at the so-called George L. Bradley farm, located one mile from Pomfret depot on the state road leading to Putnam, from which point it is four miles distant.

These cattle are a promising bunch of heifers, due with their first and second calves, consisting of forward springers and others due later. I wish to say to my friends and the public that these heifers are selected by me from a herd of some 80 odd head, and I consider them worth your attention. They are principally Holsteins, Ayrshires and Guernseys.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Sells McKinley Avenue Property.

John A. Moran, real estate broker, has sold for Orrin F. Merry, to John C. Kennedy, the modern two-apartment house with other buildings, housing seven auto cars, with a large lot. The property is located very desirably at 111 McKinley avenue. Mr. Kennedy will occupy one of the apartments with his family.

Davis Theatre.

People have fallen into the habit of calling every picture in which Charles Ray appears with a rustic background a "typical Ray picture" and letting it go at that. This would seem to indicate that the youthful star's characterizations are largely alike, which is not true.

Mr. Ray is one of the most versatile stars of the screen. Reviewing some of his recent pictures reveals the fact that in the past year he has appeared in such widely diversified roles as a prize fighter, a crack baseball player, a hotel clerk, an expressman, a bank clerk, a son of poor but honest parents, a son of rich but unscrupulous parents, an English aristocrat and finally, a detective.

He has the last named part in his newest Thomas H. Ince picture, "A Village Sleuth," in which he will be seen at the Davis theatre today and tomorrow.

The second feature is Constance Talmadge in the peppy photoplay, "In Search of a Sinner." Adapted by John Emerson and Anita Loos the picture gives Miss Talmadge more opportunities for displaying her personality than any of her previous productions.

The action of the play revolves around a girl's somewhat insane desire to "be wicked" and take the wickedest man in New York for a husband. But being extremely wicked, Constance Talmadge finds, is equally as hard as being extremely good. Hence, when she finds the wickedest man available is a member of "The Purity League," she goes in for the delicate art of "making the tame man wild"—and emerges with surprising success.

BREED THEATRE.

A story of the west that is "different" is West Is West, Harry Carey's latest photodrama, which comes to the Breed theatre today and Thursday. It is one story in which the timeworn "chase" scenes, the cowboy shooting and all the rest of the old western "hokum" goes by the board. This story is by Eugene Manlove Rhodes. Harry Carey as the hero is a man who can shoot and shoot to kill, but who doesn't pull a trigger from the opening of the picture to the fade-out. He rescues an innocent maiden from a gang of underworld jackals and sends her home. He stakes his horse and his gun on a full house and loses to four aces. To get another grubstake he takes work in a mine. When he finds he is expected to act as strike-breaker and that the girl he has already befriended is the granddaughter of a miner, he determines to do his part to straighten things out. How he takes his life in his own hands and unarmed faces a squad of gunmen, and how he shows up the rascally plot of the mine superintendent to beat the owner out of his property, is seen in the picture. There is a dual love story, for there is another girl, a lovely heiress, concerned.

Charlie Chaplin in "One A. M." and an Edgar short story make up the remainder of the bill for today and Thursday.

His Cigar Doesn't Taste Right

And Yet It Is the Same He Was Smoking With So Much Relish After Dinner, Last Night, Out of the Very Same Box, Too.

Every smoker has experienced this peculiar condition, the result usually of imperfect digestion of food. And the blame is rarely put where it belongs.

Such men are usually high livers, hard workers mentally, living under high pressure and high draught, and it doesn't take a great deal to disorder the stomach or render the liver torpid.

They should make it a practice to use after meals Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and thus avoid the sudden attacks of indigestion.

Brain workers will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a good investment. All druggists carry them in 50 cent boxes.
