Chronicles.

And it came to pass that a certain man who was Editor of the State Sentinel and who is a mighty man among the pure and undefiled, journeyed from the chief city even Indianapolis and tarried in the town of Newburgh. Now this same Editor had with him a certain book called, the Democratic Almanac and Political Register which he desired to sell; and it came to pass, when he had abode in Newburg about a whole day, that he came to the house of Simeon, who had received the P. O. of Smith M—, for a barrel of the strong waters of Bourbon; and when he had entered the house of Simeon, he said unto Simeon, knowest thou me—and Simeon marvelled exceedingly, for he new him not; he then said unto Simeon, my name is Cottom and I desire to sell thee my books—and Simeon answered and said unto him, thou art a tooth-pick peddler and a seller of yellow backed literature; get thee gone.—Then was the wrath of Cottom kindled; and he waxed exceedingly wroth; and he said unto Simeon—thy time is come—thou has been weighed in balance and found wanting—and in three weeks the P. O. shall be taken from thee and be given to another. And it came to pass that Cottom shook the dust from off his feet and departed; and as he came into the street he met with Calvin from the Democrat, and he said unto Calvin: who is your representative, and Calvin marvelled much; and he answered and said unto Cottom: know you not that Thomas who dwelth by the River side is our representative! and Cottom answered and said unto Calvin show me this man Thomas for I have been a traveler in the great Sanhedrim and have not seen this remarkable man of whom you speak—then was Calvin sorely perplexed and wist not what to say; so he opened not his mouth but was dumb even as a sheep before her shearers.

PERIWINKLE.

THE USURY LAWS—OUR BONDS.—The May number of Hunt's Merchants Magazine discusses, in its leading commercial article, the vexed question of the usury laws with unusual clearness, pith and brevity. We commend to our readers the following observations:

"The demand for money is steady and rates of interest are far above the average of past yerrs in all parts of the world.—The general impression now is, that capital will command an increased rate of usance for some time to come. In the light of such an expectation, the tenacity with which many of the country people, living remote from the commercial centres, cling to the letter of the usury laws is perfectly astonishing. The operation of these laws is directly adverse to their interests, and yet they still fondly cling to the notion that by force of legislation, they can oblige capitalists to loan money in the rural districts at less than its market value. The people of the far West are wiser, because their experience has been less restricted. A farmer in Illinois can borrow the means to put in a crop of corn into a field which would otherwise lie waste, and can clear enough on the crop to pay twenty per cent. per annum for the money, and still make a good thing of it." He expects to borrow the money at the lowest rate he can get it, on the same principal that he makes the buyer pay him the highest price for his corn, and he does not find it any hardship to be left to make his own bargain. But in some States, New York for instance, the farmer insists that the capitalist shall lend him his money at 7 per cent. or not lend it all, as if a fair rate could be fixed by law! The result is, that when money is worth more than that rate, the rural districts are drained of their surplus capital. The money goes to the city; part is invested in business paper, or in contracts more openly usurious; while part is spent in the purchase of bonds or stocks, which the high value of money has so depressed that for $750 or $800 the buyer may possess that which gives the legal interest on $1,000. The countrymen always possess the means of borrowing the cheapest, and if they would not stand in their own light but would allow money to bring what it is worth, the rate would always be in their favour. City borrowers may be the most prompt in paying, but their circumstances are less easily ascertained, and their fortunes fluctuate more rapidly. In the country, credit is more wisely given, and landed security is always at hand. In England, where the lower classes and the poor have no advantages, in general, comparable to those enjoyed in this country, and where the want of usury laws would soonest result in oppression, if this was the tendency of such freedom, there is no such restraint, and for loans payable within twelve months the law of demand and supply regulates the rate. Even if the repeal of the usury laws should lead to higher rates of interest, such an advance would be only temporary, as the high price would attract capital to the locality, and the proper level would soon be reached. We trust that the day is not far distant when all such restraints will be removed, and the value of money be regulated like that of any other commodity, in open market."

THE PRICE OF INDIANS.—The Florida Peninsula states that the premium for every living Seminole warrior, woman and child, who may captured or induced to come in for emigration to the West, is fixed at the following rate, and will be paid by the special Indian agent at his post: For each warrior $250 to 500; for each woman, $150 to $300; for each child, $100 to $200. Infirm, bed-ridden, and helpless are excepted, but, in these cases, the rate will be decided by a board.

