THE "WOES OF THE COUNTRY"

An Atchison county farmer, says a writer in the Atchison Daily Globe, was "dragging his mile of road," and at the corner met a neighbor, who had a bad piece of road in front of his farm. "Bad roads are the least of my troubles," said the second man, "and" he continued, "did you ever stop to think that this is a one-man country?" The listener replied that he had been busy dragging roads lately, and had not noticed it.

"Well," continued he who was not worried about bad roads, "it is a fact that we are little better off than Russia. I can get along for the rest of my life, but I am alarmed for my children. This one-man country and the trusts are sapping at our very vitals."

"It looks like rain," said the farmer on the road drag, "and I want to get this road finished but I'll take time to give you a few of my ideas of things."

"In the first place, good roads are of more importance to me than this one-man-country talk you are putting up. I should think a lot more of you if you would get out your drag and fix up that road along your place. I believe that bad road is half-responsible for your sour disposition. I know when I ride over my good road I fell all right, but the minute I strike that rotten piece of road of yours I begin to feel just as you talk."

"I have been an American and a Kansan for fifty years, and I know there is nothing wrong with the country. There may be a few bad spots in it, just as there are bad spots in your farm, and in your own disposition, but those few bad spots are not the whole country, by a long shot."

"You say you are alarmed for the future. I should be, too, if I talked and thought the way you do."

"If you will read your Bible oftener and subscribe for a few of the best papers, you will see things differently."

"If you drag that road of yours, all of your neighbors will think a lot more of you, and even your own sons will take a more wholesome interest in farm life. But as it is a mile to the other end of the road and I have two more rounds to make, I must be getting along before that rain catches me."

Farmer number one moved off. He looked and saw his neighbor still standing, looking intently at the ground. There was no indication that his talk had any effect. It takes work to drag a road, while it is not much trouble to read a rabid, foolish newspaper, and think about the "woes of the country."

NEW TIME CARD ON THE C. & E.

A new time card for the C. & E. went into effect yesterday. There were several changes, but none that are very radical. However, a few minutes mean much when it comes to catching a train, so it would be well to clip this and paste it somewhere where it will be convenient. Trains on the C. & E. will leave Corvallis as follows:

For Albany: 6:15 a. m.; 9:30 a. m., except Sunday; 11:15 a. m.; 6:00 p. m.
For Yaquina, daily except Sunday, 1:40 p. m.
Arrive Corvallis
From Yaquina, 11:00 a. m.
From Albany: 1:15 p. m.; 8:30 a. m.; 12:35 p. m.; 8:30 p. m.

MRS. OLIVE L. MARTIN DEAD

Resident of Corvallis Since 1889 is Called Beyond.

Mrs. Olive L. Martin, aged 83 years, died at the home of her son, B. M. Martin, 244 North Fifth street, at 4:30 p. m. yesterday, Sept. 7, 1909. She had been failing the past three months and finally succumbed as stated.

Mrs. Martin was born in Otsego county, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1826, moved to Iowa and married John McMartin, Feb. 12, 1846. She moved to Corvallis in June, 1889. Two sons are left, Geo. F. Martin, of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and B. M. Martin, of Corvallis; also two sisters in California.

Mrs. Martin was a member of the Christian church from early life. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. H. H. Hubbell at the residence at 2:30 p. m. today, and interment was made in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

A STORY OF ANCIENT ROME

The feature at the Palace theater tonight and tomorrow night will be the great motion picture entitled "The Way of the Cross," a powerful drama, laid in Rome during the reign of Nero. The story portrays with thrilling intensity the persecution of the Christians and their torture and death by decree of the tyrant emperor.

There will also be a magnificent colored picture called "A Heroic Father," showing the rescue of a little boy from a band of brigands, the program closing with a representation of the famous cold baths in Moscow, Russia.

first term. He was also chairman of the Water Commission of the city of Corvallis, upon which he has served since the original Act creating the same, and was named by the Legislative Assembly. He was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Woodmen and A. O. U. W.

In politics Mr. Kline was a staunch Republican. In the Convention days was usually a member and often presided. He was a delegate from Oregon to the National Convention which nominated Roosevelt. He was Oregon's representative at the Taft inaugural ball, and during recent months his name has been frequently mentioned in connection with the Governorship of Oregon.

Mr. Kline married Miss Emma Tobias, of San Francisco, in 1882. His wife, a daughter, Hazel R., of New York, and a son, Walter H., of this city survive him, together with a brother and sister, Moses L. Kline, of Portland, and Miss Pauline Kline of this city.

In their sudden and unexpected, and necessarily more poignant, grief these have the sincere heartfelt sympathy of the many friends.

No funeral arrangement had been made at 4:30 p. m.

LADIES INVITED TO LA MODE PARLORS

Mrs. H. E. Wetherla has been busily engaged for some time preparing her exquisite line of Fall hats, for the inspection of her patrons and will be pleased to have the ladies call tomorrow, Thursday, and see the newest creations at La Mode Millinery Parlors on Madison street, next to the postoffice. While her large line of trimmed hats is not as complete as she had hoped for at this time, still the variety of styles is so extensive that an excellent idea can be obtained of the prevailing modes and there will be daily arrivals of new headgear from now on. The very latest novelties in hair goods and ornaments are also ready for inspection.
