ANNOUNCEMENTS

"PIERROTT, THE PIRATE," AT DAVIS THEATER

Under the auspices of the Norwich College club, the Connecticut College musical comedy success, Pierrot, the Pirate, is to be presented tonight at the Davis theater.

"Pierrot, the Pirate," has played twice to packed houses and has proved most successful. The songs and choruses were received with great applause and the lines enjoyed.

Miss Evelyn Ryan of Kansas and Miss Julia Warner of Connecticut have scored a tremendous success in their parts as leading lady and leading man. Miss Ryan makes a charming and altogether Pierrette, while Miss Warner is ideal in her role of the lover.

Some of the attractive choruses are the Pierrot and Pierette chorus with two graceful solo dancers; a dainty minuet chorus in gray ruffled costumes; the gay and dashing pirate chorus, with their bright sashes and fierce mustaches; the sparkler chorus in bright gowns and real sparklers; the rollicking Irish chorus, and the adorable parrots. The angels and devil chorus are an interesting innovation in the way of choruses.

Three Norwich girls in the cast add particular local interest to the presentation of the comedy. Miss Agnes Leahy plays the part of "Tommy" while Miss Helen Peale is in the Sparklers chorus and Miss Dorothy Gregson in the Fan Masks chorus.

SPEEDY CONTESTS ASSURED AT FAIR GROUNDS SATURDAY

Zenita Neville, the speed queen of the dirt tracks, modestly admits that she has made some fast time behind the wheel of her favorite racing car. "I suppose I am the only professional lady driver in the country," said Miss Neville, today. "I have driven miles in close to 100 miles per hour on the beach at Daytona, Florida, and miles on half tracks similar to the local track in 68 seconds. It really seems faster to race on tracks, as the proximity to the fences and the spectators, makes the speed more realistic. A mile in sixty-eight seconds on the local track means that the car passes the grandstand at the rate of eighty miles per hour. Fast motor racing seemed to come to me without effort. I believe most woman love and thrill of a fast ride. This does not mean that I drive at high speed over the roads, but on the track, for a record trial or in a match race, I like to 'open her up.'"

Miss Neville has been in some near accidents, but has always been able to keep out of serious trouble.

"I will have my car in the best of shape for Saturday's races. I like the fair grounds track and will do my best." Miss Neville is most unassuming, and one would hardly choose her as a speed queen. But you never can tell, especially with the ladies.

Breed Theatre.

For its feature attraction today and Saturday the Breed will present Will Rogers in "Honest Hutch," which is heralded as the best comedy yet. It is a Will Rogers' picture and a Saturday Evening Post story. Nothing better than that can be said. Will Rogers plays "Honest Hutch" in the inimitable Will Rogers' way. How he makes a man of himself and uplifts his family through his effort to convince his neighbors that he had been saving money, so that he could spend that which he had found without causing amazing questions provides an absorbing story. In the end "Honest Hutch" burns the $100,000, and when a delegation calls to proclaim him candidate for the legislature because he is "honest, truthful, free and above board," Hutch looks straight out of his eyes and answers, "Yep—I allers made it a rule ter be!"

For the second feature Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran will be seen in "A Shocking Night." This is a bed room farce of the highest type, filled with riotous humor because of its funny situations, and not depending upon suggestive action for its punch.

Davis Theatre.

Gladys George, Thomas H. Ince's latest feminine "find," who has scored distinct successes in several recent Ince productions, is the leading woman for Douglas MacLean in "Chickens," the young star's new Paramount comedy which comes to the Dais theatre today and tomorrow.

Mr. Ince "discovered" Miss George while she was with DeWolf Hopper, in "The Better 'Ole," and, convinced that she was an ideal type for the screen, obtained her services in a long-term contract.

"Chickens," which was adapted to the screen from the Saturday Evening Post story by Herschel S. Hall, "Yanconna Yillies" deals with the failure and success of a wealthy city chap who takes up chicken ranching because of a stipulation in his wealthy uncle's will.

"A Splendid Hazard," an Allan Dwan production adapted from Harold MacGrath's famous novel of the same title, is the second picture. Set in France, America and the quaint isle of Corsica, the story tells of a thrilling search for buried treasure and the love of a beautiful prima donna for a man enslaved by the mad dream of immortal glory. The cast is headed by Henry B. Walthall.

Strand.

The Seminary Girls proved to be well liked by the audience at the Strand yesterday. All funny comedy, fine songs, dancing and singing was the specialty. Also one of the latest feature pictures of this year, starring Corinne Griffith in "It Isn't Being Done This Season." What isn't being done this season is for you to find out. This comes as a climax in the picture and holds the audience until the very last flicker of the film. Don't fail to see this fine programme. Saturday matinee is children's candy matinee, admission for children fifteen cents.

Manchester.—A contribution that gave the new hospital fun such a tremendous boost and shot the arrows on the register nearly to the ten at the week end was one announced by Cheney Brothers, who gave $15,000.

SOUTH WILLINGTON
