

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, OREGON

FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1892

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Monday.
T. R. Coon of Hood River, republican candidate for joint representative for Wasco and Sherman counties, was in town today.

Miss Anna Peters & Co., 112 Second street, invites the ladies to call and inspect the latest and most complete stock of millinery goods in the city.

Rev. Le Grande Holyrte of Dufur, was in town today on his way to the United Brotherhood conference to be held in Elberton, Wash., on the 11th and 22d inst.

J. B. Crossen, Tom Ward, and G. C. Blakely, democratic candidates for clerk, sheriff, and county judge started out on a trip to the country this morning in company with Sheriff D. L. Cates. It went hurt anything if country people keep a close watch on their chicken roosts during the next three weeks.

A guest of the Umatilla house sat down to dinner last Saturday and the waiter, as usual, came forward and announced the menu, beginning with "split pea soup," but mumbled so that the guest thought it was speckled trout, "yes," said the guest, "How are they cooked; I like mine fried." "Sir," said the waiter, "we don't fry the soup." "Oh! pardon me," answered the guest, "I thought you said speckled trout."

There is another case of diphtheria in this city. This time it is the seven-year-old son of Louis Blank. The boy was at the picnic yesterday and was taken so ill on the way home that he had to be carried from the boat up to the house. He has been attending the public school and Director S. B. Adams assures the CHRONICLE that the school building will be fumigated and every precaution taken to stop the spread of the disease. If it becomes necessary to close the schools, this will be done.

James B. Teller, a Crook county stockman, committed suicide in a Kansas hotel on the 24th of last month. Teller had gone there with a band of horses. Shortly after his arrival he fell in love with a widow, named Mrs. Jennie Boxwell, and got married to her. Four days after the wedding Teller was a corpse. During the temporary absence of his bride Teller had gambled away $250 of her money and not daring to face her again he took his life. He left a letter addressed to his wife explaining why he did the deed and asking her forgiveness. He also requested that she should write to his sister, Mrs. Belle Read of Moro, Sherman county, but not to his friends living at Mitchell, Crook county.

It is no reflection on the hospitality of the Gesang Verein picnic to say that some of the nearly 400 excursionists got very hungry before lunch time. The air of the Mosier country is liable to make a man feel that way anyhow. This was particularly the case with Julius Fisher and Shorty Henderson, and their teeth fairly watered at the sight of a lunch basket, which they had not the courage to steal. Meeting Judd Fish they pointed out the basket and asked him to help them out. Judd, nothing loth, picked it up, while Shorty, leading the way into the bush, said "Come on." Scarcely had they gone twenty yards when the owner of the basket met them and said "If you please, I'll take that basket. This is the second time today, it has been stolen." The feeling of the trio can be better imagined than described.

The editorial fraternity, and delegates to the Washington democratic state convention at Vancouver, from Eastern Washington, have been tendered the courtesy of passes by The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation company, in order that they may have an opportunity for gaining such information as may be desirable to enable them to form an intelligent idea, by personal observation, as to what the state of Oregon has done and The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation company is doing, for an open river from the Inland Empire to the open sea. This arrangement was brought about by Mr. Linus Hubbard, through the request of a Pomeroy gentleman who had received one of the whaleback souvenirs.

The second Eastern Oregon District Fair Association will hold their annual fair this year, commencing on Tuesday the 11th of October and ending on Saturday the 15th. This will be about a month later than the date on which the fair has been held for the past two years and it is, beyond question, a change that ought to make the coming fair the most successful of any yet held. The great trouble with the last two fairs was that they occurred at a time when the farmers were busy threshing, or if through with this work, were engaged in hauling grain, ordinarily, the throng of this work will be over by the time fixed for the present year. Another change has been decided on that ought also to contribute to the fair's success. No race horses will be allowed to compete for premiums, that do not belong to Eastern Oregon or to Klickitat county, Wash. These changes have been made entirely in the interest of the farmers and stock raisers of this district as we hope they will be fully appreciated.

From the Daily Chronicle, Tuesday.
Walter H. Moore, of Moro, is in the city.

Polk Butler, of Nansene, and Tom Glavey and Tom O'Neill of Dufur were in town last night.

When the hair has fallen out, leaving the head bald, if the scalp is not shiny, there is a chance of regaining the hair by using Hall's Hair Renewer.

Another splendid rainfall, that seems to have been quite general, commenced here at an early hour this morning and continued till nearly noon. If we don't have good crops this year it will not be for lack of rain.

