STATE OF LOUISIANA.

PARISH OF ORLEANS—CITY OF NEW ORLEANS.

Be it known, that on this sixteenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and first, before me, Edward Ivy, a Notary Public, in and for the parish of Orleans, and city of New Orleans, State of Louisiana, duly commissioned and qualified, and in presence of the witnesses hereinafter named, and the undersigned, personally came and appeared the several parties whose names are hereunto subscribed, who declared that availing themselves of the provisions of the statutes of the State of Louisiana relative to the organization of corporations in this State, they have covenanted and agreed, and do by these presents covenant, agree and bind themselves and those whom they represent, and all such persons as may hereafter become associated with them, whether by subscription, purchase, transfer or otherwise, to form themselves into and constitute a corporation for the objects and purposes, and under the stipulations and regulations following, to wit:

ARTICLE FIRST.

The name and title of said corporation shall be the NEW ORLEANS WRECKING COMPANY, and its domicile is hereby established in the city of New Orleans, State of Louisiana.

Citations in suits against the corporation may be served on the President, or, in his absence from the city, on the Secretary.

The corporation shall have power and authority—

First—To have and to enjoy succession by its corporate name for the period of twenty-five years.

Second—To contract, sue and be sued in its corporate name.

Third—To make and use a corporate seal.

Fourth—To hold, receive, purchase and convey under its corporate name property, both real and personal.

Fifth—To name and appoint such managers, directors and officers as its interests and convenience may require; and

Sixth—To make and establish such by-laws for the purpose of management and regulation of the affairs of the corporation as may be necessary and proper.

ARTICLE SECOND.

The object and purpose for which this corporation is established is the carrying on of a general wrecking business.

ARTICLE THIRD.

All the corporate powers of the company shall be exercised by a Board of Directors and such officers as they may appoint, and all its business shall be managed by the President and the Board of Directors.

Said Board of Directors shall consist of five persons, any three of whom shall form a quorum for the transaction of business.

A Board of Directors shall be elected on the last Monday of December, 1877, and annually thereafter, from the stockholders, by ballot, each member of the company being entitled to as many votes as he may have shares subscribed and paid for, in accordance with the terms hereinafter named, the election to be by ballot, each stockholder having the right to appoint a proxy in case of his absence, to cast his vote not only for the election of directors, but in all business necessary to be had in the Board of Directors. In the event of no election taking place on the day fixed, the President shall cause an election to be held within ten days after the failure to elect, and shall give notice thereof, by advertisement in one or more of the newspapers published in the city of New Orleans.

The Board of Directors shall, at its first meeting in every year, elect a President from its number. It shall also elect a Secretary at the same time, and all shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected. The first Board of Directors shall consist of the following named stockholders, who shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected and qualified: S. P. Parmly, T. S. Serrill, G. Andrews, M. Schwartz and H. Meader.

ARTICLE FOURTH.

The capital stock of this corporation is hereby fixed at the sum of twelve thousand dollars, represented by two hundred and forty shares of fifty dollars each; the amount of each subscription shall be payable in cash at the signing of these presents.

ARTICLE FIFTH.

No stockholder in this corporation shall ever be liable or responsible for the contracts or faults of the corporation; nor shall any mere informality in organization have the effect of rendering this charter null or of exposing a stockholder to any liability beyond the amount of his stock.

ARTICLE SIXTH.

This charter may be modified, altered or amended, and the capital stock may be increased to any sum not exceeding fifty thousand dollars, or the company may be dissolved at a general meeting of the stockholders, convened for that purpose, with the assent of three-fourths (in amount) of the stock represented at such meeting. Whenever the dissolution of the corporation shall become necessary by the reason of the action of the stockholders, by limitation of its charter, or from any cause whatever, its affairs shall be immediately placed in liquidation, under the charge and superintendence of three commissioners appointed by the Board of Directors, and who shall remain in office until the final liquidation of the affairs of the company, and the distribution of its surplus funds among the stockholders.

ARTICLE SEVENTH.

The names of the stockholders, their residences, and number of shares held by each are declared to be such as are subscribed to this act of incorporation, and set opposite each of their names respectively.

Thus done and passed in my office, at New Orleans aforesaid, in the presence of Thad. J. Clark and Jas. D. Tilden, competent witnesses, both of this city, who hereunto sign their names, with the parties and me, notary, on the day and date aforesaid.

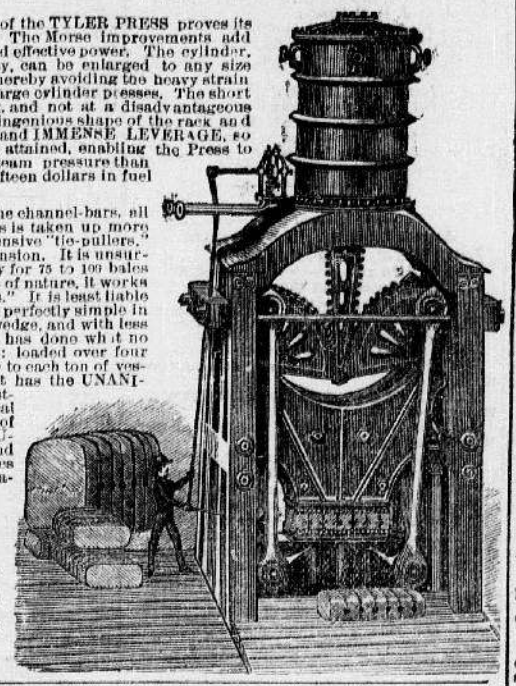
THE GIANT OF COTTON PRESSES.

MORSE IMPROVED TYLER.



The thirty years' constant use of the TYLER PRESS proves its principle superior to all others. The Morse improvements add fifty per cent to its economy and effective power. The cylinder, placed above and out of the way, can be enlarged to any size without spreading the frame, thereby avoiding the heavy strain on the extended parts of other large cylinder presses. The short lifting-rods lift the load direct, and not at a disadvantageous angle. The short rods and the ingenious shape of the rack and sectors give a PROGRESSIVE and IMMENSE LEVERAGE, so that nine powers are practically attained, enabling the Press to do better work with 80 pounds steam pressure than others with 120, saving ten to fifteen dollars in fuel per day.

By an ingenious shaping of the channel-bars, all possible of the slack of the ties is taken up more effectually than by slow and expensive "tie-pullers," greatly reducing the final expansion. It is unsurpassed in speed, having capacity for 75 to 100 bales per hour. Like the great powers of nature, it works modestly, without noise or "fuss." It is least liable to get out of order, because so perfectly simple in construction. Without using a wedge, and with less than 80 pounds steam power, it has done what no other press has or can do, viz: loaded over four bales (above the average weight) to each ton of vessel's measurement. In short, it has the UNANIMOUS ENDORSEMENT of all first-class mechanics and practical pressmen, as a perfect marvel of SIMPLICITY, STRENGTH, DURABILITY, ECONOMY and POWER. One of these Presses may be seen in almost daily operation at the Factors' Press.
