THE TRIBUNE.

SPLENDOR AND WRETCHEDNESS.—On the first page of our paper this day will be found a glowing account (copied from the Court Circular) of the ball recently given by the Queen of England to her nobility. The writer tells us that "even to an eye familiar with the pomp and pageant of a court, the magnificence and dazzling brilliancy of this ball was almost overpowering," and we can readily credit him, for the mere description of it has almost surfeited us. If any of our republican readers find, as we did, their eyes dazzled, and their imaginations bewildered by the costly robes, the jewelled crowns, the "most magnificent display of gold plate," the flashing diamonds, and brilliant candelabras, which are introduced in such profusion, we know of no way in which they can be restored so soon to the perfect use of their senses as by giving a glance to the condition of the laboring people of England. They will see that while the Queen and the Lords and Ladies of her court were squandering thousands upon this display of useless magnificence, the millions of Britain, whose sweat and groans had filled those buffets with plate and covered the robes of velvet with ermine and jewels, were starving in hovels! To prevade the costly wines and viands upon which the company feasted, thousands of toil-worn laborers that same night went hungry to their straw! and to enable "the chivalry of England" to appear in "the costume of their race," surrounded by "the most exquisite works of art," the children of Englishmen were consigned to hopeless slavery and and brutalizing ignorance!

These are strong assertions, yet melancholy facts. Our European correspondents, in examining the motives which have influenced the diplomacy of England in relation to matters closely concerning the honor and interests of this country, have from time to time given our readers sketches of the wretched condition of the peasantry of Ireland. These were not fancy pictures, but were in every instance drawn from the evidence furnished by the official documents of the government itself. The papers received by the Columbia bring to us further revelations of the shame of England, which bear directly on the same subject. Commissioners were not long since appointed to investigate the situation of the people employed in the English collieries, (a very numerous class) and their report, which has just been made, is filled with the most heart-rending details. We are told by those Commissioners that children of both sexes are placed in the coal mines at the age of six years; they are employed in dragging coal through passages often not more than eighteen or twenty inches high, so that they are obliged to crawl on their hands and knees in the mud; and even at the tender age named, they are worked from eleven to fourteen hours a day. They are excluded from light, and were it not for the passing and repassing of coal carriages, they would be, to use the language of the report, "in solitary confinement of the worst order. In some districts they remain in solitude and darkness during the whole time they are in the pit and according to their own account, many of them never see the light of day for weeks together during the greater part of the winter season, excepting on those days in the week when work is not going on, and on Sundays." Their labor requires the unremitting exertion of all their physical powers. We are told that "in the districts in which females are taken down into the coal mines, both sexes are employed in precisely the same kind of labor, and work for the same number of hours; the girls and boys, and the young men and young women, and even married women and women with child, commonly work almost naked, and the men in many mines quite naked; and all classes of witnesses bear testimony to the demoralizing influence of the employment of females under ground."

Our readers may readily suppose that where labor is carried on so unremittingly, and under such circumstances, there is no opportunity for mental improvement—that where the bodies of children are not cared for, their minds are totally neglected. On this head the report makes the most painful developements. Commissioners examined large numbers of the young people, taken indiscriminately, for the purpose of ascertaining the extent of their religious and other knowledge, and the answers which are quoted below afford a fair sample of all that are in the report:

Elizabeth Day (a girl of 17)—"I don't go to Sunday school. The truth is, we are confined bad enough on week days, and want to walk about on Sundays. I can't read at all. Jesus Christ was Adam's son, and they nailed him on a tree; but I don't rightly understand these things."

William Bearer (aged 16)—"The Lord made the world. He sent Adam and Eve on earth to save sinners. I have heard of the Saviour; he was a good man, but he did not die here. I think Ireland is a town as big as Barnsley, where there is plenty of potatoes and lots of bullocks."

Ann Eggley (aged 13)—"I have heard of Christ performing miracles, but I don't know what sort of things they were. He died by their pouring fire and brimstone down his throat. I think I once did hear that he was nailed to a cross. Three times ten make twenty. There are fourteen months in the year, but I don't know how many weeks there are.

Bessey Bailey (aged 15)—"Jesus Christ died for his son to be saved. I don't know who the apostles were. I don't know what Ireland is, whether it is a country or a town."

