MISCELLANEOUS.

THE CHEAP POSTAGE LAW AND POST OFFICE STATISTICS.—The old contracts of the Post Office Department, says the New York Express, are fast expiring and new ones will be made more advantageously to the Post Office Department. As it is, the receipts under the new law are largely increasing the revenues of the Post Office. Thus, take the receipts on letter postage, for the last three quarters:

			Total Receipts for Quarters.
Fourth quarter	1845	$374,691 86	818,327
First quarter	1846	$748,724 09	896,793
Second quarter	1846	$766,555 69	913,767

The expenses of mail transportation during these quarters were as follows:

		Transportation.	Wind. Quarterly Expense.
4th quarter	1845	$385,097	$1,025,523
1st quarter	1846	659,648	4,045,011
2d quarter	1846	669,615	1,055,372

Notwithstanding the multiplication of railroads and steamboats, the coach mail service of the last year was $15,337,033, and the cost to the Government was $1,164,570. The railroad and steamboat transportation was $7,781,828, and the cost $870,530. The total annual transportation was $37,392,411, and the total annual cost $2,716,673. The receipts of the mail service for the last year fell considerably short of the expenses, but we must remember that in these expenses are included all the mail services performed for the Government. We see that the postages of Congress amounted alone during the last year to $275,000, and the post-office expenses of the General Executive Department ought not to be enumerated in the deficiencies of the present law. There is no reasonable cost in the form of increased rates of postage; and the post-office taxes of the citizens should be laid to meet the expenses of members of Congress and officers of the Government, and we can conceive of no more unequal tax. The Treasury may much more properly bear such burdens than the correspondence of individuals.

POVERTY AND AFFECTION.—Death from Grief.—The Coroner of New York was called to hold an inquest, on Tuesday, on the body of a woman named Sabina Daley, who had died of consumption. The coroner had not yet gone to perform his official duty, when another messenger arrived and stated that James Daley, the husband of the deceased woman, was also dead. He had literally grieved himself to death.—During a long illness, which his wife had endured, he is said to have been ceaseless in his efforts to make her as comfortable as possible, and when, at length, she died, he expressed a wish that he might follow his companion to her long home. His grief was so poignant that he was taken to his bed and died. His unfeigned mourning had caused congestion of the brain.

PERUVIAN SYMPATHY.—News of the victories of our troops in Mexico had been received, and El Comercio, the leading paper of Peru, says:

"We are all turned into Yankees. We desire with all our hearts the triumph of the United States, and if possible, the annexation of Mexico, in order to consolidate as much as possible the grand system of republican government on our continent. The result of all may be the final extinguishment of all monarchial remains from America."

MOTIVE POWER OF GUN COTTON.—We see by a paragraph in the New York Sun, that Isaac Meikle, Esq., of Camden, N. J., is applying gun cotton to the propulsion of machinery in his factory. The engine is constructed on the plan of the ordinary horizontal steam engine, only there are two cylinders, one working in the other. The gun cotton is ignited by electricity, engendered and applied in a novel manner.—Any degree of power may be obtained. It is said to be safer than the ordinary steam engine, and one person can run it.

A dog belonging to Mr. M. Clark, of Franklin, Mass., disappeared suddenly and mysteriously on the 22d of December last, and was not seen or heard from until the 17th ult., when he was discovered floating on a piece of the broken curb in an old well, and taken out alive. In this cheerless and pitiless condition the dog had remained twenty-seven days, (embracing the coldest weather of the winter,) with nothing to support nature excepting water. He had gnawed the curb considerably in several places.

A MAN OF ALL WORK.—Commodore Stockton is not only the Governor of California, but he is also the religious comforter and adviser. The Polynesian, of August 1st, devotes three columns to the publication of a Sermon preached on the afternoon of the 28th June, before the Rev. Mr. Armstrong's congregation by Com. Robert F. Stockton, of the U. S. Navy! Rev. Mr. Armstrong interpreted the gallant Commodore's talk to the natives as delivered. We have heard of sailors spinning yarns, but it is something new for them to weave sermons.

REMARKABLE.—It is one of the remarkable results of the famine in Ireland, where Indian Corn has measurably taken the place of the potato, that the corn was selling considerably higher than the best wheat; 70s. per quarter being the price for Indian Corn, and 60s. per quarter for Wheat! The greater ease and greater variety of ways of preparing Indian Corn for food, may account in part for this preference.