☞ Mr. Barnum is holding forth in England, with limited pecuniary results, in favor of the Maine liquor law.

The N. Y. Tribune on "F. F. V's."

Mr. Emerson, in his essay on "Manners," remarks "that the world gentleman must hereafter "characterize the present and the few preceding centuries", but speedily adds that "frivolous and fantastic additions have got associated with the name;" and of these we suspect that "Virginian" and "slaveholding" are among the least endurable and legitimate. In fact, no social system is so garnished and furbished up with laughable myths and impalpable traditions as that which prevails respecting the First Families. The popular idea of an Old Dominion man owner is that he is the aggregate and personal embodiment of all the chivalries—a hidalgo of the blue blood of Spain, with something of the high manner of the Faubourg St. Germain, upon a direct inheritance of the polish and dignity of Sir Walter Raleigh—who presides with patriarchal, not to say imperial sway, over the happy and loyal retainers who cultivate his blooming estate. This is the ideal picture; but must not be scrutinized too strictly; for, as Gilbert Stuart said of his portraits, "it is not made to be smelt of." Looked at through the spectacles of truth, it dissolved into a straw hat, a cigar, a slouching gait, a mint julep, a coarse tongue, and a cowhide, with a dolorous background of sedge patches, upon which "stump-tailed steers" are browsing. Travelers from the North meet only at rare intervals with the open-handed hospitality which has been trumpeted to the ends of the earth. We think it is Mr. Olmsted who relates in his very clever book with what awful misgiving he approached a planter who had furnished him with a lodging, and how two dollars were received without the slightest squeamishness. The truth is, gentlemen are not exceedingly numerous in any quarter of the world, and as uncommon in Virginia as in lands which have been deprived by Dr. Lord's "Providence" of the blessings of "the institution." But for the production of rare and highly finished blackguards, as coarse in mind and heart as the Fejee islanders are in person, we will back Virginia against the whole world, civilized or uncivilized. This is high praise, but let the facts be submitted, before its justice is disputed.

HOW A MAINE FARMER TOOK THE ADVANTAGE.—We heard an incident the other day which may be worth relating. An extensive paper-making firm at the Eastward had long been in search of a pure spring of water, of sufficient volume to supply the wants of the interior of their mill. After a long search they found the desired object upon the estate of a neighboring farmer, and the shrewdest of the firm was sent to negotiate its purchase. The Farmer, when approached upon the subject, put on a knowing look at the same time remarking, "Friend, I know you want that spring badly, and I am going to take advantage of it." "Well", said the man, "what is your price." "I shall put it on strong; you need'nt expect to get an easy trade", said the farmer, gradually preparing his purchaser for the exorbitant demand he supposed he was about to make. "I shall not take a cent less than $200 for that spring, and you may have it, or leave it." Greatly to the astonishment of the old gentleman, the paper dealer, without the least haggling or even a wry look, at once clinched the bargain and paid the money. That spring of water could not now be purchased for twenty thousand dollars.—[Boston Traveler.

☞ The Dallas, Texas, Herald, of April 18, says that several thousand Mexican horses passed through that town in the last two weeks. Most of them are destined for the market in Missouri and Illinois.

PRICE OF A WHITE MAN.—The miserable vagrant Hughes, a poor sot of a fellow, who however, has a fine, sturdy, industrious little wife, and one or two children, was sold at Covington, on Saturday, to Andy Herrod, the jailor, for 5 months for one dollar! We are happy to say Herrod will make a fine master, although the law allows him the same rights as the master of a negro slave has.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HEALTH DEPENDS UPON PURE BLOOD.

Thin and acrid blood cannot secrete healthy bile, and therefore the first thing for those who are dyspeptic should be to commence the purification of their blood.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS,

Not only purify, but they make the blood richer, and add those principles upon which its power to resist disease, depends.

