THREW ACID ON BOYS.

A Harlem Flat-Dweller's Device to Get Rid of Noise.

Opened a Window and Emptied Muriatic Acid on Their Heads.

One Lad Nearly Blinded and the Police Are Seeking the Thrower.

Detectives Farley, Gannon and Purcell, and Patrolman Ward, of the East Eighty-eighth street police station, are working hard to-day to discover and arrest the person or persons who threw from a third-story window at 1746 Lexington avenue a bowlful of muriatic acid upon a party of noisy boys, nearly blinding one and burning several others, beside doing serious damage to their clothes and those of passers-by on the street.

No arrests have been made yet, but Capt. Schmittberger said to an EVENING WORLD reporter that he hoped to have the guilty parties in custody before night.

The broad, smooth sidewalk about the big flat-house at Lexington avenue and One Hundred and Ninth street has long had charms for the small boys of the neighborhood as a playground. Naturally enough, when the boys became a trifle too noisy the tenants objected and tried to drive the lads away. Chief among the objectors have been Charles Krueger, a grocer at the corner, whose son-in-law owns the property, and C. E. Klucow, who has a drug store next to the grocery.

Krueger acts as agent for the property. Occasionally he has used a club to enforce his objections, but still the boys kept on playing. Krueger lives on the second floor of No. 1744. He denied to-day, to an EVENING WORLD reporter that he had thrown acid or knew anything about it.

In spite of frequent delugings of water thrown at them from above, the boys gathered as usual on the sidewalk yesterday noon, and were playing "pass" in the corner. Willie Doran, of 1722 East One Hundred and Eighth street, was crossing the street to join in the games, when he saw a window on the second floor of No. 1744 open and an arm extend a bowl from which a dark brown fluid was quickly emptied to the sidewalk below.

"Look out! It's coffee this time," shouted Willie. His warning came too late. Willie Harris, sixteen years old, of One Hundred and Eighth street and Lexington avenue; Willie Murphy, fourteen years old, of One Hundred and Ninth street and Lexington avenue; "Buffed" McGinn, the twelve-year-old son of Policeman McGinn, of One Hundred and Ninth street and Fourth avenue, and Harry Welsh, fourteen years old, of 157 East One Hundred and Ninth street, were badly burned upon the hands, head, face and neck by what was evidently muriatic or sulphuric acid. Young Welsh may lose the sight of his right eye, and all the boys' clothing was ruined.

Thomas Savage, a watchman, who was passing at the time, had a brand new suit of clothes and an overcoat ruined and his hands slightly burned by the fiery fluid.

Two minutes after the occurrence there was no sign of life in the flat whence the acid came, and the shades were tightly drawn. Grocer Krueger was nowhere to be found, but druggist Klucow was seen by Harry Welsh's father, who says that he admitted selling muriatic acid to a girl "for plumber's use." Later he denied this.

A Card from Actor Stevens.

To the Editor:

DEAR SIR—The elaborate billing of my name in connection with the company that is announced to appear at the Windsor Theatre this week is misleading to my friends and the public. It is entirely without my consent and contrary to my protest. I have not, nor have I had, any connection with this "Wife for Wife" company, and for them to use my name as they have done is simply an effort on their part to obtain patronage in methods that are not legitimate. Yours very truly, JOHN A. STEVENS.

Their Names Transposed.

By a transposition of names in a police court item last Friday THE EVENING WORLD was made to say that James Geary was held at the Tombs for grand larceny, on charges preferred by his room mate, Patrick Sheehan. It should have read that Sheehan was held and Geary preferred the charges.

SLATES FOR NEXT NOVEMBER.

Forecasting Nominations for Important Local Offices.

Prospective Legislation for the Direction of Civil Courts' Patronage.

It would seem that it was a little early yet for politicians to talk about the next sheriff, District-Attorney or Coroner, when the election for those officers is a year off, but the wiseacres insist on making up slates in and out of season, election or no election.

