

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, OREGON

FRIDAY - - - - APRIL 29, 1892.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Friday.

Dr. Siddall has returned from a short trip to Portland.

Hon. E. L. Smith of Hood River, visited the city today.

C. S. Miller of Miller's Bridge, is at the Umatilla house.

Vernon Roberts, stock inspector of Wasco county, is in the city.

Sam Patterson of Wapinitia, was in town today attending to business in the land office.

Hon. W. R. Ellis republican candidate for congress for this district, was in the city last night.

Pease & Mays, say to you: "Read our new advertisement on the first page, and govern yourself accordingly."

H. Taylor Hill and wife of Prineville, came up from Portland last evening on the Regulator and are domiciled at the Umatilla house.

H. M. Beall and daughter, and R. R. Hinton, wife and children and Mrs. Bird were passengers from Portland last evening on the Regulator.

H. E. Moore of Nansene, democratic candidate for representative for this county, returned from Portland yesterday evening on the Regulator.

The sheep-shearer is abroad in the land and N. W. Wiley loaded up a crew in an express wagon today and took them to his sheep camp in the foot hills south of town.

Remember that the entertainment to be given tonight by Miss Hamil, under the auspices of the Good Intent society, will be held in the Court house, and not in the M. E. Church as was at first intended.

The editor of the CHRONICLE acknowledges the courtesy of a complimentary ticket to the 73rd anniversary ball to be given by Idlewild Lodge No. 107 I. O. O. F., of Hood River, on the evening of the 28th inst.

The first of this season's wool clip to arrive in the city came to the Wasco warehouse on the 4th inst., from Hay Creek. This warehouse has been receiving odd loads ever since from Canyon City, Dayville and the John Day country, and last Wednesday 41 sacks arrived from Tygh which was immediately shipped by the Regulator for San Francisco.

Referring to an article that appeared in the CHRONICLE a few days ago on the water power facilities of this neighborhood for generating electricity for manufacturing and other purposes, Emil Schanno tells us that an addition to those already referred to in the CHRONICLE there is one seven or eight miles from this city on Mill creek where that stream has a fall of 200 feet and so little is its value known or appreciated that the land on which it is situated still remains in the hands of the government.

A. C. Sanford is about to apply for a patent for an invention of his in the form of an axle for a castor wheel on the land side of a gang plow. The invention is designed to enable a gang to turn a square corner at the end of a land without lifting the plow out of the ground. It was tried yesterday on the A. B. Moore farm on Three Mile and worked admirably. John Filloon & Co., will have a lot of them manufactured and put on the market.

The Alpine Club or the Oregon Historical Society, can find some well preserved relics of past ages on the roadside above this city, which should be preserved. They consist of Indian legends, cut and painted into rocks, after the style of some modern advertisers who believe that a dead wall is better than a live newspaper. The paint used ages ago, still retains its color, and in this respect, if no more, invites investigation.

A year or more ago Frank Gabel of Wapinitia, hired a sheep herder and put him in charge of a band of sheep then running in the mountains. Just as soon as the fellow found himself alone he gathered up everything available in the camp and left, abandoning the sheep to the tender mercies of their enemies of the forest. Mr. Gabel had a warrant issued for his arrest but from that day the rascal was never heard of till yesterday when Marshal Gibbons fixed his eagle eye on him in this city and proceeded to gather him into the calaboose where he now awaits the presence of his accuser.

From the Daily Chronicle, Saturday.

Mr. John Booth is in Portland today on business.

Thirteen inches of snow fell at Condon last Sunday.

Miss Jennie Steel of Five Mile is in the city visiting friends.

Scarcely enough salmon are being caught at The Dalles to supply the home demand.

Time has been cut down at the Albina shops to eight and a half hours a day, and five days a week.

Mr. H. Glenn has commenced the work of construction on the new Congregational church building.

The little town of Arlington contributed last week $112.00 to the famine stricken sufferers of Russia.

A new paper, The Express, is to be established early in May, at Klamath Falls, by D. B. Worthington.

The household goods of Mrs. J. E. Atwater were sold today at public auction by J. B. Crossen. Mrs. Atwater will make her future home in Portland.

Joseph T. Peters & Co., have moved into their new store room, corner of Second and Jefferson. Builders are referred to their new advertisement today.

The CHRONICLE acknowledges the courtesy of a pleasant visit from Mr. Small of the Baker City Democrat on his return from the democratic state convention.

The Hood River Glacier says: "A Dalles fishing party visited Hood River and made the following catch last Thursday: J. E. Hardy, 208; Thomas Denton, 196; F. Lemke, 165; Ben Wilson 74; total 643."

