DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Effective Friday, July 22d, the Connecticut company announces a change in the 'bus service between Brooklyn and Attawaugan whereby the running time between Brooklyn and Attawaugan will be 45 minutes instead of 30 minutes as it has been. The schedule in full will be printed in the advertising columns tomorrow.

Daniel F. O'Connell, past grand knight of Rose of Lima council, K. of C., is to leave here tomorrow (Thursday) morning for San Francisco as a member of the Connecticut delegation to the supreme international convention of the order, which is to convene during the early days of August.

Mr. O'Connell will join the Connecticut party at Springfield, where they will have a special private Pullman sleeper and drawing room car attached to the westbound Wolverine, on which train they will travel to Chicago.

At Chicago their car will be attached to a K. of C. special Pullman train of 14 cars carrying a number of eastern states' delegations, and this will be run through solid to the Pacific coast. The route for the party on the K. of C. special is arranged to provide for a four hours' stopover at St. Paul and then to take them into Canada and through the northwest of the Dominion, with a visit to Lake Louise.

At Vancouver the party will be routed to Seattle and from that port, where a stopover is provided for, will proceed by boat down the Pacific coast to San Francisco. Returning, the party will come over the southern route.

Mr. O'Connell will be away about a month. The trip he is to take will allow him opportunity to see many wonderful stations, as the arrangements for the trip have been worked out with a view to allowing all but the three days spent in convention for educational sightseeing and recreation.

Men in close touch with the situation say that industrial conditions are improving. Killingly is chiefly interested in the welfare of textiles. At this time the silk mills are very busy, especially those that are turning out piece and knit goods, particularly the silk hosiery mills. Cotton textiles, a necessity, seemed to be far second in recovery to silks, regarded by most persons as in the luxury or near-luxury class. Woolens and worsteds, real staples, are said to be making a steady recovery and that prospects are bright for a busy fall and winter season.

At present Killingly is comparatively well off insofar as its textile industries are concerned. All are operating, most of them on full-time, though the wage scales are 22 1-2 per cent. less than last July. The wage reduction is at least partly compensated for, however, by lower prices on many commodities, especially various foodstuffs and wearables, the buying of which make up the chief items of legitimate expense in every household.

Tuesday was another day that drifted by without bringing any change in the trolley-bus situation. The 'buses were still running when evening came on Tuesday, and they expect to be on the job again this morning. C. H. Pellett, owner and operator of the 'bus lines running out of Danielson, and his counsel, Attorney E. L. Darble, were in Hartford on Tuesday on matters pertaining to the situation that has developed as the result of the legislation under which 'buses are to be ruled off the highways as competitors of the trolley unless they are granted a certificate to operate by the public utilities commission.

Among those who are strong for 'buses various schemes are hard of to counteract and offset the certification requirement. Among these are plans to form groupes of commuters, to hire a 'bus or other motor vehicle by the week to get them to and from their places of employment. As yet these plans have amounted to no more than talk and probably will not develop more fully until something definite has been done about the 'buses which these people are now using.

On School street, near the School street garage, a lot has been cleared and made ready for the parking of automobiles. This will be a free parking space, sufficient to accommodate a large number of machines, and is intended to provide a place for leaving cars other than in the business section, which usually is so congested with automobiles as to impede traffic. Borough officials have signs all ready to put up against parking in certain places and sections. Within a few days, it is expected, the new arrangements relative to parking will be made known to the public.

An aeroplane, flying low, passed to the eastward of Danielson during Tuesday afternoon and was an object of interest for those who saw it.

One way to get huckleberries at less than 30 cents a quart is to pick them, and that is a policy that many who think the price is too high are adopting.

Waldee Barbeau has purchased of Michael Gavin a two-family dwelling on High street.

John C. Wills of Newport was a visitor with friends in Danielson Tuesday.

Only attentive care will restore to health and activity the fawn which was found badly injured on Allen Hill after becoming entangled in barbed wire. The fawn is being tenderly cared for by Dr. P. W. Page, who has taken a special interest in the pretty injured animal.

