Britain Proud of its Olympic Team

London, March 10—Britain will be able to send a team to the Olympic games in August of which she may be proud, it is declared by the British Olympic association in a public appeal.

"The time for preparation is short, as it is for all the countries engaged," says the statement. "But thanks to the magnificent training through which our young manhood has passed in the years of war we have, in spite of our appalling losses, rich material upon which to draw if properly developed.

"We have little to guide us as to the measure of our success in competition with other countries, but we have no doubt of being able to send a representation of which the country may be justly proud, provided the means of doing so are placed at our disposal.

"All that is needed is that we should be able to give encouragement to every promising athlete, without withdrawing him from his ordinary occupation, or doing anything which could impair the full integrity of his status as an amateur."

The king is taking an interest in the preparations for the games and has expressed the hope that every effort will be made to ensure that the United Kingdom is represented by its best athletes. Incidentally, he has subscribed one hundred pounds ($500) to the association funds.

HEISMAN TO KEEP CLEAN CONDITIONS IN FOOTBALL

Philadelphia, March 10—John W. Heisman, coach of the University of Pennsylvania football team, told the associated Pennsylvania clubs at its recent conference in Wilmington, Del., he was determined to keep conditions at the university clean and ship shape.

"I am in sympathy with the faculty in the matter of college athletics," he said. "I believe young men come to college primarily for an education and not to lay footbal or any other game. Therefore, the faculty should not be criticised if it bars a football star for failing in his studies. I expect every football man to do his college work or quit the team.

"I like to win as well as anybody, but it must be done fairly and honorably. I teach clean play on the field and when a game is over I want no reflection on the coach of the university. Football is no parlor game and I believe in stern tactics and strict discipline."

CARPENTIER-ELASSE CHURCH WEDDING DATE NOT SET

Paris, March 10—An announcement that the religious marriage ceremony for Georges Carpentier, the heavyweight pugilist, and Mlle Georgette Laurentia Elasse would be celebrated at a Paris church Tuesday, proved to be an error. Crowds appeared before the church, blocking the street, and finally the police requested Carpentier and his bride, whose civil marriage took place in the city hall Monday, to appear and disperse the throng. This they did. Later Carpentier said the date for the church wedding had not been set.

BOXING AT DETROIT CLUB TO BE A SOCIAL FUNCTION

The Detroit Boxing club is contemplating establishing itself as a sister organization to the National Sporting club of London. This means that in the near future a boxing contest at the D. B. C. in-so-far as the spectator is concerned, will be a social function. It means that in order to pass muster at the gates of the arena one must be garbed, as Mr. McNab says, "as if it were Denny Murphys wake." For fear you don't follow, we will here insert that we mean that only those in full dress, or its equivalent, will be granted the privilege of entering the "vast arena" there to seat themselves to witness the conflict. Naturally since the affair is to be formal, it means that ladies will be present. They will come bedecked in their idea of fashion. There will be low neck gowns, bewildering assortments of pearls, diamonds and other rare jewels; there will be ostrich feather fans and pleasing odors of fragrant perfumes; there will be "tulle over golden bodice;" and there will be slippers too tight. This latter disadvantage is easily remedied, however, for there is no dancing to be done, or strutting for that matter, so the lady suffering from the malady of tight slippers may easily secret her feet under the seat in front, slip off the tight slipper and thus arrive at old-fashioned comfort. This latter fact is a good reason why the formal affair should be other than uncomfortable.

If you are a fight fan, and desire to drag out the old tombstone front, shine off the silk lid, buy yourself a new set of studs, a new pair of cuff links, a back collar button, a pair of patent leather kicks. And, don't forget this: You will have to cut out such stuff as "Knock him dead Spike, knock him dead." Your remarks now must be limited to "How splendidly he boxes! and "He really is an excellent puncher."

There will, however, be one laugh. That will occur when a gladiator who presumes to challenge the winner will be forced to appear in the ring dressed just like a regular groom (bride groom, of course.)

Get Your Crime Ready.

(From Havana Evening News)

We are unauthorized to announce that the location has been selected for the next big heavy-weight championship battle in the United States. It will be between Jack Dempsey and Jack Johnson at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Johnson will go in training there, signing articles with a Chicago judge, for white slavery, and Dempsey will soon sign articles for draft dodging. All that will be necessary to gain admission to see this fight will be to rob a postoffice or manufacture moonshine whiskey. Get ready, boys, and secure your tickets.

Golfing Is Hereditary.

It is not rare to find families of golfers. In fact, they generally run in families. Charlie Hunter of New York, whose son and grandson are both prominent golfers, will complete in the open championship this year. He is 84 years old and played in the British open championship event in 1860.

Another Frisco League.

No sooner had the winter baseball league ended in San Francisco than another circuit was formed for the summer months. Six teams will play a game every Sunday for 20 consecutive weeks, beginning March 22. All professionals are barred and the age limit is 28.

SPORTING NOTES.

Manager Robinson of the Dodgers, who are training at Jacksonville, Fla., is trying out an infield shaped up with Konetchy at first, Ward at short, Olson at second, and Johnston at third. This arrangement moves Olson from his regular position at short and shifts Johnston from second to third. The infield problem is causing Robbie much worry and he hopes that the above lineup will solve it.

Frank Herbst, crack pitcher with Waterbury last season who is the subject of a controversy between the Athletics and the Pirates, is toting around much extra weight, which means that he will have to reduce considerably.

