DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Representatives of the Southern New England Employes' association from various divisions in the Eastern district assembled at Pellett's hall Thursday evening to nominate their candidates for officers for the ensuing year. The business at hand transacted, there was a social hour. Sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

Cars with which prisoners being transfered between the county jail at Brooklyn and the superior court at Putnam have been guarded during the past few days has been noted by observers. In addition to the deputy sheriffs who ride in the bus with the prisoners a police guard also is at hand, either trailing or leading the bus. No chances are being taken that any prisoner may escape before the court has dealt with his case.

Rev. J. C. Mathieu, pastor of the Sacred Heart church at Wauregan, is to deliver the address in French at the laying and blessing of the cornerstone of the addition of St. Mary's parochial school at Putnam next Sunday afternoon. The ceremony, preceded by a parade, will be attended by many from this section. Rt. Rev. J. J. Nilan, D.D., will lay the corner stone.

Estimates submitted by the selectmen indicate that the expense of maintaining the town of Killingly during the present fiscal year, ending July 31, 1923, will be $87,592, net. Of the gross amount shown in the budget $13,750 will be required for the town farm, outside and insane poor, inmates at Mansfield training school, burials of paupers and transients. Repairs to roads, $15,000; bridges, $2,200; state aid road at Dayville cut-off, $2,000; brush cutting, $500. For the removal of snow and to be used for no other purpose, $1,000 has been set aside.

Pay for town officials and incidental expenses will amount to a little more than $7,000. Many other items included in the selectmen's budget run the total up to a gross of $87,047. Income from various sources will amount, it is estimated, to $19,054.32.

In addition the estimated cost of schools for the current year will be $68,123.

Up at East Killingly King George Jacques has a new dog—a late 1922 model Teddy Bear hound. According to James N. Tucker, who has made an official and minute inspection of the animal for publicity purposes, the dog does not rate very high at present from a physical standpoint, but has such a pedigree that by no possible chance can he eventually fail to become an animal of marvelous ability and tenacity in trailing the ferocious Teddy Bears that inhabit Old Kentuck and other regions about East Killingly. Incidentally, the dog, whose name is Joe, will hunt raccoon as a side line.

But by profession he is to be a trailer of Teddy Bears. King George shot a bear of this species up near Camp Whippoorwill a night a few years ago, and as the victim bled sawdust and the Bohemians who were present stormed with glee, the king vowed that there would be coming out of the east a breed of dogs that would bring destruction upon all the hand-made bears that might be destined to invade that region. The arrival of Joe seems to forecast the realization of this prohpecy. Joe won't be big enough to do much hunting this fall, but he can listen to the tales of what has happened in the territory where he is to hunt after another winter's snows and another summer has come and gone and next fall will take the trail for the big woods where the Teddy's prowl, glaring down with their electrically lighted eyes from the tree tops that are their last hope and refuge.

Attention is being directed to the fact that highway markers and warning signs of bad crossroads and corners are needed for the benefit and protection of the heavy additional traffic now moving through Danielson as the result of the opening of the new state highway to Providence. The junction of Broad and Reynolds streets is a particularly dangerous point and at Reynolds and Main extra precaution is required of every driver who would avoid collisions. The latter point is a junction of two trunk lines.

A choral union is being organized here and is to meet Wednesday evenings throughout the fall and winter seasons. It is expected that the union will include about 40 voices. Henry Flagg is to be the director. If plans work out as anticipated, a light opera will be given late in the winter. Local singers are being invited at the present time to become members of the union.

Town officials charged with the duty have made their arrangements to receive applications from those who wish to be made voters in time for the November election and to admit all who demonstrate that they are qualified to vote.

Next Tuesday, October 10, the registrars will be in session to receive applications and to revise and perfect the voting lists. On Saturday, October 14, the selectmen, town clerk and registrars are to meet for the purpose of admitting voters and to offer opportunity for enrollment on caucus lists. For those who already have passed 21 years of age this will be the last chance to be made a voter before the November election. On November 5 the officials will meet to admit as electors those who do not reach their 21st birthday prior to October 21.

The following are newly elected officers of the Christian Endeavor society of the Baptist church: President, Miss Marjorie Gaffney; vice president, Miss Margaret Burton; secretary, Miss Alice Jordan; treasurer, Miss Corinne Mitchell. The new society is to hold its first meeting next Sunday, when committee members will be chosen.

At 18 Hawkins street James Moran is giving personal and experienced attention to repairing motor cars; business solicited. Auburan agency.—adv.

George B. Henderson of Fall River was a visitor in Danielson on Thursday.

A. W. Williams has returned from a business trip to New York.

Hoodlums are engaging in the practice of invading Brooklyn and disturbing people at social events held there from time to time, it is complained. There is a suggestion, too, that hooch is being brought into that community.

The annual rally social for the Sunday school of the Baptist church is planned for this evening at the church. Diversions are to be provided and refreshments served.

Attorney Harry E. Back will be the lawyer member of the grand jury that will assemble in the superior court in Putnam today to hear such evidence as the state has to present to it relative to the charge that Mary Eitelman of Willimantic murdered her new-born child.

