THE PACIFIC

Commercial Advertiser.

To-Day, and To-Morrow.

To-day, a lisping child, with hair sun-golden,
And blue of summer morning in his eyes,
And cheeks aglow with kisses of new loving,
Sees old things new, with ignorant surprise;
To-morrow, and he knows the songs they sing in Paradise.

To-day, a youth, in pride of early manhood,
With light of far-off hope upon his brow,
With eager expectation of the coming,
And wild impatience of the loitering now;
To-morrow, he hath touched the throne at which all angels bow.

To-day, she stands beside the bridal altar;
All joy and promise round about her shine;
All truth is in the heart of him she loveth,
And her pure faith makes bright the flower-wreathed shrine;
To-morrow, hark! a fairer bridegroom, maiden, must be thine.

To-day, an old man lingers in his sadness;
Great griefs have dinged deep furrows in his cheeks;
A cold grave with the long-ago departed,
In stammering words, is all the boon seeks:
To-morrow, with unfaltering lips the joy of Heaven he speaks.

VARIETY.

A ruler should reflect that to reign over he must rein in.

We live amid surfaces, and the art of life is to skate well on them.

A gentleman can probably marry any lady of his acquaintance—if he pleases.

Great opportunities are generally the result of the wise improvement of small ones.

It is right to make an example of men whom it may be wrong to take as an example.

The greatest hypocrite never imposes upon his neighbors half so often as upon himself.

Men resort to all sort of disguises, and then complain bitterly that they are not understood.

The most unwholesome bread in the long run, is that taken out of other men's mouths.

Statues and pictures are the stone and paper dolls of grown up men and women.

In holy human nature we found no string to be cut off, only to be tuned.—Jean Paul.

"This is a net gain," as the spider said when he caught the fly.

Industry and economy will get rich while sagacity and intrigue are laying their plans.

"Little boys should be seen and not heard" That's what a little fellow told his teacher when he couldn't say his lesson.

It is better to be laughed at for not being married, than to be unable to laugh because you are.

The Louisville Journal says the rebels pretend to be fighting for their honor. Well, we always heard a fire eater would fight for nothing.

Why would it not be right for a man and his wife to ride upon the same donkey? Because, "What God has joined together let no man put ass-under."

A widow once said to her daughter:—"When you are of my age, it will be time enough to dream of a husband." "Yes, mamma," replied the thoughtless girl "for the second time." The mother fainted.

A down east editor says he has seen the contrivance that lawyers use to "warm up with the subject." He says it is a glass concern, and holds about a pint.

There is a family in Vermont so lazy that it takes two of them to chop off a stick of wook. Sah chops while Jim grunts, and then for a change, Jim grunts and Sah chops.

Whenever a new and startling fact is brought to light in science, people first say "it is not true," then that "it is contrary to religion," and lastly, "that every body knew it before."

In a crowd looking at the body of a man killed on a railroad, a fat Dutchman made the remark: "In the midst of life we are in debt!" (death) An Irishman standing by, answered, "Be jabers, you may well say that, for he owes two dollars."

Profane swearing never did any man any good. No man is the richer, or wiser, or happier for it. It helps no one's education or manners. It commends no one to any society. It is disgusting to the refined; abominable to the good; insulting to those with whom we associate; degrading to the mind; unprofitable, needless, and injurious to society.

PAT AND THE THERMOMETER.—In Auburn last winter, an Irishman walking along one of the streets saw a thermometer hanging at the side of the door on the front of the house. Stopping a moment, he looked at it, then approached it with a shelalah, and exclaimed, "An' faith, an' yer the little crathur what keeps the weather so cold, are ye?" and with a terrific blow, brought it in a thousand pieces to the ground.

THE TRUE PHYSICIAN.—To the true physician there is an inexpressible sanctity in the sick chamber. At its threshold the mere human passions quit their hold on his heart. Love there would be profanation. Even the grief permitted to others must be put aside. He must enter that room a calm intelligence. He is disabled for his mission if he suffer aught to obscure the keen, quiet glance of his science. Age or youth, beauty or deformity, innocence or guilt, merge their distinction in one common attribute—human suffering appealing to human skill. Woe to the household in which the trusted healer feels not on his conscience the solemn obligations of his glorious art.—E Bulwer Lytton.