Elizabeth Eggley (aged 16)—"I cannot read. I do not know my letters. I don't know who Jesus Christ was. I never heard of Adam either. I never heard about them at all. I have often been oblieged to stop in bed all Sunday to rest myself."

"These extracts (says the report) afford a fair sample of the religious knowledge of the children examined, (and they were taken in discriminately) and it may be easily inferred that their secular knowledge is no better. Some did not know whether London was in England or Ireland; and others did not know even the name of the county or the country in which they lived."

Such is the contrast which England at this time affords. While one class is rioting in every refinement of luxury, another is degraded to the condition of the brutes that perish. By unjust laws and a bad system of society, the laboring many are cheated out of the fruits of their toil, and the few, who add nothing to the nation's wealth, monopolize it all! In view of these things, how much reason have we to be satisfied with our own country. Here the government exists for the people, and every man is protected in the enjoyment of his rights, and permitted to pursue happiness as his taste may direct. We are, it is true, (and we are not sorry that we are so) without that refinement which English writers claim for their country. Our President is not capable of rivalling the Queen's balls, but even the negro slaves at the South, who have excited so much sympathy in England, are far in advance of colliery serfs of Northumberland and Yorkshire.

PATENT CHINA GLOSS for painting walls and woodwork, for parlors, public rooms, steamboat cabins, counters, &c. It is unequalled by any composition yet discovered, being more beautiful as well as more permanent than common paint, being a most brilliant white or any color that is desired.

It has not failed in a single instance to give entire satisfaction to those in whose houses it has been used.

Whereas, I, Henry C. Otto, of the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, did obtain letters patent of the United States for a certain invention called China Gloss, which letters patent bear date 28th day of February, 1842.

HENRY C. OTTO.

This is to certify that Ackerman & Miller are the original purchasers of the patent right for the China Gloss in the city of New-York. HENRY C. OTTO.

The subscribers having purchased from H. C. Otto of Philadelphia, the right to use his patent China Gloss in this city, and had sufficient experience to satisfy them of its durability would recommend it to the public, and request them to call at the following places, where it has given general satisfaction: Samuel Joyce's, No. 206 Broadway; Luscomb & Sandborne, "Cornucopia," 28 Park Row; G. W. Kimball, 14 Vesey street; Gunn & Van Franklin, 214½ Broadway.

The following certificates were furnished at the time of purchasing:—

I take pleasure in giving testimony in favor of Henry C. Otto's patent China Gloss with which my parlors have been painted. Three years having elapsed since they were painted, they are still beautiful and admired by all who have seen them. I cheerfully recommend this mode of painting to all who wish their house handsomely painted, as it is more durable as well as beautiful.

SARAH EMLIN CRESSON, 281 Arch-st.

I have had my house painted by Henry C. Otto, and am bound to say that his patent China Gloss paint exceeds any painting I have ever had done by the usual method of painting. FREDK. KLETT, Druggist,
Phila., March 31, 1842. 54 and Callow hill streets.

We, the undersigned, having used H. C. Otto's Patent China Gloss, do not hesitate to recommend it for its beauty and durability.

NOTICE to RUPTURED PERSONS.—Dr. A. G. HULL, No. 4 Vesey street, Astor House New-York.—Persons afflicted with Ruptures may rely upon the best instrumental aid the world affords, on application at his office, 4 Vesey street, New-York, or either of his numerous agents in the chief towns of the United States. Patients must be careful to examine the back part of Dr. Hull's Trusses, to see if they are endorsed by Dr. Hull in writing. None other are genuine or to be relied on as good. Dr. Hull guarantees cures to all otherwise healthy patients who call at his office for treatment. If the cure be not radical and permanent, so as to preclude the necessity of wearing any truss whatever, the money advanced is returned on the expiration of the term specified for the cure, whatever progress the rupture may have made toward eradication.

Children under twelve years universally cured without further expense than the cost of the Truss. The radical cure has been under progressive practical improvement for more than twenty years past, in Dr. Hull's Truss Office, and is now brought to a state of unrivaled perfection.

