d and 4th printed conditions of agreement with depositors. Non resident depositors who wish to withdraw their deposits, or a portion thereof, and desire to have the same sent to them by the Bank, may do so subject to the By-Laws, by sending a proper order accompanied by the pass book, with instructions as to the manner in which they desire the money to be remitted. Said remittance however will be at the expense and risk of the depositor. Blank orders for this purpose will be furnished by the Cashier.
Term deposits remaining three full calendar months, will be entitled to dividends of interest. Said dividends are declared, and payable in January and July of each year, and if not called for in one month, will be credited to the account and bear interest as a deposit from date on which they were declared. No dividend computed on fractions of dollars or for fractions of months. Dividends declared by this Bank for the past and previous terms, have been at the rate of 9% per cent per annum; for the present term and hereafter will probably not exceed 9 per cent.
For further particulars see printed conditions of agreement with depositors which will be forwarded to any address upon request, a copy of which is also appended to each pass book.
A General Banking Business Transacted.
Our own exchange on New York, London, Frankfort on the main, Berlin and Paris, for sale.