Treasurer Sidney W. Bard of the Brooklyn Savings bank, Treasurer Clifford H. Starkweather and Harry Magoon of the Danielson Trust company have been at New York attending the American Bankers' association convention.

The Danielson Radio club is to meet this Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Buckley in Goodyear.

Fans who bet on Thursday's world's series baseball game were disappointed over the fact that it ended without a decision. On straight bets no collection was possible.

Mrs. E. H. Keach will have members of the Civic federation at her home for a meeting this (Friday) afternoon.

A rally prayer service was held at the Baptist church Thursday evening.

Democratic women voters of this place will hold a meeting this (Friday) evening at St. James' hall. The meeting will be presided over by Mrs. George N. Junglos of the state central committee.

PUTNAM

Rt. Rev. J. J. Nilan, bishop of Hartford, will come to this city Sunday to participate in the exercises incident to the laying of the cornerstone of the big addition to St. Mary's parochial school. The ceremony is set for 3 p. m.

Preceding to the laying and blessing of the cornerstone there will be a parade of church societies and fraternal organizations leaving the church at 2 p. m., and proceeding through Providence, Main and Bridge streets into Woodstock avenue to Marshall street. A platoon of police will head the parade, which will be escorted by the Manhasset band.

The addresses incident to the laying of the cornerstone will be made by Rev. Walter McCrann of New Britain, formerly of Putnam, who will speak in English, and Rev. J. C. Mathieu of Wauregan, who will speak in French.

At the chapel at Grove street cemetery Thursday afternoon funeral services were held for Mrs. John L. Inman, long a resident of this city, who died Tuesday at the home of her daughter in Hartford. Burial was in Grove street cemetery. Mrs. Inman leaves a son, Elmer of Providence, and three daughter, Hattie and Effie and Mrs. George Miller of Hartford.

Charles E. Dean will succeed to a position he filled during the war—fuel administrator for Putnam. For the time being at least administering the distribution of coal will be a simple task. Supplies of the commodity are not reaching this city in sufficient quantity as yet to warrant any great scramble to get it. This probably will not be true later when big shipments begin to come in and the rush to get a supply starts.

Two Worcester young people were married in an ante room of the superior court by Attorney Arthur S. Macdonald acting as a justice of the peace on Thursday morning. Attorney Macdonald was busy with court work when the inquiring people sought him out to make them man and wife. The ceremony was quickly concluded.

Although the bride, Lillian Corey Kowalsky, is but 19 years of age, the marriage certificate authorizing Thursday's ceremony shows that she was a divorcee. Louis Trudel, 22, the groom, was a widower. Thus early in life this couple again ventures into the field of matrimony after having lost former mates.

Trudel gaves his occupation as a chauffeur and the bride has been living with her parents.

Those who wish to be made voters in time to participate in the state election scheduled for November 7, will do well to give their attention to the matter, for on Tuesday of next week, October 10, Registrars Hermon G. Carver and George Potvin are to hold a session to revise and perfect the list of electors of the town of Putnam. No applications from those who would be made voters in time for the November election will be received after 5 p. m., next Tuesday afternoon.

The city of Putnam is asking for bids for the construction of 1450 feet of 8-inch sewer to run from the Day Kimball hospital to the river. Also for the construction of 1850 feet of 12-inch sewer and 12 man holes. Construction of this sewer will relieve the hospital of a problem in sewage disposal that was fully presented to the common council some time since and has resulted in authority to construct the sewers needed.

Dr. Edward F. Perry of this city and Attorney Harry E. Back of Danielson will be the physician and the attorney sitting on the grand jury that will be assembled in the superior court this (Friday) morning to pass upon such evidence as the state may submit relative to the case of the state vs Mary Eitleman of Willimantic, who will be charged wdith strangling her new-born child at her boarding place in her home city a few months ago. The accused is in custody at Brooklyn jail and it is not probable that she will be present at today's proceeding, it was stated on Thursday. Today's proceedings will determine whether she will be indicted for murder in the first degree. The case is one that the state hopes to dispose of at the present term of court.

Several members of Elizabeth Porter Putnam chapter, D. A.R., motored to Manchester Thursday to attend the 29th state meeting of the organization, with Oxford chapter entertaining the guests. The business sessions were from 11 to 4.30. At four parish houses in Manchester lunch was served to the visiting members at the noon hour.

Next Sunday will be Rally day in various Sunday schools of the city anw special programs have been prepared for the event. At the Methodist church the Rally day exercises will be at the noon hour. The program will include recitations, songs and exercises. Presentation of diplomas will be a feature.

Congressman Richard P. Freeman of this, the second congressional district of Connecticut, is expected to make several addresses in Windham county during the campaign that will get underway within a few days in preparation for the November election, at which Mr. Freeman will be a candidate for re-election.

Representatives of the commercial, plant and traffic departments of the Putnam division of the S. N. E. Telephone company were at Danielson Thursday evening to attend a meeting of representatives of the telephone company employes' association from various divisions in the eastern district. Officers of the association for the ensuing year were nominated at the meeting.