Many treacherous agents have undertaken to vend imitations of Dr. Hull's celebrated Hinge and Pivot Truss for the easy and safe retention of Ruptures. These imitations cannot be relied on—they are made by unskillful surgeons and mechanics, and are no better than the ordinary Trusses of the market. The genuine have my full name in writing. AMOS G. HULL & CO.

Dr. Hull has at the request of several respectable physicians, fitted up a room exclusively for Ladies, having separate entrance from the business department, wherein a lady is in constant attendance, to apply Trusses and Supporters to female patients.

THE TRUSSES AND SUPPORTERS of Dr. Hull's invention continue to receive my decided preference. For twenty years past I have employed the Trusses of Dr. Hull with success. The Supporter was invented in 1831 by the Dr., with my advice and approbation; and I am happy to say that it is extensively adopted in Europe as well as in this country.

DR. PHINNEY'S FAMILY PILLS. These Pills have justly acquired the highest reputation in curing Bilious and Dyspeptic complaints, as the following certificate, from one of the most respectable citizens of Albany, will show:

From Benjamin Knower, Esq.

Having suffered for some time with indigestion and flatulency, I was advised to try Dr. S. Phinney's Anti-Dyspeptic or Bilious Pills, and after using them for some time, am prepared to say that they are the mildest and yet the most efficacious in their operation of any article of the kind I have ever used; and what I esteem of great importance, they occasion no sickness at the stomach, procuring full, free and satisfactory discharges, and leaving the bowels in a natural condition. And I the more cheerfully recommend their use to all whose of bilious habits, or need an excellent family medicine, in consideration of the high standing of the proprietor in the community as a medical man.

DR. ALLEN'S BALSAM of Horehound, Liverwort and Pleurisy Root, has gained a reputation in the cure of Consumption and Liver complaint, never acquired by any other medicine. This medicine is not intended like the common humbugs of the day, to cure every disease, but is only for the cure of diseases of the lungs and liver, and for these complaints it has no equal on earth. Raising blood, a cough, and loss of strength are certain symptoms of consumption. Dr. S. D. Allen's Balsam of Horehound, Liverwort and Pleurisy Root, is a never failing remedy, and if the sick and distressed resort to it, they are certain of being restored to health. It contains no opium or deadly poison to lull and stupify the senses, but it removes the disease, heals the lungs, gives health and strength. Let the sick use it.

OPINION OF THE FACULTY.—Disease of the Lungs—Dr. Allen—Dear sir: I have prescribed your Balsam of Horehound, Liverwort, and Pleurisy Root, in severe coughs and consumption, and it has proved effectual after other remedies had failed. I am glad to find so valuable a medicine without any deleterious or narcotic ingredients. I entertain a high opinion of your Balsam, and shall continue to recommend it to my patients. Yours, &c. C. WONDERFUL CURE of the PILES.—We invite the attention of the public to Doct. E. Humphrey's Vegetable Pile Ointment, one of the most certain remedies for Piles, Fissures, Wounds, Chilblains, &c. now before the public. From J. N. Starin, Cashier of the Cayuga County Bank. Dr. E. Humphreys—Sir—I commenced the use of your ointment for the Piles a few weeks ago, and have used it occasionally ever since, although under circumstances so unfavorable that I did not expect much benefit. On the first application I felt immediate relief from the soreness that usually attends the disease, and I think I am almost if not altogether well, and do most cheerfully recommend it to all similarly afflicted. Auburn, March 30, 1841. J. N STARIN. For sale at 155 Nassau-st. sole agency for New-York city, and at the principal Drug Stores in the city. je4 1m

Pumps! Pumps! Pumps!

H. WARREN, Manufacturer of Miner's Patent Pumps for Wells and Cisterns.

The advantages peculiar to these Pumps are Cheapness, Durability, Ease of Operation and Security against Frost. They are also light and portable, and easily set up or removed.

The immense number of them in use, and the universal celebrity which they have obtained where they are best known, are now deemed sufficient references.

☞ As a caution in regard to similar kinds of Pumps in circulation which have not my label upon them, the pipe and wooden parts of which being made of white wood and some of them of cucumber wood, I deem it proper to say that all the wooden pipe of my manufacture is selected from the best of white pine heart stuff, free from sap, and being boiled and well saturated in a resinous composition, is warranted to every respect a superior article.