Rev. P. S. Irwin, formerly of Pomfret, who was tarred and feathered by a Florida mob who disagreed with what they considered some of his ideas as to race equality, is known in Danielson, where at times he has conducted services.

That the touring season for motorists is now at its height will be indicated to any observer who watches registration plates on cars going through Danielson this week. Here is a list of states from which cars have been seen this week: Missouri, Tennessee, Arkansas, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Illinois, Texas and Florida, in addition to cars from every New England state.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Benac, who were married in Taftville Tuesday, have gone to Portland and Old Orchard Beach for their wedding trip, after which they will live in their newly furnished home on Carter street, Danielson.

Blasts set off where work is being done on the state highway between Brooklyn and Hampton were plainly audible in Danielson Tuesday. A splendid job of road building is being done and when finished within the next few weeks this route is sure to be very popular with motorists and will greatly increase traffic through Danielson.

Those who are inclined to violate fishing laws, and there are several bodies of water closed to fishing hereabouts, will do well to remember that Federal and County Game Warden Harry E. Battey is on the job watching for violators.

Over half a hundred Danielson business houses are already interested in the Big Dollar day event to be out on here, and it promises to be the greatest thing of its kind ever arranged in Danielson.

Somehow or other, all restrictions notwithstanding, jakey shipments are said to continue surprisingly heavy into this territory. Jakey, a deadly concoction if taken for beverage purposes, seems to have practically displaced all other intoxicants excepting cider hereabouts.

There is an endless supply of applicants for motor vehicle operators' licenses. Though hundreds of Killingly people now possess them, new applicants appear practically every day, and the same is true of about every other town in the county.

Manager J. F. Lewis of the Orpheum theatre motored to Holyoke, where he has another theatre, on Tuesday.

Miss Rose Laliocle of Moosup, night operator at the telephone office, is having a vacation of several weeks.

Miss Julianna A. Vincent of Worcester visited with friends in Danielson Tuesday.

Steps have been taken to apply for a pardon for Charles Dansereau, who is serving a sentence in the state prison at Wethersfield. Dansereau, in the fall of last year, was convicted after a jury trial in the superior court at Putnam on a charge of having stolen a calf from Charles Ames of the town of Plainfield. A Hartford attorney is representing Mr. Dansereau in steps being taken to bring his case before the board of pardons.

Boy Scouts from Danielson are in camp at Judge Harry E. Back's camp at Mashapaug, in the town of Union.

Crap shooting is a raging pastime with the youth of Danielson and public streets are none too open for some to engage in this variety of gambling, in which the stakes are sometimes quite heavy.

This week has brought the sort of haying weather that the farmers have been wanting, and they are making the most of it.

PUTNAM

Mrs. Boynton Merrill, of Grove street, and her mother, Mrs. Andrew J. Worshan who has been a guest at the Merrill home for several weeks, left Putnam on Tuesday for Henderson, Ky., which is Mrs. Worshan's home. Mrs. Merrill expects to be gone until the last of August. During August Mr. Merrill, who is pastor of the Second Congregational church, is to attend Harvard summer school.

F. B. Watson of Holyoke, Mass., was in Putnam Tuesday and called on Wallace N. Aldrich of Chapman street.

Miss Lillian Warren, who has been spending two weeks at Juniper Point, Maine, the guest of Mrs. John J. Russell at the Russell summer home, has returned to Putnam.

Mrs. L. M. Stone of Norwich spent Tuesday in Putnam.

William Aldrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace N. Aldrich, of Chapman street, has been visiting his cousin, Charles Carver, in Goodyear.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton A. Ballard, of South Main street, left Putnam Tuesday afternoon for Winthrop, Mass., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Ballard.

There is to be a meeting of the Chautauqua guarantors tonight (Wednesday) at the home of the president, Mrs. Walter J. Bartlett, on Main street.

At a meeting of Israel Putnam lodge of Odd Fellows held Tuesday evening, the following officers were installed: Noble grand, Mark F. Klebart; vice grand, Lambert L. Gustafson; recording secretary, Herbert A. Johnson; financial secretary, Lucius H. Fuller; treasurer, Leon T. Wilson. Alfred D. Ashley of Protection lodge, Central Village, was the installing officer.

