DAILY SENTINEL

National Democratic Platform of 1864.

THE UNION—THE CONSTITUTION—PEACE—PUBLIC LIBERTY—PRIVATE RIGHTS—FREE ELECTIONS—A FREE PRESS—FREE SPEECH—TRIAL BY JURY—THE RIGHT OF ASYLUM—JUSTICE TO OUR SOLDIERS.

Resolved, That in the future, as in the past, we will adhere with unswerving fidelity to the Union under the Constitution as the only solid foundation of our strength, security and happiness as a people, and as a framework of government equally conducive to the welfare and prosperity of all the States, both Northern and Southern.

Resolved, That this Convention does explicitly declare, as the sense of the American people, that after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war, during which, under the pretense of military necessity or war power higher than the Constitution, the Constitution itself has been disregarded in every part, and public liberty and private right alike trodden down, and the material prosperity of the country essentially impaired, justice, humanity, liberty and the public welfare demand that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities with a view to an ultimate convention of the States, or other peaceable means, to the end that at the earliest practicable moment peace may be restored on the basis of the Federal Union of the States.

Resolved, That the direct interference of the military authorities of the United States in the recent elections held in Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri and Delaware, was a shameful violation of the Constitution, and a repetition of such acts in the approaching election will be held as revolutionary, and resisted with all the means and power under our control.

Resolved, That the aim and object of the Democratic party is to preserve the Federal Union and the rights of the States unimpaired, and they hereby declare that they consider that the administrative usurpation of extraordinary and dangerous powers not granted by the Constitution, the subversion of the civil by military law in States not in insurrection, the arbitrary military arrest, imprisonment, trial and sentence of American citizens in States where civil law exists in full force, the suppression of freedom of speech and of the press, the denial of the right of asylum, more open and avowed disregard of State rights, the employment of unusual test oaths, and the interference with and denial of the right of the people to bear arms in their defense; is calculated to prevent a restoration of the Union and the perpetuation of the Government deriving its just powers from the consent of the governed.

Resolved, That the shameful disregard of the Administration to its duty in respect to our fellow citizens who now are, and long have been, prisoners of war in a suffering condition, deserves the severest reprobation on the score alike of public policy and common humanity.

Resolved, That the sympathy of the Democratic party is heartily and earnestly extended to the soldiery of our army and sailors of our navy who are and have been in the field and on the sea, under the flag of their country, and in the event of its attaining power, they will receive all the care, protection and regard that the brave soldiers and sailors of the republic have so nobly earned

OFFICIAL WAR BULLETIN.

FROM THE SHENANDOAH.

The Rebels Pursued to Mt. Jackson.

FROM GEN. GRANT'S ARMY.

Letter from Hon. George H. Pendleton.

&c., &c., &c., &c., &c.

From New York.

NEW YORK, October 22.—A special to the Commercial from Washington, dated the 22d, says:

The mail boat from City Point reports all quiet on yesterday.

The enemy were engaged in strengthening the fortifications on the north side of the James river.

One hundred and sixty rebel prisoners came up, many of whom took the oath of allegiance.

One rebel officer says that he gave himself up, because the Southerners have not men or money enough to hold out much longer.

Gold has been quite firm to-day, probably owing to purchases to meet the export demand for to-day's steamer. The range has been from 209½ to 211¾.

The Herald's special with Sheridan says:

The opening success of the rebels depended not so much in their strength as on the skill with which their assault was planned.

The army which fought is estimated at from fifteen to twenty thousand strong. It used no cavalry. The infantry consisted of five divisions under Ramseur, Gordon, Pegram, Wharton, and Kershaw.

It was still in command of Gen. Early.

The News to-day reports that Longstreet had assumed control.

Returned prisoners say that the rebels put all the Federal deserters at work in the trenches.

The Herald's Fortress Monroe correspondent gives accounts of a successful expedition made by the 20th New York cavalry from Suffolk, to break up the contraband traffic with North Carolina.

They had several skirmishes with the rebels, and destroyed large stores of cotton, tobacco, brandy, shoes, clothing, and small arms.

The buildings used for their storage and the railroad stations were also destroyed.

They captured 145 beef cattle, several prisoners, telegraph operators, and other things of value, and returned safely.

The rebel Secretary of the Treasury states that the debt of the Confederacy on the 31st of December next will be $1,575,000,000.

Yesterday and to-day New York has been dressed in flags in honor of Sheridan's victory.

The Richmond Examiner says:

Gen. Bragg has gone to Wilmington. He will return to Richmond when emergency requires his presence.

The Montgomery Appeal says that Gen. Beauregard and staff passed through Opelaka on the 8th, to assume the command of the Army of the Tennessee, and will personally direct the movements of the army until the fall campaign is fully closed.

The Mobile Register says:

Gen. Hood, in his proclamation to his troops, stated that Sherman could not winter over 35,000 muskets.

The Commercial has the following special dated Washington, 22d:

The Richmond Examiner of the 19th says that the colored prisoners put into the fortifications by the rebels have been returned to prison, and expresses the hope that Butler will relieve the Confederate officers placed under fire at Dutch Gap.

President Lincoln publishes this afternoon a lengthy letter to Tennesseeans who assailed him, in which he declines to interfere in the affairs of Tennessee, deeming it a State matter altogether.