Dr. G. C. Eshelman received a telegram this forenoon from Frank McFarland of Heppner, asking him to come up immediately as his baby was sick. The doctor left on his one o'clock passenger.

Mr. F. M. Salyer, C. E., of this city, was today made the recipient of a very handsome testimonial, certifying to his efficiency and expertness in his chosen field. It comes from his late employers and associates in Durango, Colorado.

Ayer's Hair Vigor restores natural color to the hair, by stimulating a healthy action of the scalp. This preparation also produces a vigorous growth of the hair, and gives it a beautiful luster and youthful appearance. Recommended by physicians, clergymen, and scientists.

The Warm Springs reservation was recently visited with an epidemic of measles and at least as many as 150 cases were reported. Five or six deaths occurred at camps at a distance from the agency but all the patients under the care of the agency physician recovered.

Insomnia is fearfully on the increase. The rush and excitement of modern life so tax the nervous system that multitudes of people are deprived of good and sufficient sleep, with ruinous consequences to the nerves. Remember, Ayer's Sarsaparilla makes the weak strong.

Dr. Hugh Logan will leave on the midnight passenger tonight to attend a meeting of the National association of railway surgeons to be held at Old Point Comfort, Virginia, on May 25th inst.

On his way the doctor will attend a meeting of the Missouri state medical association. He intends to visit Chicago, New York and Washington and will be gone about a month.

A brass band has been organized in the city, and one of the oldest and most accomplished musicians in the state of Oregon, who is also a member of it, has christened it the "Regulator Brass Band" and the name is going to stick. The new band has ten members, all accomplished musicians, and before many days pass it is expected they will let themselves be heard on the public streets. Success to the Regulator Band!

It is very evident the good people on the north side of the river are not particularly stuck on Oregon sheep. John O'Leary of Rutledge, whose experience we related in the CHRONICLE a couple of weeks ago, tried to cross his band of sheep, a short time ago, over what is known as Outlet Bridge, on a branch of the Klickitat river. As the sheep approached the bridge the herder was met by four masked men who began shooting promiscuously all around them. The only thing injured, however, was the shepherd's dog, a fine animal which had one of his legs broken by a pistol ball. Notices have been stuck up at several places warning the sheep men that no sheep will be allowed to pass and signed "Committee." It is altogether likely that Oregon sheepmen who intend to summer their flocks in Washington are going to get into trouble, and the above related that they may know what to expect.

From the Daily Chronicle, Wednesday.
Attention. Salute: Chief Jud. S. Fish.

Mr. A. J. Brigham, of Dufur, was in the city today on business.

Old papers, nice and clean, for sale at this office. They are useful for many things.

Editor Gourlay of THE CHRONICLE is off to the country for four days' recreation.

Miss Peter has a nice lot of new millinery notions today. See advertisement.

The rush to Astoria has evidently caused much dissatisfaction, owing to lack of accommodations for the crowd.

Steward Cooper and night clerk Cornish, of the Umatilla house, returned on the noon passenger from a flying trip to the metropolis.

Our reporter didn't catch on to the hat display in Nielsen's window, Monday, but the public will today. The styles have changed.

Mr. P. T. Sharp, of this county, who has been on a visit to California, is again at home, and was in the city today. He left his daughter with relatives in California.

You will always find something on the 4th page of THE CHRONICLE to interest you, but today there is something of particular interest to the friends of an open river.

On Senator Mitchell's recommendation the postoffice department has issued an order authorizing a contract with E. Wigle to carry the mails from Prineville, by Desert and Hay Stack, to Warm Springs, and back, twice a week, from July 1st.

At a meeting of the board of delegates of The Dalles fire department last evening, Chief Geo. Munger sent in his resignation, and Jud. S. Fish was elected to fill the place.

The Dalles citizens' brass band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cram at the Umatilla house last evening. The newly married couple having returned from their bridal trip to California.

Mr. Chas. Butler has just returned to Port Townsend with another flock of fine mutton sheep for the Victoria market. Wasco and Klickitat are favorable points in which to secure the famous English mutton.

There is an alleged illustrated journal published in Astoria that has twice printed an alleged cut of the Baltimore that looked like a fried egg endeavoring to make a landing on a stern and rock-bound coast.

Machinery for a sawmill has arrived at the Warm Springs reservation. Its location is about twenty miles from the agency, where operations preliminary to the erection of Presbyterian mission buildings will soon be commenced.

In consequence of the coolness of the weather and the presence of diphtheria in The Dalles, the ladies of the Good Intent have decided to postpone their excursion one month. Tickets already sold will be good for the excursion next month. This announcement is made by order of the committee.