John Bonn of this city left at this office today a twig plucked from an apricot tree in his garden which, though only six inches in length, contains 18 apricots, each nearly as large as a pigeon's egg.

Wild geese were in this neighborhood last night in large numbers. They flew so low on the river that they nearly struck the mast of the skiff "Typo," a boat belonging to the compositors of the CHRONICLE office.

The salmon run reached the Cascade locks last Sunday night. It takes them generally about a week to make the trip from the cascades to the dalles, so that the full fishing harvest may be on inside the next twenty-four hours.

In a note to Mr. Linus Hubbard, acknowledging receipt of the whalebacks photo., Gov. N. B. Wiley, of Idaho, says: "The cascade locks, with the similar projected improvements at the dalles of the Columbia, are indeed the keys of the Inland Empire."

County Clerk Brock has published a report of the financial condition of Sherman county which shows an excess of liabilities over resources, including taxes due on the assessment for 1891, of $158.87. This is an excellent showing for this young county.

Snow fell last night on the high hills back of this city and a heavy frost is reported as having occurred on Fifteen Mile creek. There was ice a quarter of an inch thick at H. Simon's place on Eight Mile. Up till last night fruit was generally considered safe but its condition now will not be known for a few days.

The Condon Globe probably meant no harm to Judge Bradshaw when it said, that during last court term there, "no less than fifty people were heard to remark that he was an excellent likeness of Grover Cleveland." It is questionable if the judge has any remedy at law for this charge, and custom shuts the mouths of candidates against retaliation anyhow.

Last evening was spent pleasantly in a game of drive whilst at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Filloon. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Young, Mr. Dell Cheeseman, Mr. and Mrs. Lochhead, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Blakely, Dr. and Mrs. Kinehart, Mr. and Mrs. Filloon, Mrs. Jas. Wilson and Miss Bessie Miller. Mrs. Stephens was the winner of the first prize which was a beautiful, hand-painted glass plaque, and Mr. Stephens was the happy winner of the booby which was a most forlorn looking little gray mule.

It was as neat a little job as was ever done outside of a political convention. The lodge was about to close (the Odd Fellows of this city, last night) and nothing had been said about how the brethren intended to go and come from the big picnic at Hood River next Tuesday when a brother arose and offered "by request" a resolution substantially as follows: "Resolved that the Odd Fellows of Columbia lodge No. 5, I. O. O. F. intend to go to the Hood River picnic by rail, with the understanding that the train will wait the convenience of our return at Hood River." "Second the motion," said a guileless brother. "I move as an amendment" said another brother "that the word boat be substituted for the word rail." "Second the motion" cried a dozen voices in chorus. Then the amendment was put, and carried with a whoop, and the lodge closed in due form.

From the Daily Chronicle, Monday.

C. E. Bayard is in the city.

Editor Cummins of the Wasco News, is in town.

County Clerk V. C. Brock, of Wasco, Sherman county, is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sherar of Sherar's Bridge, came into town this morning.

Snow appeared for the last two mornings on the top of the Klickitat hills.

Mrs. J. H. Corbett was in the city yesterday, on a visit to Mr. Corbett, at the Umatilla house.

The city board of equalization sat today in the recorder's office, but very few taxpayers appeared before them.

William Michell has commenced work on the foundation of his new residence on his lot corner of Fourth and Washington.

The worst features of the storm in The Dalles yesterday was a 89.39 barometer; wind at no time above 20 miles per hour; and thirteen-hundredths of an inch rainfall.

A. B. Walker, of Mansfield, Sebastian county, Arkansas, is visiting his Uncle, A. M. Walker, of this city, in company with his friend J. B. Sanborn.

The king of the Ashantees is limited by law to the modest number of 3,333 wives. The present king has his full quota and is further blessed with 600 children.

Hon. C. A. Cogswell, state senator from Crook, Klamath and Lake counties and a candidate for reelection on the democratic ticket, spent yesterday in the city.

William Lucky, father of J. C. Lucky, Warm Spring Indian agent, died at Eugene city on the 15th inst., aged 84 years, 5 months and 15 days. He was a pioneer of 1850.

The card of Mr. F. M. Salyer, Civil Engineer, will be found in the list of professionals on the fourth page of THE CHRONICLE, today. Mr. Salyer is not wholly a stranger in The Dalles, and will be cordially welcomed to a residence here.

A postal card to Tom Hayden of this city informs him that the wheelbarrow tourists arrived at Huntington on the 23rd inst. E. W. Caston, who signs himself "a member of the wheelbarrow combination" reports all feeling well and happy.