Warrenville, a few miles to the west of this city, will celebrate an event important to that community on Saturday—the 50th anniversary of Babcock's Cornet band. There is to be an outing in Buck's grove in the afternoon and exercises in Baker's hall in the evening.

Heavy blasting to the west of this city and plainly heard here tells of the work that is being done in rebuilding the state highway from the Gary schoolhouse to Pomfret. An exceptionally heavy foundation of rock is being put down for the new road surface of the old highway, which broke down last winter under the heavy traffic to which it was subjected.

Baptists throughout the territory of the Ashford Baptist convention will be interested in the fact that the Eastford Baptist church has voted to ask the association to call a council for October 26th for the purpose of examining and ordaining its new pastor, Norman M. Bloore.

William Jarvis of this city, a special deputy of the commissioner on domestic animals, is now engaged in enforcing the dog laws in towns of eastern Windham county. Most of the prosecutions found necessary are due to the fact that owners have neglected to register their dogs or allow them to go about without collar or tag.

Towns in this section of the county—Pomfret and Woodstock, will provide the republican candidates for state senator this fall. John Ash, Pomfret, already has the nomination for the 29th district.

Officer Frank C. McLean of the Willimantic police force was in this city Thursday attending the session of the superior court. Officer McLean is the captor of William Evers and William Lukarthur, the New York young men who started to make a get-away after they had shot at a Woodstock man who ordered them out of his apple orchard.

Cold weather sharps are wondering what has become of the so-called line storm this year. Instead of storm the autumnal equinox brought the finest weather in months.

Rt. Rev. Edward Campion Acheson, suffragan bishop of Connecticut, will speak at a service to be held at St. Philip's church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Rev. John L. Roney has been at Schenectady this week to attend a funeral. He returned here on Thursday. Oil was being placed on streets in the Manhasset section of the city on Thursday.

Many from this city motored to Brockton on Thursday to attend the fair, which has attracted patronage from this section throughout the week.

The town school committee has reorganized following Monday's election with Mrs. E. C. Warner as chairman and Attorney Charles L. Torrey as secretary.

There was a large and enthusiastic gathering of democratic women at Redmen's hall Thursday evening to organize the Putnam Women's Democratic club. After perfecting the organization the club went to Union hall in a body to meet Hon. Thomas J. Spellacy. The officers elected were: Mrs. Mabel Dupree Ryan, president; Mrs. Estello Deslisle, secretary; Mrs Scranton of South Woodstock, treasurer.

SOUTH WILLINGTON

Miss Clara Hall returned home last week after visiting with her sister, Mrs. Roy McBee of Adams, Mass.

Deputy Sheriff William O. Eldridge who has been taking the town census finished the work this past week.

Elmer Mathews attended the convention of the Christian Endeavor Societies in New Haven last wek.

Antony Arceiro has given up his position in the bleaching department of the G. Hall Jr. Co., and has accepted a position in Waterbury, where he has moved his family.

Mrs. J. R. Edwards and Mrs. E. J. Mathews attended the meeting of the executive committee of the Tolland county Sunday chool association held at West Stafford Friday evening.

At a recent meeting of the Woman's Missionary society the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. E. J. Mathews; vice president, Mrs. W. V. Allen; secretary, Mrs. Lena Brackett; treasurer, Miss R. O. Hall.

ANDOVER

Quite a large number from this place attended the Rockville fair Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pelton of Springfield have been spending several days at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson.

Miss Clara Thompson has resumed her work after a three weeks' vacation. She is employed at the postoffice.

The Ladies' society met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Raymond Halstead.

Mrs. Raymond Yeomans and two daughters, Marion and Madge, who have been visiting relatives and friends here in the north for some time, left Wednesday for their home in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Mrs. William Squires, who has been ill for some time, is improving.

Mrs. C. A. Faulkner is visiting in New York.

Local Druggists Guarantee Rheuma For Rheumatism

What chance does any sufferer take when Rheuma is guaranteed to banish rheumatism, lumbago, gout and kidney ailments, or money back?

Why not investigate this offer? Talk to Lee & Osgood Co. about it. Rheuma must drive rheumatic poison from the system, bring swollen joints back to normal, and relieve all agony, or it costs nothing.

People so crippled with rheumatism that they could not walk have been absolutely freed from the iron grasp of the demon, rheumatism, with the Rheuma treatment. A few hours after the first dose Rheuma begins to dissolve the uric acid and drive it from the body through the natural channels.

Everybody can afford Rheuma—it's not expensive, and money back if not entirely satisfied.

This is the season of the old fashioned New England boiled dinner—cabbage, beets, turnips, carrots and perhaps parsnips or a part of a squash or pumpkin for the vegetable portion. Have one of these meals at your earliest opportunity and treat yourself to a real feed. Native produce now on the market includes spinach, cauliflower, cabbage, head and curly lettuce, Fall turnips, beets, carrots and parsnips, parsley and celery, pumpkins and Hubbard squashes. Small quantities of tomatoes and peppers can be had for the last of the condiments and pickles.

Eat more Vegetables for your health and to secure your proper ration of Vitamins.