Manager Huggins of the Yankees thinks highly of Frank Gleich, a young outfielder, who has been stinging the ball with much force at Jacksonville. If any of Huggins's regulars do not come up to the mark, it is within the realm of possibility that Gleich may be given a chance to develop into a regular.

Norman Plitt, a member of the Waterbury pitching staff last season and still the property of the Brass City nine, has announced that he will hurl for the Lebanon team of the Bethlehem Steel League this season. Plitt is a reliable pitcher and has had two tryouts with the Brooklyn Nationals. He was with Portland when Hugh Duffy had an Eastern League franchise.

Edward H. Tomlinson, of Elizabeth, N. J., was elected captain of the Wesleyan university basketball team for next year.

The Harvard football eleven will play the University of Valparaiso, of Valparaiso, Ind., at the stadium on October 9, it was announced. The date was left vacant by cancellation of a game scheduled with Notre Dame university.

The championship tournament of the Connecticut Golf association will be held at the Brooklawn Country club, Bridgeport, on June 23, 24, 25 and 26.

JEWETT CITY

Miss Lucille S. Stetson is to leave Jewett City and take up her residence in Norwich where she will be in charge of an office in the Thames Loan and Trust Co. building, on Shetucket street, which Grosvenor Ely is opening. Miss Stetson entered the employ of Ashland Cotton Co. in December, 1905, as stenographer, coming to Jewett City from Norwich and through steady advancement became four years ago, head bookkeeper and was given charge of the office. In 1918, when Mr. Ely went to Washington, she took charge of his affairs as private secretary. With the increase of Mr. Ely's business outside of his duties as treasurer of Ahland Cotton Co., Miss Stetson gradually relinquished the greater part of her work in connection with the Ashland Cotton Co., so that her removal to Norwich will mean a further advancement, with added responsibilities and a continuation there, of the same sort of work, she has been doing in Jewett City for the past few years. Mr. Ely who has opened this office in Norwich, is treasurer of Ashland Cotton Co., and is connected with various textile mills and banks throughout the country.

Miss Fangster who has worked as assistant to Miss Stetson at the local office of the Ashland Cotton Co., has been promoted to have charge of the office.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

RALLY IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE

New York, March 10.—Another vigorous rally in foreign exchange, the lowest renewal rate for demand loans in a fortnight and a favorable statement of earnings issued by leading industrial companies together with an increased dividend, accounted mainly for the breadth and activity of today's stock market.

Demand bills on London rose to $3.76 before three o'clock, exceeding the previous recovery by six cents and recording an extreme rebound of 57 cents from the low of last month, with concurrent strengthening of remittances to allied countries.

Call money opened at 7 per cent. and held at that quotation throughout the session. Although time rates were ostensibly unchanged, reports credited interior banks with local reserves as disposed to negotiate new loans for moderate amounts at concessions.

Recent supreme court decisions dealing with stock tax exemption and railway valuations were again effective in the buying movement. High grade rails, also the cheaper transportations and numerous railway equipments, denoted confident accumulation at gains of two to ten points.

Another increase of unfilled orders reported by the United States Steel Corporation for February preceded the rise of steel common to 101, its highest quotation in several weeks and gave emphasis to encouraging reviews of industrial conditions issued by trade authorities.

Oils and coppers were included among the prominent and higher issues of the last hour, but General Motors and Crucible Steel were relegated to comparative obscurity, closing at nominal gains after evincing much irregularity. Sales amounted to 1,500,000 shares.

Liberty bonds were steady, internations mixed and the general domestic list irregular, local transactions hardening. Total saes, par value, were $12,650,000.

Old U. S. Bonds were unaltered on call.

POETRY

THE OLD VERMONT FARM.

Most every day some village care
A-kinder jolts me back
To that old place way off beyond
The cars and railroad track;
Three thoughts of that unlimbered life
Divide my griefs by three,
And make me say, "By ginger! wife,
A farmer's life for me."

I think about them stay-by things
We cooked there on the farm;
Them things that filled your back with strength
And filled your soul with balm;
That good dried beef—that picked-up fish,
A-salt as salt as could be,
I hanker for that there dish—
It's good enough for me.

Our horses went a-plenty fast,
If not the pace that kills;
Our buggy had a boot and back
And leather 'round the fills;
Our Portland sleigh was painted a-twice
For leap-year rides, by gee!
And if 'twould do for Pansy Price
'Twas good enough for me.

I find new kinds of silk-faced shirts
And neckties, now and then,
A-laid inside my dresser drawer,
Sometimes as high as ten;
I listen how a tailor's cut
Corrects a baggy knee,
But boughten clothes, I tell you what,
Have mostly covered me.

A-once when I took off my boots,
I always looked and felt
To see if they was wearing through
Or cracking 'round the welt;
But now I have to take each shoe
And roost it on a tree—
O! give me back the boots I knew,
They're good enough for me.

My books are not the village kind—
I know they're pretty plain;
The fambly call 'em "farmers' books"
They give my wife a pain;
But, anyway, despite their looks,
I think I'll leave 'em be;
I kinder guess a farmer's books
Will have to do for me.

I can't go near a store no more
Unless I want to trade;
I never know what's going on
Till all the plans are made;
This dooryard life has little charm
For folks that once was free—
Oh! give me back our sidehill farm,
It's good enough for me.

—Daniel L. Cady, in "Rhymes of Vermont Rural Life."