No case of diphtheria, save one, the son of Louis Blank; has been heard of in the city up to the present, and every precaution is being taken to keep the disease from spreading. The Blank boy is undoubtedly very sick, and no one can tell the result. We can only hope for the best.

The Fire Department of The Dalles is now so well equipped with conveniences that it is proposed to have a hose tournament here on the 4th of July. Astoria, Portland, Vancouver, Oregon City, Salem, and other departments will be invited to participate, provided the suggestion fully matures. It would be a grand idea, as The Dalles is well supplied with water and hydrants for an elegant tournament.

Miss Hamill, assisted by her two classes in elocution, will give an entertainment in the basement of the M. E. Church this evening. The pupils have been preparing for this entertainment for some time, but on account of the Court house being engaged for that evening expected to be compelled to give it up. Now that the M. E. Church has been kindly offered, all will have the opportunity of hearing the rendering of a first class programme.

Markets have opened actively this week, all along the line. The produce trade looks well for the coming week, and the merchandise markets are assured of good business. The improvement for the past two weeks has been steady, and there is no apparent reason why it should not continue. California green vegetables are out of the market. Now potatoes are in good supply and prices are firm, under a good demand. Oregon radishes, lettuce, rhubarb and green onions are becoming plentiful. Old potatoes are again scarce, the farmers holding back, evidently for seeding. In the fruit line, the same activity is noted.

Capt. John W. Lewis received today from Col. W. E. McArthur of Washington City, a pair of oyster shells that measure full seven inches in length. This is no fish story. The shells can be seen in the CHRONICLE show window. In a note accompanying the shells Col. McArthur says: "The scripture saith: 'Moses was an Austere man'; but there was a merry twinkle in the eyes of black Moses, who presides at Harvey's raw oyster counter, when I selected that superb specimen for his Sexton's manipulation. But I believe I long since wrote you the story and now I repeat as aforesaid, when I swallowed that treasure of an oyster. 'Good bi-valve.'"

The Willowa Chieftain, referring to the nomination of Mr. Polk Mays for representative on the republican ticket, says: "It was given to Mr. Mays without any effort on his part, and the convention could not have made a better selection for that important position. Mr. Mays is thoroughly identified with our county interests, is one of our heaviest tax-payers, is conservative in his views, and correct in his conclusions. If he is elected, his vote on all proposed legislation will be guided by that regard for right and justice which has always characterized his actions in private life. The vote for Mr. Mays in the localities where he is best known will be alike complimentary to his worth as a man, and to the confidence in which his ability is held by the people."

From the Daily Chronicle, Thursday.
Mr. John Larsen has some fine horses in training at the fair grounds.

No less than 10,000 people witnessed the street parade in Astoria yesterday.

The spirit of free coinage is now like a frightened burglar, afraid to make the first break.

Republican paragraphers are lashing the democracy now with rods pulled from Rod Island.

If Blaine's liver had Alger's gall, Harrison, as a candidate for renomination, would be a short-liver.

There was a large number of school teachers in the city yesterday. They came to prepare for the annual examination.

Dufur was well represented on the register at the Umatilla house yesterday. Mrs. F. C. Sexton, Aaron Fraser, Miss Nellie Hedley, Ester Menefee and others, were here.

Mr. James Kelly, of Kingsley, was in the city today with his two daughters, and made a very pleasant visit to THE CHRONICLE, enrolling his name amongst those of his staunch supporters.

Mr. W. Pierce of Goldendale, has been in the city for a couple of days arranging to supply Dalles builders with sash, doors and blinds. He is as able and well qualified to fill all such orders, as larger men in larger communities.

Messrs. V. Z. and M. J. Clifford, of California, are here looking for a field in which to invest. Otherwise, they are on a voyage of discovery; and if they find Wasco county as we see it they will become permanently identified with our interests.

As evidence corroborating the statement of THE CHRONICLE yesterday, that the Columbia river had not been discovered, up to last night, I. N. Campbell states to a representative of this wide awake journal today, that the Columbia river is not located on his map.

A Kindergarten school would be a fine thing for The Dalles. All cities have them; and now, if some lady, who is fond of children, and wants to make a few dollars, will start a school of this kind, she will confer a lasting benefit upon posterity.

When the railway business in the west reaches a point at which a distributor receives locomotives by the train, as was done recently in Buffalo, N. Y., and illustrated by the Express; then there will not be river front at The Dalles sufficient to accommodate the water craft. Why? Because the railway influences will have purchased it and laid it away for keeps.

