DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

A tribute erected in honor of employes of the Quinebaug company who left the employ of that concern for service in the World war is attracting attention on the West Side. The remembrance is of granite and bears a scrolled bronze plate or ornamental design and the roll of the service men to whom the company pays tribute.

The list of names on the tablet follows: Arthur DeForest, Edace J. Trahan, Joseph W. Thomas, Adelard J. Barbeau, James H. Harney, Arthur J. Barbeau, James H. Harney, Adelard Dutremble, Mathias H. Bernier, Albert Cardinal, Arthur Dupre, Fred R. Langevin, George O. Wood, Joseph C. Menard, Henry Poitras, Nelson Cuquette, Alfred Parent, Edward Roberge, Adelard Perreault, Charles B. Russell, Edward White, Armand Goulet, Martin Leidemier, Aleck Mayed, Henry O. Rondeau, Arthur Wild, Liiva Metha.

The granite tribute stands on a little grass plot which spring is beginning to change to a brilliant green, in the square opposite the mill office.

In its usual unostentatious manner the company purchased the handsome reminder of valor and erected it without dedication ceremonies. It stands, however, as an evidence of the appreciation by the concern of the patriotism of its employes and is an object of beauty amid scenes o busy industrial life.

Ira A. McDaniels, who has been an efficiency man with the Goodyear Mills, Inc., has returned to Akron, O. Mr. McDaniels has been a resident in Danielson for more than a year, making his home on Spring street. During his stay here he had many friends, who regret his departure. Mr. McDaniel's stay in Akron will be for an indefinite period.

Members of the Supply company, C. N. G., met at the armory Tuesday evening for another period of drill and instruction. Officers of the command are already expressing their satisfaction with the progress being made and predicting that the organization will develop splendidly. A new recruit has brought the membership up to 50, and several more young men have signified their intention of enlisting. Although 65 is fixed as the maximum membership, Captain Armington has been given the privilege of enlisting ten per cent. in excess of this number. Nothing had been heard up to Tuesday as to when the uniforms for the company may be expected, but this likely will be in the near future. At the present time the instruction for members of the company is being confined to what are known as close order drills and to the school of the soldier. It is possible that company may be seen in public for the first time on Memorial day; at least that is the expectation at this time.

Between the early hours of Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning there was a change of nearly 50 degrees in temperature in Danielson, the mercury dropping down almost to the freezin gpoint about daylight Tuesday. There were no reports of damage to buds started by the unusual period of heat, although some fruit growers were expressing themselves as fearing that the unusual mildness of this period may eventually result in such a misfortune.

Citizens of the borough assembled in caucus Tuesday evening to nominate borough officers for the ensuing year were pleased to learn that the board that has been in office during the past twelve months have managed to pay the borough's bills and find sufficient surplus from the revenue of the year to pay $2480 on the indebtedness of the borough.

Employes of the Southern New England Teelphone company have been engaged for a few days in trimming trees and cutting away brush obstructing their lines along the southerly side of the state highway between Daryille and Attawaugan.

The body of Mrs. Helen Beralet LaBrauche, 38, who died at 4 a. m. Monday at Point Levis, P. Q., arrived here Tuesday evening. Mrs. LaBrauche was born in Danielson, attended St. James' school and spent her girlhood years in this place, on the West Side. She had been a resident of Canada for more than a decade. She leaves her husband and seven children.

Farmers are not slow to take advantage of the fact that March of this year has brought conditions that make it possible to undertake plowing and scores of acres already have been gone over by men who are glad to get at this feature of the spring work so early in the season. Last year many farmers did not find the soil on the farms suitable to work until the first week in May. This year it was dried out sufficiently to permit of the work being undertaken at once.

Nightly services are being held at St. Alban's church during Holy Week and Thursday there will be a communion service at 9 a. m. The evening service on Thursday will also be a communion service, in memory of the last supper. Good Friday morning there will be a service at 10 a. m. and another service, for boys, at 2 p. m.

A special musical program has been arranged for the Easter services at St. Alban's.

Miss Nellie Redman was given a pleasant surprise party recently at her brother's house on Winter street. Music, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed by all. Miss Redman received presents and a purse of money including two gold pieces.

Members of the Girls' club gathered at their rooms Tuesday evening for a Thimble party and had as guests Miss Corinne Paine and the executive of the Girls' clubs of Connecticut.

Good Friday will be observed as a holiday by many residents of Danielson.

Country roads hereabouts have nearly completely dried out and except for being deep with ruts at some points are in as good condition as frequently is the case in mid-summer.

Arthur W. Williams, newly appointed automobile inspector for this section, has been engaged at Hartford in acquiring the necessary instruction and experience, having devoted practically all of the past week to giving examinations to applicants for operators' licenses.

PUTNAM

In the midst of Holy week, Captain J. H. Bulger of the police department gave formal notice Tuesday that when the post-Lenten festivities open with a rush, as is indicated will be the case Easter week, a rigid ban will be placed against girls under 16 years of age attending dances unless accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Numerous complaints have come to Captain Bulger relative to the tendency of numerous young girls just entering their teens falling into the clutches of dance lizards who have learned to prey upon what they are pleased to term "chickens" during the past year or two. While this condition has existed in some degree for many years it has been greatly aggravated since the war.

