DAILY CRESCENT.

If you feel like doing a generous action, do it at once. Put it off till to-morrow, and ten to one the present you intended for "poor Jenkins," will be invested in a barrel of flour or half a tun of anthracite. Benevolence is short lived; like fresh shad, it must be indulged in to-day or it will "spile."

No woman ever loved to the full extent of the passion, who did not feel humbled (delighted in that humility) by her exaggerated and overweening estimate of the superiority of the object of her worship. What State could fall, what liberty decay, if the zeal of man's noisy patriotism was as pure as the silent loyalty of woman's love?

PRECOCITY OF THE GO-AHEAD AGE.—We never read accounts of extreme advance in life, without thinking of the remarkable progress the precocity of modern youth-hood—as illustrated.

"Grandfather," said a saucy little imp, the other day, "how old are you?"

The old gentleman, who had been a soldier in the war of the Revolution, and was much under the ordinary size, took the child between his knees, and patting him on the head with all the fondness of a second child of life, said:

"My dear boy, I am ninety-five years old," and then commenced to amuse the lad with some of the incidents in the story of his life, at the conclusion of which he addressed the youngster:

"But, my son, why did you ask such a question?"—when the little rascal, with all the importance of a Napoleon, strutted off, and hitching up the first pair of pantaloons he ever wore, after approved sailor's fashion, replied:

"Well, it appears to me you are darned small of your age."

There is none of the right kind of birch that grows round in sufficient quantities where such boys are raised. [Chicago Journal.

THE WORD "SELAH."—The translators of the Bible have left the Hebrew word Selah, which occurs so often in the Psalms, as they found it, and of course the English reader often asks his minister or some learned friend what it means. And the minister or friend has most often been obliged to confess ignorance, because it is matter in regard to which the most learned have by no means been of one mind. Theo. Targum, and most of the Jewish commentators, give the word, meaning eternally, forever. Rabbi Kinchi regards it as a sign to elevate the voice. The authors of the Septuagint translation appear to have regarded it as a musical sign, equivalent, perhaps, to the word repeat. According to Luther and others, it means silence. Genius explains it to mean, let the instruments play, and the singers stop. Wochem regards it as equivalent to sursem corda—up my soul! Summer, after examining all the seventy-four passages in which the word occurs, recognizes, in every case, "an actual appeal or summons to Jehovah." They are calls and prayers to be heard, expressed either with entire directness, or, if not, the imperative "Hear, Jehovah," or "Awake, Jehovah!" and the like still earnest addresses to God that he would remember and hear, etc. The word itself he regarded as indicating a blast of trumpets by the priests. Selah itself he thinks an abridged expression, used for Higgaion Selah. Higgaion indicating the sound of the stringed instruments, and Selah, a vigorous blast of trumpets. [Bibliotheca Sacra.