It is reported that Mr. Nicoll will not again be a candidate for District-Attorney; that he can make more money in private practice. Mr. Nicoll himself says it is too soon to talk about what he may do a twelvemonth from now.

From a tried and true source it was learned this morning that Mr. Nicoll summoned his staff of assistants to his private office several days ago and said to them:

"Gentlemen, I want to announce to you officially that I may be a candidate for District-Attorney again."

This announcement was made by Mr. Nicoll, it is said, for the purpose of curbing the ambition of several of the gentlemen in his office who have aspirations to succeed him, and who are begin laying pipes.

With possible opposition candidates out of the field, in case Mr. Nicoll should decide not to run, Justice Lyons's chances are considered excellent.

The tipsters still mark Civil Justice Waubaugh Lyons, formerly Assistant District-Attorney, for District-Attorney, if Mr. Nicoll is not to be his own successor. Judge Lyons is said to be very close to Mr. Croker. He was the only one of Mr. Nicoll's assistants personally recommended by the big Chief of Tammany Hall, and by hard and successful work he quickly earned promotion from Deputy-Assistant to a full-fledged Assistant.

If he demonstrates ability, a good record and standing well with the powers that be go for anything Justice Lyons will land a winner, say the men who make selections in the political races.

Henry W. Unger, District-Attorney Nicoll's Private secretary, is mentioned for Civil Justice of the Sixth District Court in place of Justice Sanson Lachman, whose term expires Jan. 1, 1894.

There is a big Tammany majority in the district, and whoever gets the Wigwam nomination will be pretty certain of election. Justice Lachman is strongly anti-Tammany and will be retired, according to gossip at the Fourteenth street headquarters.

There are three other civil justices, Thomas E. Murray, Alfred Steckler and John Jeroloman, who do not consult Tammany Hall in the matter of patronage in their courts.

They have each the appointment of several clerks and other officials, patronage that is wanted by Tammany Hall. To secure it, it is said, a bill will be introduced in the next Legislature providing for a Board of Civil Justices, consisting of all the Civil Justices in the city who shall control all appointments in the same way as the Board of Police Justices does now.

A similar bill was introduced by Senator Plunkitt last year. By the passage of such a law the present appointees of the civil justices would be legislated out of office, and the Board of Justices would see to it that none but Tammany men would be appointed in their places.

STOLE £35,000 IN JEWELS.

Burglars Make a Rich Haul at Sir Cecil Miles's Country Seat.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Burglars got £35,000 worth of jewels from the safe in Lady Miles's bedroom, at Leigh Court, near Bristol, the seat of Sir Cecil Miles, Bart., while the family were dining yesterday.

It is believed that there must have been some collusion in regard to the robbery, as it was not commonly known that Lady Miles kept such a quantity of valuables in her safe.

DEAD IN A BREWERY.

An Employee Fell Through a Hatchway and Was Instantly Killed.

Employees of Ringler's Brewery, 212 East Ninety-second street, found this morning, in a subcellar of the brewery, the dead body of August Dinotte, fifty years old, an employee.

Dinotte had apparently fallen through the hatchway meeting instant death. The Coroner was notified.

The dead man's home was at 147 East Ninety-second street, where he has a family.

Dinotte was employed in the brewery as night watchman. He had been dead several hours when the body was found.

PAUPER LABOR OUTRIVALLED.

Twenty-five Cents Per Day for Hod-Carriers and Payment Refused.

A case which fairly outrivals the cheap pauper labor of Europe came up before Judge Grady in the Tombs Police Court this morning.

The prisoner was a well-known case, one Nathan Cohen, who has a propensity of bobbing up in some trouble or another every week or two.

He was charged by Angelo Lariara, an Italian, of 125 master street, with assault, and Judge Grady held Cohen in the sum of $300 for the Court of Special Sessions.