The following letter from Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton, Democratic candidate for Vice President, has just been received by Hon. John B. Haskin, Chairman of the Democratic New York State Executive Committee, will appear in the Sunday Mercury to-morrow morning:

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17, 1864.

MY DEAR SIR:—I have received your friendly letter. Malignant representations and falsehoods are so frequent in our struggles that I have rarely undertaken to correct or refute them. I make no professions of a new faith, only repeat my reiterated profession of an old one when I say there is no one who cherishes a greater regard for the Union, who has a higher sense of its inestimable benefits, who would more earnestly labor for its restoration, by all the means which will effect that end, than myself.

The Union is the guarantee of peace, power, and the prosperity of the people; and no man would depreciate more heartily or oppose more persistently the establishment of another government over any portion of territory ever within its limits.

I am in favor of exacting no conditions, insisting upon no terms not prescribed in the Constitution, and I am opposed to any course of policy which will defeat the re-establishment of the government upon its old foundations and in its territorial integrity.

I am, very truly yours, &c.,
GEO. H. PENDLETON.

The World's account of the changing to victory from apparent defeat, on Wednesday, is as follows:

Sheridan, having completed his preparations, awakened his army to action, and the enemy from their repose, by ordering a grand advance, with a left half wheel from left to right, closing in upon the enemy's cavalry. He had previously made a charge which disclosed the position of the foe, and weakened his flanks. The advance was slightly checked in the centre, at the out-set, by a momentary embarrassment of the Third Division, Sixth Corps, which had to pass through a dense wood. It was re assured as this difficulty was overcome, the whole line making an onset upon the enemy, which broke their line, after a stubborn resistance.

Our now enthusiastic and determined columns pressed the rebels so closely that they were unable to make a decisive stand at any point, on through Middleton and beyond. Custar and Merritt, charging in on the right and left, doubled up the flanks of the foe, taking prisoners, slashing and killing as they went. The march of the Infantry was more terrible and majestic; the lines of the foe swayed and broke before it.

Custar took a gun, in one of his charges, which had been captured from us in the morning. Many more guns were to be ours before nightfall.

About dusk, the whole rebel army forsook every inch of ground they had won, and went, pell-mell, across Cedar Run towards Strasburg. Two brigades of Cavalry pursued, charging them at every chance, and increasing the rout before them. At nightfall our Cavalry entered Strasburg, while the enemy was still passing through town, and from that time until 8 o'clock confined themselves, with the assistance of a division of Infantry, afterwards sent forward by Sheridan, to picking up prisoners and gathering together and sending to the rear artillery, army wagons and ambulances, which had been left by the enemy in their headlong flight.

Forty three guns, including nearly all of those taken from us during the day, have already been counted, and it was said that the number will reach fifty.

The medical supplies and wagons captured from the Nine-teenth Corps, was recovered, also, several of our wagons and ambulances, and a hundred or more wagons belonging to the enemy.

The prisoners taken will number nearly 2,000. It has been impossible to provide guards for them as rapidly as they are taken. A large number who were sent to the rear will probably escape during the night, but all are so completely tired out, with the day's fighting and marching, that we shall pick up hundreds by the way side, when the morning dawns.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON,
October 22, 1864.

To Major General Dix:

The following official dispatch has been received from Gen. Sheridan.

CEDAR CREEK, VA.,
October 21, 4, P. M.

To Lieut. Gen. Grant, City Point:

I proceeded and routed the forces of the enemy nearly to Mount Jackson, which point he reached during the night of the 19th and 20th, without an organized regiment of army. From accounts of our prisoners who have escaped, and the citizens the route was complete. 2,000 of the enemy broke & made away through the mountains on the left 14 miles on line of Railroad, and the country was covered with small armies thrown away by flying rebels and others. Debris

48 were pieces captured, and the artillery are now at my Head Quarters. I think that not less than 300 wagons and ambulances were either captured or destroyed. The accidental moving turned to our advantage, as the whole movement had been planned. The only regret I have is the capturing in the morning, from 800 to 1000 men. I am now sending to the war department 10 battle flags. The loss of artillery in the morning was severe—from Crook—11 from Emory, 6 from Wright, and from all I can learn I think Earley's reinforcements here is less than 11,000 men.

P. H. SHERIDAN.
Maj. Gen. Com.

Gen Stoneman reports the arrival at Martensburg of 150 wounded and 1500 prisoners. Gen. Custar arrived this afternoon at Washington with ten rebel battle flags displayed from the Railroad engineers.

E. M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

From Grant's Army.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,
October 21.

Quiet has prevailed in front of Petersburg during the past week, interrupted only by occasional picket firing, which was renewed on Thursday night, and kept up with spirit until daylight, along the centre of the line.

Heavy firing was also heard in the direction of the James river, but the object of it was not known.

A dispatch announcing another Union victory in the Valley caused the most hearty rejoicing among our troops.

PROPOSALS FOR LOAN.

U.S. 7-30 LOAN

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of fifty, one hundred, five hundred, one thousand, and five thousand dollars, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in Government securities or in notes or bonds payable in Government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

CONVERTIBLE INTO A SIX PER CENT. 5-20 GOLD BOND.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. Stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, special Act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties or stock companies, or separate communities only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Subscriptions will be received by the

Up to the 24th of September, the subscriptions to this loan amounted to over