A statute of the state of Connecticut prohibits boys under fourteen years of age and girls under 16 years of age attending various kinds of amusement places unless properly escorted. The prohibited places to such young people, unless chaperoned properly, include dance halls.

At least four dances are advertised to be held during Easter week. Capt. Bulger requests publicity for the fact that girls under 16 years of age will not be permitted to attend these dances unless they are accompanied by a parent or by a guardian, and a guardian must be bona fide, not "a friend" who brings in a girl and represents that he will be responsible for her.

Occurrences of the past few months have made it necessary to summarily check the tendency of young people to speed things up. Only a fraction of the responsibility for what has occurred is placed upon the young girls who are to be protected under the enforcement of the law barring them from dance halls if they are under 16 years of age. The chief offenders are young men, who have about reached their majority or who have just passed it, and these—though this by no means apply to all young men—have preyed upon the innocence and unsophistication of this budding class of girls in a way to arouse public sentiment against the practice.

Almost anything can happen these days. A Pomfret man is the latest victim of an imposition having to do with the ceaseless underground activities for obtaining and distributing booze.

The resident has complained to the police here that strange men came to his home last Saturday evening. One of them came to the door of the Pomfret man's home and represented that the inquirer and the men who were accompanying him were Putnam police officers and desirous of searching the Pomfret man's premises for liquors.

While the interview was going on at the door of the house others in the party of strangers were engaged in looking through the stable and other buildings on the property.

No Putnam police officers have been operating in Pomfret in search of liquors. The men who appeared at the home of the Pomfret man were undoubtedly crooks who had a certain lead, but picked out the wrong house to search for the liquor they expected to find and carry away.

The foregoing incident following close upon the heels of another raid here last week in which $1,600 worth of liquor is said to have been stolen from a farmhouse where it was stored is indicative of the way things are being done in these arid days that were to be so quiet and peaceful and lady-like, so 'twas said.

Putnam lodge of Elks is asked to adopt one Armenian child, as is being asked of every other lodge of Elks in Connecticut. The request is made in letter that have been sent out to the various lodges by District Deputy Exalted Grand Ruler John A. McArthur of Hartford. The request is made in connection with the intensive effort that is being made during Holy week to boost the Near East Relief fund. It is estimated that $60 will take care of one child for a year and that sufficient money is going to be raised in Connecticut this week to care for 2,500 children during a period of one year. A coupon book valued at $60 has been sent to each lodge. Each Elk will be asked to subscribe for one or more coupons. Members of Putnam lodge lous have been noted for their generosity, especially in charitable enterprises.

There was a shortage of jurors here Tuesday morning when time came to start the trial of the Brown vs Stromberg case in the superior court, Judge James H. Webb presiding. After all jurors who had been disqualified or who had real grounds for being excused were exempted from serving in the case only nine were left, so the court directed Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Ayer to summon in more men. In the afternoon, the necessary jurors have been obtained, the trial of the case was started. The plaintiff is suing for money which he claims is due him as the balance on an account for building a barn.

Fire wardens are warning persons that these are dangerous days, so far as the liability of causing forest fires are concerned. At almost any hour of the day smoke may be seen rising from section of the country hereabouts. Late Monday evening Fire Warden Whitman Danielson of Putnam Heights called upon members of the American Legion who were having a meeting to volunteer as firefighters to subdue flames racing over sproutland on the Shippe property near the town farm. The former service men who went out to fight the fire did not get back to Putnam until about 11 p. m.

At the invitation of the surviving members of the Civil war, Anslem Maycotte post, American Legion, will practically take over the arrangements for the Memorial day exercises in this city. The legion will meet with the Civil war veterans and other patriotic societies from time to time, however, through committees to work ou he program for he day. In connection with the arrangements for Memorial day the post has named Dr. E. F. Perry as chairman and the following as members of the committee: Joseph E. Flagg, Edmund R. Gagne, James J. Charron and Arthur C. Keith.

Peter Murphy, of Pomfret, was reported Tuesday as improving at the Norwich hospital where he is receiving treatment, and this has proved joyous news for his many friends in Putnam and i nhis home town ,where great sympathy has been expressed over the temporary breaking down of his health.

The mercury slipped down within a few degrees of the freezing point Tuesday morning after kiting up into the eighties and establishing a March record Monday.

Trout fishermen say that the season that is to open a week from Friday should provide some great sport in the opening days. There is not a speck of ice on trout streams hereabouts and the water is not particularly high, two facts that make April fishing look especially attractive. The fact that the past winter was so mild is also taken by the trout men as indicating an exceptionally good fishing season.

Miss Katherine Byrne was in Boston on a business trip Tuesday.

Flowering plant sfor the aster season were among the pleasing offerings being shown here Tuesday.

More motor vehicle operators' licenses were issued here Tuesday by Inspector Edgarton.

Special musical programs will be given at the Easter services at practically all the churches of this city.

Many citizens of Putnam are wondering how long it will be before the Connecticut company arranges to cement the space covered by its tracks on Grove street, through which a state highway of cement was completed last year.

Sheriff Charles A. Gates of Willimantic was in Putnam Tuesday on a business trip.

Emil Lassier of Pawtucket was a visitor with friends in Putnam Tuesday.

Thomas McDermott, who has successfully managed baseball teams here for years past, has plans in mind for the 1921 season, which will open during the coming month.

Members of societies of St. Mary's church are to receive communion in large number at the Easter morning services.