It appeared during the examination that Cohen is building or repairing a house at 130 White street, and he hired Angelo and three others as hod-carriers at 25 cents a day, and they all worked Friday, Saturday and yesterday.

This morning they all demanded their pay, and it is claimed that Cohen refused to pay, but instead assaulted Angelo.

Cohen set up as a defense that Angelo stole two pairs of shoes and three shirts from him.

PENNED IN A BURNING ROOKERY.

Families Locked in by Chinese Highbinders, Who Seek Revenge.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—A four-story rookery in the most densely populated quarter of Chinatown was set on fire yesterday. The building was occupied as a gambling-room on the lower floor and as a lodging-house above.

At the head of each stairway were heavy doors, self-locking and barred to defy police invasion, and all the windows were covered by heavy wooden bars. At the cry of fire two Chinamen rushed from the building and locked the heavy door behind them. The inmates of the building got down to the second floor where they found the door at the head of the stairway had been locked.

Two children escaped by a ladder cut away the window bars and took out five Chinese women and a baby. The damage was slight.

It is thought the fire was the work of Highbinders, who took this method of avenging themselves on the inmates.

Charge a Pretty Girl with Fraud.

Miss Estelle Davis, a handsome brunette, of 223 West Twenty-fourth street, New York, was to-day remanded in Justice O'Donnell's Court, Jersey City, for examination on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. She is charged by the wife of Theatrical Manager Frank Hawley, of 104 Jones avenue, Jersey City, with having received $22 in small sums from friends of Mr. Hawley on the representation that the money was for Mr. Hawley. The girl declares that she received the money wholly on her own responsibility.

Jealous Lover Stabs a Rival.

Mary James, of 54 Mulberry street, was held in $500 bail in the Essex Market Police Court this morning, charged with complicity in the assault on Joseph Carlo, of 144 Cherry street, Saturday night. Carlo was badly cut by a jealous rival for Mary's affections, who is at large.

Coming After His Truant Daughter.

Blanche Mulhern's father is expected to arrive in Jersey City from Philadelphia to-day after his truant daughter. The girl, who gave her address as 2812 Amber street, Philadelphia, was found on the 9.22 Pennsylvania train last night. She gave her age as fourteen.

TOM STEVENSON SET FREE.

Former Keeper of "The Slide" Released This Morning.

Prison Fare Has Not Fattened Him Nor Given Him Color.

"Tom" Stevenson, ex-keeper of the notorious resort known as "The Slide," was released from Blackwell's Island at 8 o'clock this morning, having earned a commutation of two months of his year's sentence by good behavior.

The additional penalty of a fine of $500, with the alternative of serving 500 days in default of payment, was paid by his wife Saturday afternoon to the Warden of the Penitentiary. At the same time a suit of dark material, made up to order, was left at the office, and when the ex-convict landed at the Fifty-second street ferry at 8.25 this morning he resembled its old time fashionable self.

His tall, slim figure seemed no more ample from good habits and ten months of prison fare. An increased pallor of his long, thin face was the only change noticeable.

He was met at the ferry by a fine-looking, middle-aged woman, richly dressed and closely veiled, who is thought to be his wife. They got into a hack and were driven rapidly away.

"Tom" Stevenson was the third of his villainous class to fall a victim to the now famous crusade of THE EVENING WORLD against the dives. His predecessors were "Billy" Mealey and August Guldon.

Stevenson was the proprietor of "The Slide," at 157 Bleecker street. It was, perhaps, the very worst specimen in the city of the very worst class of evil resorts. It was half underground and was reached by a long, narrow and dark subterranean passage.

It was a low ceilinged dingy place with a dirty bar, a bad piano and tables about which midnight revellers might gather. But it was always crowded from midnight till daylight.

"The Slide" was known to but few people, comparatively. It was a whispered "rumor" to the thousands of men. Among the wives and mothers and daughters of New York it was unheard of.

But there it lay and had lain for years, in the heart of the city, festering and breeding moral pestilence upon the youths of the city.