The Buffalo Express is the Eastern paper which reaches our table and our estimation at the same time, and is most worthy of admiration. The compliment may be construed as you please when we say, upon opening the wrapper "brought to perfection." THE CHRONICLE is no snide. Please H.

The pleasant weather for the past few days has given the Astoria railroad contractors an opportunity to get everything in good working order and active work has commenced. There are six camps besides the tunnel outfit, comprising 2,000 men at work on the road and the clearing gang has nearly ten miles ready for the graders.

The Herald says: "R. N. Wright, a mugwump politician who changes his politics oftener than he does his shirt, is heard from through an article in yesterday's Astorian, written by himself, and signed Boys of the High School in which he tries to vindicate himself from the charge that he is a political scallawag, unfit to hold his present position and should be removed."

Six million dollars will be the sum paid this year, to transport the grain of the Inland Empire to a point where it can be shipped to the markets of the world. One year. Wheat alone. Just think of it; then ask yourself "What were such men as Rep. Holman of Indiana, born for, if it was not to bleed us and such as us, that half this sum might go into the coffers of corporations and eventually be divided amongst men of his kind?" This is the stubborn fact.

Mr. Wm. Locke, of Washington city, a gentleman who is here looking after Uncle Samuel's real estate interests, left the railroad and took the Regulator for Portland this morning. He says that Blaine has, positively, a better chance for nomination at Minneapolis, than any other man in the nation; that there is a sentiment among the people which is irresistible for Blaine for president, and if he is nominated the nation will be astounded with the result. There are millions who want to vote for Blaine electors, one of whom we are "which."

There is a level headed man at the helm in the Pomeroy Independent office. He says: "With a portage at The Dalles this rate would be reduced about one-half and thereby leave $3,000,000 in the pockets of the people, that now go into the coffers of the corporations to aid them in buying our congressmen off from urging appropriations to open the river by constructing a portage railway, as the state of Oregon has done at the Cascades of the Columbia, and thereby saved tens of thousands of dollars to the people on the lower river, whose products are not a tithe compared to the products of the upper Columbia and Snake river basins."

The Columbia is swarming with blueback salmon. They are the finest of this species ever seen here, many of them weighing from eight to ten pounds. Orders have been received within the past week for several tons of seines for catching these fish. "Tie wheels at The Dalles are catching about ten ton per day, and large quantities are being received here from the Cascades and from down the river. This is very early for the run of bluebacks, about six weeks earlier than they come last year. They are excellent fish and considered about as good for canning as the Chinook.

J. W. Flanders, traveler for the well-known proprietary medicine firm of J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, Mass., was in the city for the past two days and left last night for points east. Mr. Flanders is a very pleasant gentleman and an excellent conversationalist. He has been in the employ of the firm for over ten years, on the wing all the time. His territory covers the whole northwest and comprises twelve states and territories. Speaking of the immense business done by his firm he informed a CHRONICLE representative that a million a year is spent in advertising their business. They will publish this year 20,000,000 copies of Ayer's almanacs in no less than thirty different languages. The press on which the almanacs are printed turns out 10,000 copies an hour, or 80,000 copies in a working day of eight hours. The printing of the almanacs for 1893 commenced two months ago, and even at this enormous rate of speed will occupy nearly the entire remainder of the year. The firm sold last year about seventeen tons of pills, or enough, as Mr. Flanders said, "to physic the whole nation." They do business with upward of 40,000 merchants located in every nook and corner of the American continent. Their mail receipts at headquarters, average from 400 to 800 letters a day. It is hardly necessary to say there's millions in the business.

INVALIDS

Gain rapidly in health and strength by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine substitutes rich and pure blood, for the impoverished fluid left in the veins after fevers and other wasting sickness. It improves the appetite and tones up the system, so that convalescents soon active, and vigorous. To relieve that tired feeling, depression of spirits, and nervous debility, no other medicine produces the speedy and permanent effect of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. P. O. Loving, Brockton, Mass., writes: "I am confident that anyone suffering from the effects of scrofula, general debility, want of appetite, depression of spirits, and lassitude will be cured

By Using

Ayer's Sarsaparilla; for I have taken it, and speak from experience."

"In the summer of 1888, I was cured of nervous debility by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Mrs. H. Benoit, 6 Middle st., Pawtucket, R. I.

"Several years ago I was in a debilitated condition. Other remedies having failed, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was greatly benefited. As a Spring medicine, I consider it invaluable."—Mrs. L. S. Winchester, Holden, Me.