The penitentiary jute mill at Walla Walla, is about ready for operation. It will afford work for 200 prisoners and turn out 400 grain sacks a day. A similar institution in the Oregon penitentiary would be very satisfactory to the people and especially profitable to the farmers.

The business council of Wasco and Sherman counties' P. of H., have passed a resolution pledging the grangers of these two counties not to support any candidate for the legislature of Oregon who will not pledge himself, publicly, to work for the building of a portage railroad at the dalles and also to endeavor to defeat any measure antagonistic to the same.

B. S. Pague, in his weather bulletin last week says: "The green aphid is reported to be troublesome at Pilot Rock, Umatilla county. There appears to be little or no damage done to the fruit, from the frosts along the Snake river, and in some orchards about The Dalles and Hood River, no particular damage is anticipated. About The Dalles fruit bloom has fallen off and cherries are as large as peas."

Kingsley Correspondence.

KINGSLEY, Or., April, 24.

Editor Chronicle:

Here are a few items from Kingsley. By reason of our school not starting early enough to observe Arbor Day (proper) our teacher substituted the 22nd instead. There was quite a number in attendance. The exercises began by the teacher explaining the object of Arbor Day and made some very appropriate remarks about the American flag, followed by recitations by the scholars. Next came the choice of location for the trees. First and second choice were won by Mr. Frank Ward and Miss Nettie Frailey, and then followed the naming and planting of trees. There were twenty-six trees planted, some of which were very oddly christened. I noticed two in particular. One was McKinley and the other McGinty. I don't know whether it was named after the original McGinty or after Mr. Jamey McGinty of The Dalles.

Friday night, I think, was the coldest in this month. Ice formed one-fourth of an inch thick on water that was sheltered from the wind.

Mrs. Hugh Gourlay, of The Dalles, is visiting her old home and some of her numerous friends at Kingsley.

The alliance organization, of Kingsley, swears vengeance against part of the county republican ticket on the first of June. Watch them. TAM O'SHANTER.

Nine persons were burned in a fire in St. Petersburg, fifteen others were buried in the ruins, and many others were badly hurt by jumping from the windows.

The new light ship, off the mouth of the Columbia river, has proved herself to be a most seaworthy vessel. During the recent big storm, says the mate, any one down below would not know but that he was on the land.

For the best wagon on earth get the Mitchell. For sale by J. M. Filloon & Co.

First-class job work can be had at the CHRONICLE job office on short notice and at reasonable prices.

The report of the sale of San Domingo is "news" to everybody who is in any way immediately concerned.

Stoneman and Fiege call attention to their new stock of ladies fine shoes, in all widths, and their full assortment of lawn tennis shoes, with perforated inner soles which they offer at prices as low as goods of the same quality can be sold for anywhere.

You can buy Standard Mowers, Reapers, Rakes, or anything in the implement line, as cheap from J. M. Filloon & Co., as if you were in Portland. They keep an unlimited supply of extras for all machines sold by them. Opposite Brooks & Beers. 4-22wif

Where to buy Clocks.

If you will call upon Mr. Stacy Shown, with Byrne, Floyd & Co., corner Second and Union streets, The Dalles, who has just opened the largest assortment and the finest lines of goods in this branch of trade, ever displayed in this city, and at prices which defy competition—you will at once know, where to buy clocks. He has them from $2.00 up. 2-26wif

CAPT. JOHN McNULTY.

The Veteran Commander to take Charge of the Regulator.

Captain John McNulty, well and favorably known on the Columbia river for thirty-nine years past, in connection with steamboating, has resigned from his command in the Union Pacific system and accepted a similar position with The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation Company. He will take command of the steamer Regulator on or before May 1st. Captain McNulty has followed the Columbia all these years without one serious accident, and is with all a most deservedly popular man. It is remarked by tourists, travelers, and people in general who chance to be with him, and especially those who know him, that one of his prominent characteristics is his established tenet, that "order is Heaven's first law," and it is a principle which he applies unreservedly to everything about him, making a trip with him one to be long remembered pleasantly. His friends, and they are legion, will be gratified to greet him on the Regulator.

Points on the Silo.

Now is the time for farmers to make preparations for using the silo during the coming winter. The ground must be selected and put in condition to bear a good crop of corn. In selecting the ground, locate it as near the place where the silo will be built as possible, so that the green crop can be handled with as little labor as possible. The ground cannot be made too rich or put into too good cultivation; for it should be the aim of the farmers to grow as many tons of valuable fodder to the acre as possible. Corn is preeminently the best crop for the silo when all things are considered. Other crops, such as clover, vetches, oats, peas, sorghum, etc., have been used with more or less success; but when corn can be grown, these crops have given way to the king.

