NORWICH TOWN

At the First Congregational church, New Year's afternoon at five o'clock, Organist Herbert L. Yerrington was heard to the pleasure of a large company in his fourth annual organ recital. He was ably assisted by Mrs. A. L. Long, of Brockton, Mass., a soloist.

Mrs. Long who possesses a rich contralto, with clear enunciation, delighted her hearers in her several numbers.

Im Herbst Op. 17, No. 6, by Franz, was given with fine expression. In her group of songs, Mrs. Long displayed rare taste, her control of voice in the upper register being equally as good as in the lower tons. I Passed by Your Window, by Brake, won for her much favor which found expression in instant applause. To this she graciously responded with an encore.

The numbers by Organist Yerrington opened with Hosannah! Op. 80, by Dubois. This was a grand number bringing out the best qualities of the organ; the displayer displaying good work in his execution. Largo, from New World Symphony by Dvorak, was given with smoothness and finish. Suite in F, by Corelli, indicated careful study on the part of the organist. Preludio, Allemanda, Sarabanda, Gavotta, Giga called for varying moods and skilled registration. All most pleasing. Meditation by Lemaigre and March by Smart concluded the very entertaining and well-balanced programme.

At the close of the recital Rev. Gurden F. Bailey extended a general invitation to the congregation to attend the New Year's supper and social in the chapel. Including church members, and friends the number exceeded two hundred, who enjoyed the supper of ham, tongue, pickles, a variety of cake and coffee. A former pastor, Rev. Charles A. Northrop said grace. The supper was served under the auspices of the Home Missionary society, Mrs. Frank E. Sterry and Mrs. J. M. Case in charge, assisted by Mrs. Edwin C. Gay, Mrs. Woodbury O. Rogers and Mrs. Sari Browning. A large company of young people connected with the church rendered valuable assistance as waiters. In the large attendance were several from other churches, as well as a number from out of town.

The Christian as the Light of the World, was the theme of the impressive sermon by Rev. Gurden F. Bailey, at the First Congregational church Sunday morning. In the anthem Incline Thine Ear to Me, by Himmel, Mrs. A. T. Long sustained the alto solo in pleasing voice. Following the sermon, Mrs. Long gave a beautiful rendering of Jesus, Lover of My Soul, Organist Yerrington accompanying. At the conclusion of Mrs. Long's solo, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed by the large congregation, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bailey officiating.

The Christian Endeavor society held a service at 6:30 in the chapel. Topic, They King Come. In My Heart. Matt. 6:7-15. (Consecration meeting.)

At 7:30 in the church, there was a special Sunday evening meeting with illustrated views of Colonial and pre-Colonial houses of worship in New England.

Rev. Charles A. Northrop, conducted a very helpful and comforting service at the Sheltering Arms, Sunday afternoon. Pitiful Redemption was the subject of Mr. Northrop's interesting discourse. The text, Jonah 4:11. And should not I spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than six score thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

Woodbury O. Rogers has returned to Houlton Me., and his son Allison C. Rogers to Boston, after spending Christmas and the week-end at their home on upper Washington street. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nelson (Marion B. Rogers) also spent Christmas guests at the Rogers home. Mr. Nelson returning for a week, returned Sunday evening to their home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sage (Helen Larkin) returned from their wedding trip to Providence Friday evening. New Year's day, Mr. and Mrs. Sage were guests at the home of the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Larkin of Town street. Other guests included Mrs. Larkin's mother, Mrs. Joseph Bennett, a brother, Joseph Bennett, Jr., and his wife, all of Baltic. Mr. and Mrs. Larkin recently visited for several days at her parents' home in Baltic.

Miss Grace Pike of New London, was a guest over the week end of Superintendent and Mrs. Edward A. Smith, of Rockwell street.

Chester A. Warner, his daughter, Miss Daisy Warner and son Harold Warner have returned to Brooklyn, N. Y., following a recent visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bennett of Town street. Mr. Bennet's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bennett, have returned to their home at Haughton's Cove, after a stay at the Bennett home on Town street.

Davis Theatre

One of the most remarkable photoplays ever produced by Cecil B. De Mille is his new Paramount picture, "Something to Think About," which is on view at the Davis theatre today and tomorrow. It is a story in which the idea of right thinking as well as living is admirably handled. Its theme is of the loftiest and its treatment of that high artistic standard which has made Mr. De Mille's previous productions a household word in every locality.

Theodore Roberts, veteran Paramount character, has one of the most difficult parts of his screen career in the part of Luke Anderson, the stern father who blinds himself in a fit of rage. Rene Gambler of the 20th century, and speed driver in his many varied roles. Mr. Roberts declares that the part of Luke represents the hardest work he ever did in his life necessitating as it did a study of all the characteristics peculiar to sightless men.

Others in the cast are Monte Blue, Gloria Swanson, who has an important supporting part, Claire McDowell, Mickey Moore, Julia Faye, James Mason, Theodore Kosloff and Tso Tsanmamato. "Something to Think About" is an original story by Jeanie MacPherson who was responsible for "Old Wives for New" and the scenario of "Male and Female."

The second feature is "Fatty Arbuckle in his latest two reel comedy entitled His Wedding Night. It is a scream from beginning to end. A Paramount magazine will also be shown. There will be no advance in prices.

Breed Theatre

May Allison, in her latest Metro production, "Are All Men Alike?" will be the feature attraction at the Breed theatre today and Tuesday. "Are All Men Alike?" is an absorbing photoplay adapted by A. P. Younger from Arthur Stringer's well known novel, "The Wastle Iron" that appeared serially in McClure's Magazine. It tell the captivating story of a poor little rich girl who feels cramped by the convention surroundings of her wings for a flight in Greenwich Village. There she blunders into all manner of adventures with all manner of men, and it is only by dint of good fortune and the strong arm of a good man at the right time that prevents her from paying the price that so many girls in a moment of reckless folly are called upon to pay. As it is "Teddy" Hayden runs the gamut of experiences with men, all of whom are captivated by her beauty and her apparent disregard for all convention. Inflamed by the knowledge of her freely spoken views on life and the obvious freedom of her way of living, they pursue her ardently; but their course is abruptly and rudely checked by the arm of a man who does not share with "Teddy" Hayden her extreme views of woman's freedom.

Other pictures on the bill include the Pathe news and a Century comedy.

At the Strand Today, Tuesday and Wednesday

The spiritual and material superbly blended in new film play.

"Voices" a story of dynamic force yet full of caressing tenderness.

In "Voices" which will be seen at the Strand theatre for three days Diana Allen and Cerlisa Giles, supported by such well known players as Henry Sedley and Gladys Coulburn will hold sway. The picture is, according to its author Chester De Vonde, has masterpiece and Victor Kremer, Inc., who presents this exceptional screen drama is sanguine that in "Voices" they have an attraction which will long be remembered.

Dorothy Dalton and Charles Ray in "Back of the Man." This is a tense story of big business. Having been assisted to a big position through the unswerving loyalty of Ellen Holton, a quiet, but unusually efficient stenographer, Larry Thomas, an ambitious country youth, decides to throw Ellen over and marry the daughter of the president of the company, despite the fact that he knows Muriel Brooks to be a reckless, pleasure loving parasite.

Don't miss seeing this picture today, Tuesday and Wednesday. Matinee 25c; night, 29 and 25c.