We were informed, says a Pittsburgh paper, by one of the officers of Capt. Naylor's company, that the Rev. W. H. T. Barnes had deserted. We have since been informed that he has not deserted, and was absent from the roll call trying to sell his coat, in order to purchase hymn books for the benefit of the other members of the company.

☞It is stated in the Brooklyn Advertiser that the Rev. Mr. Maffit is tarrying in that city, to meet, before a conference soon to be held, certain charges which have been preferred against him in New York, connected with his ministry.

There are supposed to be 75,000 Jews in the United States—in New York there are about 12,000—in Philadelphia 2300, and in Baltimore 1800. The whole number in the four quarters of the globe is supposed to be nearly seven millions.

A HARD GETTING TO BED.—The Scientific American says that a man in Grange county was found one night, climbing an overshot wheel in a falling mill. He was asked what he was doing! He said he was "trying to go up to bed, but somehow or other, the stairs wouldn't hold still."

THE QUEEN OF SPAIN, says the London Herald of 4th December, "is already in such a situation as ladies wish to be who love their lords."

WHAT'S IN A NAME!—Among the associate judges appointed by the Legislature of Ohio, is Mr. FUDGE!

A new carpet factory is being prepared, and will soon be in operation at Rahway, N. J.

The best, and cheapest, and most uniform series of Standard

SCHOOL BOOKS EVER PUBLISHED.

TO those engaged in the important, but arduous task of instructing youth, McGUFFEY'S ECLECTIC READERS, Nos. ONE, TWO, THREE and FOUR, are now presented, thoroughly revised, and greatly enlarged, with many important improvements. They are now in a permanent stereotype form, NO FURTHER ALTERATIONS being intended.

Professor McGuffey's enthusiastic devotion to the cause of Education, his fine taste and discriminating mind, and his practical experience as an instructor, render him peculiarly fitted for the department of authorship, to which he has given his attention. The suggestions of intelligent teachers, who had used the former editions of the series, and the valuable aid afforded him in the revision by an experienced educator, have also furnished him with unusual facilities for advantageously revising and enlarging these works.

"It is a matter of the greatest importance that whatever books the scholar is using should be of that class that has kept up with the improvements of the day." The extensive use of this series has been sufficient for the development and just appreciation of its many excellencies. The result is, that intelligent teachers pronounce it the most efficient series now before the public.

The intrinsic merit of Prof. McGuffey's Eclectic Readers, having gained for them an unparalleled and rapidly increasing circulation, the publisher is enabled, notwithstanding the heavy expenditure in their revision and enlargement, to manufacture them in the neatest and most durable manner, while they are now furnished at such low prices that they are the CHEAPEST, as well as the best school reading books extant.

JUST PUBLISHED,

McGUFFEY'S RHETORICAL GUIDE, or Fifth Reader, of the Eclectic Series—189 pages, 12mo. This work has been prepared with very great care, and with reference to making it a useful, practical, and standard book; and the publisher confidently hopes that the Rhetorical Guide of Mr. McGuffey is well adapted to supply the wants of classes in rhetorical reading in our Academies, High Schools and Colleges.

McGUFFEY'S NEW ECLECTIC SPELLING BOOK, Published May 1st, 1846, (containing more than double the matter of the former edition,) is now issued in a permanent stereotype form, and is the best spelling book extant. Sold at the very low price of TEN CENTS per copy.

McGUFFEY'S ECLECTIC READERS are printed and published at 56, Main street, Cincinnati, Ohio, by W. B. SMITH & CO., School Book Publishers.

☞The above valuable series of School Books are for sale at the Book Stores. They have recently been readopted in the schools of this city, Richmond and other important places.

POCKET BOOK LOST.

AT the Court House in Indianapolis, on the night of Saturday, Jan. 16, 1847, I lost a small black Morocco Pocket Book, fastened by a red morocco string, loop-holes also red, containing about $40 in cash, and one or two unimportant receipts, (one of which was signed by Ephraim Sutton.) The money, as near as I can recollect, was in five dollar Indiana bills, except a $1 Kentucky bill a $5 Tennessee bill, and three Indiana one dollar bills, and a few small pieces of silver. Any person who will return the same, or give information concerning it, to Mr. Spann, at the State Sentinel office, shall be liberally rewarded.
