HAWLEY MAKES A FINE ADDRESS

CONGRESSMAN SAYS THINGS WILL HAPPEN IN OREGON.

SEES A STATE OF 6,000,000

Tells Corvallis Business Men That Delegation in Congress is Working for Development of the State, and Predicts Big Growth.

Congressman Hawley is a real booster. At the Commercial Club last night in his address on "The Development of Oregon," he made statements more extravagant than Tom Richardson, champion booster of them all, has ever made at any time. Mr. Hawley predicts 6,000,000 people for Oregon, and gives Portland 2,500,000, in less than a half century, and proclaims an agricultural, horticultural, mining and lumber development unsurpassed by that of other states in their palmiest days. Coming from one so certainly conservative, so slow of speech, so clearly a hard-headed business man, these statements take on added significance, and when it is considered that Mr. Hawley makes such statements only after extensive travel and investigation throughout the state, and following a sojourn at Washington city where he has been in close touch with eastern sentiment toward the West, there is no good reason for minimizing the worth of his prediction.

Congressman Hawley spoke for more than an hour, and it was all boost. He pointed to the fact that within his recollection Oregon land has jumped from $15 an acre to $2200 an acre, when the latter acre happened to have on it a pear orchard seven years old. He believes that there is a tremendous lot of Oregon land that will be developed in value to something near the latter figure and he sees teeming thousands coming to Oregon to get this land. Mr. Hawley insisted that Oregon has had to buck California and Washington, and even without railroads has forged to the front to such an extent that all eastern eyes have now turned to this particular commonwealth.

The point to Mr. Hawley's argument came in his statements of what Oregon's delegation in Congress is striving to accomplish to help along the development of the state. He told how all members of the delegation have worked for open harbors, open rivers, restoration to the homesteader of certain lands in the forest reserves, restoration to the public of certain railroad lands, and he told how he and others are causing the Government to co-operate more and more with the Oregon people in their effort to care for and protect their fruit, reseed their ranches with a strong grass, etc., etc. Mr. Hawley said the Government can do great things for Oregon and that nothing is being left undone to induce the Government to take necessary action.

In Mr. Hawley's opinion the 1910 census of Oregon will show 750,000 people. As he figures it, this will give Oregon three representatives in Congress and perhaps four. He would welcome additions to the circle, for numbers count.

From fifty to seventy-five heard Mr. Hawley's address and they appreciated it, in fact the impression was distinctly favorable.

IN HONOR OF THE JACOBS

The regular meeting of the Rebekah lodge last night was turned into a farewell in honor of the Jacobs family, the members of which are leaving to make their home at Portland. The Jacobs were among the charter members of the order here and ever active in the work, hence the special honor. The affair was informal. Mrs. Roy Woodcock, Noble Grand, expressed regret at the loss of fellow members and invited those present to a sumptuous banquet in honor of the departing. This was a feast of the soul as well as of the body. At an opportune time Mrs. James Osborne in appropriate words voiced the widespread grief at this parting, and best wishes for the future welfare of the guests of honor. After the banquet there was social chat and good-byes. The Jacobs family was given high testimony of the love and esteem in which its members have ever been held.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL GAME

Next Saturday the students will have an opportunity to show their courtesy when the Freshmen play Lincoln High School. This game, everyone is aware, begins a new custom. Heretofore there have been practically no athletic relationships between the high schools and our institution excepting in the spring at the inter-scholastic track meet. This, however, is by no means enough. Realizing this the Physical Director scheduled the game. To further this relationship, good will and courtesy is the biggest factor possible and it may be rendered in various ways. The Portland boys in coming here have to fight a strong team with a strong following and if support in the form of rooting is given them it could be an encouragement and would show the true O. A. C. spirit.—Barometer.

Money Comes In Bunches

To A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness, and general debility," he writes. "I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. The used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infallible for Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Blood and Nerves. 50 cents at all druggists.