Of the varieties of corn, best adapted to this climate, little need be said, for where one variety may be a success, others might fail to meet the requirements. The Evergreen sweet corn makes excellent silage, but will not produce quite as large a yield per acre as some of the dent varieties. The Southern ensilage corn, known as "B and W" ensilage corn, makes an enormous growth in this valley, but does not mature as early as some of the smaller varieties. The Pride of the North, is a good variety for general use. This is a yellow dent variety, which makes a medium growth; and produces an ear on every stalk, which will reach maturity, before there is any danger of frost.

In general, I believe better results will be obtained, if seed can be obtained which has been produced in the locality. Corn is very susceptible to climatic influences; and there is little to be gained, by importing seed from localities where the conditions are altogether different from those prevailing in the vicinity where you wish to grow the crop. There is no difficulty in maintaining, and many times improving the corn crop, by carefully selecting seed of your own raising. Of course these remarks will only apply to localities where the corn plant will reach full maturity.

In the reports which have come to me from points in this state, I have yet to learn of a single instance where the silo has not given the most flattering satisfaction. Some who began with only a small silo are building larger, and propose to use this method of feeding stock animals, as well as dairy cows. And right here, let me caution those who contemplate building, to build large enough to meet future demands; for the larger the silo the less loss there will be in proportion to the amount of green material stored. What I mean by this, is, that 80 or 100 tons thus stored in a silo 10x20—and twenty feet deep, will keep more completely than twenty tons in a silo 10x10, and ten feet deep. The additional weight caused by the increased depth of the silo, will assist very much in the keeping of the contents. At all events, plant some corn, tend it well, build a silo after harvest, cut the corn when it begins to glaze, run it through a feed cutter, into the silo, keep it evenly spread as it goes in, tread it down in corners, run some hay or straw on top, and next November or December you will have a mint of feed which no future winter will see you without.

May and December have met in Indiana. The bride, Miss Nancy Sanders, is 22, the groom, James Ward is 83. The wedding has twice been prevented, just as the ceremony was to be performed, in Vincennes.

The best spring medicine is a dose or two of St. Patrick's Pills. They not only physic but cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

A colored man named White, who broke open and robbed a pawn broker's shop in Meridian, Miss., killed one officer and badly wounded another, in an effort to escape. He had stolen $1,200 worth of goods. He was put in jail and his case taken before Justice Lynch, on a motion of "rope or no rope."

A traveling man who chanced to be in the store of E. V. Wood, at McKees Rocks, Pa., says while he was waiting to see Mr. Wood, a little girl came in with an empty bottle labeled Chamberlain's Pain Balm and said: "Mamma wants another bottle of that medicine; she says it is the best medicine for rheumatism she ever used." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

Frank James, station agent at Meadville, Mo., gave his gold watch to his mother, then shot himself, because his best girl refused to have anything more to do with him.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

Saved from Death by Onions.

There has no doubt been more lives of children saved from death in croup or whooping cough by the use of onions than any other known remedy, our mothers used to make poultices of them, or a syrup, which was always effectual in breaking up a cough or cold. Dr. Gunn's Onion Syrup is made by combining a few simple remedies with it which make it more effective as a medicine and destroys the taste and odor of the onion. 50c. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

Wm. Colby, a farm hand near Marine City, Mich., arrested on suspicion, confessed the murder of Richard Cook. He says that he killed Cook with a neck-yoke in self-defense during a quarrel about a girl with whom both loved. The condition of the body contradicts Colby's testimony in important particulars.

A Great Liver Medicine.

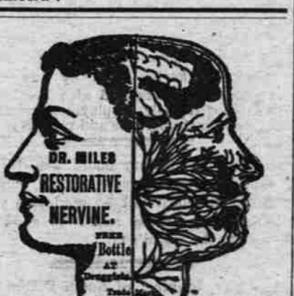

Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills are a sure cure for sick headache, bilious complaints, dyspepsia, indigestion, constiveness, torpid liver, etc. These pills insure perfect digestion, correct the liver and stomach, regulate the bowels, purify and enrich the blood and make the skin clear. They also produce a good appetite and invigorate and strengthen the entire system by their tonic action. They only require one pill for a dose and never gripe or sicken. Sold at 25 cents a box by Blakeley & Houghton.

The Weather Prophet Vaughn predicts another tornado May 5th to 12th, from the Pacific coast eastward, via lower California, across St. Paul, etc. People who read his last predictions and are in dread of this one, talk of attending the Presbyterian General Assembly to meet in Portland, Or., May 18th, hoping thus to escape.