Men discussed it in drinking parlors. Pure men listened to stories of most revolting performances there, and thousands permitted their curiosity to get the better of them and visited the place "just once for the experience."

It betokened a prurient taste almost to rottenness for one to pay a second visit. Men of strong sensibilities came away sick at heart, mentally nauseated and physically disgusted.

The dregs of degraded men and debased women that subterranean hell were of the kind that no mentally and morally clean man could even imagine, and thus it was that it had flourished, like a cancer, for years.

"Tom" Stevenson had grown rich. He was known to the debauched men of both sexes and had a large public following.

When THE EVENING WORLD fired its first volley in December last at this evil, selecting as its special target one of the most respectable of these resorts, Kelly's, in Sixth avenue, the proprietor only laughed and business originated up.

In a month twenty dives had been closed, and the Board of Excise had revoked the licenses of six of these, while the proprietors of most of them were in hiding. Billy McGlory and August Guldon having been sent to the penitentiary for their temerity in appearing in public.

Stevenson came forth from his hiding place early in February. He was at once arrested and his trial began on Feb. 11, 1892.

His defense was that John McGrew, an Indian, was the owner of the place and James McLaughlin the licensee. He was convicted before Judge Martine in Part 1 of the Court of General Sessions, Feb. 17, 18, being found that McGrew and McLaughlin were only stool pigeons.

His counsel, Friend & House, begged for mercy on the ground that Stevenson was dying of consumption. But Judge Martine had in mind the similar plea of "Tom" Gould, and recalled how, after Gould was liberated to go home and die, he turned up as chipper as ever as proprietor of another dive, a dive where a murder was committed later on.

Judge Martine, therefore, showed no mercy. He gave Stevenson all that the law would let him—a year on Blackwell's Island and a $500 fine. Stevenson paid the fine.

The law allowed him two months for good behavior, and that gave him his liberty today.

KINSILE'S EXAMINATION TO-DAY.

Young Mail-Driver to Go Before Commissioner Shields.

Joseph Kinsile, of 448 West Thirty-eighth street, the eighteen-year-old driver of United States mail wagon No. 73, who allowed a thief to burn him out of a mail bag in front of Cooper Union Saturday night, will be arraigned before Commissioner Shields this afternoon.

Kinsile could not be seen at the Oak street police station this morning, where he has been locked up since his arrest yesterday.

An empty mail-bag, supposed to be the one taken from Kinsile's wagon, has been found on the Bowery, near Second street, but Inspector Morris would not discuss the matter.

Kinsile had started away from station D, Stuyvesant place and Ninth street, just after 7 o'clock Saturday night, with several pouches of registered matter when a man halted him.

Kinsile stopped his horse and the man pretending to be one of the clerks of Station D, told him that there was one pouch to many in the wagon. Kinsile unlocked the door of the wagon and the man picked out a pouch containing about $500 worth of Christmas presents and walked back in the direction of the station. Kinsile continued down to the General Post-Office where he reported the incident.

Supt. Wood, of the Registry Department, placed him under arrest pending an investigation of his story.

CHING WENT A-COUSINING.

Evaded Arrest for Stabbing Ah Sam Till His Welcome Wore Out.

Ching Ya Lock was brought into the Tombs Court this morning by Detective Corcoran, who has been looking for Ching since Nov. 21.

On that day Ching, who lives at 11 Mott street, got into a quarrel with a Ah Sam, a laundryman, of 201 East Forty-fourth street. A Mott street siren was the cause of the trouble, and while the two were trying to settle matters in a hallway at 26 Mott street, Ching suddenly drew a knife and stabbed Ah Sam several times in the head and body.

Detective Corcoran has been led a merry dance by Ching Lock. Ching was traced to Gerokkin, where Corcoran says the Chinaman has 100 cousins and he visited each in turn. Ching returned to New York yesterday and was pounced upon by Detective Corcoran in Mott street. Ching was in a stunning forwarded to await the appearance of the complainant.