NEWCOMERS' DAY AT CLUB ROOMS

LADIES' AUXILIARY PROPOSES A GET-ACQUAINTED AFFAIR

NEXT FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Ladies of Corvallis Hope to Enable Newcomers to Find Easily a Place in the Social Life of the City—All Extended Hearty Invitation

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary next Friday afternoon will be given over to newcomers. The last "Newcomers' Day" was such a success that the Auxiliary feels constrained to keep up the good work along this line and again invites all comparatively recent arrivals to visit the club rooms Friday afternoon. The ladies have a desire to make newcomers "feel at home," to get them acquainted with residents of the city, to enable them to find a place in the city's social life. For that reason they will be pleased to have any and all ladies who have come to Corvallis the past two or three years present Friday afternoon. There will be some social pleasures, and it is the aim to make this affair as thoroughly enjoyable and successful as the first Newcomers' Day given in the spring. More than a hundred ladies were at the club rooms that day and the affair is said to have been one of real pleasure.

BENTON HAS DISPLAY AT ALBANY

TWENTY BOXES OF VERY FINE APPLES SENT OVER

BISPLAY WORTHY OF COUNTY

Eleven Varieties of Apples Graded and Packed to A Nicety Sent to the Big Fair At Albany—May Not Win Prize, but Display Is Worth While

Bentonites who go to Albany at any time during the Apple Fair—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week—will find on display there a twenty-box display from this county of which they will not be ashamed. It may be possible that that display will not win the big prize, but the difference between the winner and the Benton display will be so very insignificant that only experts will be able to detect it.

The display was shipped yesterday and it contains eleven varieties of apples—Yellow Newtowns, Spitzenbergs, Jonathans, Black Twigs, Wageners, Baldwins, Kings, Northern Spys, Bellflowers, Vanderpools, and Ben Davis. These apples were selected from various orchards of the county with greatest care, have been carefully graded with regard to size and color, and the result is highly satisfactory, though the color of the fruit this year is not so perfect as in former years.

The Benton display was gathered by students Denny and Brown, of O. A. C. and packed by them, assisted materially by W. F. Groves, who has lent every aid possible. The apples were procured from different orchards in the county, the aim being to get a truly representative display embracing most of the many varieties grown successfully in this county. While graded here, the apples will be finally packed at Albany today, and the people may rest assured that with the excellent location secured and the special decorative effect that Mr. Groves promises, the display will be one to arouse all the pride of every Bentonite at the big Fair. And the people from the city and county should be legion. The fair is going to be a good one, a half dozen counties of the Willamette valley having prepared exhibits of their best fruit.

The County Court which is standing considerable of the expense of making this display will have no cause to regret its action.

The farmers having land along the wily swamps declare that they will arrest every man for trespassing on their land with the intention of hunting without permission. Two wardens were on the swamps Saturday and were told by one of the farmers having land that most hunters make their headquarters there, and to arrest any hunter caught there without permission after the first of November. This will be enforced by all farmers, from the Foster place to Spring Hill.

A telephone meeting was held by stockholders of the Cartwright line at the Central school house Saturday, Oct. 23, for the purpose of bettering conditions on the line.

FORGER GETS $40 AT KLINE STORE

MAN PRESENTS CHECK SIGNED BY VIRGIL WATTERS.

BANK DETECTS FORGERY

Check Made to T. H. Davis, Endorsed by Him and C. A. Chambers—Neither Watters Nor Davis Had Ever Seen the Check.

Kline's was victimized by a forger Saturday evening, to the extent of $40. A check for that amount was presented after banking hours. The clerk passed it up to Mr. Porter, cashier or head bookkeeper, who noted that it was made to T. H. Davis and signed by Virgil Watters, being marked "for salary." The check was not endorsed by Mr. Davis, so Mr. Porter said he would cash it if it were endorsed by Mr. Davis. The young man, whom the store thought was a student, took the check and after a few minutes returned with the endorsement, T. H. Davis, and his own, C. W. or C. A. Chambers. The $40 was paid.

The forgery was detected yesterday at the First National after Kline's had deposited Saturday's earnings. Cashier Lilly noted the check, and knew that the signature was not that of Mr. Watters and he also knew that Mr. Davis is not employed by Mr. Watters. So he called the latter, who promptly pronounced the check a forgery. There is no definite clue to the forger. It is supposed that the name Chambers is also a forgery. It is not known whether he is a student. The check was written with a stub pen, and Davis's endorsement by the same pen.

A student bicyclist rode on several walks in the restricted district today and was taken in tow by the officials.