My only agents in New-York are Messrs. OSBORN & LITTLE, Hardware Dealers, No. 33 Fulton-street, opposite United States Hotel (formerly Hall's), who have constantly on hand a full supply. je6 1m

CROTON WATER.—Ewbank's Lead-en Pipes, lined with Tin.—In consequence of the deleterious effects of drinking water, as well as ale, cider, and other fluids, out of lead, the adoption of these pipes for carrying the Croton water through the dwellings of the citizens, has been strongly recommended by the professors of chemistry in the University, Columbia College, College of Physicians and Surgeons, &c.; by the Mayor of the City; the State Commissioners and Engineers of the Aqueduct; the Superintendent of the Pipe Department and Commissioner for furnishing water to the houses; by Professor Silliman, Dr. Chilton, and other eminent medical and scientific gentlemen. Those who are having pipes, pumps, baths, &c. fitted up in anticipation of receiving the Croton water—to the friends of the temperance cause, and the citizens at large, these pipes are particularly commended, as well for their superior strength and durability, as for their quality of transmitting the first necessary of life free from the most insidious of poisonous solutions. The tinned pipes will be fitted up at prices varying but slightly from those charged by plumbers for common ones. Like every improvement in the arts, they have had to contend, both here and in Europe, with the bitter hostility of those who imagine their interests affected by them. All who desire information respecting them are invited to send for circulars, and give their orders to THOS. EWBANK,

COUGHS, Colds, Pain in the Side, Raising Blood, Palpitation of the Heart, are dangerous symptoms to trifle with. Thousands of lives are annually lost in this way. Every person of intelligence and common sense knows that these diseases are the beginning of Consumption, and unless cured must prove fatal. Dr. Allen's Balsam of Horehound, Liverwort and Pleurisy Root will cure the above diseases. We hold ourselves ready and willing to prove this statement, if any person who may stand in need of Dr. Allen's Balsam will call on Dr. GUION, the Agent, at 127 Bowery. m17 tf

HAVING presented to the Public the claims of my first premium Cologne for so long, I now take the liberty of laying before them another article of equal worth, viz: "The Virginia Shaving Cream." This vegetable composition I can safely say is unequaled by any now offered to the American public for the pleasure it affords in shaving. It is not only fragrant, producing a rich and lasting lather, but possesses qualities of so highly soothing and healing a nature, as to raise it far above any rival article. As those who have tried my Cologne have found it to be all that I said, so they who use this Cream will acknowledge that the half of its virtues have not here been told.

PATENT CHEMICAL OIL LAMPS, CHEMICAL OIL, BURNING FLUID.—The subscriber would invite the attention of the public to his stock of "GREENOUGH'S PATENT LAMPS," which from their beauty and superior qualities, are destined to supersede all others now in use. The oil which is burned in them is a chemical preparation, very clean in its properties, and gives a very brilliant and economical light. The Burning Fluid is a portable light, free from all smoke, smell or grease, and will neither soil nor stain. Common Lamps can be altered at a trifling expense to burn the fluid. The subscriber is kindly permitted to refer to some of our most respectable families, who are now using the article.

P. S.—There is no danger of explosion in either one of our articles. o21 tf

By Special Appointment.

JOSEPH GILLOTT, Pen Manufacturer TO THE QUEEN.—CAUTION.—The high character of these Pens has induced the attempt, on the part of several disreputable makers, to practice a fraud not only upon Mr. Gillott, but also upon the public. An inferior article, bearing the misspelled name, thus, Gillot, omitting the final t, is now in the market. It can readily be detected by its unfinished appearance, and the very common style in which it is put up.

Observe, the genuine Pens are are all marked in full—"Joseph Gillott's Patent," or "Joseph Gillott, warranted;" and that each gross bears a fac simile of his signature.

DENTISTRY.—Wm. Thorn, Dentist, solicits the attention of those who wear Artificial Teeth, and those who may require them, to his method of supplying the masticatory family, viz. the teeth. Knowing that there is a disagreeable taste in the mouths of those who indulge in acids, resulting from the action of the acid on the gold plate, in all cases that admit of it, he inserts teeth from one to a complete set, without using one particle of metal of any description. m28 1m* ☞ 84 CHAMBERS ST.