WHIPPED WITH A RAWHIDE.

Most Attacked by Emma Goldman at a Public Meeting.

John Most's encounter with Emma Goldman, the friend of Anarchist Bergman, the attempted assassin of H. C. Frick, is agitating the New York Proletariat Groups to-day. It is believed that it may cause a big split in the Anarchist party.

Most was announced to speak last night before the German and Hebrew Anarchist groups at Odd Fellows Hall, 98 Forsythe street. He had just been introduced to his audience when Miss Goldman, whose presence in the hall had not been observed, walked up to the platform, and pulling a rawhide from under her coat began to belabor Most across the head and shoulders.

Most tried to escape the fierce blows of the whip, but the woman followed him up, and it was not until half a dozen of his friends jumped forward and pulled the woman away that he was able to recover his dignity.

Miss Goldman fought and struggled with her captors, but was finally hustled out of the hall, swearing and cursing at Most in the choicest Low German dialect.

Miss Goldman has not liked Most for some time because he discountenanced the shooting of Frick by her friend Bergman.

Most afterwards made his speech, but avoided mentioning the difficulty.

TURNED ON THE GAS THRICE.

John Ward's Last Attempt at Suicide May Succeed.

John Ward, a baker, sixty years old, is at the point of death in Chambers Street Hospital, where he was taken at 1 o'clock this morning from a lodging-house at 127 West street, where he was found unconscious from gas asphyxiation.

Ward was found yesterday afternoon lying on his bed with the gas turned on in his room. He was not wholly unconscious then. This morning, shortly after midnight, he was found again with the gas turned on. It is said that a similar occurrence in his room was discovered a week ago.

Police talk of arresting somebody for criminal negligence, if Ward dies, in not having had him watched after the first discovery of the kind.

Coming Events.

An open letter to women. No. 1.

Laurel Ave., San Francisco, May 18, 1892.

"Dear friend of women:

"When my baby was born, five years ago, I got up in six days. Far too soon. Result: falling of the womb. Ever since I've been miserable.

"I tried everything: doctors, medicines, apparatus; but grew worse.

"I could hardly stand; and walking without support was impossible.

"At last I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it. The effect was astonishing. Since I took the first bottle my womb has not troubled me, and, thanks only to you, I am now well. Every suffering woman should know how reliable your compound is. It is a sure cure."

IS HE ELLEN'S SLAYER?

A Possible Clue to the Murderer of the Girl at Invermere.

MOUNT VERNON, Dec. 19.—The inquest into the death of pretty Ellen Newton has again been adjourned until Wednesday, when it is expected that more light will be thrown upon the startling developments of Saturday night before Coroner Drews.

At that hearing John Mandy, of South Mount Vernon, swore that when drawing stone at Eastchester the day the girl's body was found he met a young woman answering Ellen's description on the road to Invermere. Close behind her came a hack, whose driver was not from Mount Vernon.

Near the coal sheds, close to Invermere, the hack overtook the girl, and a man in a dark suit and high hat, with a black moustache, alighted and engaged her in conversation.

Coroner Drews is endeavoring to find the driver of this hack. He will also subpœna Albert Dimick, who lives at Woodlawn, but works for Simpson, Hall, Miller & Co., 36 East Fourteenth street, whose business card was found on the dead girl's body.

Dimick formerly lived over the store of Ellen's stepfather and knew her well. She had frequently talked of visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dimick.

MISS STERN CRIED OFF.

Cause of Her Refusal to Marry Mr. Warshauer.

The announced engagement of marriage between Miss Delia Stern, of 132 East Eightieth street, daughter of Morris H. Stern, the wealthy Astor House shoe dealer, and Jacob C. Warshauer, salesman for Cohn & Co., tobacconists, is declared off. No reason is given by the parties, but Lawyer Emanuel Friend, cousin of Miss Stern, thinks perhaps the fact that a woman calling herself "Mrs. Jacob C. Warshauer" visited his office in quest of legal advice had something to do with it.