Among the 2,000 people who Saturday lined the shores of the Sheepscott river in Maine and cheered Donald B. MacMillan as he and his six adventurous followers sailed by in the 115-ton schooner Bowdoin as they started from Wiscasset on their polar expedition were Mrs. G. Harold Gilpatric, Miss Rhoda Gilpatric, George and Richard Gilpatric and Sidney Hayward, all of Putnam, and all of whom are at Juniper Point, Maine, for the summer. The summer colony has been greatly interested in the expedition and the little vessel which carries the explorers to Baffin Land, for the Bowdoin was built nearby, at Boothbay. The schooner was named for MacMillan's alma mater. It is equipped with auxiliary power, and is especially constructed so as to withstand the terrific pressure of ice packs. Oil engines capable of developing sixty horsepower are included in the equipment, as well as 2,000 gallons of fuel oil and 500 of kerosene. Provisions and stores for two years are on board. The object of the expedition is to map Baffin Land, which is a vast arctic island southwest of Greenland, which has a coastline of 1500 miles, all of which is as much unexplored as it was in 1616 when it was discovered by an English navigator, William Baffin. MacMillan, who heads the expedition, spoke in North Grosvenordale, at Tourtelotte High School, several years ago, and at that time was entertained in Putnam at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hathaway.

Miss Ruth White, daughter of Mrs. Lillie White, of Grove street, has recently been appointed an assistant principal in a New York city grammar school. This is a splendid promotion for Miss White, who is a graduate of Putnam schools, later went to Willimantic Normal, after which she taught the third grade at Israel Putnam school, Putnam. She then went to New York where her advancement has been rapid. She is this summer enjoying a trip to California.

Mrs. Aline K. Hogan, of Grove street, is spending two weeks at Nantasket Beach.

Miss Edith Bowen, of the office of the Cody Silk Mill, is having her vacation. This week she is the guest of Miss Hazel Davis at Lord's Point, and next week she will spend with her brother, Harold Bowen, of Worcester.

Miss Gertrude Jones, of Main street, is spending her vacation at Block Island and Miss Dorcas Bartlett is with her for a few days.

A case of diphtheria has been reported to the state board of health from the town of Pomfret.

City Tax Collector Archibald Macdonald, Jr., who on last Thursday, Friday and Saturday was at his office for the purpose of collecting property taxes levied on the grand list for 1920, stated Tuesday afternoon that only two-thirds of the amount due the city was received by him. He is now going to proceed to collect from the delinquents. Taxes were due and payable July 11.

Selectman Leon Walker, of the town of Thompson, stated Tuesday that two new steel cells for the use of the police department in that town have been installed in the court house building in North Grosvenordale. These cells are a great improvement upon the previous method used in handling prisoners, who were locked in a room with a solid door, getting ventilation through a small barred window. The new cells are so arranged that there is a good circulation of air. In addition to installing the cells the cell room has been renovated and freshly paitned.

A report signed by Edward A. Sullivan, of Danielson, clerk of local board No. 16, which had charge of the registration and draft work during the war in this part of the state, was sent to the office of the adjutant general, war department, Washington, Tuesday, stating that after careful investigation, which was carried on with the assistance of the local police department and constables, the members of the board had not been able to locate any of the men who registered in this district and who are now charged by the war department with draft desertion. On the list received by the board for investigation there were 22 names. It was stated in the report sent by Mr. Sullivan that most of those who were charged with deserting their obligations in connection with the draft were either transient aliens, who never maintained a permanent home here, or were colored laborers, who at the time of the registration were engaged in construction work for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in the city. These laborers, following registration, returned to the south, and consequently could not be traced by the local board. In a few cases men who registered disappeared soon after and have not been heard of since, even by their relatives in this district. The other members of Local Board No. 16, and who approved the report sent by the clerk, were Dr. J. B. Kent and Attorney Charles L. Torrey, both of Putnam.