There is a certain charm about great superiority of intellect, that winds into deep affections. Genius makes many enemies, but it makes sure friends—friends who forgive much, who endure long, who exact little; they partake of the character of disciples as well as friends. There lingers about the human heart a strong inclination to look upward, to revere; in this inclination lies the source of religion, of loyalty; and also of worship and immortality which were rendered so cheerfully to the great of old.

GOOD COOKING AND PIETY.—I've nothin' to say agin her piety, my dear, but I know very well I shouldn't like her to cook my victuals. When a man comes in hungry an' tired, piety won't feed him, I reckon. I called in one day when she was dishin up Mr Truman's dinner, an' I could see the potatoes was as watery as water. It's right enough to be spiritual—I'm no enemy to that; but like my potatoes mealy. I don't see as anybody 'ull go to heaven the sooner for not digestin' their dinner—providin' they don't die the sooner, as mayhap Mr. Truman will, poor dear man!—Adam Bede.

MRS. PARTINGTON ON MARRIAGE.—"If ever I'm married said Ike," looking up from the book he was reading, and kicking the stove door to,—"If ever I'm married"—

"Don't speak of marriage, Isaac, till you are old enough to understand the bond that binds congealing souls. People mustn't speak of marriage with impurity. It is the first thing children think of now-a-days, and young girls with their heads frizzed into spitton curls, and full of love sick stories, are talking of marriage before they get into their canteens. Think of such ones getting married! Yer there's Mr. Spard, when Heaven took his wife away, went right to a young lady's cemetery and got another, no more fit to be the head of a family than I am to be the board of mayor and aldermen."

Sugar Plantation!
THE UNDERSIGNED HAS 600 ACRES of land situated at Hana, East Maui, 4 miles from the Hana Harbor, to which there is a good hard road On the above land there are over 200 acres which can be plowed. There is plenty of wood on the land for boiling, &c.; 50 acres are cleared and ready for the plow, and could be planted with cane at a small expense. There is on the land a frame house, stock yard 6 rods by 5, a hog pen about ½ acre in size, and a garden about an acre fenced in with stone. And owned by the undersigned there are 4 yoke of oxen, ox-cart, yokes, &c., &c. There are adjoining the land two or three hundred acres of Government land, (mauka,) nearly the whole of which could be plowed. Cane in this district tassels, and must be ground off every year, which makes 100 acres here, equal to 150 acres in Makawao and other places.
This is a good opportunity for any person wishing to engage in the cane business. The undersigned will sell out entirely or will go into partnership.

LITTLE GIANT!
FAMILY SEWING MACHINE CO.
MILLER & BUCKLIN, Agents,
No. 203 Montgomery St., Russ Block,
SAN FRANCISCO.
Price Reduced to $15 instead of $25.
TO PRACTICALLY DEVELOP and perfect the Sewing Machine art is to carry joy and gladness to no small portion of the civilized world; but to render the Sewing Machine art in the highest degree useful it is necessary.
1. To divest the Sewing Machine of every loose and clumsy attachment and every fancy and complicated contrivance.
2. It must be simple in its construction throughout, that it may be easily understood and readily adjusted.
3. It must be certain in its results.
4. It must be adapted to a great range of work, as most families can have but one machine for all kinds of sewing.
5. It should be strong and durable in all its parts.
The above and more we claim for the Little Giant Family Sewing Machine. It is an easy task to offer high-sounding references and mentions—and still easier to publish nonsensical medal talk of Flippant and Flattering testimonials—which is of no earthly service to the buyer, since the poorest machines furnish them in the greatest abundance, and that too of necessity, to conceal their lack of merit. The Giant Family Sewing Machine has passed the fiery ordeal of all machines, both high and low, for the past year, and the severe scrutiny of the most skeptical, but has come out unscathed, and now stands before the Public as the BEST family sewing machine in use. Cast off machines are advertised daily at low and half prices, which are deemed worthless the public well know. We, therefore, would seek simply an intelligent examination of the merits of our machines in comparison with the high priced machines. Every machine warranted and kept in order free of charge.
Recollect, price only $15.
N. B.—We have no connection with any other agency, firm, or company whatever. A full supply of Machines, HEMMERS, needles, Silk Twist, and everything appertaining to Sewing Machines, constantly on hand, wholesale or retail. All orders promptly attended to. Agents supplied on liberal terms.