This woman had several letters addressed in Jacob's hand to "Mrs. Jacob C. Warshauer," and said she was the wife of that young man. She was known by that title at the flat house, 221 West Thirty-eighth street, where "Mr. and Mrs. Warshauer" have been living these ten years. She had visited Mr. Friend to learn how to proceed to stop the marriage of her "husband" to another woman, and started the lawyer out of a year's growth when she announced the name of the young bride-elect—his own cousin.

The narration in the Stern family circle of the story of this woman resulted in the breaking of the engagement.

Ordained to the Deaconate.

At St. Bartholomew's Church, 318 Madison avenue, yesterday, the following ministers, all belonging to foreign denominations, were ordained to the deaconate of the Episcopal Church: Rev. George H. McIrew, of St Paul's Methodist; Dr. S. A. Wekers, of the Lutheran; Rev. Manuel Moreno, of the Roman Catholic, and Rev. H. W. Wells, of the Congregational Church. Bishop Potter preached the ordination sermon.

Their Ball a Great Success.

The annual ball given by the employees of Marks Arnheim Benevolent Association, at New Everett Hall, East Fourth street, last evening, was well attended. The Hebrew Orphan Asylum Band furnished the music during the concert, which was greatly appreciated by all present.

THERE IS HOPE

for every one who has blood trouble, no matter in what shape or how long standing, provided none of the vital organs have been so far impaired as to render a cure impossible. S. S. S. goes to the root of the disease, and removes the cause, by expelling the poison from the body, and at the same time is a tonic to the whole system. However bad your case may be, there is hope

FOR YOU.

S. S. S. Cured me of a most malignant type of chronic blood trouble, for which I had used various other remedies without effect. My weight increased and my health improved in every way. I consider S. S. S. the best tonic I ever used.

TO WELSH CITIZENS.

Address Issued by the Welsh Democratic State Committee.

The second meeting of the Welsh Jeffersonian club will take place to-morrow evening at the Adelphi Hotel, Tenth avenue and Twenty-third street. A constitution and bylaws will be adopted.

The Welsh Democratic State Committee have prepared the following address to the Welsh voters of New York state:

The Welsh Democratic State Committee congratulates you on the re-election of Grover Cleveland to the Presidency of the United States.

The crying need of the Welsh people is organization. We have at the polls this year a political organization in any State of the Union. The time for concerted action has arrived, that the strength of our people may be known and their individual influence for advancement of all that is good and beneficial in our Government may be felt among the people. It is generally conceded that the Welsh are among the best of the naturalized citizens.

A conservative estimate of the Welsh-Americans places the number at 1,223,000. The following seven States have the largest number of the Welsh population: Pennsylvania, 270,948; Ohio, 198,480; New York, 186,535; Wisconsin, 85,320; Illinois, 23,000; California, 16,000; Kansas, 14,000.

In politics our people in masses are Liberals.

The Liberal party of England stands for all that is democratic. The Welsh favor Home Rule, the disestablishment of the English Church, the abolition of tithes, and they have always stood as a barrier to any encroachment by a monarchy on the rights of the people.

Entertaining these principles and willing to make every sacrifice to support them, yet when they become American citizens the majority of them vote against the very principles they upheld in Wales.

To correct these erroneous beliefs and to disseminate political truths, the State Committee has been formed. Its purpose is to establish Welsh Jeffersonian clubs in different sections of our State.

All patriotic Welshmen who are interested in the cause throughout the State will do a service to the Committee and themselves by sending their names and address to the Secretary, John T. Owens, 147 West Twenty-third street, this city.

The qualifications for membership in this Club is that the person shall be a Welshman, or of Welsh descent, and at least twenty-one years of age; that he shall be willing to indorse the Democratic principles and support the regular nominees of the Democratic party.

The Club will soon make arrangements to move into a club-house.