MILD OPERATION WITH SUCCESSFUL EFFECT ARE THE PECULIARITY OF BRANDRETH'S PILLS. Now that we may soon expect genial Spring, it is of great importance that a few doses be used by the wise. Our race are subject to a redundancy of vitiated bile at this season; and it is as dangerous as it is prevalent; but Brandreth's Pills afford an invaluable and efficient protection. By their occasional use, we prevent the collection of those impurities, which, when in sufficient quantities, cause so much danger to the fine organs of the stomach and bowels. They soon cure liver complaint, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, pain in the head, heart-burn, pain in the breast-bone, sudden faintness and costiveness. In brief, Brandreth's Pills work their way to the very roots of the disease, cleansing in their passage, removing every unhealthy accumulation, till the blood is purified, the whole system renovated, and the functions and duties of life become a pleasure where before they had been sad and weary burdens.

We have thousands of similar testimonials to the following, and such evidence can be had from living witnesses all around us on every side. It is from a gentleman of high respectability, whose letter can be seen at the Principal office, he writes:

"I am now fifty-two years of age. . . . For twenty years I have used your Pills as my family medicine, and I wish to say that I have never had occasion to call a physician in my family, save in the sickness of my wife with children during the twenty years."

TRUE MEDICINAL PRINCIPLES.

Never extract blood. Blood is the life. By abstracting it in painful diseases you may occasion the patient ease, but remember this ease is only the reduction or lessening the power to feel. And in this taking away nature's stock, you may prevent her from fully repelling the ravages of inflammation, and convert what might only have been the sickness of a few days or weeks into a chronic affection of months or years.

PURGING BY MEANS OF BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

This is the means which accords with nature—nature's remedy is ever. When sudden, acute or continued pain occurs, then to insure security you must take a medicine that will surely purge. There must be no shilly-shallying, because every minute lost may be fatal.

CHOICE FARM LANDS FOR SALE
THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R. CO.
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL ABOUT
1,500,000 ACRES OF CHOICE
FARMING LANDS,
On Long Credits and at Low Rates of Interest.

THESE Lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Road, and are among the richest and the most fertile in the world. They extend Northeast and Northwest, through the middle of the State, to the extreme South, and include every variety of climate and productions found between these parallels of latitude. The Northern portion is chiefly prairie, interspersed with fine groves, and the middle and Southern section timber prairie, intersected with water courses, forming fine farming and grazing lands.

The climate is more healthy, mild and equable than any other part of the country—the air is pure and bracing, while living streams and springs of excellent water abound.

Bituminous coal is extensively mined, and supplies a cheap and desirable fuel, being furnished at many points at $2 to $1 per ton—and wood can be had at the same price in any quantity.

Depots for the sale of these lands, which are a large and valuable portion of the wealth of the Illinois Central Railroad, are established at convenient points, and are rolling—their contiguity to this road, by which every facility is furnished for travel and transportation to the principal markets North, South, East, West and the economy with which they can be cultivated, render them the most valuable investments that can be found; and present the most favorable opportunity, for persons of industrious habits and small means, to acquire a comfortable independence in a few years.

Chicago is now the greatest grain market in the world—and the facility and economy with which the products of these lands can be transported to that market, make them more profitable, at the prices asked, than those more remote at government rates—as the additional cost of transportation is a perpetual tax on the latter, which must be borne by the producer, in the reduced price he receives for his grain, &c.

The title is perfect—and when the final payments are made, deeds are executed by the Trustees appointed by the State, and in whom the title is vested, to the purchasers, which convey to them absolute titles in fee simple, free and clear of every incumbrance, lien or mortgage.

THE PRICES ARE FROM $6 TO $20.

INTEREST ONLY THREE PER CENT.

☞ Twenty per cent. will be deducted from the credit price for cash.

Those who purchase on long credit, give notes payable in 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years, after date, and are required to improve one-tenth annually for five years, so as to have one-half the land under cultivation, at the end of that time.

Competent surveyors will accompany those who wish to examine these lands, free of charge, and aid them in making selections.

This lands remaining unsold are as rich and valuable as those which have been disposed of.

SECTIONAL MAPS

Will be sent free to those who will enclose fifty cents in money or stamps, and books or pamphlets, containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by responsible and well known citizens, living in the neighborhood of the railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of feeding, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, etc.—or any other information—all be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of the Illinois Central R. R. Co.,