Tuesday came and Tuesday went, and the buses on the Danielson-Putnam route are still operating in spite of rumors that arrests were to be made with the beginning of the week. No one now is willing to predict what will happen next. Apparently neither the bus operators or local officials are sure of the ground, and each is waiting for the other to make the first move. It is evident from the number of passengers being carried that the trolleys have cut into the bus traffic somewhat. The cars are well patronized, especially to points north which are no longer served by the jitneys, which were withdrawn last Wednesday.

A committee was recently appointed by Woodstock academy alumni association to arrange for some fitting observance of the 120th anniversary of the academy. On the committee are George Sampson, Mrs. Albert Williams, Miss Ethel Pobham, Miss Sylvia May and George Wecherell.

Among the concerns granted papers of incorporation last week in the state of Massachusetts was the Monson Worsted Company, Monson, of which the incorporators are Thomas J. Corcoran of Monson, and Thomas J. Corcoran, Jr., and Dennis Donovan of Putnam. The capital is given as $100,000. Mr. Corcoran, Sr., was formerly with the American Woolen Company, and will live in Monson. Mr. Corcoran, Jr., is to continue to make his home in Putnam, and will probably make this city his selling headquarters. They have already taken possession of the plant in Monson and expect to begin weaving soon.

The current issue of Scribner's magazine contains a story, The Tragedy of the Upper Snake River, by Arthur Sherbourne Hardy, of Woodstock.

At the Main street ball grounds, which is the home of the Nightingale-Morse baseball team of Putnam, additional bleachers have been erected, and all bleachers covered with a wooden top. This will add materially to the comfort of the fans who heretofore have had to swelter, unprotected, in the open sun.

Automobiles owned and driven by Dr. B. B. Loveland and Dr. Frederick A. Morrell were in collision Sunday on Senexett road at the corner where the South Woodstock road turns off. The Buick driven by Dr. Morrell had a broken mud guard. The Loveland car was more badly damaged.

Bertram Andrews has purchased from Edward J. Cutler of Central Village the house on Farrows street in which he lives.

A novena, or nine days' devotion, preparatory to the feast of St. Anne, which falls on July 26, has opened at St. Mary's church, Putnam.

MONTVILLE

Owing to unpleasant weather, the attendance at the lawn festival given by the Ladies' Aid society and Christian Endeavor society of the Union Baptist church Friday evening on the Palmer Memorial school grounds was not as large as anticipated. The festival was followed by an entertainment in the assembly hall. The net proceeds for the evening totaled about $33. The program for the entertainment follows: Piano solo, Under the Lilacs, Miss Lillian Spencer, followed by an encore, Eutopian Waltzes; song, Golden Gates Open for Me, Miss Mary Daniels; encore, Little Crumbs of Happiness; recitation, The Brave Children, Misses Ruth and Rosamond Blaisdell; song, Margie, Miss Viola Ahern; encore, Over the Hills; gymnastic exhibition, young people; reading, The Voice of a Banjo, Miss Dorothy Church; song, If You Had All the World and Its Gold, Miss Alice Chapel; encore, An Old Fashioned Garden; recitation, Camping Songs, Mrs. Blaisdell.

Electricity in Holland.

Electricity has received a big boom in Holland as a result of the fuel shortage during the war. Of 140,000 houses in Amsterdam, 110,000 are now provided with electric lights, whereas before the hostilities started only 20,000 houses were connected up. Electricity's more general use in Holland is bound to make a big change in the appearance of the country, as the windmills that for centuries made the power for land drainage are being replaced gradually by electric pumps. Most of the generating plants and motor equipment have been supplied by the Swiss and the Germans.—Exchange.

Eyes Inflamed?

If your eyes are inflamed, weakened or overworked; if they ache; if picture shows make them feel dry and strained, get a bottle of Bon-Opto tables from your druggist, dissolve one in a fourth of a glass of water and use as an eye bath from two to four times a day. Bon-Opto allays inflammation, eliminates, tones up the eyes.

Note: Doctors say Bon-Opto strengthens eye sight 50% in a week's time in many instances.
